Mr. Dodge said the balloon first started for a time, drifted southward and became stationary for a short time. Then, catching a breeze from the eastward, it sailed over the San Mateo hills and stood far out into the sea.

Turkey Comes Down.

United States Consul at Harput Finally Recognized

WASHINGTON. November 5.-The State Department has been informed by the legation at Constantinople that the Turkish government has issued an exequatur to Dr. Thomas Herbert Norton, United States consul at Harput, Turkey, who was ap pointed to that post in June, 1900. Dr. Norton has been without the authority of the porte to perform his functions as United States consul at Harput for nearly a year and a half. However, through the ener-getic efforts of Mr. Lloyd Grisom, formerly United States charge d'affaires at Constantinople, he has been discharging informally for some months past his regular functions in lieu of the formal conference of his exequatur. Turkey objected to the establishment of an American consulate at Harput on the ground that there was no commerce at that place, but when a short time ago Turkey permitted the British government to establish a consulate at Harput the United States renewed its efforts looking to a similar privilege.

The arrest and punishment of parties making and selling alum baking pow-ders has commenced, it is true, but Pennsylvania is still the dumping ground for some of the worst of these articles sent out by the manufacturers of New York, Balti-more, Cincinnatti and Chicago. Some power should stop it. The authorities in Philadelphia have apparently been spurred to action by the vigorous editorials of some of the dailies of that city. The State Food Commissione is collecting samples and it is hoped that some effective action will follow. Meantime for safety sake it will be well to keep all alum powders out of the store and out

To Join Siberian Railway.

The Last Rails, it is Stated. Have Been Laid.

The last rails of the line connecting Moscow with Vladivostok, according to a dis-patch from St. Petersburg to the London Daily Mail, have been laid.

For some time it has been possible, by making part of the trip by boat on the Amur river, to go from Moscow to Valdivostok using a nearly all-rail route. The completion of the line marks an epoch in modern railway construction.

A British traveler, who recently made

18 days, wrote of the work as follows : "The railway is of the ordinary Russian gauge, and is a single line. Every 18 miles along the whole route substantial stone stations, with offices, buffets and waiting rooms, are in course of erection. whether there is a town in the vicinity or not. Each of these stations contains also a military post.

It is marvelous what has been accomplished, even since last December. During the Boxer troubles practically all the work of the previous two years was undone. Stations were destroyed, embankments, cuts, lines torn up, engines and tracks wrecked, and yet when I came through a few weeks ago, an occasional pair of broken wheels by the side of the line, and the smashed engines in the shops at Niuchwang, were the only evidences of last year's disturbances.

"By the end of the year the whole line will be opened for through express traffic, and a train de luxe will perform the jour-ney from Pekin to St. Petersburg in about 14 days. The majority of the engines on the railway are American."

A Dog Prevents West Liberty Lad from Dying in the Woods.

Ira J. Patterson, a seventeen-year-old lad of West Liberty, Butler county, was shot and blinded Saturday afternoon by the accidental discharge of a gun and might have died alone had it not been for his faithful dog Carlo. The boy's thumb and all the fingers of the right hand, except the index finger, were blown off at the first and second joints, and the shot were scattered all over his face, the powder filled his eyes, and he was rendered unconscious. Some time later he was brought back to his senses by the dog pinching various parts of his body with his teeth, and the boy awoke to find his face bathed in blood from a score of shot wounds, and this, with the blood flowing from his injured hand, made him so weak that he felt unable to rise. He tried to drive the dog off, but the animal refused to budge. Being unable to get rid of the animal, the boy at last staggered to School Teachers Go on a Strike.

They Protest Against the Refusal of the Directors to Equalize Salaries-Will not Give Up their Keys

A strike among the school teachers is in progress in Cowanshannock township, Armstrong county and ten of them have closed their schools. The row was caused by the demands of the teachers that salaries be equalized. The directors of the township set the wages at $30 for experienced teachers and $28 for those with no experience. C. H. Fleming refused to take his school unless he would get $35. After some difficulty the directors allowed him that amount.

When it became known to the other teachers that Fleming had received $35, they signed a paper asking that the wages be equalized. The directors did nothing and the teachers began to close their schools. This week the directors declared all the schools where the teachers are not teaching, vacant, and will try to fill them. The teachers hold that the schools are not vacated, as they have not been disthe trip from Harbin to St. Petersburg in 18 days, wrote of the work as follows : ings and say that they will hold them until the matter is settled. Wed, and Didn't Know It.

Curt Billig, of Hoboken, and his fiancee Miss Lydia Barthmuss, called on Justice of the Peace Frank O'Keefe. of Hoboken, N. J., on Thursday night and were married without their knowledge or consent, though they were quite satisfied and happy when they learned that they were husband and wife Billig and his wife are Germans and know little English. Justice O'Keefe was not born in Germany and the only foreign language he knows fluently is Hobokenese. An interpreter was called in and when the young couple were told that they were married the bride said : "We didn't mean to get married tonight. We called on the justice to find out about the ceremony and thought he was only rehearsing it. I want-to have my friends here to witness it." The bridegroom said simply : "We should like to have our friends here, but everything is all right."

Small Fret no Longer the Fashion.

Madame Wu Ting Fang Says the Emancipa. tion of Women Has Already Begun.

Madame Wu Ting Fang, wife of the Chinese minister, who returned a few days ago from her native land, says that small feet are no longer the fashion there. "The very first penetrating influence of exterior civilization on the customs of my country has touched the conditions of women,⁵ said Madame Wu. "The emancipation of women in China means first of all the liberation of her feet, and this is coming. Indeed, it has already come in a measure, for the style in feet has changed. "Wee bits of feet," continued Madame Wu, "those no longer than an infant's, are no longer in fashion. When I went back home I found that the rigid binding and forcing back of the growth of the feet was largely a thing of the past. China with other nations has come to regard that practice as barbarous ; but the small feet, those that enable women to walk a little and do house, are still favored by the Chinese ladies. Remarkable Old Woman Celebrates Her 108th

Fighting Over Christ's Tomb.

The Church of the Holy Sepulchre, surmounting Christ's tomb, was the scene of a sanguinary affrary last Monday between the Franciscians and Greeks, during which there were a number of casualties on both sides. The dispute arose on the question as to which community had the right to sweep the church. Troops had been posted in the vicinity for several days previous to the outbreak in order to prevent the anticipated colli-sion, but they were suddenly outnumbered and overpowered by the contending parties.
