Books, Magazines, Etc.

The St. Nicholas Magazine announc es a new de parture for the coming year. It will no longer have serial stories, but every other issue of the magazine will contain a long story complete in that one number. The new departments, "Na ture and Science" and "St. Nicholas League." have attracted the attention of educators every where, and have done much to increase the cir culation of St. Nicholas.

During the coming year The Century Magazin will print two series of papers on the general subject of the West,-"The Old and the New West" the first series, written by Emerson Hough (author of "The Story of the Cowboy,") and illustrated by Frederick Remington, will describe the movement down the waters, or the flatboat days, the movement up the waters, or the early steamboat days, and the great trans-continental emigrations. The second series, which will be contributed by Raymond Stannard Baker, will over "The Great Southwest," "The Desert," "The Tragedy of the Range," "Irrigation," etc.

"A Most Lamentable Comedy," is the title of a owerful novelette by Mr. William Allen White, which begins in the September 21st issue of the Saturday Evening Post, of Philadelphia. This absorbing serial is a study of political hysterics the story of a State gone mad. The scene of the novelette is a Western State laboring under the burdens of a panic year. The central figure is a grocery store demagogue, whose hairbrained oratory captures the state convention. The story rises to a height of dramatic power and intensity rarely equaled in the fiction of the day.

The coming season of The Century Magazin will be "A Year of American Humor." Contributions have already been engaged from the best known writers of humorous stories and sketches, including Mark Twain, F. P. Dunne ("Mr. George Ade, Edward W. Townsend, ("Chimmie Fadden"), Ruth McEnery Stuart, Gelett Burgess, Tudor Jenks, Charles Battell Loomis, Joel Chandler Harris and others. Attention will be paid during the year to American humor of the past. In the November Century Professor W. P. Trent, of Columbia University, will write "A Retrospect of American Humor," for the illustration of which The Century has procured portraits of nearly two score of the best known of the older hu norists, including "Petroleum V. Nasby," John G. Saxe, "Q. K. Philander Doesticks," "Sam Slick," and Artemus Ward." There will be durhumorous writers, and articles reminiscent of those of the past.

We keep studying the needs of people. That's why we so seldom lack the item you want. The loss of a sale is a trifle, but the customer is disappointed. Several disappointments and he may not come again. The loss of a customer is a serious loss to any store. Not merely a loss of profit, but a loss of prestige.

We try to make our store useful and helpful. We want it to be known as a place where everything that a druggist ought to sell may be found, and where little accommodations are given-and not grudgingly. When we don't quite please you, tell us- it will help us to make our store better.
