THINGS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY

—Frank Graham is the new clerk at the Brockerhoff house.

—Leonard Messimer, of Penn Hall, has been granted a pension of $12 per month.

—We are sorry to learn that D. B. DeLong, of Romola, has been ill for some time and is unable to be about.

—The Rev. Arch-deacon Reginald S. Radcliffe spoke in the St. John's Episcopal church in this place Tuesday evening.

—Prof. C. D. Fehr, of State College, will sail for Germany on March 29th, to continue his study of the German language.

—The district convention of the Epworth League will be held at Phillipsburg on May 15th and 16th.

—Sunday was a great day for the Bellefonte liverymen. The sleighing was fine and every available turn-out was in use.

—Mrs. A. Katz, who has been confined to her apartments in the Bush house for the past ten days, with a severe cold, is much better.

—Charley Larimer has resigned his position as messenger for the Adams express company in this place and will accept a position in the Bell telephone service. Lawrence Hoover is to take Charley's old place.

—Charles Eckenroth, of Howard street, celebrated the 65th anniversary of his birth on Saturday and that evening about twenty-five of his friends gathered at his home to express their good wishes.

—Eighteen inches of snow fell at Wolf's Store last Friday, making the depth in the mountains thirty-four inches. It was so deep that the lumbering operations in that section had to be postponed.

—The admission price to the Marion Wilson costume impersonations at the court house has been reduced to 35cts. Those holding course tickets will have to pay 15cts extra, if they desire reserved seats.

—A valuable horse owned by George Beezer dropped dead in front of Col. Reeder's residence on Tuesday evening. It had just returned from a trip to Pine Glenn and to all appearances had not been sick.

—The first annual banquet of the Western Pennsylvania Alumni Association of The Pennsylvania State College will be held at the University club, in Pittsburg, on Thursday evening, March 6th. It will be quite an elaborate affair. Plates will be $3 each.

—Charles Burd, formerly of this place, has returned from Haysville, above Pittsburg, where his son was killed in a railroad accident ten days ago. The boy's body was practically buried to a crisp and the ashes were interred at Haysville. Mr. Burd expects to move to Pittsburg.

—The snow is going off very nicely. Tuesday's rain frightened the people along the streams but it stopped before the water had risen to a threatening height, and since then a gradual thaw has been in progress. There is little sleighing left anywhere in this section.

—The commissioners have appointed G. W. Spangler to be assessor of Potter township, vice W. W. Royer Dec'd. It is said of the latter that he was one of the most capable and conscientious officials ever in office in Potter township and we have no doubt that Mr. Spangler will make a worthy successor.

—Clearfield has her hands full of murder cases. There was another one on Sunday over along the West Branch railroad construction. One negro was killed, another one shot through the knee and a woman shot in the foot. All had been sharing in a Sunday riot.

—Harry and Fred Confer admitted before squire F. P. Musser in Millheim, on Monday, that they had broken into C. H. Pressler's house in Penn township and stolen a rifle and $1.80 in cash. Pressler claims that $200 are missing. The boys are 18 and 14 years old respectively and were bound over for court.

—Some of the students of the Pennsylvania State College are going to put on a minstrel show in the armory at that place on Saturday evening, March 8th. It includes all the good singers at the college, the Thespian orchestra and Earl Hewitt, who'll be anybody's fool Saturday night, provided they put up 35cts. to see the show.

—A log house in Pine Grove, owned by James McCool and occupied by Fred Gearhart, took fire from an overheated pipe on Wednesday evening and was totally destroyed. The occupants were able to save about all their furniture except some that was stored on the attic where the fire caught. The household effects were insured.

—The Co. B and Bellefonte Academy basketball teams will play in the armory of Co. B, Saturday evening at 8:30. The game is likely to be very interesting and will be the first of a series of indoor sports between these two athletic organizations. If you have never seen a game of basketball you will enjoy it. The sport is clean and lively and entirely free from brutality. Admission 25cts.

CHRIST MURRAY IS DEAD.—After a long illness with pulmonary troubles C. H. Murray passed away at the home of his father, J. D. Murray, the well known druggist, in Centre Hall, on Saturday morning at 5:30 o'clock.

His death is sad, especially so since it cuts down one who had given promise of a bright future and about whose life the hopeful expectations of a young wife and fond parents were centered.

His early life was spent in Centre Hall, where he received a preliminary education for Princeton. After he was graduated from the latter university he took up newspaper work in New York and later came to Bellefonte, where he read law with Beaver & Dale. Shortly after being admitted to practice he located in Philadelphia, later going to Reading. It was at the latter place that his condition became such as to compel his departing for another climate. He located at Colorado Springs, Col., where he practiced law for awhile then took up newspaper work again by becoming the editor of a weekly paper published at that resort.

