A Worthy Candidate.

There is no question about the fitness for the position, of Mr. CORAY, the fusion candidate for State Treasurer. He has already filled public places and has proven himself one of the most honest and faithful representatives of the people ever chosen. In no position occupied by him has he failed to do his full duty. He has done this often in the face of great opposition from the machine and in spite of the appeals of the party that made him its representative. Under all circumstances he could be counted upon to stand for the interests of the people. While in the Legislature his votes were always against jobbery and extravagance. His voice was always heard against wrong legislation and had his own party, the Republican, heeded his warning its record of the past few years would not cover it with shame and threaten it with defeat as it now does.

Mr. CORAY is as much the Democratic candidate to-day as was Mr. PALM ten days ago. He has been placed upon the ticket in accordance with the rules of the party, and is entitled to the vote of every honest Democrat in the State. There may be those who will question the advisability of fusion but none can question the fitness of the candidate or the expediency of his nomination and as the candidate is all right and the nomination satisfactory to the people there can be no excuse for any Democrat failing to give him honest support.

—We believe that every good citizen of the county is anxious to see the very best men nominated fill the local county offices. If this belief is correct and the voters properly inform themselves there will be no question as to the size of the majority of Mr. M. I. GARDNER for Prothonotary. We have no word of criticism or detractor for Mr. GARDNER's competitor, Mr. M. McKinley. He is probably an honest, conscientious man and would do the best in his power to properly fill the position he seeks. Unfortunately for him no comparison can be made between his fitness for the place and that of Mr. GARDNER. Those best acquainted with him tell us that he is utterly unqualified to perform the duties of the place. Mr. GARDNER has filled the position for three years and he has filled it in a way that has satisfied everyone having any business with the county records. During the hundred years that Centre county has been organized there has never been a Prothonotary who has given more universal satisfaction. To put in his place a man whose qualifications are questioned, for whose fitness no citizen will vouch, would be political foolishness of which we do not believe the citizens of Centre county capable.

—Every good citizen has already made up his mind to go out and vote, but this is not all he should do. He owes it to himself, to his State and to the honesty of the elections in the future to take his neighbor with him and see that both his own and his neighbor's ballot is cast for both the proposed amendments to the constitution. There is no denying the fact that the adoption of these amendments are of far greater importance to the welfare of the State than is the election of any man and he is indeed a poor citizen who either fails or forgets to give them his support.

—The fact that some one had their phone down when Justice POTTER was betraying Supreme court secrets to Governor STONE does not militate against the gross culpability of the act. He might have had some satisfaction—and probably more secrecy—had he yelled "Rubber!" before he began to talk.

World's Wheat Crop.

Indications are that the one of 1901 is greater than for two years.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—The Department of Agriculture announces that three months' estimates of the world's wheat crop of 1901 so far made agree that the crop is larger than that of either of the two preceding years. The estimates are: Hungarian ministry of agriculture, 2,261,360,000 bushels of sixty pounds; Berboehm's corn list of London, 2,711,000,000 bushels of sixty pounds; and Bulletin des Halles de Paris, 2,790,310,000 Winchester bushels. Our department withholds its opinion as to the degree in which the world's crop has been approximated in any of these estimates until a considerably larger number of official returns are available.
The official Hungarian estimate says the crop exceeds last year's by 209,851,000 bushels of sixty pounds, or by 212,430,000 Winchester bushels. According to Berboehm the excess over last year's crop is 200,000 bushels of sixty pounds and according to the Bulletin des Halles the excess is 136,777,000 Winchester bushels. The principal increase is credited to the United States, Canada and India, though other sources are credited with lower crops than they had in 1900.

Czolgosz, the Assassin.

He Hasn't Intimated He Was Going to Commit Suicide Eats Well and Health is Good. Expresses No Fear as to Execution, but Says He Would Not Like to go Outside the Prison as the People Might Kill Him. Fruits and Flowers Sent Him.
AUBURN, N. Y., October 14.—"Absolutely nothing new with Czolgosz," was Warden Mead's reply to a query of an Associated Press reporter today. The condemned assassin has not asked for any spiritual adviser whatsoever. The death warrant has not been read to him as yet. He has given the least intimation that he would like to make away with himself, contrary reports notwithstanding. Of course he will not be given the slightest opportunity for this purpose. He ate heartily of his breakfast this morning and has not a complaint about his health. Warden Mead's greatest puzzle is how to get the hundreds of applications from all parts of the country out down to the limit prescribed by the state laws.

