The Far Eastern War Cloud.

The hold statement made by the Japanese secretary of legation in London on Monday that the conflict of Russian and Japanese ambition in the China-Korea af-fair is "a matter of fighting" is in line with conclusions which observers of the trend of events have long asserted. The secretary

"The question is whether we are to fight Russia now or to fight her later on. She has no right to Manchuria, and, if she secures Manchuria, she will be on the way to night out. Pullman sleepers, superior service.

securing Korea." English customs director of Korea, is simply an incident in the steady, unrelenting policy of Russia, which aims to get the title to, as well as possession of Manchuria and thus establish an outlet with valuable and productive surrounding territory, for the empire on the Pacific ocean. The concert of the powers in China is no check to Russian aggression, and Japan alone, handed the encroachments. The London Spectator, weighing the probability of independent action by Japan, says:

"The active party in Japan wish the war to occur at once, because they think their fleet superior to the Russian, and believe that a great naval victory would ter-minate war. The difficulty for them is the possible action of France. The Japanese are convinced that they must fight sooner or later, and their experience at Pekin has given them a certain contempt for Russian troops." If war were declared the Japanese could place in action at the scene of the conflict a more effective fleet than the Russians, and their army could be thrown into Korea and Manchuria with great rapidity. There is, of course, a vast difference between the resources of Russia and Japan, but it is a question whether Russia's forces are effective or ready for use. The strength of the Russian army on a peace footing is given as 860,000 men. The war strength is estimated at 2.500,000 men, and the reserve forces may be estimated from the fact that 950,000 men annually reach the age when they are liable to military service. The organization of Russia's great force is said to be sadly defective. The army is only as yet the raw material from which a modern effective force will, no doubt eventually be formed. The empire consists of a country of "vast distances;" mob-ilization would be slow under the best conditions, but with an incompleted system of military railways, defective army organiza-tion and inefficient commissariat, active Japan might have time to seize Manchuria before a formidable force of Russian troops could be sent across Siberia. Japan has a population, of 45,000,000 from which is recruited an army of 145,000 on a peace footand 520,000 on a war footing. The army is composed of excellent material, and has been organized, trained and equipped in accordance with the most modern European methods. The Japanese troops elicited high praise for their efficiency and bravery in China in comparison with the best troops of the world. Their artillery and small arms equal the best in use, and the organization and handling of the force are directed with the highest intelligence. Japan's proximity to the centre of disturbance, if war arises, and her efficient army, make her a formidable foe even to Russia, which

Two important statements regarding the use of eocaine have appeared within the past few days. The first was a note rela-tive to the recently exploited use of the drug as an anaesthetic by means of spinal injection. The percentage of fatalities attending surgical operations performed af-ter this application of cocaine is reported such as to stamp the practice a virtual failure. Following this report has come the denunciation of cocainism as a growing vice to be grouped with morphinism and alcoholism among the scourges of humanity. Dr. Thomas Dr. Crothers has thus proclaimed it to the New York School of Clinical Medicine.

Cocaine is now to be obtained very cheaply. Seventy cents will buy an ounce in the city. Five cent packages are sold in the south and west, according to D. Crothers. But inexpensive as the drug is in packages, the habit which calls for it is costly beyond compare. Health, mind, and finally life itself, go to pay for the indul-

Like morphine, cocaine begins its work with pleasant influences. Spirits are made buoyant, faculties are brightened, imagination is stimulated. It thus becomes a special tempter to writers and speakers. But there is an inevitable re-action, and at last there is ruin. The cocaine subject invites attention and an earnest search for ways and means to put an end to the seductive drug's destructive influences.

A Few Pointers About the Dipper and the North Star.

Most people on a clear day can without a watch or other timepiece, form a closely approximate idea of the time of the day by the position of sun, but few perhaps have guessed at any similar method of computing the time during the night without any other means than the "starry skies." Not-withstanding, a fairly reliable time indica-tor can be found in the northern skies on every cloudless night. As is generally known, the group of fixed stars, called the "Dipper," make an apparent revolution to-ward the North star in every twenty-four hours, with the two stars forming the outer elevation of the bowl of the dipper pointing nearly directly to the polar star con-

If the position of the "pointers" is taken at any given hour, say 6 o'clock in the evening in winter time and as soon as it is dark in the summer, the hour can there after be pretty accurately measured by the eye during the night. Frequently observations of positions will have to be made at the given hour, as, owing to the constant changing of the earth's positions in space, the position of the "pointers" in relation to our point of observation and the star also change. Observations taken during a year and impressed on the mind will make a very good mind indicator of that part of celestial.

HOW IT WAS MADE AND RETAINED I

BELLEFONTE.

A good reputation is not easily earned, and it was only by hard, consistent work among our citizens that Doan's Kidney Pills won their way to the proud distinction attained in this locality. The public endorsement of scores of Bellefonte residents has rendered invaluable services to the community. Read what this citizen says:

Mrs. L. A. Miles of High street, says: "I was very much troubled with my back and with rheumatism. This latter affected my heart and besides I had neuralgia. My rest was very much broken from nervousness and the kidney secretions embarrassed me when my back was aching badly. I was told about Doan's Kidney Pills by a young woman who had come 17 miles to get them and she appeared surprised that I was not acquainted with their merits. I immediately went to the Bush block drug store and got them. Well, they did any amount of good. I was astonished at the result of their use for the pain and lameness soon left me. They also banished the tired feeling, I had mornings. I can conscientiously recommend Doan's Kidney Pills."