His condition was not much improved, however, and last summer he came back to his home at Centre Hall, where he died.

Brief services were held there Sunday evening and on Monday his body was taken to Reading for burial.

REV. D. L. HUGHES, D. D.—Rev. Daniel L. Hughes, D. D., the widely known Presbyterian preacher and writer, died Thursday evening at Lake Charles, in Louisiana, where he had been spending the winter at the home of his daughter, Mrs. L. W. Kinney. Dr. Hughes was a brother of our townsman, Rev. James P. Hughes, and was personally acquainted with many of the older residents of this county. He was pastor of the Presbyterian church at Pennsylvania Furnace in the 40's and until 1870 efficiently taught and preached in this section of the State. At that time he felt called to engage in the Home Mission work in Iowa and there he worked inspiring until 1890, when his health broke down and he was obliged to retire from active service.

He was born at Cape May, N. J., Jan. 8th, 1820, and was the third son in a family of twelve children. Two of his brothers became ministers of the Presbyterian church and three of his sisters married Presbyterian preachers. His wife died in 1866, but he is survived by five children. Funeral services were held in Lake Charles and interment was made at Vinton, Iowa, where Mrs. Hughes is buried.

GRANT ARDERY.—The many friends of Grant Arderly, who was formerly a resident of this place, were shocked to learn of his death on Wednesday morning. It had occurred at his home in Jersey Shore to which place he moved from Bellefonte. He had been ill since the first of the month with typhoid fever, but was thought to be on a fair road to recovery until last Thursday, when he became worse and sank rapidly until death ensued.

Mr. Arderly was 35 years old and leaves a widow with their little four year old daughter Lila. Up to last October they had been residing in Bellefonte, where he was employed as engineer at the match factory, but he secured a better position on the N. Y. C. R. R. and moved away to Jersey Shore. His mother and the following brothers and sisters survive: E. E. Arderly, of Bellefonte; R. D. Arderly, of Martha; Mrs. Eva Apple, of Punxsutawney; Mrs. Lizzie Reed, of Clearfield, and Mrs. Alice Johnstonbaugh, of Martha.

The remains were taken to Martha Furnace last evening and interment will be made at his old home this morning. Rev. E. S. Lathaw, of the Methodist church, will officiate.

CHARLES BEATES.—Charles Herbert Beates died Friday afternoon at 3:50 p. m. at his home in Pine Glenn, aged 43 years, 3 months and 9 days. Typhoid fever fifteen months ago developed into lung trouble and despite the best medical skill that was called in to allay the disease it ran its course and lay its cold, icy hand upon its victim.

Herbert Beates was loved and respected by all who knew him, his deeds of kindness were many, and it was always his pleasure to make others happy. He is gone but his memory will remain.

He was a consistent member of the M. E. church and died with the firm conviction of having everlasting life. He leaves a wife and three boys, mother, brothers and sisters who will miss him. Funeral Sunday p. m. by Rev. T. S. Faus, of the M. E. church, assisted by Rev. S. V. Dye, of the Lutheran church. Interment at Moshannon.

HARVEY MEESE.—Harvey Meese, who has been ill with typhoid fever since the holidays passed away at his home at Lavertown on Sunday evening at 5 o'clock; the immediate cause of his death having been pneumonia that developed when he was about recovered from the fever.

Deceased was 57 years old and for some time had been a working member of the Pleasant Gap Methodist church. His wife and six children survive: Edward, Alice, Della, Katharine, Bertha, Margaret and Helen.

Services were held in Shiloh church Wednesday morning and interment was made at that place.

—Boyd, the four year old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Dyke, died at their home in Beaver row on Wednesday morning. Quinsy was the cause of his death. Funeral services will be conducted by Rev. Honok, of Milesburg, at the home this afternoon at 1 o'clock. Interment will be made in the Advent cemetery.

MRS. EMMA M. ROBERTS.—Mrs. Emma M. Roberts, sister of the Rev. James P. Hughes and who was well known here, where she resided for some years, died at the Clifton Springs sanitarium last week, after a long illness. Funeral services were held in Brooklyn and interment was made at Glen Cove by the side of her husband, who died two years ago.

Mrs. Roberts was a native of Cape May, N. J., where she was born sixty six years ago. In 1861 she was married to John S. Roberts, then a theological student at Princeton. After Mr. Roberts was ordained into the ministry Mr. and Mrs. Roberts went twice to China as missionaries and labored there until compelled to return home on account of Mr. Roberts' failing health. Mr. Roberts was for a time one of the instructors at the Bellefonte Academy and Mrs. Roberts had charge of the primary department there some few years ago. She was an intelligent, capable woman and during the long invalidism of her husband filled several positions of responsibility and worth. She had had a cancer removed and from the effects of it had been suffering for several years. She is survived by her two children John St. C., and Eva D.

