THINGS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY

The Milesburg Presbyterians will picnic at Hecla today.

Prof. H. N. Meyer has been elected principal of the Millheim schools.

A slight wreck at Mill Hill delayed Central trains on Tuesday morning.

John McMonigal, of Hannah, has been given a pension of $10 per month.

Mrs. Rebecca Bartley, of this place, has been granted a pension of $8 per month.

Potter & Hoy lost a valuable dray horse on Saturday night. He died of lock jaw.

A middle aged man can find a good home at good wages by looking up the advertising columns of this issue.

The showery weather is reported to be having a bad effect on the grain in many parts of the county.

Miss Edna Krumrine, who was graduated from the Lock Haven Normal, has been elected teacher of the Potters Mills school.

Rev. E. H. Gerhart, for two years pastor of the Aaronsburg Lutheran church, will sever his connection there on Sept. 1st and go to Anville.

Maurice J. Babb, who will be remembered as a member of the Academy teaching force last year, has been made principal of the Oxford public schools.

T. G. Hosterman and C. M. Stover, of Woodward, will leave on Monday to begin operations on a large lumber job they have undertaken in West Virginia.

The Centre Reporter wants a new rail-road station and must want it had, from the manner in which it tried to "soft-soap" the Pennsy management last week.

O. T. Switzer returned to his home in Philipsburg, on Tuesday, after a second trip to the Klondike. He has extensive mining interests in that gold field and is managing them himself.

While leading her cow to pasture Mrs. Polly Royer, of Rebersburg, was tossed against a telephone pole by the vicious brute with such force as to fracture several of her ribs.

Engineer Jerre Nolan is about to move into the Bartley property on Willowbank street and Mr. and Mrs. Dominio Judge will take the house vacated by the Nolans on Thomas street.

The Coleville band was the attraction at Hecla park, last Friday evening, and quite a crowd of people went down for the concert and the dancing. There were several little picnic parties on the grounds also.

The fifth entertainment of the Presbyterian Ladies Aid Society will be held at the home of Mrs. John L. Kurtz on Curtin street, during the last week of July. An interesting program is in preparation and a large attendance is anticipated.

Maudie Grieb, of State College, is a possibility for the Presbyterian organ in Bellefonte; Mrs. J. Malcolm Laurie's resignation having gone into effect. Miss Grieb had the organ on Sunday and her playing pleased the congregation very well.

If you were to come out of a bar room and climb into your buggy and try to drive off without untying your horse from the post you had tied him to before going into the dispensary of cool and hot drinks, what would you think was the matter with you?

The most novel function that Bellefonte has seen in many years will be the fancy dress party to be given in the Armory on Thursday night, July 25th. The receipts will be devoted to the public library fund and the character of the affair will be such as to make them large.

Constans Commaudry No. 33, K. T., will entertain the six Knights and their ladies in the asylum on Wednesday evening, July 24th; it being the 33rd anniversary of the institution of the commandery, Em. Sirs W. F. Reeder and Richard H. Wharton are to make the addresses.

The realty of the late Dr. Charles Smith, of Nittany, has been disposed of finally; the heirs having purchased the most of it. Peter Smith took the farm at Centre Hill at $35 per acre. The farm known as the "pike farm" went at $60 per acre. There were five farms in the estate and their estimated value was $20,000.

Now is the time for you country folks to gather your exhibits for the great Centre county fair. Save the best grain, corn, vegetables or anything else you happen to have in your garden and make an exhibit of it at the fair. Even if you don't win a premium you will be entitled to a low rate of admission for yourself and family.

James Dorsey Hunter has resigned his position as supervising principal of the schools at Gettysburg, which he has proficently filled for the past ten years and to which he was unanimously re-elected this summer, to accept the principalship of the Huntingdon High school—a promotion in salary, as well as in scope of work. That his ability as an instructor and disciplinarian is known elsewhere than here at home and where he has been employed, is evident from the fact that he was also offered, without solicitation, an equally good position in the northern part of the State.

THE RAVAGES OF A DISASTROUS STORM.—One of the most destructive storms in years passed over Centre county on Tuesday afternoon and from all quarters come reports of the destruction and devastation in its wake. Though there was no hail accompanying it the downpour of rain was such as to wash cornfields and beat down grain in all sections, while the lightning killed one man, torn up several barns and shocked a number of people.