ALBANY, N. Y., October 14.—Superintendent Cornelius V. Collins, will send a request to Secretary of State Hay to designate an official representative of government to be present at the execution of Leon F. Czolgosz, the murderer of President McKinley. Only twenty six witnesses will be present in the chamber of death when the sentence is executed. Warden Mead, of Auburn prison, has sent to Superintendent Collins the requests he has received for permission to attend the execution, over 1,000 in all. The law will limit the number of witnesses and the superintendent will decide who the witnesses will be.
It was stated at the state department of prisons today that Czolgosz has expressed no fear as to the execution, but he has said that he would not care to go outside the prison for he believes that the people would kill him.

Since his confinement in Auburn prison several thousand letters have been received for him at the prison as well as a large number of express packages containing flowers and fruit. The letters, flowers or fruit have never reached the condemned man. The flowers and fruit, it is learned, have been sent by Christian societies, and have not been sent by him. The letters, in his last number of letters consoling letters, have had other letters have come from cranks, who have written about the species of torture to which they would put him if they had the execution of justice in his case.
It is stated, however, that it would be a matter of surprise if the names of senders of fruit and flowers were made public.

The state prison department has pursued a uniform policy in regard to Czolgosz that is to prevent the murderer from gaining any notoriety while awaiting death and to surround him by as perfect an isolation from the world as possible.
Stock Still Leads.
The closing days of the great Pan-American exposition are now rapidly approaching and Stock's is still the leading feature of the mighty Midway. New features are being constantly added to the famous group of trained bears, which recently arrived from Europe. Aside from his great feats with wild animals, Dredach is also a man of extraordinary physical ability. His celebrated troupe consists of five different species; the monster Nemook or Polar bear, the black bear from Thibet, the grizzly bear from Alaska, and the Russian bear from Siberia. Such a collection as this was never before brought together and surely never before trained. Their clever performance includes the most difficult feats ever accomplished. The climax of this wonderful performance is reached, however, when each end of a huge balance is loaded with a monster bear, while a third one mounts a pedestal in the center, and the entire group is lifted from the ground by the trainer, and carried several times about the steel-bound arena. The combined weight of these animals is over 2,000 pounds.

Another big feature is Senor Arnoldo and his group of leopards, panthers and pumas. These animals are trained to perform the most interesting tableaux. They perform the most difficult feats that have ever been attempted, even by brutes of a higher order and of a more docile temperament. The Senor handles them in a most affectionate manner. He places a leopard about his neck and carries it around the huge arena as one would an infant. This is without doubt the most sensational, blood-curdling and thrilling exhibition that has ever been presented, and a scene destined to remain long in the minds of those who are fortunate enough to witness it.

Football Player Dies.

Edwin Longenecker, twenty-one years old, quarter back of the football team of a preparatory school in Philadelphia, died Saturday night in a hospital as a result of injuries received in a game last Tuesday.

Longenecker, who was preparing to enter Cornell university was heavily thrown and his spinal column fractured. He became paralyzed and an operation was performed on him last Friday. He took a relapse on Saturday, and died about midnight.

ADDITIONAL LOCALS

—Samuel Campbell, of Lemont, has been granted a pension of $8 per month.

—Grant Williams, of Sugar Valley, has captured 22 coons and 2 opossums this season.

—Next Tuesday night, Oct. 22nd, "The Missouri Girl" will come to Garman's.

—Rev. and Mrs. Doerfler, of Madisonburg, both of whom have been ill with typhoid fever, are convalescing.

—Harry Schlegel, of Washington, has bought and shipped 160 horses from Coburn station since January 1st.

—It is said that J. C. Smith, of Millheim, will give up his hardware business in that place to travel for a large Chicago paint house.

—George Ulrich, of Millheim, has been granted a pension of $24 per month.

—"The Missouri Girl" will be the attraction at Garman's on Tuesday night, Oct. 22nd.

—Infants have recently arrived at the homes of Ed. Bierly, Arthur Rachau and Frank Grenoble, in Madisonburg, and they are all happy of course.

—The drill that is at work on the Gummo farm in Clinton county has reached a depth of 500 ft. but nothing more than good signs have been struck.

—Townsend Moran, who moved away from Philipsburg recently to accept a position with the American Exp. Co. in Buffalo, has been transferred to a better place in Rochester.

