Books, Magazines, Etc.

The Philadelphia Record never does things unless it does them well, and for this reason its Almanac has become a standard work wherever that paper circulates. The information it furnishes is reliable and covers a wide field of subjects. What is not found in its 160 pages of nicely printed matter is hardly worth looking for in other publications of the kind. It is sent free to all its subscribers.

THE FREE TRADE ALMANAC-IS a little publication of 48 pages, containing very much of interest to both advocates of Free Trade and Protection Tariff.. It can be had for 5 cents by address ing the Free Trade League, Boston, Mass

THE INQUIRER ALMANAC-An excellent annual for the busy man or woman, a valuable book of reference for office, counting house or home is the Philadelphia Inquirer Almanac for 1902. Becalendars and election returns, there is a complete directory of the Philadelphia government, Members of Congress, the State Legislature and Judiciary, the National government, a comprehensive record of sports, full chronology of the closing year, and much other information of interest to the general reader. The almanae as a been recorded during the past week by the whole is a very useful compilation, containing much in little space and that much selected and presented with good judgment. It is furnished free to Inquirer readers.

Tyrone Mining and Manufacturing Co., to Lydia A. Sunday. Oct 12th, 1901. 2 acres in Ferguson Twp. Consideration

"Mr. Dooley," the Irish sage, whose quaint humor in the discussion of current events has made hundreds of thousands laugh, and George Ade, "the funny fable man," who scores in ex-"Mr. Dooley," the Irish sage, whose quaint humor in the discussion of current events has pressive, up-to-date slang the follies and faults of your neighbor and sometimes your own self in an original and amusing way, are but two of the many exclusive features to be found in the Pittsburg Sunday Dispatch. Place your order to have it delivered regularly to you and don't miss the wealth of good features provided for you.

"Any American who wishes to understand what the Russians are doing in Manchuria, and to grasp the matter so firmly and understandingly that he can shut his eyes and see it all, must read a series of papers from the pen of Senator Beveridge, of Indiana, now appearing in the Saturday Evening Post, of Philadelphia Mr. Beveridge's first article in this series appeared on Nov. 16th. This energetic and brilliant young statesman who took his seat in the Senate two years ago with a remarkable knowledge of the Philippine situation based upon several months of travel and study on the ground, has now been spending the half year since Congress adjourned in revisiting the far East, going this time by way of Europe, and crossing Siberia and Manchuria under circumstances which gave him an intimate acquaintance with the newest aspects of the expansion movements of the Russian empire. Hardly any other man in public life has Mr. Beveridge's power of vivid statement."

If the old saying, "All the world loves a lover," is true, then the fiction in The Cosmopolitan for January, should be popular, indeed. All the stories vary in treatment, plot and action, from Frances Courtenay Baylor's charming story, "Cupid's Practical Joke," to Mantee Marken's strong domestic tradegy, "Her Father's Wife," but all have love for a central theme.
