-Remember the paint is the genuine Royal. The place is our store-Potter and Hoy.

-A Free Methodist preacher, Rev. Mumma, is conducting quite a spirited revival in the church at Valentine's.

----After July 1st Miss Butts, W. H Garman and Morton Smith, post office attaches, will receive an advance of $100 per year in their salaries.

- A marriage license was issued in of Newburg, and Miss M. Elizabeth Hoy, of Lemont, this county.

-Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Barelay, with their son Thomas, were here from Lock Haven to spend Sunday with Mr. Barclay's parents on Willowbank street.

---Frank Kern is preparing ground for 600 peach trees which he intends adding to his orchard near Millheim. They will increase the whole number of trees to 2,400.

. -Mr. Robert Mann and family, of Mill Hall, who have been spending the winter at Miami, Florida, are coming north soon, but expect to locate in Philadelphia.

-The ladies of the Evangelical church will hold an oyster supper to-night and tomorrow night in the vacant store room in the Arcade. The public is cordially invited to attend. Tickets are 25cts.

-Edward Harper of the grocery firm of Harper Bros. is confined to his home on west Linn street, with a recurrence of the trouble with his side with which he has suffered more or less for several years.

-A "Sock" social was held in the lecture room of the Bellefonte Methodist church last evening for the purpose of raising money to lift bonds recently given for the improvement fund.

--- Hospitaller Commandery K. T. of Lock Haven, will be here in a body to attend the public installation of Constans Commandery this evening. The Knights will be accompanied by their ladies.

-John Clark, a nineteen year old Millheim boy who is blind, is raising money to take him to the Will's eye hospital in Philadelphia. He thinks there is some chance for gaining the sight of the right

-Gregg Post on Tuesday night passed very lengthy resolutions of thanks to Gen. D. H. Hastings for his many kindnesses to the Post and particularly for his making it possible for the entire Post to hear Bishop Fowler's lecture on Abraham Lincoln.

-The annual flag "scrap" between the Freshmen and Sophomores at The Penusylvania State College occurred on Wednesday morning. The Freshmen were able to raise and keep their flag up the required burg: time to win the "scrap."

-Mrs. Hiram Fetterhoff nee Tate, who is a bride of only a few weeks, pitched headlong down the stairs at her home on Bishop street, Monday morning and in consequence had to have a cut stitched together on her face and her arm bandaged up with splints.

-John T. Laurie, who was taken from the position of messenger at this place several months ago and made agent of the Adams Express Co. at Brownsville, has just received another promotion. He has been made express messenger on the Bald Eagle valley to take the place of Harry Gearbart, transferred to the main line.

--- The Bellefonte athletic club, which means the rejuvenated "Go-Easies," went to State College on Saturday afternoon and were defeated in the first ball game of the season by the score of 11 to 1. The locals only went as a substitute for Syracuse University, which failed to keep its engagement, and did very well against their strong opponents, considering that they had had no practice.

-C. H. Murray, of Centre Hall, who read law with J. M. Dale Esq., in this place, afterward locating in Reading, where he was married, has become the editorial writer of the Evening Mail, a new daily paper that has lately been launched at Colorado Springs, Colorado. While a student at Princeton he was a correspondent of the New York Sun and acquired a taste for journalism that has induced him to give up the law for it.

--- Miss Maud V. Musser, daughter of F. P. Musser Esq., and one of Millheim's most popular girls, was married to Paul Bruce Brenneman, of Spangler, on Wednesday morning. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Owen Hicks at Montandon. The groom is a graduate of The Pennsylvania State College and at present is a mining engineer for the Hastings & Spangler Coal Co. He met his bride at State College, while she was stenographer to the president, Dr. Geo. W. Atherton.

-Rev. R. Crittenden is very sensibly advising the women in Milesburg to provide no big dinners for the delegates attending the county Sabbath School Convention to be held there on Tuesday, the 23rd of April. One reason he gives for this counsel is that he wants the women at the convention and not to be detained at home preparing what is not needful for them to fare sumptuously on that day.

THE OPENING OF THE FISHING SEASON. mospheric conditions were concerned, for Hoy. the opening of the trout season, but the water was evidently not right, for from all parts of the county come reports of poor

About Bellefonte there was the usual army of first dayers assembled on the banks of the stream, but few of them got even will give him $17 per month in the future. one fish. It was noteworthy that most of the trout were caught within 500 yards of the High street bridge and few of them were under 10 inches long. Logan's branch, above the Phoenix mill, disgusted hundreds of fishermen who were along it before daylight. Spring Creek, above the old car works, was a flat failure.

These conditions seem to indicate that the trout are either getting very much and Alex Morris got 15 fine large ones at scarcer or were carried down by recent Hundred Springs. floods. Of course the water was very coldmostly snow water-and not conducive to good fishing, but when the large fish that are so well fed right here in town would obtain with the fish elsewhere.

