—Rev. Ambrose Schmidt and family arrived in this place on Saturday and preached his first regular sermons in the Reformed church on Sunday.

—James Duff, butcher at Gettig's meat market, is home from a two weeks' hunt in the Bear Meades and claims to have shot two large deer.

—While carrying a roller from the ovens to the flattening room at the glass works Monday morning, Herbert McCoy, better known as "Dutch," cut his hand badly.

—Mrs. William Scott, who resigned her position out at Willowbank some time ago, has moved into the rooms over Richard's store. Mrs. Spicer is now matron of the poor house.

—The firm of Eckenroth & Montgomery is to be dissolved on January 1st. Robert Montgomery will retire and Edward Eckenroth will continue the business at the old stand.

—Union services will be held in the Methodist Episcopal church on Thanksgiving morning. Rev. Dr. Laurie, of the Presbyterian church, will make the annual address.

—Misses Bella Rankin and Carrie Weaver, teachers in the Bellefonte schools, are off duty on account of sickness. Misses Lulu Rine and Jessie Eiters are taking their places temporarily.

—Mrs. Jesse Wert narrowly escaped being burned to death while helping her son to butcher at Aaronsburg. Her clothing caught fire, but other helpers put out the flames before she had been seriously hurt.

—Do not select your Christmas presents until the Presbyterian fair which is to be held in the chapel Dec. 5th and 6th. The latest novelties in fancy work will be for sale, as well as some good things to eat.

—Miss Alice Clinton Farish is arranging with her music class to give the opera "Said Pasha" soon after Christmas. It is to be for the benefit of Petriken Hall and there will be seventy-five people in the cast.

—A social will be held on Thanksgiving evening at Kennedy, in Howard township, for the benefit of the Kennedy church. You are assured a cordial welcome and a pleasant evening if you are present.

—On Monday morning James McNichol, who is employed at Anderson's restaurant, slipped and tumbled down the cellar stairs there with the result that his left arm, which was broken near the wrist, is bandaged up in splints.

—Father Benner Armor, who had been ill at the home of his father, Mr. Monroe Armor, on East Linn street, was taken to St. Francis hospital, in Pittsburg on Wednesday. His sister Louise and Dr. E. S. Dorworth accompanied him.

—If you intend doing any special advertising for Christmas now is the time to do it. Don't wait until it will be of no use to you. Ask advertisers in the WATCHMAN what they think of the returns it gives.

—Receiver R. M. Foster of the S. E. Coudo store at State College has sold the stock of that establishment to Holmes & Co., of State College. The new firm will move the goods to the Snyder store, the grocery stock of which has also been bought by Holmes & Co. They expect to open about December 1st.

—The Alpha fire company at State College have purchased a building and now have comfortable quarters for themselves and their apparatus. It is the building formerly occupied by Raup & Brown's meat market. The first meeting in the new hall was held last evening. Council will buy them 500 ft. of new hose.

—The Y. P. S. C. E. of the Presbyterian church was reorganized on Tuesday evening, with the following officers: President, J. Malcolm Laurie, vice president, Robert H. Irwin; secretary and treasurer, Miss Mary H. Linn; corresponding secretary, Miss Annie Cleaver. Public meetings will be held, as in the past, on Sunday evening at 6:10. Everybody is invited.

A SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—Harry H. Irwin, a nephew of Robert Irwin, of Spring street, and a son of John J. Irwin, now of Altoona, but formerly of this place, was seriously if not fatally hurt Monday evening in Altoona at the round house where he is employed as an inspector. He was in what was known as the "parlor" of the round house when the big arc light went out and he hastily ran up a thirty-foot ladder to jar it, thinking the carbons had struck. He no sooner touched the lamp, which is of 300 candle power, than he was terribly shocked and fell to the floor. In falling his hand struck one of the piston rods of an engine and when his almost lifeless body was removed to the hospital it was found that he had sustained a fracture at the base of the skull, a large laceration on the crown of the head and the flesh on both hands were burned to the bone by the electricity.

His injuries are of such a serious nature that it is doubtful if he can recover. He was born in this place 28 years ago and has a wife and one child.