—The Williamsport High school and the Bellefonte Academy foot ball teams will play on the fair grounds to-morrow. If you go contribute something. It will cost the boys considerable and you have no right to go down and enjoy yourself without paying something.

—W. E. Coner's confectionery store at Howard was entered by burglars on Friday night. An entrance was gained by removing one of the large show windows in the front of the store and when that was done they carried off much of his stock, as well as his barber tools.

—Mrs. George Mattern, of Seneca, was stricken with paralysis on Sunday evening while rubbing her husband, who has been an invalid for more than twenty-five years with rheumatism. She was completely paralyzed but by Tuesday evening had recovered sufficiently to converse with her family.

—While feeding a thrasher at work on the Charles Bickle farm in Bald Eagle valley, on Thursday, John Bickle was struck across the back of the head by a knife that George Berry was using to cut sheaves with and all the leaders and veins in the wrist were severed. It bled profusely and required ten stitches to close up the wound.

—Mr. and Mrs. Mark Schell celebrated the golden anniversary of their wedding at Dix Station on Thursday and four of their five children, with many of the lesser posterity, were there to enjoy the rare event. The old couple have spent all but a few years of their married life in the Bald Eagle valley, consequently they have many friends who will wish them many more years of happiness together.

ENTERTAINMENT COURSE.—The Central Lyceum bureau has completed arrangements to present a course of eight high class attractions at Garman's during the season just opening. The first offering will be made some time during the latter part of November and continue at regular intervals thereafter until March.

Course tickets will be sold at the low price of $1 and agents are now at work canvassing the town.
The attractions are strictly first class and of such a character as to cater to every taste, and merit the patronage of the public.

WILL HAVE A FINE STORE.—It is not often that young men embarking in business give such evidence of immediate success as Sim the Clothier presents to the public in the announcement that he has vacated the big rooms in Temple Court to be vacated on November 1st, by Samuel Lewin.

In the short period of eighteen months Sim's business has grown far beyond the room he started in Reynolds' bank building, so he will close it and move to the more commodious quarters next door. There must be something to cause this phenomenal business growth, for you know people don't buy things they don't want, nor do they buy where they are not satisfied or treated fair. These are very likely the reasons that Sim the Clothier has to move from the small room in which he started.

INTER-COUNTY EDUCATIONAL CONFERENCE.—At Philipsburg, November 1st and 2nd, the educators of Centre, Clearfield, and adjoining counties will hold a conference and round table to discuss the prominent educational questions of the day. These conferences have in recent years become an important feature in the profession of teaching in different parts of the State, and the coming one promises to be one of unusual interest, inasmuch as many of the leading teachers are giving their hearty support, and have given their assurance of being present and taking part in the discussions.

Few towns are better located or better adapted than Philipsburg for an educational meeting. Its magnificent school building and the liberal manner in which the schools are supplied with all the requisites to successful teaching is sufficient evidence of the interest taken by the people of Philipsburg in their schools, an interest that is probably not surpassed by any similar community in the State. The town is easily reached by rail from every direction and visitors can attend the three sessions of the conference Friday evening and Saturday forenoon and afternoon and get away in time to reach their homes anywhere within a fifty or a hundred mile radius. The invitation to attend is general. Teachers, no matter in what grade they teach, are requested to be present. Directors are urged to go, and parents will find the sessions interesting, and by attending will get into closer touch with the school work of the present day. Positively, this meeting promises to mark an epoch in local educational meeting.

AN OLD PATRIARCH GONE.—Huston township lost one of her best citizens on Saturday when the venerable John Campbell passed peacefully away at his home at Julian. He had lived long in that community and though way past the allotted time of man there was genuine sorrow when he died, for Squire Campbell was a great man, so useful and helpful to all about him that he enjoyed to an extraordinary extent the confidence of those with whom he came in contact. As an evidence of the influence he swayed it need only be stated that for years he was elected in that heavy Republican precinct, notwithstanding he was always a staunch Democrat.

Deceased was born August 31st, 1813, making his age 88 years, 11 months and 12 days. His wife, Mary Campbell, preceded him to the grave thirty-five years ago. They were the parents of the following children: Elizabeth White, Philipsburg; Edward, deceased; Elmira Griffin, Stormstown; Mary Louisa Murray, deceased; Emma, deceased; Clara Harbridge, Julian; G. E. Campbell, Julian; Josephine Murray, Richmond, Ind.; and Imelda Woods, deceased. Thirty-three grand children and twenty-one great grand children survive.