Along the Buffalo run, in the vicinity of Agnew Sellers place, there was a cloud burst that caused such a flood as to completely destroy part of the crops on the Sellers, Steine, John Behrer and George Stevenson farms. The bridge at Behrer's was also washed out, though the story that the great horse shoe fill on the Bellefonte Central had given away under a pressure of back water is untrue.

In Ferguson township quite a number of thrilling occurrences are reported. The barn on Charles Behrer's farm below Graysville was struck and so badly wrecked that it will not hold this season's crops. It did not take fire, however. Claude Hess was mowing and his team frightened at the storm and ran away. It could not be stopped until it had plowed through two fences and broke the mower all to pieces. Pierce Lytle was struck by lightning and knocked off his reaper. He and both his horses were stunned but recovered after a little.

About Linden Hall the waters rose until they flooded the railroad tracks so that the afternoon trains could only get through after the crew had waded in water knee deep to push the drift off the tracks. The farms of Robt. McClelland and Fergus Potter suffered considerably. On Wednesday the same vicinity was visited by another storm that had two victims in old Mrs. Hester Long and Mrs. Tamer Shirk. The former lives in the tenant house on the Van Tries farm and was unconscious quite a while from a bolt of lightning that struck her home. Mrs. Shirk had been out for berries and was returning home when a walnut tree nearby was struck. She was knocked over by the shock, but soon recovered and suffered no serious results.

LIGHTNING KILLED IRA HEATON.—A heavy thunder storm passed down over Bald Eagle valley on Wednesday afternoon leaving a great measure of sorrow for at least one family in its wake.

About a mile north of Julian Ira Heaton farmed the Charles Boyer place and on Tuesday afternoon he, with Mr. Boyer, David and John Adams, was engaged at hauling bark. When the storm came up the men went into the barn for shelter; the three latter climbing into the hay mow, while Heaton remained on the floor below doing a little work with a pitch fork. Shortly after they had entered the building there was a blinding flash, a deafening crash and a bolt of the electric fluid ripped its way down through the building from the roof. Boyer and the two Adams men were all stunned so that it was some time before they came to a realization of what had happened. Fully twenty minutes afterward, when they climbed down out of the mow they found Heaton lying in the corner of the building with the fork in his hand. He was quite dead, though there was not a mark of any account on his body.

He was about 35 years old and a widow with six small children are left to mourn the effects of the awful occurrence.

Tuesday evening's storm caused a live electric wire to fall in Tyrone and little Robert Eberts got hold of it a little later. The current was not strong enough to do the child serious injury but he couldn't leave go of the wire until his father hurried to the scene and tore it from his blistered hands.

ROBB'S NEW POSITION.—Nelson E. Robb, Recorder of Centre county and, since its organization, secretary of the Central Commercial Telephone Co., has been made general superintendent of the North and West Branch Telephone Co., which is the new corporation that has absorbed all of the independent lines in Central Pennsylvania with a view to combining them against the Bell.

The elevation of Mr. Robb to such an important place is simply recognition of his ability for the place and the energy that has characterized him ever since he came before the public.

The new position will require his absence from Bellefonte most of the time, as headquarters will be in Williamsport. He will not resign as Recorder of the county, however, as his efficient deputy Ambrose Sloceman will carry on the work, assisted by Mr. Robb's brother Burt. Mr. Robb will not move away from Bellefonte, but his acceptance of this place changes the political situation in the county somewhat, as he has already announced that he will not be a candidate for re-election to the office of Recorder. As he is serving his first term and under the precedent of his party is entitled to a re-nomination his decision complicates matters in the Republican organization.

THE BIG HARDWARE FIRM TO BE INCORPORATED.—Bellefonte's big wholesale and retail hardware establishment, the Potter & Hoy concern, is making application for a charter under the laws of Pennsylvania and when it is granted the corporation will be known as "The Potter-Hoy Hardware Co., with James H. Potter, Edward L. Hoy, W. Fred Reynolds, James Harris and John M. Dale as the incorporators. The capital is fixed at $100,000 and with this material increase in resources the firm will be equipped to compete with the largest establishments in the hardware line.

R. M. Butler has been made post-master at Yarnell.

J. W. Madison has been appointed post master at Birmingham to succeed Ella Giles, resigned to get married.

Joseph Coleman has gone to jail in Williamsport in default of $1,000 bail, for enticing 15 year old Hattie Elmsr away from her home. He is from Queen's Run.