W. W. ROYER.—W. W. Royer, one of Potter township's best known and most honorable gentlemen, died at his home at Centre Hill on Saturday. He had been in poor health for a long time.

Deceased was a man much esteemed in that community and wherever else he was known, for he had many sterling qualities that endeared him to all and made of him a very useful citizen. He was an earnest member of the Methodist church and his interment at Sprucetown, on Tuesday, was conducted by Rev. Haven of that denomination.

He was 60 years, 1 month and 27 days old and is survived by a widow with four daughters and one son.

In a public capacity Mr. Royer had served the people of Potter township in various ways, proving faithful to every trust and of especial service as assessor, an office which he filled to the satisfaction of all.

ROY WRIGHT DIES AT STATE.—Roy Walker Wright, a Freshman at the Pennsylvania State College, died at his boarding house at that institution Saturday morning at 7 o'clock. He had been ill with the measles since the preceding Sunday and was getting along nicely, but on Thursday evening, against the advice of his physician, he got out of bed and sat about his room for a while, with the result that he took cold and the rash went in, causing congestion of the lungs, from the effects of which he died.

Deceased was 24 years and 29 days old and was born at Pleasant Valley, Bedford county. His remains were taken to Johnstown Sunday afternoon, accompanied by six members of his class.

JONATHAN BURLEY, whom the Tyrone Herald speaks of as being one of that town's "earliest, most highly respected and best citizens" passed away at his home in that place on Monday evening. Heart trouble and dropsy was the cause of his death. He was 79 years old and could trace his ancestry back to Lord Burley, who was a prominent figure at the court of Queen Elizabeth of England.

—After an illness that had lasted for five months with kidney trouble Sup't. E. B. Westfall, of the P. & E. R. R. died at his home in Williamsport on Wednesday afternoon. He was quite prominent in railroad circles and so favorably known in Centre county that there will be many who will be genuinely sorry to hear of his death.

—A new Lutheran church is to be erected at Spring Mills.

—The ice on the river at Lock Haven on Monday was 27 1/2 inches thick.

—According to the Journal a dispatch from Washington states that the Phillipsburg post-office will not be moved at this time.

—The Tyrone Elks will charter a Pullman car in which to journey to Salt Lake City to attend the annual session of the B. P. O. E. in that city.

—Martin Dietrick, who was born in this county in 1837, suffered a stroke of paralysis at his home in Chest township, Cambria county, on Thursday morning.

—This evening the Marion Wilson impersonations will be made in the court house. Here is an entertainment worth seeing. You are not going to miss it, are you?

—Rev. Bruce Hughes, formerly in charge of the Methodist Pleasant Gap circuit, is the author of a book that has just been published under the title of "Nuggets of Gold."

—Rev. J. A. Dunlap, Ph. D., pastor of the Warriors-mark Lutheran church, has received and accepted a call from the Lutheran church at Loganton and Booneville in Sugar valley, Clinton county. He will take charge of his new appointment about the 1st of April next.

—Robert Wigham, of Phillipsburg, and well known here, has written from Gibraltar that he is well and in good spirits. He was on his way from New York to the Philippines. He is now a 1st Serg. Troop I 11 Cav. and says he has such unpleasant recollections of sea-sickness that he never will come back until they build a bridge over the pond.

A RECORD BREAKING RUN.—They are making a record breaking run at the Bellefonte furnace this month in the face of obstacles that would more than discourage the average furnaceman. There was so much danger of "scaffolding" a week ago and the furnace output was reduced so much that rather than worry with it longer at a time when every ounce of iron that could be run out was in demand Supt. Gephart ordered the furnace "blowed out." It was done and exactly four days later she was "blowed in" again and was running one hundred tons of iron daily.

It was so hot in the bosch of the furnace when the men got in to dig out the scaffold iron that they could remain there but five minutes at a time. When, on the fourth day, it had all been cleaned out and the dry wood raked in ready for relighting the fires, the heat was still so great as to ignite it and several of the men only escaped burning to death by scrambling out of the pipe holes at the side of the furnace.

With all these difficulties and the shortest month in the year to operate in they expect to turn out twenty-two hundred tons of iron at the furnace during February.

STRUCK BY A TRAIN.—Benjamin Handishell, who lives about one mile west of Curtin's Works, had a miraculous escape from death on Saturday afternoon. He was on the railroad track near the Milesburg station when the train that leaves here at 1:05 p. m. bore down upon him.

The old man seemed to be so much preoccupied that he did not hear it, the usual noise being deadened by the heavy snow. A car struck him and knocked him about ten feet out into a drift, where he was picked up and carried into the station. The train was held about ten minutes in order to take him home, but the old man refused to ride on it when he came to, saying he had his sled and would go home on it.

