

—Naval cadet Alfred T. Brisbin, who is the representative of this congressional district at the United States naval academy at Annapolis, has been chosen manager of the foot-ball team for next year, which is quite an honor for our young sailor.

—The entertainment that was to have been given by the primary department of the Methodist Sabbath school next week has been postponed until after Christmas on account of so many of the scholars having scarlet fever and tonsillitis.

—Prof. John Myer, principal of the High school, has been seriously ill at his apartments on High street. He spent Thanksgiving day with his parents at Centre Hall and upon his return he became suddenly ill with something like inflammation of the bowels. Sunday and Monday his condition was really alarming, but he is recovering nicely now.

Pine Grove Mention.

We are glad to note the recovery of Miss Annie Heberling from a long siege of fever. Don Cameron Stevenson is mourning the loss of his pet dog Fred, from a dose of strychnine.

Supervisor Meyers, of the west precinct has been busily engaged in getting the roads in shape for winter travel.

Charley Bottorf, one of Tusseyville's representative men and a good Democrat, spent Sunday with his cousin P. F. Bottorf.

The Aid society of the Lutheran church realized $53 from their excellent supper given Thanksgiving evening in L. O. O. F. hall.

William and Thomas Foster, both well kept and consequently good natured gentlemen, were at State College last week transacting business.

Invitations are out for the marriage of Miss Stella Geist and G. B. Isenberg, of Graysville. The marriage will take place next Thursday.

Mother Earth was completely covered up with a beautiful fall of snow on Tuesday. The night previous a heavy rain fell so that the streams and cisterns were well filled up for the winter.

Samuel Felty, Adam Bucher, J. W. Miller and Samuel Musser, of Altoona, were among the out of town friends who were here to attend the funerals of Mrs. Mary Bottorf and Willis Ripka.

Daniel Martz is home from a two weeks' stay in Chicago so much pleased with the hustle and hurry of the Windy city that he has a great mind to follow Horace Greely's advice and go west.

The Pine Hall sharp shooters returned from their camp near Beaver last week with a fair amount of venison. Israel Cori shot two, John Lytle and Messrs Williams and Flick each one, which was a very good record indeed.

Rev. Harry C. Love preached his farewell sermon to his Graysville congregation last Sunday morning. He is going to or near Morenci, Arizona, to engage in mission work. His field of labor will adjoin that of Rev. Ralph W. Illingworth.

John G. and Prof. S. C. Miller, wife and little son David are visiting at the parental home, just east of town. They are there for a two weeks' vacation and to enjoy the pleasures of butchering with its sausage grinding and "ponhoss" stirring.

Rev. C. T. Aikens has on hand 300 pounds of choice African coffee which he will retail at 14 cts per pound which is just half price or whole sale. The coffee is from one of the mission stations in Africa and the proceeds are applied to the work.

Walter Woods is spending a short vacation at his home on Main street. After the Christmas holidays he will enter a medical college in Philadelphia so that the traditions of the Woods family will be kept up and another M. D. will be numbered in the connection.

The public sale on the farm of the Foster boys at State College on Saturday was well attended and for a fall sale the bidding was quite spirited. The cattle were mostly of the Guernsey and Jersey strain and several cows brought $5 a head. Pigs were sold at fabulous prices.

Charley Smith, who has been W. H. McCracken's stand by farmer for several years, has gone to Tuckahoe valley to engage in stone quarrying. He moved last Tuesday and as he made the change with the hope that the ducks would roll in more rapidly than at farming we hope he will not be disappointed.

Habersburg.

Prof. Musser spent Thanksgiving with friends at State College.

Miss Agnes Crider was entertained at the home of Rev. Crow last Wednesday.

H. R. Decker, of Pittsboro, is visiting at the parental home after an absence of six months.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hartman, of Millheim, visited at the home of D. M. Whitman last week.

The members of the Reformed Sunday school last Sunday decided to hold a Christmas entertainment the evening of Dec. 25th.

The Odd Fellows banquet held in their hall Thanksgiving night was well attended and a grand success. An entertainment was held in the assembly room after which supper was served by the wives of the members.

Mr. Shuman Zimmerman passed through town on his way home from a week's hunt in the Alleghenies last Saturday evening with a deer, a bear and cub and any amount of pheasants and rabbits. This was an unusual sight and attracted quite a crowd.

The chicken and waffle supper held last Saturday night in the hall by the High school scholars was well attended. The proceeds amounted to twenty one dollars which is to be used to purchase an organ for the High school at this place.