The house owned by Frank Leitzel and occupied by Geo. Rhoads, at Coleville, was struck by lightning during the heavy storm last Thursday afternoon. The chimney was demolished and part of the roof knocked off. Mrs. Rhoads and two children were about the house at the time and were badly stunned, but not seriously injured.

William Fultz was quite seriously hurt by a falling tree on the Harter lumber job near Woodward one day last week. They had just finished peeling a log and were walking away from it when an old dead tree, without a moments' warning, fell. Mr. Harter gave the alarm and all of the men escaped but Fultz. A limb caught him, hurting his head, arm, side and leg so badly that he will be laid up for some time.

The great Centre county fair will be here before you know it. Get ready to make an exhibit of your cattle, cereals, vegetables, fancy work or anything else you have that comes under the catalogue classes. It will not cost you anything to try for some of the premiums and it is possible for you to win considerable money. There will be a great fair this fall and you will want to participate in the credit for it.

We do not know how much there may be in it, or how the "old thing would work," but it wouldn't cost much to try, and, if effective, would certainly prove a simple, more inexpensive and humane method of dehorning cattle, than is now practiced. An exchange says, buy a five-cent stick of potash, and when the little horns make the first signs of starting on the calves, wet them over with this caustic stick, and the calf will never know that nature intended that it should have horns.

James H. Porter Esq., a well-to-do and highly esteemed Nittany valley farmer, died at his home near Mackeyville, last Friday morning, at the age of 79 years. He was born on the old Porter homestead within a mile of the place he died and as he was a leader in church and temperance works, as well as a well-doer in other causes he was regarded as one of the most useful men in that community. His widow, three sons and two daughters survive him. Interment was made at Cedar Hill on Monday morning.

The Bald Eagle valley train that had been arriving here at 1:20 p. m. began running on its new schedule on Monday and now arrives at Lock Haven in time to connect, both north and south, with the flyers for Buffalo and Philadelphia. The train no longer runs into this place so that passengers must leave here on the 1:05 and go to Milesburg, where they will await the arrival of the fast train east on the valley. Passengers for Bellefonte are brought up by the local shifter which goes down with a coach for that purpose.

The Epworth League of the Bellefonte Methodist church gave quite a delightful entertainment, in the lecture room of the church on Friday evening, as a parting testimonial to Charles McClure, one of the active young men in the church, who departed for the Philippines on Monday. Addresses were made by Rev. Shriner and Mr. J. K. Johnston. Miss Faxon gave a few of her inimitable readings, refreshments were served and the whole party sang "Jesus Saviour Pilot Me," with a fervor and meaning that told plainly enough of the deep interest of those in attendance in the young traveler.

Rev. Dr. Samuel L. Stiver, who with Mrs. Stiver and their little son, Perry, were visiting at the home of his sister, Mrs. J. E. Ward, on Curtin street, preached in the Methodist church on Sunday morning. Dr. Stiver is a graduate of Lafayette college, the Union Theological seminary, and, at one time, taught school in this county. He is now principal and proprietor of a large and prosperous military academy at Bunker Hill, Ill., and is east at this time settling up the estate of his mother, Mrs. Mary Stiver, who died at her home in Potter township recently. Mrs. Stiver and son left for Illinois, yesterday, but the doctor will remain for several days.

Outside of flood times it is not often that Lock Haven has anything new or strange to boast of, but a shower of toads and henceforth the pretty little city at the mouth of the Bald Eagle creek will think itself of more importance than ever. How many toads there were, where they came from, or what was the cause of their appearance, no one seems to know. The only certainty about the matter is that after a heavy shower, on Thursday afternoon, it was noticed that the streets and side walks were literally covered with them and in places it was difficult to walk without crushing the tiny creatures. Some say they rained down, while others believe it was only a picnic day for the young toads. Be it as it may, Lock Haven has reason to congratulate itself that it had something to boast of, and so long as it rains or grows toads in quantities down there it is certain there will be no danger of the town being forgotten.

