THINGS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY

Geo. Gross has several well trained hunting dogs for sale. Your taxes must be paid by Saturday, Oct. 5th, if you want to vote. William Clark is seriously ill with typhoid fever at his home of Howard street. Architect Robert Cole is at work on designs for the proposed new hospital in Look Haven. A car load of sweet potatoes every week during the month of October at Sourbecks. D. J. Gingery, of Clearfield, has brought suit against the DuBois Courier for libel. Attorney W. F. Cobick is very seriously ill with pneumonia at his home on east Lamb street. While chopping wood at his home in Milesburg John F. Potter recently cut his foot very painfully with an axe. Principal James Gregg of the Milesburg schools is off duty owing to a siege of inflammatory rheumatism. James Dawson's two children, on Willowbank street, who had diphtheria in a mild form, have about recovered. Rev. W. F. D. Noble, of State College, filled the pulpit in Trinity Methodist church, Look Haven, on Sunday. Gen. James A. Beaver will speak on the Y. M. C. A. work in the world, in Trinity M. E. church, Look Haven, on Sunday afternoon. With hand and orchestra "Uncle Josh Spruceby" will come to town next Tuesday. Look out for him. He will show at Garman's that night. Grocer G. W. Rees was confined to his home on Reynolds' avenue for a few days during the fore part of the week with a severe attack of cramp. The Joseph millinery opening this week attracted great crowds of ladies to the big Allegheny street establishment and the display is said to have far surpassed all previous efforts. Couldn't a few of our readers who are in arrears send us a check, postal order or the cash, itself. We need it just now and you would be doing us a great favor by helping out a little. Miss M. Snyder wishes to announce to her customers that her opening will be on Thursday, Oct. 11th. She has secured Miss Elton Lansing, formerly with Madam Pardee, Fifth Ave., N. Y., as trimmer. Ernest M. Brickley, the young man who gave up a good position in Pittsburgh some time ago and came to his home at Romola to recuperate his health, has gone to Austin, Potter county, to locate. Mr. S. A. Keefe, whose serious illness was noted in last week's WATCHMAN, is so much better that great hopes of his recovery are now entertained. He is in the Altoona hospital, suffering with lockjaw. Adam Hasel has taken charge of the cider vinegar in store at the Ax Mann cider press and wishes to notify the public that he has hundreds of gallons of pure vinegar there, from three to five years old, that can be bought by calling on or addressing him. From a business standpoint, last week is supposed to have been the largest ever experienced at the Bush house. The meeting of the County Commissioners of the State, the Irem Shriners of Wilkesbarre and the W. U. P.—State foot ball game did it. Rev. J. D. Scott of this place conducted the opening exercises at the meeting of the Huntingdon Presbytery in Altoona, on Tuesday. Rev. J. O. Dennison, of State College, spoke on the hindrances to the progress of christian work, at the evening session. The Belleville Academy students will hold their annual festival in the W. C. T. U. rooms, on Friday evening, Oct. 11th. As it will be for the benefit of the Academy foot ball team that contributes so largely to the amusement of the community every fall it should be liberally patronized. Invitations are out for the wedding of James Edwin Quigley, a brother of H. C. Quigley Esq., of this place, to Miss Sara B. Good, of Look Haven. The ceremony will be performed in St. Paul's Episcopal church, Look Haven, on Wednesday evening, Oct. 16th. Mr. Quigley is a son of Capt. James Quigley, of Eagleville. The story that had been in circulation to the effect that J. K. McFarlane had suffered a stroke of paralysis that rendered him totally helpless, that Mrs. McFarlane was ill with fever and their son Brown affected with diphtheria, is, we are glad to say, untrue in all but one particular. Brown has had diphtheria, but has so far recovered as to be out of danger and able to be up. Neither Mr. nor Mrs. McFarlane have been unwell, however. It is said that landlord S. B. Shaffer of the Old Fort hotel is minus $225 in cash that he had stored away in a tool chest in the smoke house for safe keeping. During the rush on Thursday of Granger's picnic week he was called upon frequently to change bills of large denomination and, necessarily, had to make frequent visits to his depository. The thief must have seen him going once and, discovering the cause, made further trips unnecessary by walking off with the entire pile.

