

Mrs. Charles Miller.—Mrs. Charles Miller passed away at her home in Spring Mills, on Saturday evening, at the age of 75 years. Her death caused profound sorrow in that community, where she was universally beloved.

She had been a member of the Methodist church from childhood and though she had been a constant sufferer for years never a murmur of impatience escaped her.

Interment was made in the Spring Mills cemetery on Tuesday morning, Dr. Haven, Dr. Wolf and Rev. Fenstermacher officiating.

Surviving are her husband and the following children: A. E. Miller, Middleburg; M. N. Miller, Potters Mills; H. B. Miller and Mrs. C. C. Cummings, Spring Mills; Mrs. W. T. Stealy, Sunbury.

—James Lewis Sr., aged 57 years, 10 months and 9 days, died at his home on Centre street, in Phillipsburg, on Monday afternoon, after a short illness with typhoid pneumonia. While a native of Stark county, Ohio, he had been a resident of Pennsylvania for forty-nine years, having moved to Phillipsburg in 1892 to conduct a blacksmith shop at Chester Hill. He is survived by his widow and six children. The remains were taken to Newville, Pa., yesterday for interment, services having been conducted at his late home Wednesday afternoon, by Revs. Tomkinson and Clerc.

—Miss Cecelia Sanderson, who died at the old Sanderson home near Mill Hall, on Friday afternoon, was a sister of Mrs. George L. Potter, of this place. She was a woman of exceptional attainments and spread about her home an atmosphere of kindly hospitality that made it ideal. Funeral services were held on Sunday afternoon. Those who attended from here were Mr. and Mrs. George L. Potter, Miss Sara Potter, and Mrs. D. H. Hastings.

—Geo. C. Bron had just finished feeding the chickens in his lot at Loganton, on Friday morning, and started to return to the house, when he dropped dead. Heart disease was the cause. He was 75 years old last March and is survived by two sons and two daughters. Funeral services were held in the Lutheran church on Monday.

—William Fetters, aged 21 years, was locked up about 10:30 Monday night, charged with beating his father, Samuel Fetters, who lives in the "Brown row." He is in jail for court. Officers Rightnow and Miller made the arrest.

OLIN GLENN OF STATE COLLEGE WEDS AT GREENSBURG.—The friends of Olin Glenn, eldest son of Dr. W. S. Glenn, of State College, were quite surprised during the fore-part of the week to learn that he had been quietly married at Greensburg to Miss Margaret Keener, of Lock Haven, and later of State College. He was graduated from The Pennsylvania State College with the class of 1901 and since that time has been holding a responsible position with the Westinghouse Co.

The Swissvale Star of January 4th gives the following account of the wedding: Olin Glenn of State College, Pa., for some time past a resident of this place, and residing on Noble street, was quietly married to Miss Margaret Keener, of Lock Haven, Pa.

The wedding took place at Greensburg. Miss Keener came to Greensburg accompanied by Mrs. Glenn, mother of the groom, and Mr. Glenn left Friday morning for that place where he met his intended wife. They soon found the clergyman with whom previous arrangements had been made and the binding knot was tied. When Mr. Glenn left Swissvale he left all under the impression that he was going to his work at East Pittsburg, and when he did not come to supper at the usual time his friends thought he was working overtime. They were greatly surprised when he put in his appearance about 9:30 p. m. and introduced his bride.

Mr. Glenn was at his home in State College last election to cast his vote and made all arrangements for his wedding. Miss Keener is a popular young lady of Lock Haven, and has a host of friends in Williamsport and State College.

A FORMER BELLEFONTE BUYS A BUSINESS IN LEBANON.—John J. Powers, a son of the late John Powers, of this place, who resigned his position with F. P. Blair in September, 1896, and went to Williamsport to manage a shoe store, and later located in Lebanon, where he has been ever since, has just become part owner of the largest store in the latter city. In company with Raymond H. Miller he has purchased a store of which he has been manager for the past seven years and will continue in the business on a still larger scale.

Mr. Powers will be so well remembered by many of our people that we know there will be general expression of pleasure at this evidence of his success.

In commenting on the sale the Lebanon News has this to say: Few's shoe store, at 822 Cumberland street, has been purchased by John J. Powers and Raymond H. Miller, who will continue the business as the Comfort shoe store under the firm name of Powers & Miller.

