FARM NOTES.

Teaching the Colt. If a horse gets his front foot fast, even on an obstruction only a foot high, he always pulls back and will keep at it until loose or exhausted, but does not go ahead.

The center of the body is the pivotal point of action. This is why he pulls back on the halter. We should know what we want him to do and begin at the right end.

A horse is controlled by his habits and does nothing but what we teach him. He never forgets a lesson good or bad, and habit, not consciousness, is responsible for all troubles.

The first lesson should begin at one hour or one day after birth, and should make him respect the superior strength of man. Catch him with one arm around his neck and the other hold of his tail so he cannot get away, run ahead or kick you.

Black velvet applique is in evidence at all the shops, and there are, too, beautiful velvet appliques of softly shaded colors which promise stunning effects upon gowns in white or soft pastel tints.

Don't think, said the dentist, that brushing is all your teeth need. Besides this, you should draw a bit of very fine cotton or dental silk between them nightly. It is impossible, with a brush, to be certain that every particle of food is removed from between them, and it is necessary that this should be done, if you want to keep them in good order and prevent them from decaying.

Kaizer Zinn is still in great demand; some prefer to call it pewter. It is to be had in old styles, novel matches and ash trays, and later yet in candlesticks. These last are of surprising beauty and are selling fast at our best stores.

Separate blouses are worn by the thousand, both by fashionable and unfashionable women. May the star of their popularity never set!

Brilliant colored blouses are only worn with cloth coat and skirt for afternoon affairs and for luncheons, the coat being removed and thrown on the back of the chair.

When blouses are worn with skirts for all informal affairs, or without a coat, they should be of the same color as the skirt. White may be worn with everything.

Now, henceforth, put this away in your little note book of fashions; blouses of any material may be worn with any separate skirt when a coat is not used if that blouse is of the same color, unless it be white.

The word fabric is not thought of by these who are fashioning the blouses. It is the color—the color—that is required.

Now it seems to me with this clearly understood, the working out of blouses for your winter wardrobe is easy.

FOR AND ABOUT WOMEN.

On the Wedding Journey.

SHE. I don't think anybody dreams That I'm a bride. You musn't try to hold my hand!

Be dignified, And try to look at ease and calm, The way I do, As if our going off alone Were nothing new;

And when I ask you things, just growl "Oh, I don't know!" Why does that horrid man back there Grin at me so?

Could he have guessed?—or does he just Think I took nix?

HE. Of course he does—but, dear, your hat Is white with rice.

—The Household.

Far better for the complexion than any cosmetic compound by a perfumer is the application of very hot water to the face with a woolen washrag.

If you long to be envied invest in a low boy. If you have him from your great-grandmother you are wonderfully blessed.

The shops, however, are ready to supply the lack of an ancestral garret. A low boy, an exact copy of one that came from merrie England in the very same ship with Penn may be had for $44.50.

Bulbs for Window Gardens.

A Few Suggestions for the Amateur Florist.

Of late years bulbs have played a prominent part in the winter window garden, writes Eben E. Rexford in Lippincott's Magazine.

It is very important that the bulbs which we intend to force into bloom in winter should be treated in such a manner as to imitate, as closely as possible, the conditions under which it would grow naturally—that is, if left to take care of itself.

All bulbs have two distinct periods or stages of growth. One in fall, preparatory to spring's work, and the other in spring. The fall work consists in the development of roots by which the plant is to be supported and nourished later.

The soil for bulbs grown in pots should be a rich, mellow one, made up of garden loam, sand and old sawdust in equal parts. Work it over until you have a mass of fine material.

It is not necessary to give most bulbs intended for winter flowering the deep planting advised for those in the garden, as they will not be subjected to the disturbing conditions which the later must contend with.

DEEP PLANTING NOT ADVISABLE. It is not necessary to give most bulbs intended for winter flowering the deep planting advised for those in the garden, as they will not be subjected to the disturbing conditions which the later must contend with.

THE bulbs are watered well at the time of potting it will not be necessary, as a general thing, to apply water for a month or more. None should be given unless absolutely needed.

THE stockholders will receive back nothing for the $2,500,000 which they put in. Contractors who built the exposition will be stuck for $1,000,000, and the issue of $500,000 second mortgage bonds will be defaulted as well as 20 per cent of the first mortgage bonds.

THE contractors mean to fight the division of the monies in court, and will endeavor to establish liability for the debts on the part of the directors and stockholders. The act incorporating the Pan-American Company specifically states that the directors and stockholders shall not be liable and this, it is claimed, is unconstitutional.

His Marriage Fee.

A poor couple living in the Emerald Isle went to the priest for marriage, and were met with a demand for the marriage fee, says Tit-Bits. It was not forthcoming.

It was given, and she sped forth on the delicate mission of raising a marriage fee out of pure nothing. After a short interval she returned with the sum of money, and the ceremony was completed to the satisfaction of all.

"Anything on your mind, Catherine?" said the father. "Well, your reverence, I would like to know if this marriage could be spoiled now?"

"Certainly not, Catherine. No man can put you asunder." "Could you not do it yourself, father? Could you not spoil the marriage?"

A FIENDISH ATTACK.—An attack was lately made on C. F. Collier, of Cherokee, Iowa, that nearly proved fatal. It came through his kidneys. His back got so lame he could not stoop without great pain, nor sit in a chair except propped by cushions.