FALL WEDDINGS.—The wedding of Miss Annie M. Brooks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Brooks, of Pleasant Gap, and Harry S. Gentzell, at the home of the bride's parents on Thursday afternoon, the 26th, was the social event of the fall at Pleasant Gap. The assemblage, the decorations, the music, the weather—everything was as auspicious as the most exacting bride could wish. The house was lavishly decorated with laurel, palms and fall flowers. The multi-colored costumes of the guests added brightness to the scene and the day and evening were gorgeously beautiful. Miss Rhoda Alexander, of Lewistown, played the wedding march from Lohengrin and just at five o'clock the wedding party entered the reception room in the following order. The groom and his best man, Winfield Bathgate, of Altoona, the bridesmaid and usher, Miss Mary Twitmore and Cloyd Brooks, the little flower girl, Helen Brooks, the bride's sister, and the bride and her maid of honor, Miss Clara Gentzell, sister of the groom. A solid screen of plants and flowers decorated one end of the room and there Rev. G. W. Lescher, of the Lutheran church, awaited the party and performed the ceremony. The bride, who is quite a musician, looked exceedingly attractive and girlish in her gown of white Paris muslin. She did not wear a veil, but had white roses in her hair. Her maid of honor was dressed in white organza with pink carnations in her hair. The bridesmaid wore a blue silk with white carnations and the little flower girl was gowned in cream silk and carried a great basket of white and pink roses. After the ceremony, congratulations, and inspection of the many handsome presents received, a bounteous supper was served to the one hundred and fifty guests by a Belleville caterer. Elaborate preparations had been made to give the bride and groom a rousing send-off but they cleverly escaped the conspirators and calthumpians and drove to town in a borrowed buggy, which they took without permission, while a carriage waited for them at the door. They left on the 8:30 train for a two week's stay in Baltimore, Washington, Point Comfort, Richmond, Atlantic City, Philadelphia and Benton, Columbia county. Upon their return they will make their home in Altoona, where the groom is an employee of the P. R. R. company. HOFFMAN-WALKER.—The marriage of Miss Caroline E. Hoffman and W. Harrison Walker, our prominent young attorney, Wednesday evening the 25th, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alvah A. Hoffman, in Pleasantville, Venango county, culminated a pretty little romance which had its beginning several years ago when they were students at the same institution. The wedding, in keeping with the prominence and position of the bride's family, her own individuality and that of the groom, was a brilliant and fashionable affair. There were many guests present. The house was luxuriant with flowers and decorations. The music was far above the ordinary and it was a merry party which ended only after the bride and groom started on their journey to the South. The ceremony was solemnized at 8 o'clock by the Rev. Dr. Charnock, of the Presbyterian church. The bride wore an exquisite gown of white crepe de chene over taffeta and carried a bouquet of brides roses. Her maid of honor, Miss Ella Leonore House, was dressed in pink batiste over pink taffeta and carried pink roses. There were two little ribbon girls, Marjorie Stewart, of Titusville, and Marguerite Sheldahl, and the best man J. S. Onwaka, of Shippensburg. The reception was followed by an elaborate supper and the presents received were beautiful and rare. A silver tea service and tray was the gift of the Centre county bar of which the groom is a member, while the court house officials with whom he is much of a favorite sent their remembrance in the form of a handsome leather chair. Mr. Walker, who is the junior member of the law firm of Fortney and Walker, is a graduate of the Dickinson law school. He is an active member of most of the social organizations of the town and is moreover a young man of ability and push. His bride, who is an only child and a Wilson college graduate, is quite clever, as well as prepossessing. They will make their home on east Linn street in the McFarlane house, which Mr. Walker recently purchased and which is now being remodeled for their occupancy. JOHNSON-MALLORY.—A small, though happy and auspicious, wedding was celebrated Wednesday morning at the Johnson home on east Bishop street when Miss Emma Johnson was united in marriage to H. Burt Mallory. Owing to the recent death of the bride's mother there were no guests outside of the two families. The house had been tastefully decorated with flowers and plants and a fine wedding breakfast was served after the ceremony. The bride was very beamingly dressed in white tulle and the ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Shriners, of the Methodist church, at 11 o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. Mallory departed on the 1.05 train for a short wedding trip and upon their return they will make their home with the bride's father, Mr. Joel Johnson, on east Bishop street. Miss Ella Johnson, the bride's sister, is to be married the latter part of this month and they are both such excellent young women and so capable that Mr. Mallory and Mr. Smith are fortunate indeed. The Beech Creek base ball team defeated the Howard team for the sixth time on Saturday. The score was 15 to 1.