Squire Campbell was a man whose life might be emulated by many. Frank and fair in all his dealings with men his passing is a loss to that community that was unmistakably manifest in the crowd that was present to pay a last tribute when his remains were laid away in the family burying grounds on the Campbell farm on Tuesday morning.

A DEAR LITTLE CHILD.—The unexpected death of Malcolm Seibert, the eight year old son of Mr. and Mrs. James D. Seibert, on Monday evening at 6 o'clock, caused sorrow to many outside his home circle, for he was a dear little fellow, with a lovable disposition and an active mind. He had been ill for more than a week with diphtheria but was improving as well as could be expected until Monday afternoon. Then his heart, which had never been normal, refused to act and his bright, earnest eyes were closed by the sleep called death.

He was an unusual child and no one who knew him, even though not emotional or given to imagination, was surprised that he said to his mother when she asked him if he was afraid to die: "No, mamma, what would I be afraid of, nothing will harm me. I just wish God would come and take me in his arms up to Heaven." And being assured that he would, he said: "I'll see lots of people up there I know, uncle Manuel and Maud Houser." Meaning thereby Emanuel Markle, who was buried from the Seibert home not long ago, and Mrs. Joe Beck, whose death occurred in March, and who was always a favorite of his.

Interment was made privately in the Union cemetery Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. W. I. HARVEY.—Ellen Jane wife of W. I. Harvey, of Flemington, died in the hospital in Lock Haven on Friday evening last.

Deceased was the daughter of James Lucas and was born at Marsh Creek, this county. She was educated at the Soldiers' Orphan school at McAllisterville and later in life was united in marriage to W. I. Harvey, who survives her with two sons, Ives at home, and Ellis, a student at State College. She also leaves the following brothers and sisters: Mrs. W. J. Utz, of Williamsport; Mrs. Allie White, of Alpino; Clark, of Lock Haven, and John, of Lemont.

The funeral took place Monday at 2 o'clock. Interment in Highland cemetery at Lock Haven.

CALEB GUYER.—Caleb Guyer, an influential citizen of Tyrone and the last of the well known Warriors-mark family of that name, died at his home on Friday morning, after more than a year's illness caused by paralysis. He was a son of George and Mary Simpson Guyer and was born in Warriors-mark, May 25th, 1826. He was with the Pennsylvania railroad company for many years and was cashier of the Tyrone bank from 1871 to 1891. He was a Mason and from the organization of the Methodist church in Tyrone was one of its most active and honored members.

Mr. Guyer was married twice. His first wife was Susan Graizer, who died in '65. His second wife Emma J. Werts, of Baltimore, to whom he was married in 1872, survives him with the following children: Frank Guyer succeeded his father as freight agent in Tyrone and who still occupies that place, Mrs. S. S. Blair, Ella, Carrie and Edwin, all of Tyrone, and Mrs. F. G. Lane, of Michigan. Funeral services were held Monday afternoon.

—Howard Austin, who was born and raised in Milesburg, died at his home in Altoona on Saturday morning; his death having been caused by anaemic poisoning, superinduced by malarial fever. Deceased was 34 years old and had been employed in the Juniata blacksmith shops of the Pennsylvania railroad. He is survived by his widow and three children: Edward, Anna and John. His remains were brought to Milesburg for interment on Monday afternoon.

—Daniel D. Hollabaugh, aged 77 years and 25 days, died at the home of his son Daniel in Coleville, on Saturday morning. He had been in poor health for a long time and on Friday night he fell down the cellar steps, injuring himself in such a way as to cause his death next morning. Four children survive him. They are Henry, George, Daniel and Sara, all of this vicinity. Interment was made in the cemetery at Curtin's on Monday afternoon.

MRS. SUSAN HENDERSON.—Mrs. Susan Henderson, widow of the late Robert Henderson, of Warriors-mark valley, died at the old homestead on Sunday afternoon from disease incident to old age. She had been ill for three months and was 81 years, 9 months and 24 days of age. She was a daughter of Jacob Beck and is survived by the following children: Mrs. James A. Stewart, of Harrisburg; William, Abnegado and J. B. Henderson, at Warriors-mark; Mrs. Geo. D. Blair, of New Castle; Mrs. Charles F. Humrich, of Carlisle; Mrs. T. L. Wilson, of Bellwood, and Miriam, of British Columbia. She was buried on Wednesday morning in the Warriors-mark cemetery.

