C. L. Finkle's sale on Friday last was quite a large one, and everything sold well. Horses and cows-good stock-commanded high figures. Mr. Finkle will now enter into the mercantile business in our village.

Last week several of our hunters complained of a scarcity of game. I presume this accounts for some of them shooting their neighbors chickens-on the absurd pretense that half a dozen devoured large quantities of corn. Of course this is the veriest bosh, and the shooting of chickens under the circumstances is exceedingly small business.

What has become of our supervisors, are they lost on egg hill or have they resigned ? Our roads are in a shocking condition and have been for months. The roads in George's Valley are in a particularly scandalous condition, rut follows rut for miles, and to drive faster than a walk would simply ruin most any kind of a vehicle. Why this procrastination?

Several of our young men got up a dancing party and supper at the Old Fort hotel on Friday evening last, and the occasion proved a very delightful oue. The supper, waffles and chicken, was gotten up in an elegant and inviting manner. The table was lavishly furnished with choice dishes and beautifully set. Landlord Schaeffer won golden opinions by his courteous reception of visitors. and his pleasant and agreeable manners, soon made all feel at home. Guests were present from Lewistown, Potters Mills and Centre Hill. The sun was faintly illuminatating the east, when the party separated and departed to their respective homes.

Arthur Foley Winnington-Ingram, Lord Bishop of London, contributes an interesting paper to the November Cosmopolitan on "The Overcrowding of Great Cities and Remedies for It." Apropos of the discussion of the invasion of England by Americans, Edmund Gosse furnishes in the same number an essay scoring Englishmen for their narrowness of intellect. Incidentally he has a hit at American intellectual life in the twentieth century.