WILLIAM STRAUB.—Again are we obliged to record the death of one of our worthy citizens whose quiet life and integrity of character won for him the commendation of the entire community. Mr. Straub had not been well for months and for several weeks his condition had been so critical on account of heart trouble and dropsy that the announcement of his death, on Thursday evening last, at 6 o'clock, was not surprising. He had been obliged to give up work years ago on account of failing sight and for the past year had been totally blind from the effects of a cataract which neither his home physician nor city specialists could alleviate. And with it all he was so patient and courageous that no one ever heard him utter a complaint or show the least discouragement. Indeed his passing away was but a transition, for no one ever knew of the approach of the grim reaper with happier anticipations or more cheerful fortitude. His was a life to emulate unobtrusive, devoted to principle, industrious and pre-eminently gentle and helpful.

A son of George and Elizabeth Straub he was born in New Berlin, Union county, April 9th, 1829, and came to this county when only seventeen years of age. He first located at Pleasant Gap but later came here, where for thirty years he was connected with the Jenkins and Lingle foundry as a pattern maker. He was especially interested in spiritual affairs and for forty years had been an honored and efficient member of the Methodist church. He was one of the chief promoters of the present church edifice and at that time was the treasurer of the board of trustees.

His wife, Nancy Ashton, daughter of James Ashton, of Centre Furnace, and to whom he was married on the 22nd of Dec. 1854, died four years ago but he is survived by their three children, Miss Emma Blanch, at home, and E. Milton, and Elmer E., both of this place. He is also survived by the following sisters and brothers, Henry, of Brookville; Levi, of Chicago; Edward, and Mrs. Isaac Miller, of Bellefonte, and Mrs. Lydia Weaver, of Brush Valley.

The funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at four o'clock at his late home on Valentine street. His pastor, Rev. W. P. Shriner, officiated and the pall bearers were H. H. Harshberger, W. T. Twitmer, H. P. Walkey, and G. W. Reese. Interment was made in the Union cemetery.

MRS. ISABELLA RICHARD.—After a prostrating illness of more than two years Mrs. Isabella Hedley Richard, widow of the late F. C. Richard, passed away at her home on east Linn street on Tuesday morning at five o'clock. For months she had been an invalid on account of paralysis and while there is deep sorrow in the hearts of those who knew her best, there is yet comfort for they know that she suffers no more and with her all is well.

She was a daughter of Robert Hedley, an officer of the British government, and was born near London, Eng., February 21st, 1830. In her early girlhood she came to Philadelphia to make her home and there her marriage to F. C. Richard took place in 1857. With him, in 1871, she came here, where she has since resided and where until death, only a few years ago, Mr. Richard successfully conducted the jewelry store which still bears his name. She was a kind, lovable, woman, devoted to her family and though naturally a home woman—quiet and retiring—she was ever ready to give of her time and means for the sick or needy, the poor or distressed.

She is survived by her three children Charles and Edward H., of this place, and Mrs. Thomas H. Hill, of Philadelphia.

Mrs. Richard was an active member of the Episcopal church and in the absence of her pastor, Rev. G. I. Brown, Rev. Dr. Holloway, of the Lutheran church, conducted the services which were held at the family home yesterday morning at 10 o'clock. Interment was made in the Union cemetery.

CHARLES H. MCCLURE.—On Tuesday the sad news was received here of the death of Charles H. McClure, which occurred that morning at 2 o'clock at the Bethesda bath house, Marlin, Texas, from the effects of catarrh of the stomach and bowels.

Many of the older residents will remember Charles as the affable, light-hearted son of the late Harvey McClure who left his home here about twenty years ago to seek his fortune in California. Upon his arrival on the Slope his first venture was a sea run between Frisco and Honolulu which he made for two years. Afterwards he went into business at Los Angeles with Mr. Proudfoot, formerly of this place. Upon the dissolution of their partnership Charles went into the fruit raising business in Southern California and it was on the ranch that his health broke down.

Very little is known of the particulars of his death, aside from the brief telegram and letter received from the physician in charge of his case, but it is supposed that he had gone to Marlin for treatment.

It has not been decided whether his body will be brought here at once or whether it will be temporarily buried there. Surviving are his brothers James and William, both of this place.

GEORGE SHAFER.—Miles township lost one of her oldest and most reputable citizens when the venerable George Shaffer passed away on Friday night, at the age of 87 years, 7 months and 21 days. He was a leading citizen and the last living member of the old and influential family of which Judge John A. Shaffer was the head. Lieut. Daniel Shaffer, Co. A, 148th P. V. is a son.