KILLED INSTANTLY.—Charles B. Quick, a native of Milesburg, was killed instantly Friday afternoon, while undertaking to apply the brake on a freight car in the Cambria steel company's yard at Johnstown. He was thrown under the wheels by the breaking of the chain. He was a son of George R. Quick and was born near Milesburg March 28th, 1877, and was at one time a member of Company B, Fifth Regt. N. G. P. He is survived by his parents, one sister and four brothers, Mrs. Grace Lucas, of Altoona; Thomas and Harry, of Milesburg; James, of Indianapolis, and William of Johnstown. His body was brought to the home of his parents in Milesburg where funeral services were held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. J. Ziegler officiated. Interment was made at the Advent cemetery.

A GREAT CHANCE.—An opportunity to secure a home or make a most promising investment in a town in which property is sure to advance in value and in which work is certain to be plenty for years and years to come is offered in an advertisement published in this issue of the WATCHMAN. We refer to the Oak Grove town lots. This is the new town at which the car shops of the Beech Creek and Pine Creek railroads will be located. It is about five miles west of Jersey Shore and eight east of Look Haven and is situated in one of the prettiest valleys in the State. The lots are now selling at an extremely low price and the fact that great railroad shops will be located there, which will give constant and remunerative employment to thousands of skilled mechanics, makes it certain that a lot purchased now for a few hundred dollars will command many thousands in a very few years. We do not know any other investment that promises better than this nor any place that promises as well for the working man who wants to secure his own home.

BIG GAME.—In our Spring Mills correspondence, this week, was a notice of the most successful hunt that has been reported here this season. The hunters, who were known as the "Kilder party," were E. D. W. and M. Sweetwood, George Breon, Charles Burns, Harry Dolby, Thomas Decker, of Georges Valley, and B. F. Kennedy and Harry Confer, of Spring Mills, the latter as chief cook. They started on their expedition on the 4th, made their headquarters at Pat Gherry's and returned home on the 17th. The trophies of the first week were two bears weighing 103 and 109 lbs., respectively, and one nine horn buck, which weighed 207 pounds. The second week the party was re-inforced by James Kennedy, R. G. Kennedy, John Sweetwood and Thomas Decker II and they hung up a two horn buck weighing 108 pounds. Twenty-five rabbits were also captured and the party made a record of which they can be justly proud.

THANKS.—To whole souled and big hearted John G. Uzzle the editor of the WATCHMAN is under obligations for a quarter of venison, tender and tasty enough to delight the palate of any epicure. There is not a drop of selfish blood in Mr. Uzzle's veins and when he has a good thing his neighbors and friends are sure to enjoy it with him. For years his deer park, which contains thirty fine specimens, and his trout pond, alive with speckled beauties, have been the great attraction at Snow Shoe and although Mr. Uzzle no longer lays claim to Sousa honors he has abundant means of entertaining his friends royally in other ways. We are proud that our county can boast of such a man and that hunting and fishing parties are not solely a prerogative of English royalty and New York bloods. Unlike Mr. Croker, our Snow Shoe friend does not have to go to England to find congenial friends with whom to share his good things.

THE MOORE STUDIO WILL BE CONTINUED.—The public will be interested in knowing that the art studio which the late Berenice Moore had established in this place is to be continued under the management of her brother Charles. All of the work that she had contracted for will be completed and delivered as ordered and the business of the studio will be carried on as usual. Charles Moore has just arrived from Perrey's galleries in Pittsburg, and that experience, together with his well known artistic talents, ought to insure the work that will be turned out of the Moore studio in the future.

—Mrs. Isaac Miller, of the toll gate, was called to Philadelphia Wednesday morning on account of the death of her brother Wesley Pennington.

—You can get the WATCHMAN and the Youth's Companion for the year for $2.25

—Several electric lights are being put in the polishing department at the upper axe factory at Mill Hall and the foundation for the new boiler which is to furnish steam heat for the place is almost completed.

—Roy Dickson, a young man employed in a stove mill at Pennington, Warriorsmark, had his arm caught by the sawing machinery Tuesday morning and his left hand was cut off. After a temporary dressing of the member at Warriorsmark, the young man was sent to the Altoona hospital for further treatment.