OSMAN-FRY.—Among the excursionists on Wednesday to Buffalo were Miss Sue Osman, one of the operators in the Commercial telephone exchange at State College, and C. Milton Fry, of Pittsburg. They were on a two-fold mission—to be married as soon as they reached Buffalo and then to see the exposition. They were accompanied by Miss Eva Osman, the bride's sister, and J. M. Hubler. The bride is a daughter of L. H. Osman, of Pine Hall, and on account of the illness of her mother it was decided to have the marriage take place away from home. C. M. Fry, the groom is an exemplary young man, industrious, principled and bound to succeed. He is a son of W. H. Fry, the well known veterinarian of Ferguson township. He is now fireman on the limited from Pittsburg to Altoona and after a week at Buffalo they will go to housekeeping in Pittsburg, where their apartments are already furnished. "Uncle Josh Spruceby" comes to Garman's on Tuesday night, Oct. 8th. The race track that is being built at Look Haven will soon be completed. It is ready for rolling now. The Look Haven silk mill now employs four hundred people and pays out from $5,500 to $6,000 per month. Plans are being formed to enlarge it in the spring. The Carlisle Indians and Bucknell will play at Williamsport on Oct. 12th, but most of the foot-ball enthusiasts in this section will wait for the State-Lehigh game in that city. Charles Gunper, a workman on Weed & Co's. Lumber operation in the Black forest, above Look Haven, was caught between two cars on Tuesday and held as in a vice until an engine could be secured to pull them apart. He died within an hour after his release. Mike Pribula, a Hungarian who was boarding at a place in Clarence threatened to burn it down because they wanted to get rid of him. He was arrested and brought to this place and had been in jail four months. On Monday he was taken before Judge Love who sentenced him to pay the costs and enter into recognizance for surety of the peace. Then he went back to jail because he was unable to pay the costs. William Greenoble, an old soldier who was shot clear through the body in the Civil war, was up on a ladder picking apples from a tree in his yard at Pleasant Gap, on Tuesday. The limb he was picking from and against which the ladder rested was heavily laden with fruit and when Mr. Greenoble removed part of the weight it sprung up, leaving the ladder without support. It fell and the unfortunate man had the bone of his right leg broken clear off, mid-way between the knee and hip. As he is 60 years old the injury is quite serious, though he is resting as easy as could be expected. Henry Confer, a Howard township farmer, was in town on Tuesday and had occasion to saunter through the corridor of the court house. Just at the time Henry was ambling peacefully along he was accosted by two beautiful young jaglets who were loafing about there. One of the latter called the inoffending stranger a name that had more trimmings than beauty, but the echo of it had hardly ceased reverberating through the halls than the one drunk made about half a dozen revolutions in mid-air and the other ran howling like a Comanche Indian. They say the name that they called Confer was a bad one, but the eye the other fellow has now is far worse. State won her second game of foot ball on the fair grounds here on Saturday, by defeating the Western University team from Pittsburg by the score of 27 to 0. It was not what could be called an interesting game, though it served to show that State has made marked improvements in her play since the game with Susquehanna a week ago. While still a little slow the blue and white interference formed quite effectively so that her backs were able to make consistent gains around the ends, and many long runs were made by Bennett, Whitworth and Russell in consequence. With Smith and Cummings on the field again it looks as though Capt. Hewitt will have one of the best teams State has had for years. Quite an amusing story is being told at the expense of W. Harrison Walker Esq., of this place, who is away on his wedding tour. When he got ready to start off for Pleasantville to be married last week he became imbued with the idea that some of his friends in Belleville might put some obstacles in the way of his departure, so, with his trunk, he started off to drive to Zion to take the evening train over the Central. Having reached that peaceful country village in security he was so much elated over having eluded the imaginary obstructors that he spent too much time in telephoning back gloating over them. As a result the train that he wanted to go on pulled past the station without noticing his frantic signals for it to stop. Then he had to hunt up a countryman down there and pay him a good round price for half killing his horse in the effort to drive Harrison and his trunk to Curtin's in time to catch the B. E. V. train at that place. He made it, but when he gets home and hears the true status of affairs he will realize that it is not always the best plan to cross the bridge before it is reached.