The store was established seven years ago by Charles W. Few, cashier of the First national bank, and under the capable management of Mr. Powers, senior member of the new firm became a leading house. The transfer was made to-day and for a time the business will be continued in its present quarters, the entire stock being disposed of meanwhile.

A lease of the big store room in the Nutting building, on the southwest corner of Eighth and Cumberland streets, directly opposite the court house, has been secured and the store will be opened there with an entire new stock of the finest and latest makes in footwear.

For twelve years Mr. Powers has been continuously identified with the management of leading shoe stores here. Mr. Miller is a son of A. H. Miller, of the Miller organ company and for a number of years was employed in the business office. Both are young men, possessing marked business ability and begin business with bright prospects for success.

THE HON. D. M. WOLF, WHOSE GOLDEN JUBILEE IS SOON TO BE CELEBRATED—The first week in January of 1852 began in the Knoll school-house, then in Howard township, now in Curtin, the eventful educational work of D. M. Wolf. After teaching for seven winters, and after preparing himself for college at the Aaronsburg Academy under Prof. J. Ilgen Burrell, whom he also assisted, and after again teaching for two years at Jacksonville in the Fairview Seminary, re-opened by Rev. W. R. Yearick, he entered the Sophomore class in Franklin and Marshall college, where he graduated in 1863 with the highest honors of his class.

Having taught the Boalsburg Academy a year, he took a course in the Theological Seminary of the Reformed church, located at Mercersburg, Pa. With great success he taught in turn the Sellersville academy Bucks county; the Oley academy, Berks county; and the Penn Hall academy when he was chosen adjunct professor of mathematics and languages in Franklin and Marshall college. After two years, he resigned his position to become pastor of the Reformed church; but, after two years, he was recalled by the College to become professor of ancient languages.

His health failing, he resigned this arduous position in June of 1875; and, in the following July, he became principal of the Penn Hall and Spring Mills academy. Here he was teaching on the very day that he was unexpectedly chosen superintendent of public schools, of Centre county. This office he filled with great ability and success, and after nine years' service against the wishes of his many friends, he voluntarily retired.

After teaching one year in the Bellefonte High school, he again became principal of the Spring Mills academy, where he is still teaching.

Though he has taught public schools only about twenty-five years, yet his work as a teacher and an educator has covered a period of more than fifty years. It is a singular fact that even before he taught public school, that while he was preparing for college that while he was in college and seminary, and that while he served as pastor, he was all the while faithfully teaching private pupils.

About two-thirds of the present teachers of Centre county have been directly or indirectly under his instruction. It is surprising what a large proportion of his students are college graduates and are honoring eminent positions in their professions. His teaching has truly been an inward molding power, not only strengthening the intellect, but enlarging the heart and beautifying character. He has also taught in the Sunday school from his youth and for a number of years has been the superintendent of two schools. About ten years ago, F. & M. college honored him with the title of Doctor of Divinity.

His parental home has been near Hubsburg, but during his winter vacation of 1857, while attending school at Aaronsburg he paid a visit to the family of Mr. Jas. Evans, and adopted that home as his home.

May all students and friends of the Penn Hall and Spring Mills academy attend the first reunion to be held next summer, and celebrate the golden jubilee of Dr. D. M. Wolf.

Unpleasantly Strained Relations. PEKIN, Jan. 8.—While the actual casualties during the fighting at New Chwang between American sailors belonging to the United States gunboat Vicksburg, which is wintering there, and Russian soldiers attached to the garrison of that port are trifling up-to-date, the matter has resulted in unpleasantly strained relations between the American, Russian and British authorities there. The Washington and St. Petersburg governments are now endeavoring to arrange matters so that there may be no further friction.

Sober. W. W. Jamison is on the sick list. G. A. Zerby, of Spring Mills, was visiting at A. P. Zerby's last Friday.

Quite a number of people in this place are down with the measles. The Escherites are holding a protracted meeting at the Paradise church.

The stove mill at Zerby station is running on full time at present. On Friday evening, Jan. 3rd, the teachers of Penn township held their regular meeting at Coburn; discussing such questions as are of vital importance to the teachers in connection with which Mr. Reichly's school rendered some fine recitations and select readings.

Nittany. Mrs. Christopher and Mrs. Drake, of Columbia Co., relatives of H. P. Zerby's wife, spent a week with the latter.

Will Mauk and family spent Sunday with friends at Rote. Messrs. Miles & Bro., of Nebraska, are visiting their uncle Israel Yearick. The boys are jolly lads and are enjoying themselves in this locality.