MRS. J. R. BIBLE.—Mrs. J. R. Bible, of Potters Mills, died in the Williamsport hospital on Tuesday night. She had entered that institution about two weeks previous to undergo an operation which was to be performed on Monday. At first it was thought it would result successfully, but later she started to sink and died at mid-night the following day.

Mrs. Bible was about 35 years old and is survived by her husband and five children. She was a conscientious member of the Presbyterian church and her body was brought home for burial yesterday morning.

JOSEPH C. BIERLY.—One of Miles township's oldest and most esteemed citizens was called home on Sunday when Joseph C. Bierly passed away. He was 68 years old and during his long and useful life he had been a factor in all the good works of that community and a citizen whose regard for the right led him ever in the path that all might follow.

Surviving him are his widow and sons E. S. at home and Prof. H. E., at Tallahassee, Florida. Rev. T. W. Haven conducted services over his remains in the Evangelical church in Rebersburg yesterday morning. Interment was made in the Evangelical cemetery.

Oscar Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Jones, died at the home of his parents, at the saw mill just east of Waddles, on Thursday morning the 10th at 6 o'clock, after a short illness of typhoid fever. He was about eighteen years of age and is survived by his parents, six brothers and three sisters. Rev. Runyon, of Stormstown, conducted the funeral services, which were held Friday afternoon. Interment was made in Gray's burying ground later in the afternoon.

Isaac Buffington, aged 71 years, died at his home in Penn township, on Friday, old age having been the cause. Interment was made in the Heckman cemetery on Sunday.

THE FORGER CAUGHT.—Last week the WATCHMAN told the story of how some unknown forger had succeeded in raising money by signing names of well known Ferguson township farmers to checks.

He worked manager Cusner of Finberg's store at State College with a check for $35.25 drawn to Ward Daughenbach by "Willie E. Meek." He got a gold watch and $20.25 in cash for it and disappeared. Next day he bobbed up in Tyrone with a check drawn to Linn Arthey and signed by "David George Meek." It was for $35.50 and he presented it at Walton and Acklins' jewelry store, where he had bought another watch and wanted the difference in cash. They became suspicious and went to the bank to see about the check when the young fellow disappeared. On Wednesday of last week another check made payable to a man named Wilson and signed by Mr. Black turned up at State College. It was for $36 and W. L. Foster cashed it.

Notwithstanding the frequency with which the trick was worked the authorities seemed utterly at a loss to discover the culprit until last Saturday, when a young man answering the description published in the WATCHMAN on the previous day to a "T." turned up at Baileyville. Word was immediately phoned to State College and constable Slagel was sent after him. The officer was not long in making the arrest. The prisoner turned out to be Harry Shney, who had been working on the farm for J. B. Goheen. Though he had always been a good reputation and it was thought that a mistake had certainly been made, he promptly confessed his guilt and gave up the watch and part of the money. Constable Slagel brought his prisoner to jail in this place, where he will probably remain until the November court. His parents reside in Tyrone.

A BIRTHDAY ANNIVERSARY.—The neighbors and relatives of A. J. McClintock Esq., of Lamar, Clinton Co., gave that gentleman a surprise on Tuesday the 15th inst., which will be long and pleasantly remembered by him.

On Monday he was invited to go to Howard and remained there over night, on his return the following morning he found his home in the possession of about seventy-five of his friends and neighbors, who had by previous arrangement assembled to celebrate his 73rd birthday, nor did these good people come empty handed, for after boxes and baskets had been opened there was found enough substantial provision, besides dainty dishes of all kinds, to supply a small army, and in addition Mr. McClintock was the recipient of many beautiful and appropriate presents.

The day was most delightfully spent in music, games and sweet converse and in the evening, after partaking of a bounteous repast, the visitors retired to their homes, and it was the wish of everyone that the hospitable host might be spared to enjoy many more such occasions.

AN AUSPICIOUS WEDDING.—By far the most important and interesting social event of the week was the marriage of Miss Jessie Laurie, daughter of Rev. Dr. and Mrs. William Laurie, and Samuel F. Eldredge, of Cape May, N. J., which took place last evening, at the home of the bride's parents on Spring street. Nothing possesses the attractions for the average man or woman, whether socially inclined or not, that a wedding does. And if the bride and groom are special favorites the interest in the wedding is manifestly increased.

