Next week will be commencement at the College and a larger crowd than ever is expected.

Mr. John Rishel is laid up with rheumatism and nervous prostration at his home in Benner Twp.

V. G. Henderson, of Julian, has been appointed operator and extra agent of the P. R. R. at Mill Hall.

There was frost at Snow Shoe on Monday and Tuesday nights. It did not do any damage to vegetation however.

Quite a heavy hail storm passed over this section on Sunday afternoon. No particular damage was done to fruit or crops.

One of the blast engines at the Bellefonte furnace broke down on Monday morning and it will take about ten days to repair it.

A carload of Italians have arrived in Philipsburg and are at work doing the ditching for the pipes of the Citizen's water company in that place.

The High school and Hecla park base ball teams played at the latter place last Thursday and the High school boys won by the score of 15 to 3.

Ed. Schofield writes from Lallook, P. I., that his regiment has just been ordered up the river to relieve the 49th Regs. He says he is fat and well as can be.

The Academy reception and tea this evening will probably be largely attended. All the friends and patrons of the institution are very cordially invited to attend.

The Peers concert company netted $54.70 with their show at Garman's last Thursday night. In this feature the colored aggregation beat the "Man in the Moon" all hollow.

The engagement of Miss Blanche L. Fauble, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Fauble, of this place, to Mr. William W. Schloss, of Philadelphia, has been announced.

On Monday President McKinley approved the promotion of Roland I. Curtin to be a lieutenant of the junior grade in the U. S. navy. The lieutenant is a son of Gen. J. I. Curtin, of this place.

The ministerial association of Bellefonte met recently and took action expressing the regret of that body at the departure of Rev. Thomas Levan Bickel, the pastor of the Reformed church here, who has accepted a call to the Fortieth and Spring Garden streets church in Philadelphia.

Dr. Lawrence M. Colfelt will preach in the Presbyterian church here on Sunday evening. He is to deliver the baccalaureate sermon at the Pennsylvania State College in the morning and his many friends in Bellefonte will be delighted that this opportunity of hearing him will be afforded.

Bierly Bros. of Milesburg, had their new automobile in Bellefonte on Friday evening and out quite a dash rolling about in it. They built it in their Milesburg shops and it presents a very handsome appearance indeed. The "contraption," as we heard one fellow call it, consumes gasoline and is capable of making twenty-five miles an hour.

Rev. Wilford P. Shriner, pastor of the Methodist church, delivered the baccalaureate sermon to the class of 1901 of the Bellefonte High school on Sunday evening. The church was crowded with an audience that was at once impressed with the significance of the service and the sincere advice given to the young people by the pastor. During the evening Mr. Jay G. Mengel, of Renovo, sang "The Holy City." He has a sweet tenor voice of high register and sang with good effect.

There is a well organized movement on foot again to close the stores of Bellefonte during the months of July and August at 6 o'clock every evening except on pay-days at the furnace, scale works, Morris, McAlmont & Co. and Stevens' lime operations and Saturday nights. The plan proved so successful last year that the merchants are signing the agreement very willingly. A few are not yet decided, but it is probable that they will join the rest and thereby afford opportunity for all their employees to have a little breathing spell during the hot summer evenings.

This evening the Coleville band will give the first of what we hope will be a series of summer concerts. They are now at work securing contributions to pay the expenses of concerts to be given weekly at different points in Bellefonte until the 1st of September. The plan is to announce the place at which each evening's concert will be given and the entire program will be rendered there, instead of dividing it up at various places as in past years. The continuance of the concerts, of course, depends on the support the boys receive and we trust all who are able will volunteer something toward securing to the town this delightful entertainment during the summer.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES AT THE HIGH SCHOOL.—This has been an eventful week in the history of the Bellefonte public schools. The young ladies and gentlemen who were graduated from the High school have been in a whirl of excitement ever since Sunday, so much so that hosts of their friends caught the contagion and gave over all their time to the commencement.

From the earnest importunities of Rev. Shriner's baccalaureate sermon on Sunday evening to the brilliant presentation of the qualities that make for success in young men and women by William H. Keller Esq., of Lancaster, in his address last evening, the class of 1901 cannot but feel that they have reached the beginning of a new epoch in their lives and we hope that as they pass "from the life of school to the school of life" they will ever be mindful of the fair start and helpful suggestions they received during the various exercises.

The junior declamatory contest, at Garman's, on Wednesday night, crowded that house, as usual, with friends of those who were to contest for the Reynolds prizes. Every one of the declaimers did so well that we could scarce particularize without doing injustice to others. The decision of judges in awarding first prize to Miss Helen Crissman seemed to meet with the unanimous approval of the audience, for she recited "The Roman Valentine" superbly. For the second place it must have taken very close shading for the judges to decide whether Lee Adams, James Taylor or Miss Bertha Faxon was best, but her recitation of "Vashti" was so gracefully done that the prize went to her, though the boys had acquitted themselves splendidly. Miss Helen Shaffer probably held the audience to the closest attention with her story of "The Night Run of the Overland," but an unfortunate little slip, from which she recovered very gracefully, put her out of the winning class. William Brouse, Strohm Lose, Irvin Noll, Miss Nettie Kern and Miss Kathryn Musser were all good. In fact the contest improves every year, both in interest and in the excellence of the contestants.