A LARGE BARN BURNED IN FERGUSON TWP.—Between 12 and 1 o'clock yesterday morning a fire was discovered in the northwest corner of the large bank barn on the Henry Snyder farm, on the White Hall road, near Pine Grove. Though the flames had made much headway in the upper part of the building before their discovery and the fire was dropping down into the back entry, Mr. Snyder his wife and their daughter, Mrs. Ralph Illingsworth, were able to get all of the stock out, though the women worked until the hair was nearly all burned off their heads in their heroic efforts to save the animals. It was a large barn and held all the season's crops, which were destroyed, though few of the implements were lost because the adjacent buildings, in which they were stored, were not burned. It is almost a miracle that the house was not burned, as it is located very close to the barn. The fire was presumably of incendiary origin. Mr. Snyder carried $1000 insurance on the building. Mrs. LOVE.—Mrs. Elizabeth Love, relict of John Love who died twenty eight years ago, died rather suddenly at her home in Centre Hall, on Saturday evening at four o'clock. While she had been a sufferer for some time with cancer and dropsy she did not become ill until Monday before her death, when she took her bed never to rise again. Mrs. Love was the daughter of William and Margaret Carson and was born in Potter township 75 years, 7 months and 11 days ago. She was a most estimable woman and was converted in the Methodist church when quite young, having remained steadfast to the last, and is survived by a family of grown up children. They are James H., of Wilton Center, Ill.; Mrs. Jane Ruble and Mrs. Ida Martz, of Tusseyville, and Miss Flora, who has always remained with her mother. Funeral services were conducted on Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock by Revs. Schuyler, of the Presbyterian, and Haven, of the Methodist church. Interment was made in the cemetery at Centre Hall. Mrs. Love was a sister of James Carson, of Spring township. DIED IN THIS PLACE.—Miss Nancy Oliver, who was born in Derrydeg, Limavady, Ireland, eighty-eight years ago, died at the home of her niece, Mrs. T. C. Van Tries, in this place, Wednesday afternoon. She had been ill but a short time with pneumonia. Her father, John Oliver, was a prominent citizen of Derrydeg, and in 1847 she came to this country to reside; of late years having made her home with Mrs. Van Tries. From the time she was 17 years old she had been a consistent member of the Presbyterian church. Funeral services were held last evening at 7:30 at the Van Tries home on north Spring street and this morning the body will be taken to Graysville for interment. Mrs. Isaac Worth, one of Chester county's prominent and favored women, died on Sunday, Sept. 21st, after a short illness of typhoid fever. Mrs. Worth's death was particularly sad as it occurred at the home of her son Tom seven miles from her own home at Kennett Square. She was taken sick while visiting there and during her illness Mr. Worth, her husband, had a partial stroke of paralysis, making it impossible for either of them to go to the other and about which they worried continually. Mrs. Worth was about 60 years of age and a most excellent woman. She is survived by her husband, and two children, Mrs. E. R. Chambers, of this place, and her son Tom, at whose home she passed away. Interment was made on Tuesday. SAMUEL E. HARTER.—Died at Rye, Colorado, September 22nd, 1901, aged 34 years, 9 months and 2 days. Cause of death was tuberculosis. He was born in this county and was a son of Andrew Harter, of near Belleville. His remains arrived in Belleville, and were taken to his father's home, from which place funeral services were held Sunday morning last. Interment in Zion cemetery. Daniel Thurston, aged 26, was killed on the Beech Creek road, about four miles east of Snow Shoe, on Sunday afternoon. He was a brakeman and was climbing the ladder on the outside of a refrigerator car, when he was struck by a water pipe and knocked off the train. The fireman, noticing him fall, stopped the train and backed up to the prostrate form lying by the tracks. Thurston was unconscious and was taken to the Look Haven hospital, where he died that night at ten o'clock without having revived. His home was in Jersey Shore. Mrs. Sara Reighard, aged 56, died at her home in Loganston last Friday, from the effects of apoplexy which she suffered about three weeks prior. She was the widow of John Reighard and is survived by seven children. Col. Jack Haverly, the noted minstrel and theatrical manager who spent most of his boyhood days about Axe Mann, died in a hospital at Salt Lake City on Saturday. He had been ill there for a long time. Miss Elizabeth Holt, a daughter of Mrs. Belle Holt, died rather unexpectedly at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Angelina Matley, in Philipsburg, on Tuesday. Interment was made yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Henry Randabaugh died at Loganston, on Sunday morning. She was 30 years old and is survived by her husband and one child. St. Vitus' dance was the cause of her death.