—Every week there is a good story in the WATCHMAN, a column of timely farm news, a column of fashion notes that the ladies enjoy, many columns of later and more reliable local news than any other paper in the county, contains, besides other interesting features. When you can get this all for $1 a year why don't you take it.

—J. H. Eskridge, the well known Phillipsburger, who gave up the telephone business several years ago to join Commodore A. J. Graham in the sale of explosives, has taken on a new line and henceforth will be a general agent for the Equitable life insurance company. The business ought to suit him, for he is one of the kind of men who knows and remembers people and has the faculty of interesting men at all times.

—Warren Dow, a Sugar Valley school teacher, while playing ball with some of his scholars one day last week, had an accident that might have resulted fatally. He was striking at a pitched ball when he slipped out of his hands and hit one of the scholars upon the forehead, inflicting a painful wound. The boy fell unconscious to the ground, but was quickly picked up by the teacher and carried into the school house where his head was bathed to check the flow of blood. Dr. Bickel arrived shortly and the boy is recovering rapidly.

—Gottlieb Haag has a new advertisement in this week's issue calling attention to the fact that he is required to sell his stock of liquor before April 1st, 1901, when his license expires. Mr. Haag's pure rye whiskey is pure. In fact he offers a bonus of $100.00 to any one who can produce a purer whiskey than the product of the old distillery at the Gap, all of which is now between seven and ten years old. He offers it at from $3 to 4.50 per gallon and if you are really in need of good whiskey we know of no better place to secure it.

—Saturday evening an Italian named Frank Mileto went to the home of a countryman, named Frank Fredricks, near Clearfield to visit a daughter of Fredricks, with whom he was infatuated. Concerning the visit the Public Spirit says: The family refused him admission, when he kicked the door open and Miss Fredricks hit him on the head with a hammer and knocked him down and delivered several more blows, fracturing his skull. He was removed to the county home. On his person were found two razors and a revolver, and he probably intended to commit murder, or at least injure the young lady, who did not reciprocate his tender feelings.

—Our enterprising shoe dealers, Yeager & Davis, have just issued a very pretty and what must prove a very popular souvenir of the late President McKinley. It is a neat little brochure, 3x7, printed on the finest paper, containing the President's last speech delivered at the Buffalo exposition and one of the finest cuts of him that has been issued. The back is dark grey with heavy border and has an oval opening near the top through which the photograph of Mr. McKinley is seen. They have provided themselves with a large edition and will be glad to present one with their compliments to every resident of the county who desires it.

—At the funeral of Miss Berenice Moore, on Saturday afternoon, the pall bearers, Jerome Harper, Charles Mensch, and W. J. Runkle, of this place, John Tonner Harris, of Phillipsburg, and C. S. Hiltner and W. C. Barr, of Tyrone, carried great bunches of white and pink chrysanthemums, tied with broad white satin ribbon. Short services were held in her studio at two o'clock and the body, with its hall of beautiful flowers, was then taken to the Reformed church where Drs. Shriner and Laurie, in the absence of the Reformed minister, conducted the funeral services proper. A quartette, Mrs. Harry Jenkins, Miss Harper, J. C. Meyer and A. Lukenbach, sang several selections and interment was made in the Union cemetery.

—Of the first jubilee singers, who will give the first entertainment of the Star course in the court house on Wednesday evening, the 27th, Mark Train from Lucerne, Switzerland, wrote as follows to his friend Rev. Joseph Twitshell, of Hartford, after hearing a concert at Vitznau by the Fisk Jubilee singers, in 1897: "The Jubilees sang a lot of pieces. Arduous and painstaking cultivation has not diminished or artificialized their music. On the contrary, to my mind, cultivation has mightily reinforced its eloquence and beauty. To me, away back in the beginning, their music made all other vocal music cheap, and that early notion is emphasized now. It is utterly beautiful, and moves me infinitely more than any other music can. I think that in the Jubilee singers and their songs America has produced the perfectest flower of the ages, and I wish it were a foreign product, so that she would worship it, and lavish money on it, and go properly crazy over it."

RECENT MARRIAGES.—Without the least show or display Miss Sabra Campbell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Campbell, and Bruce Garman were married last evening in their own newly furnished home on south Spring street. Rev. Geo. I. Brown, of the Episcopal church, performed the ceremony at 7 o'clock and there were no guests present outside of the two families. The bride, who is a very pretty girl, wore a girlish and becoming gown of white Paris muslin. After the ceremony a delicious supper was served and quite a number of young people called during the evening to extend their good wishes to the newly married couple.