It looks to very much as if the large trout have been eating the small ones, because around here there were very few trout under 9 or 10 inches caught.

Joe Rightnour, John Knisely, James Baum, Will Walker and Jim Solt all had strings of from 6 to 25. Some of them 17 robes, sleighs, etc will be sold. inches long and few under 10.

From the lower end of Penns valley the eports are equally poor. The Drs. Harter, of State College, caught 18 in Elk creek, the largest being 121 inches long. Harry Condo, H. N. Meyer, Harry McManaway and Thomas Buck caught 74 in the same stream, their largest being 14 inches.

John McGinley, Jos. Lose, R. S. Brouse, Homer Barnes and W. C. Cassidy went to the upper end of Fishing creek. They caught 140 fair sized fish.

From Philipsburg the reports are equally poor. Few of the fishermen of that place met with much success.

John C. Kuhn, of Centre Hall, was in town yesterday and said that he had tried it a little in Penns Creek, but caught only a few. Will Smith, of Spring Mills, is reported to have caught 7lb in that stream, however.

Henry Royer, of Potter's Mills, went in caught 75 ranging from 7 to 131 inches. Thomas Palmer made the next highest The purpose of his visit was to renew overcatch on that stream. He got 25.

W. R. Haynes, George Uzzle and Davy Chambers, the star piscatorial performers of the Snow Shoe region, make their reports WATCHMAN last week. Propositions have as follows :- Haynes caught 16lbs on Eddy Lick, Uzzle and Chambers together were

A PARDON RECOMMENDED FOR COR-NELLY .- At noon yesterday the WATCH- failure to renew the license left the internal MAN received the following brief telegram revenue collector with ninety barrels of from its special correspondent at Harris-

"Pardon recommended for James Cornelly " This will be glad news for the many friends of Cornelly in this place, who have so persistently labored to secure his release from a punishment being inflicted for crimes they believe him to be innocent of. On Nov. 1st, 1897, Cornelly was sentenced to pay a fine of $1, costs of prosecution and to undergo imprisonment in the western penitentiary for a period of 5 years and 6 months for having attempted to burn the armory of Co. B, at the same term he had been acquitted of the charge of setting fire to the electric light works.

He had been in jail awaiting trial for several months previous to that time and remained in jail here until the spring of 1898, or after the Superior court had overruled his appeal for a new trial.

A previous, but unsuccessful, effort had been made to secure his pardon. On Wednesday C. M. Bower Esq., went to Harrisburg and argued the case before the Board of Pardons, after Hugh S. Taylor had secured an opportunity for a rehearing. Yesterday the Board made a favorable recommendation to the Governor and now all that remains is for his signature to the order of release.

Cornelly is in bad health. If he is fortunate enough to get back to his home in this place it is to be hoped that the lesson of these three long years in prison will have been of sufficient impressiveness to him to make him a better man. Jim is capable of becoming a useful and honorable citizen and we trust that he has been permanently weaned away from the habits that brought about his implication in the charges that sent him to prison.

> -'Squire F. P. Musser, of Millheim, on Tuesday, heard testimony in the cases and counter cases of Monroe, Kulp & Co. and Nathan Hough, each charging the other with cutting timber on lands not belonging to them. It was interesting to note that two of the witnesses were men of extreme old age. M. D. When he first began brewing Volk's beer found a ready market, but the demand becoming greater than the facilities for proper brewing the heer was put on the market in an inferior condition. This naturally resulted in a loss of business and the exhaustion of Matthews resources.

-When seen in town on Monday Mr. Robert Henderson, who is the unfortunate farmer on the B. F. Hunter farm, on which the large barn was destroyed by fire last Thursday morning, with such serious loss to him, said that he did not believe that the little boy living with him had had any thing to do with its origin. While we had no intention of imputing that the lad had wilfully set it afire, in our report of the conflagration, we may have done him an injustice by even publishing the rumor that was afloat to the effect that he had been 'the accidental cause of it.'' If we have in any way reflected upon the conduct of the little fellow we cheerfully make amends for it, for if there is anything unfortunate it is for one to be under the odium of an offense of which he is entirely guiltless. This is not to say, however, that the accidental firing of that barn would have attached any discredit or disgrace to him, for accidents will happen and at any time and

Quite a party of gentlemen were here for the argument of the case, among them being precinct chairman Martin McLaughlin, Messrs. Chambers, Fleming, Lucas and Thomas.

