

Seems to Be Satisfied.

From the Port-Allegheny Reporter. What's the difference anyway to us fellows up here in the wild cat district if we do lose Sibley, don't we get uncle Dan Hastings instead. I don't know how Dan feels about the change but I have a faint impression that the fellows who arranged the scheme did so with a full knowledge that he is liable to get his political head cut off up here. Dan has been considered dangerous for several years, and there isn't a stalwart in the whole State but that would like to be in at the funeral when Dan is a political corpse.

Pine Grove Mention.

Cyrus Gearhart and wife Sundayed with Rock Forge friends. Dr. G. H. Woods is handling the ribbons over a fine black stepper. Ross Grove, of McAuley's Fort was seen on our streets Saturday.

Rev. H. C. Love is spending his vacation of a month in Massachusetts. Mrs. O. B. Krebs and family are visiting her brother, F. S. Musser, in Altoona.

Rev. Ralph Illingworth is slated to fill the Lutheran pulpit here next Sunday evening.

Farmer Ernest Hess lost his horse Dexter last week and he considers it a serious loss. Miss Kate Dunlap, of State College, was among the passengers here Saturday evening.

Bruce Rossman and wife, of Penn Hall, visited among Fairbrook friends the beginning of the week.

Mrs. Mary Hess Askey, of Williamsport, is the guest of her cousin Estella May Heberling.

Miss Nancy Thomas, one of Westmoreland county's successful school teachers, is making her annual visit here.

Word has just been received here of the illness of Miss Jane Gilliland, who is near death's door with paralysis.

A ball game is slated for Saturday afternoon in the Bailey field between the Boalsburg and Pine Grove teams.

Miss Jennima From came over from State College Saturday evening and was a guest at grand mother Gates over Sunday.

Sidney Poorman, one of Harris townships fore noon farmers and a straight-out Democrat, Sundayed with his brother-in-law, J. B. Homan.

Ex-county treasurer Daniel C. Keller was here last week introducing his friend J. C. Clark, a cattle dealer of New Jersey, to our farmers. Prices are way down.

Mrs. John C. McCracken, who has been ill with a bilious attack at the McCracken home in the Glades for several weeks, was able to return to her home near Johnstown on Monday.

Edward Bowersox and wife of Altoona are visiting relatives at Fairbrook and incidentally looking for lower temperature. Mrs. Bowersox has been in poor health for a year or more and is not improving greatly.

After an absence of thirty years Mr. Chas. Gates and his sister are visiting relatives about here. They were but children, three and five years old, when their parents moved to Ohio to seek a new home, where they are well established apparently with full and plenty.

On Tuesday an enjoyable afternoon tea was given at the home of Henry W. McCracken in the Glades. Games and social intercourse were indulged in until a late hour and the guests were delighted with the entertainment and hospitality show them.

A violent electrical storm accompanied by rain visited this section on Wednesday morning about 3 o'clock. J. B. Heberling's dwelling house was struck by lightning but no more serious damage was done than some shingles scattered and the roof shattered.

Last week the obliging driver for the Howard creamery company on the milk route from here to Baileyville handed in his resignation. A cut in the wages is said to have been the cause. L. K. Dale, it is said, will be his successor for the next year at least.

With favorable weather this week the grain crop will all be barned and much of it threshed. Those who have threshed report a yield of wheat of 25 bushels per acre which is of excellent quality. Col. Stewart was evidently not a competent judge of the crop outlook.

Last Thursday morning as farmer Emanuel Fye was tying a horse in the stable a young horse kicked him viciously on the hip and back. Dr. Glenn was summoned and after a thorough examination decided there was no bones broken but the injury was such that Mr. Fye would be obliged to stay in bed for some weeks.

During a thunder gust that passed over this vicinity last week the large barn on the Samuel Musser farm was struck by lightning. Farmer William Beck and his four horse team had just landed on the barn floor with a load of hay. Mr. Beck and his assistants were shaken up a little and two of the rafters of the barn were split into kindling wood. The barn was struck several years ago just at the same place.