Though badly bruised no bones were broken. On Monday he was reported to be getting along nicely.

MEETING OF THE BELLEFONTE MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION.—The Bellefonte Ministerial Association met Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the parlor of the Y. M. C. A. building, with the following members present: Revs. Dr. Holloway and Dr. Shriner, Revs. G. M. Brown, W. H. Brown, A. M. Schmidt and T. J. Askew. Rev. Dr. Holloway presided.

After the reading of the minutes of the last meeting a brief general discussion of special charities was held.

The paper of the afternoon was read by the Rev. George I. Brown who took as his subject "Some thoughts about the future." The paper was an able one and was very kindly received and discussed by the members of the association.

After some routine business the association adjourned to meet next Monday afternoon, March 3rd, at 2 o'clock. The benediction was given by the Rev. W. H. Brown.

SECRETARY.

THE INDIAN CONCERT.—It was too bad that the weather and the condition of the streets in Bellefonte on Saturday night were such as they were, for under more favorable circumstances there certainly would have been a larger audience in the court house to hear the Seneca Indian quartet. It was here under the direction of Rev. Crittenden and while making no pretense of musical art, the Indians did sing their simple songs in a very pleasing fashion.

It is a well established fact that the Indian has very little music in him, but the four that Rev. Crittenden has gathered about him from the Complanter reservation up in Warren county are notable exceptions to the rule.

They sang here for the benefit of two chapels which Rev. Crittenden is endeavoring to erect near Keating.

—Former sheriff John P. Condo, of Millheim, made an assignment for the benefit of his creditors on Tuesday, naming former prothonotary W. P. Smith and W. H. Runkle Esq., as assignees. His assets are approximated at $11,000 with liabilities amounting to $9,000 or $10,000. Mr. Condo's embarrassment is supposed to have been brought about through branching out too extensively in various enterprises on a limited capital. He bought a farm, a property and store in Millheim and another store over at Wolf's Store—all within a short period and the load was more than he could carry. It is believed he will be able to pay dollar for dollar.

—Edward Woomer, of Bonalsburg, who had been one of the great crew of woodmen who have been working in the Seven mountains for some time, was in town on Monday making arrangements for the sale of his household effects which he has advertised to occur on March 22nd.

—D. H. Harter, a brother of editor T. H. Harter of the Gazette, who had been on a visit to Centre county relatives, started back to his home at Rittman, Ohio, on Wednesday. Paul Kramer and Charles Kesler, two Aaronsburg boys, accompanied him to the Buckeye State, where they will engage in farming.

—John G. Carson, of Buffalo Run, was in town on Monday on one of his semi-occasional visits. He is now farming the Gray farm at "Stony Point" and naturally enough feels a little proud of his having been made secretary of the Half moon township school board. We are sure he will make a good one.

—J. C. Bullock, of Milesburg, hid himself off to Washington on Wednesday night with models for a couple of patents tucked away under his coat and judging from the one he permitted the public to gaze upon we would not be surprised if he makes a lot of money out of them. The one is an adjustable porch spring, reclining chair, hammock and rolling chair all combined and it is really a wonderful bit of workmanship. So simple in its construction, durable and ornamental that it might well be called the handy-Andy of comforts. It is so constructed as to be readily changed, even by a child, from a porch swing to a hammock or to a rolling chair or a push cart.

News Purely Personal.

—E. P. Irvin, who has already tired of being a gentleman of leisure, though it is but a few weeks since he disposed of his hardware store, is going to Ashville, N. C., next week on a tour of investigation. He has always had a predilection for the South and is thinking seriously of helping the Vanderbilts make that charming health resort a paying commercial center.

—G. B. Markle, of Jenette, who is another of the Bellefonte boys who is growing prosperous in another section of the State, surprised his friends here by a short visit during the fore part of the week. He came east to spend a few days with his aged father who lives in a pretty little chateau, near Roopsburg. Mr. Markle has been gone from Bellefonte for eleven years but there are many scenes and many faces here he still holds dear.

A COMING CONCERT.—On Thursday evening, April 3rd, Mrs. Bonbright, organist at the Presbyterian church, expects to give an organ and piano recital that will introduce the best of Bellefonte talent, as well as several eminent musicians from a distance.

Mrs. Bonbright has promised something far beyond the ordinary and it is only doing her justice to say that she will more than fulfill her promise. We will publish a program and fuller particulars later.

CAN YOU HELP THEM.—The family of David Long, of Jacksonville, who has such a narrow escape from perishing in their burning home last week, are really in a desitute condition. Anything you can do to help them will be a God-send. Send any contribution of money or clothing, however small it will be thankfully received, to the postmaster or James Nolan at Walker.