Quite a number attended the farmer's institute last week and were glad to hear the home talent recite in such a creditable manner. The eloquent talent of Nittany valley acquitted themselves very creditably and as a citizen we hold them in high esteem.

In our last week's issue we stated that the creamery at Clintondale had changed owners. Such is not the case. Mr. Ohl retains his interest, but has hired as a salesman, and left for Harrisburg, the latter part of last week to take charge of his team and samples.

The young people of this locality met last Tuesday evening and organized a singing association. The following officers were elected: President, J. B. Minnick; secretary, Robert Harris; treasurer, Harry Baker; committee of order, Ed. Rossman, Charles Shafer, W. Sheats, Dan Korms and Dan Long; instructor, A. A. Pletcher.

Pine Grove Mention. Sadie Denny spent Sunday with her mother on Main street.

A young son is the latest addition to the home of Oscar Heckman.

Rev. C. T. Aikens, is out again after a slight attack of pleurisy.

Mrs. A. M. Brown is slowly recovering from an attack of the grip.

The union meeting held in the M. E. church this week was well attended.

Albert Houser, Dr. Houser's son, is quarantined at Baileyville on account of German measles.

Mrs. J. B. Buchwalter, of Lancaster, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. McWilliams, at Fairbrook.

William J. Meyers, of Alexandria, can consider our hat off for a splendidly embossed calendar for 1902.

D. I. Johnson purchased the Wm. Musser farm on the Branch, last week, from the executors, Aikens and Musser, for $5,500.

Miss Sadie Fry, who endured a severe operation in the Presbyterian hospital in Philadelphia some months ago, returned home last week well and hearty.

Mrs. Laura Krebs is out in Clearfield county administering to the wants of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Alfred Musser, who is just recovering from a severe operation.

Mrs. Margaret Meek and Mrs. Mary Jane Stewart, of Altoona, attended the funeral of Mrs. Keichline last Saturday. They will remain several weeks to visit relatives.

Morris Kimpfort is going to stop farming and is making arrangements to sell his stock at public sale in the spring. He will return to Pittsburg and Ed Glenn will move onto the farm the 1st of April.

Miss Anna Dale, of Lemont, accompanied by her mother passed through town Tuesday enroute to Hollidaysburg, to visit the family of H. A. McGirk. They will be gone ten days and will visit other relatives nearby.

Mrs. Mary Gates, wife of R. T. Gates, while walking towards Ward's store at Baileyville slipped on the ice and fell breaking her left arm below the elbow. Dr. Woods adjusted the break and the arm is mending nicely.

On last Wednesday L. D. Musser accompanied his wife to the German hospital in Philadelphia where she had an operation performed on Saturday. Mr. Musser returned home Monday and said that the operation had been a success but Mrs. Musser will not be able to get home for some time.

A festival is slated for the evening of the 22nd in the new I. O. O. F. hall. The sociable will be under the auspices of the order and a good time is promised to anyone who will attend. The refreshments will consist of oysters, ice creams, cake, coffee and all the good things usually served at a first class festival. You are cordially invited to attend and enjoy the sport.

Saturday was a gala day for the Lytles. It was a grand gathering at the home of Chas. Lytle on the Branch and it was the first time in twenty four years that the entire family had been together. A fatted gobbler weighing twenty four pounds had been killed and all the delicacies that the market afforded were prepared for the lavish feast which Mrs. Lytle and her mother, Caroline Houseman, know so well how to serve. The dinner was given in honor of the venerable Samuel Lytle, an old battle scarred hero who spent the day entertaining his grand children and relating war time stories.

Hubsburg. Miss Annie Wolf and mother are visiting friends at Gatesburg.

Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Kessinger spent Sunday with friends in Bellefonte.

Edward Correll, of Easton, spent a few days in our midst at the home of L. H. Yocum.

Miss Cora Whitman returned home after spending two weeks with friends in Millheim.

Mrs. Lew Swartz, of Easton, spent a few days in our midst visiting relatives and friends.

Mrs. George Greninger and Mrs. Will Callahan, of Flemington, spent Saturday and Sunday with friends in our burg.

Guy Rumberger and Paul Carner have gone back to Lewisburg to their school duties after spending their vacation at their home.

The Farmers' Institute was a decided success. The speakers being able and well educated men. The home talent was also well instructed and the music was finely rendered.