THE ORGAN RECITAL.-The climax of the week's services attendant upon the reopening of the Methodist Episcopal church here was reached Thursday evening. Then the fine new pipe organ, which Mrs. Daniel H. Hastings procured for the church through her own personal friends, was heard for the first time by the general public at a recital given by Miss Isabel Mc-Dowell, of Harrisburg. Miss McDowell interpreted the master-pieces of the great composers, she had selected, so admirably and the entire program was so above the ordinary that the recital will be enrolled as one of the distinctly successful musical events of the town. And as for the crowd that attended why it was worse than going to grand opera on rush tickets. The seats who whipped Big Fill run caught 150, anand aisles and chancel were crowded 'til not another person could be admitted and even then they came on until a hundred or so were turned away at the door.

Miss McDowell is a musician of special charm. Her technique is at once masterly and unobtrusive and her playing is nicely balanced with brilliancy and delicacy. Indeed all of the soloists were of the star class too, Miss Hench and Miss Douglass, of Harrisburg, and our own splendid baritone D. E. Wentzel. Miss Hench's voice is a clear, sweet soprano of good quality and she uses it admirably, with ease and style. She sang "The Majesty of the Divine Humiliation" from Stainers "Crucifixion." Miss Douglass has a rich, full contralto voice, flexible and high. In the trio "I waited for the Lord" by Mendelssohn, the voices blended so artistically it was almost impossible to distinguish them. Her selection was Granier's "Hosanna." Mr. Wentzel sang 'Fear not, Ye, O Israel" and the audience delightedly showed their satisfaction and only restrained their enthusiasm because of the surroundings.

During the evening Mrs. Hastings formally presented the organ to the trustees of the church. Mr. F. W. Crider was to have received it as president of the board of trustees, but he was at home seriously ill and Rev. W. P. Shriner was enlisted as his substitute. His reply to Mrs. Hastings was fraught with feeling and appreciation and the evening was a rarely enjoyable one which gave to its promoters as well as its musicians a perfect ovation of praise.

JENKINS AND LINGLE'S PLANT AGAIN SCORCHED.—The core room and part of the foundry building of the Jenkins and Lingle plant at the old car works were destroyed by fire early Monday evening. The fire was first discovered by Eliza Walker who called the attention of her son William to the smoke coming out of the end of the building, but the latter, thinking it was the usual smoke from the core room, paid no attention to it until the flames appeared and proved that there really was fire there. An alarm was hurriedly sent in, but before the department could get on the scene the flames were shooting out through

HENRY GORDON HELD UP .- Henry Gordon, a resident of north Allegheny street, was held up by highwaymen while on his way from church on Sunday night, and relieved of a silver watch and chain and about $11 in money.

The scene of the robbery is at the alley that intersects north Allegheny street between Curtin and Beaver. It is within 200 ft. of the arc light at Allegheny and Curtin and just at the lower end of Gen. Beaver's lawn. Mr. Gordon was crossing the alley when three men pounced out upon him. Two held his arms and kept their hands over his mouth, while the third rifled his pockets. After they had procured all he had the men gave him a push down the boardwalk, causing him to fall onto his hands and knees, then they ran off through the alley.

Mr. Gordon has no idea as to the identity of his assailants and as he is well advanced in years was little able to defend himself

A THIEF'S WARM RECEPTION .- While farmer George E. Harper, who lives about two and one-half miles west of Pine Grove Mills, was in the latter place, on Saturday evening, attending to a little business at the end of the week a man undertook to break into an old house which he uses as a granary. Mr. Harper's fourteen year old son George discovered the thief at his work and shot at him. NOTABLE MASONIC CEREMONIES To-NIGHT.-It has been fifteen years since Constans Commandery No. 33, K. T. of Bellefonte has celebrated such an event as will take place in the Armory this evening and the memory of that brilliant ceremony lingers in the minds of many to awaken delightful anticipation of the installation to-night.

On the evening of Sept. 29th, 1886, the Commandery had its last public installation. Once since that time, when the Commandery opened its new hall in the Reynolds bank building, it has taken the public beyond the green curtains of Masonry and entertained lavishly.

It is little wonder then that those who have been fortunate enough to be invited to the ceremonies tonight are on the qui vive of expectation.

The program will begin at 8 o'clock, or immediately after the Commandery has arrived at the armory. They will march from their hall in full regalia and headed by the Coleville band.

The installing officer will be Em. Sir-Knight Wilson I. Fleming, Grand Senior Warden of the Grand Commandery Knights Templar, of Pennsylvania, and Division Commander, Division No. 11.

The following officers for 1901-1902 are to be installed: Eminent Commander Em. Sir Harry Keller; Generalissimo Sir. W. Harrison Walker; Captain General Sir. J. S. McCargar; Treasurer-Em. Sir Hammond Sechler; Recorder, Sir W. Homer Crissman; Prelate, Sir and Rev. R. H. Wharton; Assistant Prelate-Sir and Rev. George I. Brown; Senior Warden-Sir John I. Olewine; Junior Warden-Sir Chas.
