The Assassin of the President Con victed.

The Laws Dignified Though Speedy Course in Disposing of Czolgosz. The Anarchist Sentenced to Death but Seems Indifferent to His Awful Crime or its Consequences.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 22 .- The most important development in the Czolgosz case to-day was the announcement that no poison had been found on the bullets or the revolver with which the anarchist sinated President McKinley. Chemical and bacteriological examinations were made and both revealed the fact that no poison was used by the murderer.

Another examination to determine the exact mental condition of the prisoner was made in the Erie county jail this afternoon by Dr. Charles F. McDouald, of New York, the alienist who was brought here for the defense by the Erie county bar association, and Dr. Arthur W. Hurd, superintendent of the Buffalo State hospital. The alienists were with the assassin for one hour, and when they left both declined to discuss the District Attorney Penney and his entire staff spent all of Sunday at the city hall preparing for the trial of Czolgosz, which begun before Justice White in part 3 of the Supreme court Monday morning.

Immediately after the death of the Pres ident one of the staff of physicians in attendance on the President expressed the opinion that the bullets may have been had possession of the assassin's revolver, ordered careful and thorough examinations made. Mr. Hill was directed to make a chemical examination of the bullets and the chambers and barrel of the revolver and Dr. Herman H. Matzinger. one of the surgeons who performed the autopsy upon the President's body, was ordered to make a bacteriological examination. This afternoon Dr. Hill reported to the district attorney that no poison had been used.

He also presented a written report, but it will not be used at the trial as that question is now eliminated from the case. Dr. Matsinger has finished his baoteriological examination, and his work also revealed the absence of any poison. The district attorney has been informed to that effect, although the formal report has not been submitted. Authorities on this question state that the two examinations form a complete test, and that the slightest form a complete test, and that the signed of the sign test in accordance with that prediction the de-trace of poison would have been revealed. Five minutes later Dr. James W. Putnam, a local alienist, appeared and joined the conference. Although great secrecy was mainwas learned that Dr. Allen McLane Hamilton, one of the most noted alienists in the United States and who was an expert witness at the trial of Guiteau, is in Buffalo. Not a doubt as to his sanity exists in the district attorney's mind, so that it is presumed that Dr. Hamilton is here merely to meet the question of insanity should the defense determine to make a fight on that ground. A JURY SECURED.

BUFFALO, Sept. 23.—Leon F. Czolgosz was placed on trial this morning, charged with the murder of President William Mo-Kinley. He entered a plea of guilty, which was subsequently changed to "not guilty," by direction of the court.

the trial would be short. Court convened at 10 o'clock, and within two hours eight jurors had been secured. Technicalities were not raised by examining counsel but it was significant that every man who said he had not formed an opinion on the case was excused by the district attorney. Those who acknowledged they had formed an opinion or stated that they were prejudiced, changed by evidence, were accepted by each side.

Justice Truman C. White, one of the the judge. oldest and most experienced of the Supreme court judges, was on the bench. Immediately after the opening of the court and after the prisoner had pleaded Justice Loran L. Lewis, senior counsel of the defendant, announced that together with his colleagues, former Justice Robert C. Titus and Mr. Carlton E. Ladd, they were ready to act in behalf of the prisoner.

The work of securing the jurors was then undertaken with alacrity that was amazing. Before the day was over the entire panel had been sworn, the jurors had listened to a description of the Temple of Music, where the crime occurred, had seen photographs of the interior of that structure, and had been told by three surgeons what caused the death of the President and the effect of the assassin's shot upon the various organs of the body. The presentation of the government's case began shortly before 3 o'clock, when assistant district attorney Haller began with much deliberation to address the jury.

BUFFALO, Sept. 24-Leon F. Czolgosz, alias Fred Nieman, was found guilty to-day of murder in the first degree by a jury in part III of the superior court, in having this evidence that the people have submit-

The defendant tained at the district attorney's office, it rienced counsel. It is proper that I should has been given every advantage of expedefine the crime of murder in the first and second degrees. If the defendant, on Sep-tember 6th. did wrongfully assault, shoot or wound William McKinley by means al-leged in the indictment, and if the act was committed with premeditated design, and if the act was the sole and approximate cause of death, and if the defendant knew he was doing wrong at the time, the defendant was guilty of murder in the first degree.

"If not premeditated he is guilty of murion among those interested in the case that fired accidentally and without premeditation, he is guilty of manslaughter in the first degree. It is not necessary for me to discuss the question of manslaughter in the second degree in this case."

Justice White then commended the jurors for their patience during the trial and ordered them to retire and bring in a verdict. Just before they did so, however, district attorney Penny requested the All the events of the day indicated that judge to charge the jury that the law presumes every individual sane unless proven otherwise and the court said to them : "The law presumes the defendant in this case sane.

Lawyer Titus asked the court to charge the jury, "That if they were satisfied from evidence that at the time of the committal of the assault the defendant was laboring uuder such a defect of reason as not to know but admitted that their opinion could be the quality of the act, or that it was wrong, that he was not responsible, and the jury must acquit." McKinley Was a Poor Collector.

Until Cortelyou Became Secretary Many People Owed President, Never Offering to Pay.