Green and white were the colors used in the decorations and the roomy old Presbyterian manse was beautified with ferns and palms and roses. At the wedding proper, though, only the more intimate friends were present. The ceremony took place at five o'clock and was pronounced by the bride's father, Rev. Dr. Laurie, who has been pastor of the Presbyterian church here for more than twenty years. The wedding march from Lohengrin was played by Mrs. J. Malcolm Laurie, as the bride party entered the reception room. Pretty little Janet Potter was flower girl. Miss Bertha Laurie, the bride's sister, was maid of honor, and Ralph Cummings, of Cape May, the groom's cousin, was best man. The bride was given away by her cousin, J. Malcolm Laurie, and she was ideally beautiful. Her gown was of white point d'esprit over white taffeta and she carried bride's roses. When she appeared more than one of the guests were reminded of Tennyson's daughter of the gods, for she is tall and very fair. The maid of honor, who is also a good looking girl of the bonny Scotch type, wore a girlish gown of white silk baste trimmed with green liberty satin. The little flower girl, fair as a lily herself, was dressed in white dotted swiss with a green sash and carried Kaiserera roses.

Directly after the ceremony a supper was served by Ceaders and from seven until eight-thirty an informal reception was held which was attended by a number of young people and nearly every member of Dr. Laurie's congregation. The general air of festivity developed into merriment when Mr. and Mrs. Eldredge left on the 8:32 train for Norfolk and they departed amid a shower of rice and other tokens of good will.

Mr. and Mrs. Eldredge will make their home at Cape May, where Mr. Eldredge is well established as a young lawyer. He was prepared for college at the Academy here and his bride was one of his classmates. She afterwards studied at Mt. Holyoke and is cultivated and bright, as well as prepossessing and affable.

Among the guests from a distance were the groom's father and mother, Captain and Mrs. Eldredge, Bolton Eldredge and Miss Clementine Eldredge, all of Cape May; Mr. and Mrs. Foster, of Norfolk, Va.; Mrs. S. T. Pendleton and Miss Rinehart, of Philadelphia; Mrs. J. E. Horn, of Philadelphia; Miss Mayde Smith, Miss Helen Landis, Hollidaysburg; Miss Ann Shaffner, Philadelphia, and Mrs. John Porter Lyon, of Penna. Furnace.

WEDDING BELLS AT PORT MATILDA.—One of the most brilliant social events of the season took place at Port Matilda on Thursday evening, Oct. 10th at half-past five o'clock at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Reese. The occasion being the marriage of their daughter Grace to Mr. John M. Williams. Many invitations were issued and the high esteem in which the young people are held was manifest by the number who responded in person. Guests to the number of about one hundred were present and all enjoyed the evening to the fullest extent.

The wedding march was played by Miss Edith Williams, sister of the groom, who was escorted to the organ by Mr. Wilbur Woodring. To the strains of Lohengrin, so gracefully rendered, the bride entered the parlor attended by Miss Anna Eastman, of Curwensville, Pa. Miss Kate Reese, sister of the bride, and Miss Florence Williams, sister of the groom. When near the bridal arch they were met by the groom, who was attended by Mr. Archie Woodring, of Bloomsburg, Pa. The bride and groom took their places in the center of the bridal arch, when the words were spoken which united them in the holy bonds of wedlock. The ring ceremony was used, which is a symbol of their pure and changeless affection. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. T. Scott, of the Presbyterian church, assisted by Rev. E. S. Latschaw, of the Methodist church.

The bride wore cream etamie, trimmed with cream satin and applique and carried a bouquet of white roses. The groom was attired in the conventional black. The parlor was handsomely decorated with vines, autumn leaves and daisies. After the newly married couple had received the hearty congratulations of all present, we were ushered into the dining room, where dinner was served and where all the delicacies and tempting dishes of the season were spread before us and to which we all did ample justice. The bride received many beautiful and costly presents.

The bridal party left amid showers of rice on the 7:47 train for Buffalo, where they will spend their honeymoon, after which they will return to Port Matilda where they will make their future home.

Mr. Williams is the popular young miller of Port Matilda and a young man of excellent character, while his bride, who is a daughter of A. W. Reese, the well-known merchant, is a young lady in every way calculated to make home happy. Our best wishes and congratulations go with them.
—"The Missouri Girl" at Garman's next Tuesday night, Oct. 22nd.