The judges were Col. Wilbur F. Reeder, Rev. Scott and Rev. Kerschner, of Centre Hall. Yesterday was graduation day. During the afternoon the class orations were delivered according to the program published last week. The opera house was crowded and every one of the young speakers was applauded to the echo, because they were all deserving of it.

In the evening William H. Keller Esq., of the class of '84, delivered a very able address to the graduates. His theme was qualities that are essential for success in the lives of young men and women. It showed the deep thought and sober interest Mr. Keller had given the matter. And it also showed the friends at his old home here that there are excellent reasons for the rapid strides he is making to the fore at the Lancaster bar.

After the address the diplomas and prizes were awarded by D. F. Fortney, president of the school board, and the committee of the alumni association reported on a permanent organization.

A meeting of the association had been held in the court house yesterday morning and it was then decided to give an annual reception to the graduating class. Next year it is to be given in the armory and will be made quite a brilliant affair.

McClelland-Morrison—Quite unostentatious, though none the less happy, was the wedding of Thomas B. McClelland and Miss Mary Morrison, on Saturday evening. It was celebrated at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. Morrison, the bride's parents, at Unionville, and only the immediate families were present. After Rev. W. H. Brown, of the Bellefonte Evangelical church, had pronounced the ceremony, a delightful wedding supper was served and the young couple were extended the most cordial greetings of all present.

The groom is a son of William McClelland, of this place, and at present is employed by M. W. Cowdrick, the contractor at Niagara Falls. He is a straight-forward young man and has lots of friends here who will wish him and his fair bride a long and happy life. Mrs. McClelland is a very charming and thoroughly capable woman.

A WARNING SHOULD BE SUFFICIENT.—The mischievous fellows who have been amusing themselves by tearing up the garden at the J. I. DeLong property at Eagleville had better take this warning and desist.

Such rascally acts, whether from pure deviltry or malice, should not be tolerated in any community, nor will such be the case at Eagleville. The perpetrators are warned to desist and if they do not they will be severely punished.

BURGLARS AT CURTIN'S.—An unsuccessful attempt was made to burglarize John Parker's store at Curtin's works last Friday night. A shutter was forced open, several windows broken out and the thieves were at work removing some goods from a shelf so that they could crawl in, when they were frightened away.

Edward Gray, a son of Dr. E. J. Gray, of Dickinson seminary, Williamsport, was walking through Rishel's furniture factory in that place on Saturday evening, when he suddenly fell, his right hand coming in contact with the knives of a buzz planer. In an instant his hand was being ground into powder and the particles of flesh and bone were so fine that they were sucked up the dust flues and no trace, whatever, left of them.

Engineer Carson Smith and conductor Ed. Zerbe, on Day Express, made a very fast run down Bald Eagle valley, Saturday. They left Tyrone 23 minutes late and made the run in 1 hour and 39 minutes, with 19 stops, including 2 for water.

The last viewers on the road leading from Fiedler to Pine Creek, at a point near the residence of Nicodemus Luse, in Haines Twp., have reported against opening it. A former view had recommended its opening, but a remonstrance was filed in court and a re-view was made with the above result.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Gross, of Bishop street, and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lose, of Water street, are recipients of much attention these days. Fine boy babies have just arrived at their homes and it is not to be wondered at that Jake cuts more air than cloth in his Taylor shop now and that Joe no longer needs a ladder from which to "trim" high hanging air lamps.

The boiler in the saw mill owned by Frank Swartz, at Caldwell, Clinton county, blew up on Friday evening about 5 o'clock and George Helms, 60 years old, the engineer, was instantly killed. His head and left arm were torn off. Harry Kryder, another employee on the mill, was struck on the hip by a piece of the flying boiler and painfully, though not seriously, hurt.

It might be interesting for Bellefonters to know that Sam, T. Nivling, formerly of the First national bank here, now lives in Buffalo, the Pan-American city, and he and Mrs. Nivling have decided to let a few of the rooms in their home at 351 Auburn Ave. to exposition visitors. It might be a great convenience and pleasure to stop with the Nivlings and if you are going you should write them.

A man who registered at the Central hotel in Milesburg two weeks ago, suddenly disappeared two days later leaving a horse and new buggy behind him. He said he had come from Tyrone and was a salesman, but had no baggage. He arrived at Mr. Kohlbecker's place on Tuesday evening and loafed about there until Thursday evening when he wanted to come to Bellefonte, ostensibly to get a pair of shoes. He was not permitted to take his horse and buggy unless he would pay his bill before starting. This he was unable to do, so he disappeared, leaving his nonveyance behind him.