The union Thanksgiving service was a very agreeable treat. Rev. H. I. Crow, of the Reformed church preached the sermon having as a basis of his remarks the words "Freely ye have received freely give." Rev. Foss read the Thanksgiving proclamation and Rev. Bright, who was visiting in town, also rendered assistance. The choir was composed of members of the Reformed and Evangelical churches.

Spring Mills.

George Mowery has disposed of his livery establishment to Wm. Ruhl, and will return to Lewistown, his former residence.

Thanksgiving day was celebrated here about as usual. Several large dinner parties were given—feasting and merriment was the general order of the day, and everybody seemed happy.

Henry Hoffmeister an old soldier and resident of our village, after an illness of several months died on Sunday last. Mr. Hoffmeister was from Germany with no relatives in this country.

Miss Lizzie Stoyer, the new milliner, displayed so much taste in her fall and winter selections of hats and caps that she has been obliged to duplicate her first orders. Business is quite lively at her bazar across the creek.

Edward Confer, son of Harvey Confer, of the Spring Mills Planing Mill Co., who met with quite a mishap while playing foot ball on the New Berlin College grounds ten days since, has about recovered, and returned to the college on Monday last.

Ambrose Gentzel is building the foundation for a large barn to be erected in the rear of his beautiful residence on the Avenue. Three or four more dwellings on this thoroughfare with a board walk the entire length of the street, and it will be unquestionably the Boulevard of our village.

On Tuesday evening last Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Long gave a very elegant entertainment at their residence—the occasion being the birthday anniversary of their twin daughters Mable and Eleanor. The spacious parlors were at the disposal of the little folks, and right royally did they exercise the privilege. Of course laughter and mirth ruled the hour. Supper was announced at 6 o'clock and the little folks were ushered into the dining room where their bright eyes fairly sparkled with delight at beholding a table exquisitely set, and lavishly supplied with a bewildering array of substantial and dainties, so inviting as to charm an epicure. Of course the little people did ample justice to the meal. After supper, until nine o'clock, the time was occupied with games, music and hilarity. The company then retired to their respective homes, previously expressing thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Long for their enjoyment and wishing Mabel and Eleanor many returns of the day.

Nittany Items.

Mrs. John Wilson, of Salona, dined with her friend Mrs. W. E. Shafer.

Wilson Ammerman has gone to Clearfield where he has employment for the winter.

James Gunsallus has returned from several weeks' hunting. One deer is the result.

Kate Robb and Alma Pletcher spent Thanksgiving with Orpha, the sister of the latter.

Miss Maggie Gweed, one of the most handsome blondes of the valley, is home visiting her parents.

N. C. Shafer has continued smithing with farming and is ready at all times to do repairing.

John Tolbert and his mother spent Thanksgiving at Howard, with William Rossman, the brother of the latter.

Geo. Pletcher, ticket agent at Lamar, also an artist of considerable talent, took advantage of Sunday's bright day and strolled to our famous city.

S. S. Pletcher, of Washington, spent a day with his brother. It seemed as though he had brought a sample of the weather along as the time was the stormiest of the season.

Rev. W. K. Diehl left the locality on Thanksgiving morning for his future charge at Middleburg. He has many warm friends about here but like all others they thought it best to change.

Joe McKibben, of Salona, luckily dropped in on us on Thanksgiving and aided us in sampling a choice game fowl. Joe has two sons, but they have gone from his household the oldest, H. A. McKibben, is located in the Philippines, while the younger, Clarence, is located at Juda, Wis.

Albert Shafer, supervisor of the western precinct, was here last week to assist supervisor Joe Emerick in constructing a new bridge across the stream, south of the depot. The crusher is running at full speed and crushed stone are spread on the main roads rapidly. Let the good work go on.

Books, Magazines, Etc.

MAXFIELD PARISH, who has made some of the most striking colored pictures in the December magazines, has gone to the Southwest for The Century to illustrate the series of articles on that country, written by Ray Stannard Baker, which The Century is about to print. This is Mr. Parish's first visit to the West.

The Saturday Evening Post, of Philadelphia, announces two new departments which will challenge the interest of young men and women throughout the country. "A Home College Course," as one of them is called, has been designed to meet the wants of ambitious young people who have not had the advantages of a university training.

"To the Young Men Beginning Business" is the second of these new departments. In it the most successful men in a dozen occupations will write about what helped them to the front in their own business, and give a list of books and magazines bearing upon it.

These new departments will begin early in January.
