Negro Who Seized Czolgosz a Hero

Jim" Parker, the burly negro who struck the pistol from the hand of Czolgosz the instant after the shooting, has been the hero of the Exposition ever since, and greater crowds flock to see him than even the midway can attract.

Holes in the Stomach Are Considered Healed Because Beef Juice is Readily Digested. Patient in Fine Spirits.

BUFFALO, Sept., 11 .- The coudition of the President continued favorable, throughout the day and nothing occurred to shake the faith the attending physicians and sur-geons have expressed that he will recover. The danger from two sources was pronounced practically over to-day. The holes in the stomach proper, caused by the perfora-tion of the bullet are now considered healed by Dr. McBurney and his associates, and the eminent surgeon pointed to the fact that beef juice fed to the patient last night was readily digested, as proof of this. THE VETERANS AT PINE GROVE.-On Saturday the veterans of the G. A. R. held their annual reunion at Pine Grove Mills and they were favored with an ideal September day for the occasion. The attendance was all that could be desired and many visitors were present from Mifflin, Huntingdon and Blair counties. Among the strangers, who tarried in our town over Sunday were, Alfred Johnsonbaugh and wife, Wm. H. Sausserman and wife, Peter Wolf, Mrs. Will Meyers, Will Reed, Mary E. Stover and Mrs. Ephriam Fisher and daughter, Miss Edna Krumrine, meeting the Patrons of the Central part of Miss Maud Livingston and Wm. and Dr. Ward.

> The District Sunday school convention held at Gatesburg on Monday was a great success. The program was carried out to a letter. G. W. Homan and Rev. Kechner were the only absentees. Isaac Rider had charge of the song service. Rev. Aikens was chosen, president, John B. Goheen, treasurer, and Mrs. Sadie Lemon, secretary.

> School opened last Monday with a few changes. Mr. Gates was transfered to Centre school, Miss Heberling is teaching in the old Baileyville house and Miss Nora Goheen was recently elected to teach at the Glades. Prof. Stahr, a graduate of Franklin and Marshal, is in charge of the high school here and he is said to be quite an able teacher.

On Tuesday evening, after skirmishing around for some time, William Hess threw off his bachelor robes, and took unto himself a wife in the person of Miss Ella C. Messinger, daughter of John Messinger. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Rearich at 4 o'clock and after a supper and reception at the groom's home at Boalsburg the happy couple left for the Bellefonte exposition, where they spent their honeymoon.

Charley Neidigh, little son of Jacob Neidigh, A. M. Brown's boss farmer, met with a serious accident on Monday morning. His father was working a manure spreader and the little fellow was following in the rear. Suddenly the spreader flew out of gear and the spikes caught the lad's arm stripping it of flesh and muscle besides inflicting several wounds on his head before the machine could be stopped. Dr. Houser dressed the wounds, which he says are the worst he has ever seen.

as was performed upon the chief executive should heal within three weeks, but in the President's case he may be strong enough to be moved a little sooner. The President will be taken to Washington as soon as it is safe to move him.

Within the sick room many evidences of the President's improvement were appar-ent. The President himself began to show confidence in his ability to care for himself from time to time he would carefully turn himself and gain a more restful position. Yesterday he took the precaution to ask if he might be permitted to move, but to day he changed his position of his own vo-lition without difficulty. The nurses nat-urally observed with care these evidences of growing strength and courage and were ready to see that there were no undue tax on the President's strength or the straining of the wound. These slight moves from side to side are all that he has attempted thus far and it is too early yet to be thinking of his sitting up in bed.

A most important development of the day was the determination reached among those in charge of him, that his food should be administered by mouth. Not since struggle was all about Foster, who kept the shooting has a morsel of food been givon shouting, "I ain't the man who shot en to the President by natural means essity for removing it. In a vest pocket was a silver shell lead pencil. Three cigars were also found. They were not the black perfectos, which the President likes, but a short size and were recognized as some that had been given to him at Niagara Falls that day. On two of them he chewed much as General Grant used a cigar. The other he had not touched.

The President's watch was an open-faced gold case, American made time keeper. Attached to it was the gold chain, which the President always wore. No letters, telegrams, or papers were found. There was not on the President's person a single clue to his identity, unless it was to be found in the cards in his wallet. The President's shirt was cut where the surgeons had ripped it from him in hastily preparing him for the operating table.

Doctors Declare President Out of Danger.-Gains' Steadily.—Another Day Without Unfavorable Report.—Mr. McKinley Himself Thinks He is About Well and Wants to Get Up.

BUFFALO, September 10 .- The corps of eminent surgeons and physicians in attend-ance upon the wounded President to-day committed themselves without reservation to the opinion that their patient was out of danger and that only the possibility of complications threatened his life. They did not give assurance of his recovery col-

There is never a breath of business, public or private, and at no time has there been the slightest reference to anything connected with the President's duties. There has been no division in the councils of the physicians at any time; each has loyally seconded the efforts of the others, and all have joined in carrying out the masterly work done by Dr. Mann immediately following the shooting. In referring to this to-day, one of the President's assistants, who was present at the operation said, Dr. Mann displayed the consummate skill and calmness in going about the operation as if the patient were a child with a slight complaint. And yet Dr. Mann has since told a friend that when he realized the duty before him, although he had performed hundreds of operations of laborat-omy, he would have sacrificed all he possessed to have escaped the responsibility of operating upon the President of the United States. The dramatic phase of the situation here is rapidly disappearing. Plans overthrown by the assassin's bullet being restored and matters are assuming normal conditions. Indiana day at the peaking in regard to this today, said he knew a man who lived for years with a bullet in the muscles of his heart.

The attention of the physicians is now therefore, mainly directed to the care and treatment of the wound caused by the incision made in the abdomen above the naval when the operation was performed. This wound is progressing satisfactorily.

The President now breathes deeply and normally, and the addition of the respiration record to the bulletin was considered valueless. The President's pulse was slightly accelerated in the afternoon, the change was not deemed material and his temperature remained practically stationary at 100.2 from daylight until dark. The evidences of improvement were the President's keen relish of the beef juice given him during the night and the increase of his allowance from one to three teaspoonfuls, and also the fact that the wound is becoming "more healthy."

Dr. McBurney expected this afternoon that the slight irritation of the wound still remaining would pass away within the next twenty four hours. The President continues in excellent spirits, but he confessed to one of the atendants to-day that he was getting lone some. He requested that he be placed in another bed. A depression had formed in the matress on which he has lain since he was taken to the Milbarn house and had caused much discomfort. Another bed was provided and this evening he was carefully moved from one to the other without difficulty. He has asked several times if there was any news he should know, but inquiries especially about public matters, are discouraged and the rigid inhibition against the admission of any one except his wife and faithful secretary has not been relaxed. It is now virtually decided that no attempt will be made to remove the President to Washington until he has com-pletely recovered and in a general way it can be said that there is no likelihood that this will be until October. The physicians are all agreed that no attempt should be made to take the President to Washington while the probability of an oppressive hot spell in the Capitol city remained. After this afternoon's bulletin, Secretary Hay announced that he felt warranted in leaving for Washington, and he left tonight for the capitol.

A Home in the South.

Escape the rigors of another Northern winter and enjoy the delights of the Southland.

Nowhere can be found a more delightful climate than in our own Southland. In fact, the South is a land where extremes of climate are avoided; and consequently, is a healthful and altogether desirable

The tide of emigration has turned Southward, for it is not alone in climate advantages that this favored land excels, but its resources, the fertility of its soil and its mineral wealth and its abundant water power commend it to the thought ful consideration of any one who seeks a home where northern thrift and enterprise may carve out success.