The surviving members of Co. E. 45th. Regt., P. V. will hold their fortieth reunion at Baileyville on Saturday, Aug. 17th. General James A. Beaver, Rev. John Harpster, late of Ind., and Rev. W. P. Shriner will make the addresses. All the members of Co. E. are requested to be present and all the old soldiers are cordially invited to attend. Altoona, Huntington, Lewistown, and Tyrone papers are requested to make public this notice.

The Republican primary, held at the St. Elmo last Saturday evening, was anything but exciting owing to the few attendants. And it was run so unsystematically that when the time for adjournment came no tally of voters had been kept and no candidates were in sight. The antics had every thing their way and did just what the bosses from Bellefonte instructed them to do. But Sunday and Monday the stalwarts wakened up to the fact that they had not been consulted and got after the committee, with the result that a special meeting was held Monday to patch matters up. In so doing Phil. Foster was counted out. David Reed and A. S. Bailey were the delegates and we haven't heard whether Hastings allowed them to ride on his hand wagon or not for he ruled the convention as he pleased.

On Tuesday evening Mrs. C. T. Aikens gave a lawn party at the parsonage for all the small boys in the town. Good refreshments were served and to say they had a gay old time is but expressing it mildly.

Last Saturday evening a large number of young folks took Will H. Bailey's beautiful lawn by storm and decorated it with Japanese lanterns and lights. The assemblage was in honor of the forty-sixth birthday of Mrs. Ella Pickens, Mr. Bailey's niece, of Philadelphia, who is there visiting and was to her a complete and agreeable surprise. She received a number of beautiful presents, and delicious refreshments were served generously by Mrs. Bailey and her two daughters, Mary and Nannie. Everyone had a good time and departed to their homes wishing many happy returns of the joyous occasion.

Last Thursday morning about one o'clock the large barn on the farm of Franklin Bowersox near Rock Springs was discovered to be on fire and before the flames could be stayed, the barn, implement shed, pig pen and poultry house were completely destroyed. The fire was first seen by some of the neighbors and before the Bowersox family could be aroused from their slumbers the flames had made such headway it was almost impossible to rescue anything. The barn and sheds were packed full of grain and hay, three young horses, all the harness and most of the farming implements were destroyed. One horse was rescued but it was badly burnt, an old wagon, a binder, a roller and the colts, which were out in the field, were all that was saved. The fire caught from the outside and evidently was the work of an incendiary. Competent judges estimate the loss at $5,000 as there was no insurance. Mr. Bowersox will not rebuild just now.

Hubersburg.

The hot weather still continues. Miss Jennie Selzer, of Lock Haven, is visiting her friend Regina Hubler.

J. N. McAuley, made a business trip to Mill Hall on Saturday last.

Mr. Ishler and his mother from Lemont spent a few days with their son and brother, Frank Ishler.

Wm. G. Carner and son, Frank, are busy threshing grain with their new machine. The machine does excellent work.

G. F. Hoy shipped a car of new wheat. This seems rather soon for new wheat, but the farmers did not have the time to store it.

Quite a heavy rain storm passed over our section on Monday afternoon, up-rooting trees, blowing sheds from their foundations, etc.

Phillipsburg.

The electric light plant has again resumed operation.

There are eleven cases of typhoid fever in Chester Hill at this time.

The Rev. Thomas Wilcox, of Altoona, and former pastor of the M. E. church, circulated among his many friends on Thursday.

The work on Chas. Avery's residence is gradually beginning to develop what will be a very handsome home when completed.

A head-on collision occurred at Wallacetown on the N. Y. C. R. R., at 8 o'clock Tuesday morning and badly demolished two engines.

The funeral of a five months old child of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Lausberry, of Winber, took place from Mr. John Baker's on 4th street on Thursday afternoon.

The Wigton residence, which is being erected at the corner of Presquise and 4th streets is being pushed rapidly and will add greatly to that locality in appearance when completed.

The P. O. S. of A. held their annual picnic at Olanta on Thursday of this week. Excursion rates were given on the N. Y. C. and a special train was run for the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Lausberry left, Thursday morning, for an outing at Atlantic City and intermediate points, for about two weeks. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Flegal and little son, also bound for the sea shore.

The little game of the "political set" in this vicinity failed to materialize and consequently the participants were completely repudiated by the indignation of self-respecting citizens who have some regard for their pledges, and who are heartily sick of the "Lumbago" clique and the following thereof.