The groom, who is a son of Daniel Garman, is associated with his brother, C. M., in the management of the Garman house and is well known throughout the county. His bride is an attractive, amiable young girl and they received a number of handsome presents.

KREAMER-RISHEL.—Cupid is still active in this community, even though the fashionable month for weddings is past. Wednesday evening a joyous wedding was celebrated at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Kreamer, on south Spring street, when their daughter, Mary, was united in marriage to William Rishel, formerly of this place but now of Braddock. The ceremony was said at 8 o'clock by the Rev. Dr. Shriner, of the Methodist church. About sixty guests were present and a supper was served during the reception which followed.

The bride was dressed in white French muslin and carried white roses. Her maid of honor, Miss Ann Confer, was also dressed in white French muslin and carried pink carnations. The groom was attended by Harry Sowers, of State College, as best man. The newly married couple will leave to-day for their new home in Braddock, where the groom's mother, Mrs. Alice Rishel, will give a reception in their honor this evening. Both the bride and groom are quite young but they are thrifty and energetic and will, no doubt, be comfortable and happy. The groom worked for some years in the Centre Democrat office but is now a conductor on the street cars from Braddock to Pittsburg.

PROUDFOOT-WALLACE.—James G. Wallace, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wallace, and Miss Rose Proudfoot, a daughter of the late James B. Proudfoot, were married Tuesday evening at the Presbyterian manse in Milesburg by the Rev. Walter B. Carson. After the ceremony the young people returned to the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Nancy Proudfoot, where a wedding supper was served and a little informal reception was held. There was considerable opposition to the marriage, as neither of the young people is of age. The groom though is an expert workman and has been associated with his father in building Petriken Hall and the bride is an energetic, amiable young girl and the marriage will likely result in happiness and comfort.

—Charles Longacre, formerly connected with the Harper grocery in this place, was married to Caroline Gould, a daughter of H. L. Gould, of Lock Haven, last Thursday evening. The ceremony was performed at the bride's home and about thirty guests were present. The ushers were Clarence Longacre, of this place, a brother of the groom, and H. L. Gould, a brother of the bride. An informal reception followed the ceremony, after which Mr. and Mrs. Longacre departed for Niagara Falls, where the groom is employed in a department store.

LAWSON-GRAHAM.—The four hundred were out in full force yesterday morning to the wedding in the A. M. E. church when Miss Adaline Lawson became the bride of Henry Graham, of Emporium. Though no one was admitted to the church who did not have cards the ushers, Manny Green, Louis Mills, Fred Thompson and John Carter, had quite a time finding seats for all the guests. Miss Nell Valentine played the wedding march and the ceremony, by the Rev. J. G. Agnew, pastor of the church, was said so promptly at 11 o'clock that several of the gentlemen diked up in their white vests, frock coats, boutonnieres and light gloves missed it entirely.

The bride was dressed in cadet blue cashmere trimmed with white and she carried white chrysanthemums. Her going-away gown was of dark blue broadcloth. After the ceremony the bridal party were driven to the home of James Carter, where the wedding breakfast was served. Accompanied by lots of rice, white ribbon, etc., the happy couple took their departure on the 1:05 train for Emporium where the groom has a barber shop. Adaline has been employed at Mrs. A. G. Curtin's for the last twelve years or more and she is not only highly respected but she is fully capable of running an establishment of her own.

MILLS-THOMAS.—On Monday a marriage took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Mills on south Thomas street, which was kept very quiet, but which was, nevertheless, quite an event in the social life of the colored people. It was the wedding of Miss Carrie Mills and Henry Thomas. Rev. J. G. Agnew, the new pastor of the A. M. E. church, performed the ceremony at 7:30 o'clock and about thirty guests were present. An elaborate wedding supper was served and the bride and groom left on the night train for a visit in Harrisburg and Philadelphia. The groom, who is a son of Goin Thomas, is a graduate of the High school here. He is an employee of the Potter-Hoy Co. is a well-to-do, industrious young man. The bride is the eldest daughter of William Mills and the many nice presents she received attested to her worth and favoritism.