John F. Harter, deputy revenue collector for Centre, Clinton and Union counties, will be at the Garman house, in Bellefonte, on Monday, June 24th, from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. and at the Passmore house, in Philipsburg, on Tuesday, June 25th, from 8 a. m. to 4 p. m. He will be at these places for the purpose of receiving the special tax that is levied on dealers in spirituous and malt drinks, tobacco and cigars, proprietors of public exhibitions, bowling alleys, billiard rooms, brokers and all other special tax payers. It must be remembered that all such taxes must be paid in advance and the fines is heavy for failing to do so.

A meeting of the life members of the Agricultural Society of Centre county was held in the arbitration room, in the court house, on Saturday evening, June 1st, at which time delegates to elect trustees for The Pennsylvania State College and other business transacted. The organization was completed, as follows: Geo. M. Boal, of Centre Hall, was elected president for the ensuing year and Clement Dale Esq., of Bellefonte, secretary. John A. Woodward, of Howard, was chosen a member of the State Board of Agriculture, D. F. Fortney, Philip S. Dale and Fred Kurtz were selected as delegates to the State College. Owen Underwood, of Union township, was elected to represent the society on the board of institute managers. A committee was appointed to revise the list of life members of the society.

A PROMINENT CITIZEN OF TYRONE DEAD.—John F. Wilson, one of the best known men in Tyrone and popular all over the central part of the State died suddenly while calling at the home of F. W. Acklin, in Tyrone, on Sunday evening.

He had been to church and when on his way home dropped into the Acklin home to make a call. About 10 o'clock he was suddenly taken ill with a severe pain in his side. Everything possible was done for him but to no purpose and he finally passed away at the above stated time. Death was due to acute indigestion culminating in abdominal neuralgia.

John Foster Wilson was a son of Peter and Elizabeth (Van Valzah) Wilson, and was born at Spring Mills, Centre county, Dec. 6th, 1845, and was aged 55 years, 5 months and 27 days. He received his education at the public schools of his native village, at Tuscarora academy, and at Wilson seminary, of Massachusetts. He went to Tyrone and engaged in the mercantile business with J. F. Van Valzah & Wilson, under the firm name of Van Valzah & Wilson. In business he was always quite active and energetic, and with customers and all with whom he came in contact was affable and most courteous.

On Sept. 5th, 1872, John F. Wilson and Miss Mary E. Markley, of Columbia, Lancaster county, were married. To the union were born 3 sons, viz: Dr. John Van Valzah Wilson, of Philadelphia; Thaddeus Markley Wilson and Robert Bailey Wilson, of Tyrone, all of whom survive their father. Mrs. Wilson also survives her husband. Mr. Wilson was one of three boys and five girls, all of whom are now dead.

The funeral occurred Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Services at the First Presbyterian church. Interment at Tyrone cemetery.

JACOB MARKEK.—Old age caused the death of Jacob Markek, which occurred at the home of his son, Dr. A. R. Markek, in Tyrone, on Saturday morning. He was born at York, Pa., March 4th, 1819, and when a young man moved to this county. He first lived in Nittany and Penna valleys, but later located at Pine Grove Mills where the last forty-five years of his life were spent. By trade he was a mason, but worn out by long years of honest toil he laid down active engagements some time ago. It was on April 7th that he went to visit his son in Tyrone.

DANIEL KELLER.—On Friday of last week the news of the death of Mrs. Daniel Keller, of Warren, Ill., who was well known in this section, reached the vicinity of her old home at Boalsburg, on the farm now owned and occupied by Harry Shirk. Her maiden name was Shenebarger, a daughter of the late Geo. Shenebarger, who years ago was a prominent citizen of that valley. She was a sister-in-law of David Keller, of Boalsburg, and a niece of his wife. She leaves to mourn her loss, her husband Mr. Daniel Keller, president of the bank of Warren, and a sister, Mrs. Aaron Kahl, of Christian Hollow, Ill. Mrs. Keller's remains were interred in the Warren cemetery and the funeral services were conducted by her pastor, Rev. Ford.

Earl Moore, the 7 year old son of George Moore, of Mill Hall, was playing with some other boys in Agar's grove near that place on Tuesday afternoon. Butcher Philip Beezer's bay driving horse broke loose from a post in front of the Beezer shop on the Diamond, on Monday afternoon, and created quite a commotion before he was stopped. The horse frightened at the noise made in loading empty beer kegs on a wagon, and ran across the Diamond at break-neck speed. He turned up north High street and circled the court house, coming out on the south side and jumping into the grass plot there. The buggy hung up on the rail that surrounds it, but the horse galloped down past the fountain and on to Bishop street, where he was caught. Not a thing was broken but a piece of the shaft. Of course the little iron fence that surrounds the court house yard was twisted beyond repair. On the north side of the building some children were playing, but all got out of the road of the runaway except little Lena Boyer. She stood directly in its path and, strange to say, the horse leaped clear over her, never leaving as much as a mark.