THOMAS EWING FLEMING.—Died at his residence in Moshannon, Centre county, on the 10th inst., at the age of 68 years and 7 days. Deceased was born near Monroe Furnace, Huntingdon county, July 3rd, 1833. He is survived by his wife and nine children, Joseph S., of Morrisdale Mines; David B., of Jersey Shore; James W., Charles L. and Thomas E., Mrs. Nannie Bowers, Mrs. Ada Nuick, Misses Lizzie and Lucy, all of Moshannon. Three sisters also survive: Mrs. Mary Bowan, of Altoona; Mrs. Hugh Parker and Mrs. Bliss, of Corona, Mich. Mr. Fleming was a veteran of the Civil war, being enrolled June 8th, 1861, in the Fifth Penna. Reserves, Co. E, and after three years' service was honorably discharged. He was also a member of the Presbyterian church for a number of years and was a devout Christian and a consistent worker for the cause of Christ. His remains were interred at Moshannon on Friday.

Francis X. Lehman, who died at Patton recently, from the effects of appendicitis, was the son of F. X. Lehman formerly proprietor of the Brant house in this place. He was born in Bellefonte on January 29th, 1834, and after leaving here lived in Williamsport, Lock Haven and Patton. His three brothers and two sisters survive.

Mrs. Jane Krider, who was a daughter of David and Esther Beck and was born at Warriors-mark on June 4th, 1840, died at her home at Cross Roads early Sunday morning. Surviving her are a daughter, two sisters and four brothers. Interment was made on Tuesday morning.

Arthur Russel, the nine months old son of William and Mrs. Rinesmith, died at the home of his parents on Tuesday evening, of stomach trouble. His funeral was held yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. W. P. Shriner officiated and interment was made in the Union cemetery.

J. Edward Swartz died at his home near Millheim on Wednesday night with Bright's disease and dropsy. He was 35 years old and leaves a widow with four children. Funeral services are to be held this morning in the Evangelical church in Millheim.

Malcolm Freeman, a 4 year old Philipsburg colored boy, set himself on fire while playing in the kitchen of his home on Saturday and was so badly burned when his mother found him that he died next day from his injuries.

News Purely Personal.

Miss Esther P. Tuten, of Boston, Mass., is a guest at the home of her brother, Edward T. Tuten, on North Thomas street.

Hugh Crider and Lawrence Hoover left for Buffalo yesterday. They expect to spend a week at the exposition.

Joe Fauble, with his sisters Mabel and Ida, left for Buffalo yesterday afternoon and will spend a week at the Pan-American.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Allison and their little daughter, Catharine are in Atlantic City for a ten days' visit. They went Saturday.

Mrs. Margaret Alexander and Miss McCalmont went to Altoona Tuesday to spend a few days with Miss Bell Riddle.

Miss Katharine H. Hoover is home from Philadelphia enjoying her vacation with her aunts on Spring street.

Misses Lizzie and Sallie Collins are entertaining their brother, Peter Collins, of Philadelphia at their home just north of town.

Clayton Brown, who is in the employ of Gimbel Bros., Philadelphia, is in town at the Dawson home for his summer's vacation.

Dr. Benj. Gill and former county commissioner H. C. Campbell, of State College, were Sunday visitors in Tyrone, where they were the guests of the latter's son John B. Campbell.

Mrs. W. L. Daggett and her little son Boynton have returned from Atlantic City, but Mr. Daggett still tarries there on account of his health, which, we are happy to say, is somewhat improved.

Mrs. A. T. Parker, of Jersey Shore, who has spent the past month with her son, Mr. J. M. Parker, of Roland, and her daughter, Mrs. H. M. Bidwell, of this place, left for her home on Monday.

Charles Larimer, John Teats and Will Taylor spent Sunday in Lock Haven and judging from the color of the stockings they started off with there must have been a pretty warm time somewhere.

A. Heckendorff, the fine looking Karthaus merchant, was a business visitor in town on Saturday and took supper with his sister-in-law, Mrs. C. Y. Wagner, on Reynolds Ave. before departing on the Snow Shoe train that evening.

Charles McClure left for San Francisco on Monday and from there will sail on the transport Thomas for the Philippines with the army of American school teachers who are going there to teach the young idea how to shoot.

Richard Lane, of Philadelphia, is in town for his usual summer visit.