—Miss Ola Woodring, daughter of Mrs. Belle Woodring, and Robert Robinson, of Port Matilda, were married at the home of the brides mother in that place, yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock. More than a hundred guests were present and it was a very happy affair.

THE STAR COURSE.—The Star course of entertainments opens on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock at the court house. Secure your tickets now for the course—only $1.00 for eight entertainments. The list is as follows: Fiske Jubilee Singers, who have had the honor of singing before Queen Victoria, Emperor and Empress of Germany and other crowned heads of Europe; John R. Clark, who is said to be the John B. Gough of the lyceum platform; Dumo-Emett, combination of mirth, music, mimicking and magic; Boston Ladies Symphony orchestra, composed of 22 special artists; Hawthorne Musical club, a concert-comedy Co. of gentlemen; the Abum trio of ladies; the Marion Wilson, costumed impersonators; the Marshall sisters and the Parker concert Co.

The course will have sufficient variety to suit all and will run until March. Single admission 35 cents to Fisk concert. Reserved seats 15 and 20 cts. extra.

—The farce comedy "Down and Up" will be the attraction at Garman's tonight. The Hickman Bros., a team of musical comedians, are the principals.

—There are twenty delegates representing the Archdeaconry of Williamsport now in session in St. John's Episcopal church in this place and the program, as published in the last issue of the WATCHMAN, is being successfully carried out. The sessions will conclude this morning.

—D. B. Kunes, a well known citizen of Blanchard and a straight out Quayite, was appointed post master of that place, last week. The present postmaster, Henry A. Snyder, has held that position for a number of years and filled the position satisfactorily as well as honorably.

News Purely Personal.

—Dr. J. Y. Dale, of Lemont, was in town on Monday.

—Dr. W. U. Irwin, of Julian, was a Bellefonte visitor on Monday.

—James Clark and wife visited friends in Beech Creek over Sunday.

—Miss A. J. Graham, of Phillipsburg, is in town visiting Miss Celia Armor.

—Jake De Haas, proprietor of the Syracuse house at Howard, was in town on Monday. He is still looking for it.

—Mrs. Anna M. Hemphill, of Centre Hall, has gone to St. Louis, Mo., where she expects to spend the winter.

—Mrs. Prudence Haynes, of Phillipsburg, was in Bellefonte to attend the funeral of Miss Berenice Moore, on Saturday.

—Miss Carrie Swartz, of Williamsport, is a guest at the home of her sister, Mrs. George B. Klump, on High street.

—Mr. and Mrs. John I. Thompson, of Lemont, spent a day with their daughter, Dr. Mary Thompson, in Altoona, the latter part of last week.

—Daniel Straw, of Julian, was in town on Monday making arrangements for the sale of his farm stock and implements, which he will make on December 5th.

—Rev. George Israel Brown, of the Episcopal church, was one of the officiating ministers at the funeral of Mrs. J. W. Wallace, in Lock Haven, Tuesday afternoon.

—Allie Matland, son of William B. Matland, formerly of this place, was in town yesterday on business for the Keeler boiler works, with which he is connected.

—Capt. W. A. Simpson, of Lock Haven, was in town yesterday with a gun. Who or what he was looking for we don't know. Or whether it was loaded or not—i. e. the gun.

—Pat McAffrey, the well known Lock Haven citizen who still has a warm place in his heart for Bellefonte and Bellefonte people, was in town last evening.

—W. W. Boob and family, of Centre Hall, passed through Bellefonte on Saturday, on their way to Cincinnati, Ohio, where Mr. Boob expects to embark in the carriage hardware business.

—Mr. and Mrs. Edward P. Irvin are entertaining at the Bush home. Rev. Eugene and Mrs. Brooks, of Tyrone, who are here attending the meeting of the Archdeaconry of Williamsport.

—Mrs. E. C. Poorman, Misses Bertha Lightner, Gertrude Hiltner, Jane Witter and Misses W. C. Barr and C. S. Hiltner, of Tyrone, were in town Saturday to attend the funeral of Miss Berenice Moore.