News Purely Personal. Dr. J. H. Huston, of Lamar, was a Belleville visitor on Saturday. Ad Fauble departed for Buffalo on Sunday and returned Thursday evening. Miss Edna Harsock, of Philipsburg, is visiting relatives up Buffalo Run. Charles R. Kurtz, owner of the Democrat, came home from Buffalo, on Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Taylor arrived home from the Pan-American on Monday morning. Andrew Brees, of Downingtown, is in town for a short visit with his mother and sister. Miss Jane Furst, of Linn street, is in Milton visiting friends. She departed on Tuesday. Conductor and Mrs. U. H. Reamer have been among the Pan-American visitors this week. Mrs. A. S. Garman, of Tyrone, arrived in town Monday morning to visit relatives here. Mrs. Sara Satterfield left for Philadelphia on Tuesday. She will spend the winter in that city. Former sheriff W. A. Ishler, of this place, attended the Reformed Synod at Millifinburg last week. Mr. and Mrs. Hammon Sechler returned from quite an extended stay at Ocean Grove on Friday. Mr. Edward Loughrey, in the well known railroad man from Bald Eagle, was in Belleville yesterday. John C. Neff, of Eagleville, was among the unusually large crowd of strangers in town last Friday. Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Kepler, with their little daughter, were in town on a shopping expedition yesterday. Dr. H. H. Hoy, of Altoona, spent Tuesday attending to business at his old home here and State College. Charles Larimer took in the Lewisburg fair last week and Joe Twitmore was driving the Adams express wagon in his absence. Mr. and Mrs. James Nolan, of Beaver St., have returned from a delightful visit with friends in Philadelphia and Rosemont. Mr. I. H. Clevestine, the carpenter from Hubersburg, was in town on Friday; having come up to attend the great salvage sale. Mrs. S. C. Hilt, of Pleasant Gap, and Mrs. George H. Hilt, of DuBois, are spending a few weeks in Buffalo, sight-seeing at the exposition. Miss Margie Knowles, after a pleasant visit with Mr. and Mrs. John M. Dale, on Linn St., left for her home in Richmond, Va., on Tuesday. Mrs. Rachel M. Butler, of Yarnell, was in town doing a little shopping on Wednesday and enjoying the fine displays at the millinery openings. Rev. Geo. I. Brown, rector of St. John's Episcopal church, recently spent a few days in the Retreat at Harrisburg. He returned Friday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Shuey left for Buffalo on Tuesday. They were accompanied by Laura Harrison, a daughter of John F. Harrison, of this place. J. Howe Stevens, manager of the Stevens quarries about this place, joined his parents and brother George from Tyrone, on Monday, for a trip to Buffalo. Mrs. M. W. Cowdick arrived from her home in Niagara Falls on Monday afternoon and is visiting her children and many friends about Belleville. John Kaup and Christ Young started for the Pan-American on Wednesday and we know of no two young men who have more fairly earned just such an enjoyable trip. Geo. T. Bush, after showing the Irem Shriners a great time for two days in Belleville, hid himself off to Buffalo for a little sight-seeing in the exposition city until yesterday. Mrs. Edward Brown, of Nebraska, and Mrs. Charles Wilson, of Altoona, were in Belleville on Friday spending the day with Mrs. Triple, of north Spring street. Thos. J. Sexton Esq., was among the recent Buffalo visitors. He closed his law dispensary in Eagle block for a visit with friends at Kane, Bradford and Buffalo but opened it up again Tuesday. Roger T. Bayard returned from a trip to Buffalo on Friday and was to have gone to Tyrone Sunday evening to become night clerk at the Ward house in that place, but gave up the place. W. E. Tyson, of Tyrone, was in town to spend Sunday with "the gang" and went down to Howard with some of it, on Saturday night, to help along with the music in the entertainment so successfully given by St. Bernard's choir in that place. Mrs. Jane Marshall, of west High street, went to Altoona Wednesday for an extended visit with her son William and his family. She was accompanied by her two little grand-children, Helen and George, who have been with her the entire summer. I. N. Haupt and his family moved to Jersey Shore, on Monday. Though Mr. Haupt had been a resident of Belleville all his life he found it to his advantage to leave and did so, but with many regrets. He expects to work in a planing mill in that place. Miss Mary Harris Weaver returned to her studies at the National Park Seminary, Washington, on Tuesday. Miss Anna McCoy returned to Bryn Mawr, and Miss Christine Blanchard went to Chevy Chase, Md., to enter a young woman's school at that place. Col. Austin Curtin, of Roland, was the only military man from this section who attended the reception tendered by Maj. Gen. Charles Miller to Governor Stone at Franklin on Tuesday evening. It was one of the most notable events of the sort that has occurred in Western Pennsylvania for years. Miss Blanche Straub departed for Clearfield, on Wednesday afternoon, and will spend the winter with the family of county Recorder Jameson, in that place. While her many friends here will regret that she is to be away from them so long they will join in the hope that her winter will be a pleasant one. Mrs. S. B. Finnegan, with her two cute little daughters Florence and Margaret left for Philadelphia, on Monday afternoon, and expect to make quite an extended visit with Mrs. Finnegan's relatives in that city. Meanwhile Steve will have his lodgings at the home on Spring street and try to make his friends believe he isn't as lonely as he looks. Mrs. Margaret Alexander, who has been here since May visiting friends and relatives and whose health is much more satisfactory than it was, is going to Pittsburgh Saturday with her nephew, Edward Lyden. There she will be the guest of her niece, Mrs. Elliot, for several months and later will go on to Lawrence, Kan., to spend the winter with her sister Mrs. McBride. The Rev. Dr. J. T. Spence, chancellor of the American University at Harrison, Tenn., spent Sunday in Belleville as the guest of Dr. W. P. Shriners, of the Methodist church. He preached a strong sermon in the Methodist church Sunday morning, addressed a men's meeting in the court house in the afternoon and preached in the Presbyterian church in the evening. Dr. Spence has devoted much time to work among the poor whites in the mountains of Tennessee and has earned a reputation that is almost world-wide. It was the University of which he is chancellor that recently conferred the degree of D. D. upon Rev. Shriners.