Miss Grace Alexander, of Centre Hall, is a guest of Tyrone friends.

Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Spigelmyer are at Buffalo for ten days' sight-seeing at the Exposition.

Guy Harris is here from Pittsburg for a short visit to his mother, Mrs. Rachel Harris.

Miss Erma Snook, of this place, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Achenbach, in Lock Haven.

Col. James Milliken and Miss De Velasco, of New York, are again at the Bush house for a few days.

Miss Ida Orris left Saturday for Buffalo to see the Exposition. Before returning she will visit Niagara Falls and spend some time at Chautauqua with her cousin, Miss Elsie Weaver, who is spending the summer there.

Corp. Sam. Solt, of the 47th U. S. V., several of whose interesting letters appeared in the WATCHMAN during his service in the Philippines, arrived home on Sunday morning. He was the last one of the Bellefonte contingent to get here.

John D. and W. F. Miller, of Hagersburg, were in town on Tuesday and had considerable difficulty in keeping themselves dry while trying to attend to the many little business matters consequent on settling up their deceased father's estate.

Miss Elsie Boyd, of Danville, who has been a guest of Miss Elizabeth Gephart for several weeks left for her home on Tuesday afternoon. Miss Gephart and Miss Sarah Potter accompanied her as far as Milton, where they will spend some time with friends.

William Brouse, one of the representative young men of Harris township who finds profitable employment on the Linden Hill lumber road, was in town on Monday attending to a little business looking to the improvement of the cozy new home he has just built at Bousburg.

Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Miller, of Tower City, who are spending the summer with Mr. Miller's parents at Pine Grove, were in town Wednesday. In fact there was kind of a Miller family reunion here for Mr. and Mrs. David Miller and their other son were also in town.

Supt. Brower, of the Nittany county club, was in town on Tuesday, lively as a cricket. He has a household of Pittsburghers down there and their entertainment must be up to the Brower style, which is so excellent as to be accomplished only by constant hustling.

Will Van Vain, of Buffalo, is here on a visit to his brother, Dr. C. A. Van Vain and, incidentally, he is disposing of considerable stock in the Log Cabin Gold and Copper Co. Ltd., which he thinks is a splendid proposition that is now being developed in the Lake Superior copper region of Ontario, Canada.

J. Norris Bogle, secretary of the Jenkins Iron and Tool Co. at Howard, with his sister, Miss Sarah, returned from their foreign trip on Thursday. They were abroad about a year and much of their time was spent along the Riviera, where Mr. Bogle's health was very much benefited.

Mrs. Estella Lyon, who had been in Philadelphia for the past four months, returned home Tuesday evening. She was accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. Alfred Gordon, the latter's baby daughter and nurse and Alma Lichten, who will spend the remainder of the summer at the Lyon home on Linn street.

Alfred Beezer, one of that numerous family in this section whom we had never before had the pleasure of meeting, dropped in on Saturday. Though he bears very slight traces of the family resemblance that is so striking with the Beezers he is exactly like all the rest of them in being a courteous, pleasant gentleman.

Mrs. W. P. Smith, of Wellsboro, is in town visiting Mr. Smith's mother and other relatives here. She will be remembered as Miss May Goodfellow before her marriage and has many friends in town who will be gratified to know they are getting along very nicely at Wellsboro. Will expects to be home for a short visit in a few days, also.

THE LIME TRUST SHAPING UP.—J. W. Boileau, of Pittsburg, the promoter of the new American Lime Co. was here during the fore-part of the week and was joined by J. W. Grantham, of Scottdale, an expert on mining and machinery, and F. A. Carlin, of Allegheny, an expert on carpentering and building. They had A. J. Lytell, of Pittsburg, with them as stenographer and on Monday A. G. Morris and Thomas K. Morris came down from Tyrone to accompany the gentlemen over the various enterprises about Bellefonte.

The Morris, McCalmont, Stevens and Bellefonte Lime Co. operations were all visited and appraisements made of their value. While nothing definite has been decided on it is likely that the trust will get in working order about Sept. 1st.

District attorney N. B. Spangler returned from his recent fishing expedition to find that some unknown parties had tried to make a house up-side down like the one on the mid-way at the Pan-American out of his office. Of course Newt enjoyed the joke and has been laughing (?) ever since at the way his cosy little office was fixed up for his reception.