Spring Mills.

The apple crop in this immediate vicinity is almost a total failure.

Spring Mills castle K. G. E. contemplate having a grand picnic after harvest.

They had a snow squall in Philadelphia last week. People up this way were wishing we had a little of it here.

The Spring Mills planing mill company, have stopped operations for a short time for repairs.

Some potato stalks in this neighborhood are assailed by myriads of winged bugs, but as yet no particular damage has been noticed.

Wm. Ruhf left on Tuesday last for Montgomery, Pa., to accept a position with his brother-in-law, Willis Rishel, in the hotel business.

Miles Dippery a very reliable young man, now carries the mail, and drives the hotel hack to and from the railroad station, vice Wm. Ruhf resigned.

Smith Bros., furniture dealers, are pushing forward their new store building as rapidly as possible. They expected to occupy the premises in July but the carpenters were unable to commence operations at an earlier date, hence the delay.

Our postal facilities are now very complete and everything arranged for convenience. Our new postmaster and his able deputy discharging the duties of the office expeditiously, and as if both were old in the business and to the manner born. Mr. Krape has also placed above the entrance a very conspicuous P. O. sign.

Mrs. Jacob and Mrs. George Breen, of Altoona, are visiting relatives and friends—niece of Mr. and Mrs. David Burrell. I also notice in the village C. S. Cameron, of Ashland, Ohio, J. B. Schoch, of Philadelphia, M. L. Wagonseller, of Selinsgrove, and John Horner formerly of our place, but now of Altoona, also Miss Mary Neyhart, of Lewisburg, guest of Mrs. F. H. VanValzah.

J. I. Condo, carpet manufacturer, is introducing new machinery into his factory, and will commence the fall campaign of business with more designs, and entirely new plans and styles of carpet manufacture.

Books, Magazines, Etc.

The COMMOULTAN for August is, as usual, rich in fiction, remarkable both for its vivid interest and its great variety. IRVING BACHELER writes a refreshing story of the Canadian big-timber region, and IRVING's drawings catch the spirit of the scene perfectly. A. T. QUILLER-COCHRAN's ("Q.") pathetic little tale cannot fail to enlist our sympathies with the French exile who broke his parole for love. RICHARD LE GALLIENNE tells the most charming and least known of the quaint "Old French Romances"—the love of honest Squire Robin for the Fair Jehane. "The Temple of Fate," the late GRANT ALLEN's clever satire on moderate society, is certain not only to entertain the reader, but also to set him thinking. FRANCIS WILLING WHARTON writes a pretty story of fashionable Newport society—a subject with which she is thoroughly at home; while PHOENIX LYDE and EGBERT CASTLE handle strong subjects in a masterly way.

The features of the August number of EVERYBODY'S MAGAZINE is Emilio Aguinaldo's story of his capture by Fanston. The Filipino leader narrates the circumstances which led to his taking in a manner of great clearness and simplicity. It is a most interesting as well as an important deed of arms. Oscar K. Davis, the Sun's war correspondent, follows with a sketch of Aguinaldo from rather an unusual point of view. There are several delightful nature articles. L. W. Brownell tells of the "Birth of a Butterfly," which is finely illustrated; L. W. Blake writes and A. R. Dugmore pictures "Days with a Mocking Bird." Maximilian Foster contributes "Tragically"—a fine moose story. In "Photography as a Fine Art," C. H. Giffin writes of the work of C. H. White. A rarely interesting contribution is "Pictures that Show Motion," being the evolution of the biograph, by Roy McArdie. J. M. Bacon tells of "Steering Balloons by Upper Air Currents."

St. Nicholas for August is filled with text and pictures of a sort to catch the reader's attention and hold it, for the opening article is one of Cleveland Moffet's "Danger and Daring" series. His theme this month being the taming of wild beasts by men and women. The serials run on entertainingly—and there are rhymes and jingles, pictures, anecdotes, and acrostics, in the usual abundance. As usual, also, much of the best matter in the magazine is to be found in the editorial departments—Books and Reading, Nature and Science, the St. Nicholas League, etc.