Mrs. J. F. Larimer is in Philadelphia visiting her cousin, Mrs. Allen Sheldon, at Torresdale. Calvin Ray has moved from Belleville to Jersey Shore, where he thinks better business opportunities await him. Mrs. John Morris, who has been here for the past month visiting her parents, returned to her home in Tyrone on Wednesday. Col. W. Fred Reynolds is preparing for another transcontinental tour. He will be accompanied to California by his brother-in-law Randolph Hoyle. William Foster Esq., of Sunbury, a member of the well known Philadelphia grocery firm of Kirk, Foster & Co., was in town on business yesterday. Mrs. Annie M. Caswell and her winsome little daughter, Mildred, have closed their home on Penn street and migrated, as usual, to Catesville for the winter. They left Wednesday afternoon. Mr. C. G. McMillen, formerly proprietor of the Brockert house, was in town for a few days during the fore part of the week, looking about as well as it is possible for a man to look though a few of his friends failed to recognize him without that famous moustache. Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Patterson, of State College, drove down yesterday to spend the day in Belleville. Mr. Patterson was appointed a delegate to the National Farmer's Congress, at Sioux Falls, S. D., this week but was unable to get away to attend it. Will Petter, who has been at work at his sculpturing in Philadelphia for the past three years, arrived in town yesterday morning on his way to his home in Milesburg. He expects to be home about two weeks while resting up for an operation for appendicitis which he expects to undergo next month. McKINLEY.—Any one who wants to get soon an elegantly bound copy of The Life of William McKinley, written by Murat Halstead, fully illustrated and reliable, will "do a good and helpful deed" twice. Once for himself and once for the new chapel building at Keating Station, P. & E. R., by sending his name and address on a postal card to box 254, Belleville, Pa. The $1.50 paid on delivery of the book will be a McKinley offering for the chapel. Murat Halstead's name is a sufficient guarantee for the character and excellence of the book. In connection with the above notice, Mr. Crittenden wishes us to add that men, women and children at Keating will do what they can for this greatly needed chapel, built "in the name that is above every name." They must have outside help. When finished, all concerned will hear what they will be glad to know. At his own expense he has done a little and says God helping him he will do more. George McWilliams, of Fairbrook, is now employed as clerical work in his uncle John Keichline's office. He came down from Ferguson township last week to consult Dr. Hayes about his throat, with which he has had trouble for several years; and he had scarcely landed 'til the opportunity was given him of staying indefinitely. Mrs. Carrie A. Sisson, of Towanda, Pa., who is engaged in temperance work in this county, will give a gospel temperance and prohibition recital and lecture at the Belleville Evangelical church, on Sunday evening, Oct. 6th. Mrs. Sisson comes to us highly recommended. All are invited to attend. A collection will be taken. WATCH LOST.—A lady's gold watch was lost on Curtin street yesterday. The finder will be suitably rewarded by returning same to Miss Emily Valentine, at Miss Natt's residence. Public Sale. OCTOBER 22ND.—At the residence of J. F. Garner, one mile north west of State College, horses, cows, young cattle, pigs, implements, harness, etc. Sale at 10 o'clock, a. m. William Goheen, Auc. Philadelphia Markets.