WASHINGTON. Sept. 23.-When Mr. Cortelyou succeeded John Addison Porter as the President's secretary he was asked by President McKinley one day to write some checks for him to which he later placed his own signature. This was the beginning of a participation in Mr. Mc-Kinley's private affairs. which Cortelyou entered into very fully within a short time. He became the President's business manager so far as his private affairs were concerned.

It became known to many of the Presidents' personal friends some time ago, although not through any breach of faith on the part of Mr Cortelyou, that Mr. McKinley's personal affairs were in very bad shape. While his devotion to the business shape. While his devotion to the busiless of the Nation was such as to arouse the highest admiration his methods of transacting personal business were very easy going. It should be said, however, that in part III of the superior courts, in naving on the 6th day of September shot President William McKinley, the wound inflicted afterwards resulting in the death of the President. IREM SHRINERS ON A PILGRIMAGE.-About forty members of the Irem temple, A. A. O. N. M. S. met here last evening in ceremonial sessions extraordinary to gather in a few pilgrims who were too weary to wander to the oasis of Wilkesbarre in the desert of Penusylvania.

The Shiners being one of the highest degrees of masoury a great many pilgrims were attracted from other towns and what they saw and heard here is, of course, part of the mystery of the Mystic Shrine. With a goat and a camel and a car load of paraphernalia they filled up the armory last night, it being the evening of Jamaz Ul Akhir VI Month XII Day Hegira 1319. That probably means something awful but as the undertakers had not been sent for at 3:30 this morning it is surmised that the goat and the camel had failed to get in their worst.

Old Saydat Lafeeyah was not here. but many of the sons of the Prophet were on hand to listen to the candidate's plaints and take them in, as well as to see that the proper disposition was made of the traditional banquet, which was served in the Aroade.

Before the meeting last evening a short parade was made over the principal streett of the town and we suppose the Shriners were diked out in their glad rags, for the natives fairly jumped with glee at the sight and you can bet your last plunker that a larger delegation of them will be down to the station this morning to shout : Allah Akbar! La Ilaha Ilia Allah! as they depart.

The famous case which has been pending in the Schuylkill county courts for years, and in which there are over 300 plaintiffs, was called before Judge Bechtel in court room No. 1 about two o'clock Tuesday afternoon and will likely occupy some time before the trial is completed. There is an opposing array of counsel engaged, and as the main points of the case rest on a claim of Panther Creek, was owned by Burkhart Moser, long since deceased.

The land has been operated by the Lehigh Coal and Navigation Company for some years, and almost from the time they obtained possession of the tract the case has been pending. The county records have been gone over time and time again by both sides in the case, and no doubt when the opening addresses are closed and the case is really opened some very interesting facts will be disclosed.

The claims of the Moser heirs are no doubt founded upon a title which it is claimed was held by the elder Moser. These claims are of course contested by the presthe defense have engaged Samuel Dickson, of Philadephia; Cyrus G. Derr, of Reading, and F. G. Farquhar.

Eminent counsel has been employed by the plaintiffs, W. G. Stanton, of Buffalo, New York. He completely reviewed the case and reviewed the claims of the plaintiffs at length. There are many manuscripts and maps to be used in the trial, which will begin to-day in earnest.

The Mussers in Centre county are all more or less interestered since their name was originally Moser and many of them are heirs.

-"The Deemster" which Chas. W. Chase has dramatized, will be seen at Garman's on Saturday evening. It is positive of success as was Hall Caine's other work. "The Christian" seen last season. Mr. Chase has made much of this drama. The Deemster is a very strong character and in the hands of a capable actor. The three children in the first act are very sweet and most natural as is also little Ailie in the last act. The scenes between old Kerry and Hommy-beg are said to be most comical throughout the entire piece. And as is popularity at once.

In November, 1849, she joined the "Slab Cabin" Presbyterian church and was earnest in her christian efforts ever after. Her life was a quiet one, but her goodness, her patience and her kindly disposition won for her hosts of friends. Many of them were present to pay a last tribute of respect when her body was laid away on Monday. Rev. Denniston, in conducting the funeral services, placed special emphasis on the made by the plaintiffs that the land in trait of her character that helped her bear question, which is situated in the region her long suffering so meetly and drew a strong lesson from it. He drew other lessons from the life of this good woman, and they were all well founded. for to those who knew her her life was as an open book, with its pages full of deeds of charity and kindness.

There are left to mourn her loss, her husband, the venerable William Foster Sr., and three children : Charles and Mary, of State College, and John, of Sheffield, Alabama. Four brothers are also living : Nathan Corl, of Fairmount, Neb.; Joseph, MRS. ELIZA MORRIS.-MIS. Eliza St. Clair Morris died at her home in Milesburg, on Tuesday morning, owing to a constitution entirely worn out by the eightytwo years of her life.

Mrs. Morris was only a child when her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Watson, died and she was taken into the home of Col. and Mrs. Jas. Irvin to be raised as their own daughter. She was married to Wharton Morris, who died at Ft. Sill, I. T., Sept. 22nd, 1876, and surviving them are their three daughters and two sons : Miss Julia Morris, who lived with her mother; Mrs. Sara Buffington, of Tyrone; Mrs. Martha Cronce, of Newark, N. J.; John W. Morris, of Johnstown, and J. Irvin Morris, of Milesburg.

She was a life-long member of the Presbyterian church and a most estimable woman indeed. Interment was made in the Union cemetery here yesterday afternoon.