—William Shavelly, of Haines township, was in town Wednesday enjoying the sights and hustle as only a young man can who has never been here but once before and who has yet to see a theatre or the impressive features of a large town.

—George T. Bush returned home Tuesday from an extended and delightful trip through Colorado, Nevada, Utah, Idaho, Texas, Louisiana and Virginia during which he traveled seven thousand, eight hundred and some miles.

—Squire J. H. Reinfelder, of Millheim, was in town on Tuesday, looking considerably better than we have seen him for some time. He reports, too, that he is "picking up slowly" and we are sure his many friends will be pleased to hear it.

—H. T. McDowell, of Abdera, was in town on Wednesday. He has not decided whether he will quit farming in the spring or not and he will move out of the county and he is too good a citizen to lose, to say nothing of the usefulness of a Democrat he is.

—Mrs. H. S. Cooper left for New York yesterday morning where she will spend a few days looking for a house. Mr. Cooper is located in New York now and they expect to make their future home there. However if Mrs. Cooper is unsuccessful in finding a desirable house she will return for Christmas here.

—Robert F. Hunter has returned from Granby, Mo., where he has just gotten the nine mines in which he and other Bellefonte capitalists are interested in successful working order. He brought a few new western stories home with him and as Granby is the home of the old James gang you may rest assured that some of them are hair raisers—they didn't have that effect on us however.

—Edgar S. Swartz, of Punxsutawney, was in town over Sunday on his way to attend the funeral of his grand mother, Mrs. Mary Keene, at Millheim Monday morning. There he was met by his sister Mrs. Van Ormer and Mrs. Caswell, of Centreville, and his brother Rev. Morris Swartz, of Shippensburg. Mrs. Caswell returned here with him Monday afternoon and was a guest at the home of her cousin, Mrs. M. A. Kirk, until Wednesday.

WILLIAM MULBARGER FINDS TROUBLE COURTING ANOTHER MAN'S WIFE.—William Mulbarger, aged 50, a widower and well known resident of Lemont, was up against a stern proposition at Colyer last Saturday.

At that thriving little lumber village in the Seven mountains lives Mrs. John Long, a very comely woman, but whose troubles with her husband caused their paths to diverge some time ago. In true dog in the manger style Long, who wouldn't live with his wife himself, didn't want anybody else to do so either. He heard that Mulbarger was paying attention to her and grew furiously jealous. He is said to have made all sorts of threats, until last Saturday evening the affair culminated.

Mulbarger was calling on Mrs. Long and her husband discovered him there. Immediately he pounced upon the man with a club and pounded his head frightfully. Mulbarger fled to a neighbor's house for safety and it is reported that Long fired after him with a revolver, but the shot did not take effect.

Mr. Mulbarger arrived at his home near Lemont next day, probably a sadder but wiser man.

THE DAUGHTERS TO MEET HERE.—At the recent conference of the Daughters of the American Revolution of Pennsylvania, in Harrisburg, the Daughters from Bellefonte chapter learned that it might be possible to have the next conference convene in this place. Immediately upon their return home they prepared a formal invitation and extended it with the result that word has just been received, though not officially, that the conference will come here next year, the time to be set by the local chapter. It will probably be in October.

The conference includes all of the Daughters in the State and there will be several hundred of them in attendance.

AN OLD MAID'S SOCIAL.—Twenty-one young ladies connected with the Buffalo Presbyterian church are going to hold an old maid's social in the hall of Benner grange, near Fillmore, on Thanksgiving evening. The young ladies are schooling themselves in the shy manners of the spinster and they want everyone to call and see them that evening.

The overcoats which Montgomery & Co. talk about in their new advertisement this week are something out of the ordinary. It has always been characteristic of the Montgomery stores that if you want just the latest wrinkle in good clothes, or furnishings, something just a little later than anybody else has, there is the place to get it. The overcoats they are showing this fall are wonders of the sartorial art and have to be seen to be appreciated.

Give Ed. Brown Jr. your order for best select oysters at 30 cents a quart and standard at 25 cents for Thanksgiving day. He will have a full line of vegetables, fruits, etc., for that day, so book your order at once and avoid disappointment.

LOST.—A carriage lantern on the road between Look Haven and Bellefonte. Suitable reward if returned to Baum's livery.
