A Long Session. Important Committee on Legislation May Not be Ready to Report for Weeks—Warm Debate.

Quay members of the Legislature are beginning to chafe at being kept at Harrisburg for a reason their political masters decline to divulge.

After a debate occupying two hours the resolution was laid on the table.

The preamble recites that the Legislature is running at a cost of over $2,000 a day to the taxpayers of this commonwealth.

SOLICITUDE FOR THE PEOPLE. Representative Voorhees moved that the resolutions be referred to the appropriation committee...

"I object to the resolutions being referred," said Mr. Garner. "It means their death. It seems peculiar that the members of that committee cannot finish their work."

WORK ONLY HALF DONE. "I do not desire to reflect upon the committee on appropriations," said Mr. Paul, of Philadelphia...

"None at all, except if possible, to save the State from the expense of over $2,000 a day," replied Mr. Garner.

"We are being kept here," said Mr. Corey, of Luzerne, "until the ripper decision is handed down by the Supreme court. I understand that some supplementary legislation is needed, and because they are ambitious to satisfy, we are kept here like dumb, driven cattle."

"The bolt descended into the kitchen, in which Mrs. Eckenrode was preparing supper. Two children, Ethel and Arthur, aged six and eight years, were with her."

During a fierce storm that passed over Green Village, Saturday evening, a bolt of lightning struck the chimney of William Eckenrode's home, on the Conococheague Creek, about two miles from here.

Eloped from a Poorhouse.

Pauper Takes His Eighteenth Bride from a West Virginia Infirmary.

George Washington Anderson, 68 years of age, whose seventeenth wife sent him to the poorhouse St. Marys W. Va., while she sued him for a divorce, has eloped from that institution with one of the inmates.

It has been less than two months since Anderson married Mrs. Martha Wells eloping with her to Parkersburg, after an acquaintance of only two days.

At the poorhouse he met Minnie Martin, a feeble-minded girl. With his abundance of experience it was an easy matter for Anderson to win the inmate of the infirmary and they agreed to wed.

Lightning's Fatal Freak. Smashed End of House, Throwing Woman Into Fire.

During a fierce storm that passed over Green Village, Saturday evening, a bolt of lightning struck the chimney of William Eckenrode's home, on the Conococheague Creek, about two miles from here.

The bolt descended into the kitchen, in which Mrs. Eckenrode was preparing supper. Two children, Ethel and Arthur, aged six and eight years, were with her. All three were stunned and the stove was knocked over. Live coals igniting the clothing, caused the woman to be thrown into the fire.

The husband, who had been in the yard, had his hand on the knob of the kitchen door to enter as the bolt struck the house. He was knocked down. Recovering, he entered the house to find his wife in flames and the children prostrated. He tore the burning clothing from his wife, but not until she had been probably fatally burned about the lower part of the body. Then he carried the children into the yard and summoned a doctor.

Full of the Engagement. Mr. Jones, a schoolmaster, had a large family, the eldest of which was about to be married, much to the excitement of her younger brothers and sisters.

"Is your father in?" she asked. "No," replied the child. "Is your mother at home, then?" "Yes," she answered, without attempting to move from the door.

"Well, then, my dear, may I come in, or is she engaged?" "Oh, no, it's my eldest sister that's engaged. Mother has been married ever so long."

Baby Strangled in Her Chair. Slips Down in Its Mother's Absence and Strap Catches Her Around the Neck.

Antoinette, the seventeen months old daughter of Abelato Canales of West Hoboken, N. J., was left alone in her chair while her mother went into the yard. The child slipped from her chair, and the chair strap caught her around the neck and strangled her to death.

Cowgirl Queen is Killed in a Show.

On Monday night at a preliminary rehearsal for a performance of Buckskin Bill's Wild West show in Vincennes, Ind., Miss Theresa Russell, of Denver, the "Queen of the Cowgirls," fell from her horse and was killed while attempting to execute for the first time a hazardous feat.

A company of rough riders, cowboys and cowgirls was introducing a new feature, "the race for a bride," in which Miss Russell played the bride, who was to spring from one horse to another while going at full speed.

In attempting to spring from her horse Miss Russell's foot caught in the stirrup and she was dragged around the ring among the dashing broncos. The boys made desperate attempts to lasso and check the runaway horse, but was not successful.

After the young woman had been dragged once around the ring a cowboy leaped from his saddle, seized a pitchfork and killed the animal.

Miss Russell was kicked and trampled by the horses and her head struck the tent stakes. Three physicians worked with her for an hour in an ineffectual effort to resuscitate her, but she never regained consciousness.

Shadow of the Earth. The earth has a shadow, but few ever observe it, or, if they do, have no knowledge of what they are looking at.

Just before sunset a roseate arc on the horizon opposite the sun, with a bluish gray under it. This is the shadow of the earth. The same shadow may always be seen on the occasion of an eclipse of the moon.

What He Regretted. "Baxter says that he caught you carrying around the umbrella that he lost two months ago."

"Yes, and the nearest part of it is that I had been fool enough to go and have it repaired."

OLD SOLDIER'S EXPERIENCE.—M. M. Austin, a civil war veteran, of Winchester, Ind., writes: "My wife was sick a long time in spite of good doctor's treatment, but was wholly cured by Dr. King's New Life Pills, which worked wonders for her health." They always do. Try them. Only 25c. at Green's drug store.

Medical. IMPORTANT ADVICE. It is surprising how many people wake up in the morning nearly as tired as when they went to bed, a disagreeable taste in their mouth, the lips sticky, and the breath offensive, with a coated tongue.

These are nature's first warnings of Dyspepsia and Liver Disorders, but if the U. S. Army and Navy Tablets are resorted to at this stage they will restore the system to a healthy condition.

A few doses will do more for a weak or sour stomach and constipation than a prolonged course of any other medicine. 10c. 55c. and $1.00 a package. U. S. ARMY & NAVY TABLET CO., 17 East 14th Street, New York City. For sale at F. P. Green. 46-46-17
