THINGS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY

The wall paper men and painters are very busy these days. A car load of horses was shipped from Coluru to Washington on Tuesday. B. A. Noll, the Zion merchant, is convalescent after an illness of several weeks. The sheds about Philip Walker's lime kiln at Salona were burned Thursday night. The Reformed church at Boalsburg is to be remodelled during the coming summer. Miss M. Snyder has gone to New York to attend retail openings. She will have a fine line of Easter hats. S. B. Shaffer has decided to go out of the hotel business at Old Fort and will move back to Madisonburg on April 1st. Won't some of you people who owe a little on your WATCHMAN kindly send a little in. It is needed quite badly just now. Lew McQuiston, of west High street, has about recovered from quite an attack of low fever and is able to get around slowly now. The Bellefonte Academy basketball team defeated the State College sub-Freshmen in the Army here last Thursday night. The score was 14 to 9. Mrs. David Barlett, of Thomas St., was so seriously ill during the fore part of the week that all the members of her family were called to her bedside. Calvin Storer won a fine umbrella at a bean guessing contest in Millheim recently by coming within one of guessing the exact number of beans, 1544, in a jar. There will be an entertainment at Ax Mann on Saturday night, March 22nd, that you will enjoy attending, as well as help along a good cause. Go to see it. Henry Brown, of this place, made a hit with the Rebersburg people, Monday night, by singing several bass solos at a musical given in that place by H. G. Krage. State's best basketball team will play the Co. B team in the armory at this place this evening. There is likely to be some sport and it will cost only 25cts to see it. By falling from the porch at her residence in Bush Addition, on Monday afternoon; Mrs. Joseph Steinkorner, who is 85 years old, sustained a fracture of her hip bone. Farm lands are reported to be very scarce in Penns and Brush valleys, as there is a regular exodus of young men to the west, where better wages and opportunities await them. John S. Walker, of the firm of McCalmont & Co. who has been able to be out on Wednesday and got up to look over the fine new rooms their store will occupy in the Arcade shortly. The court has appointed R. S. Sweetwood to be registration assessor of the western precinct of Potter township, vice W. W. Royer deceased. The appointment is a satisfactory one. Capt. Swartz left the Salvation Army barracks here on Tuesday morning to join the brigade at Lawrenceville. Lieut. Harshberger has been called to her home in DuBois on account of the serious illness of her sister. As no symptoms of small pox were developed by the suspect the quarantine has been raised from the Long home at Salona. Mrs. Long was thought to have been infected while on a recent visit to Harrisburg. The ladies of the Episcopal church announce that they will hold a rummage sale on Friday and Saturday, April 11th and 12th, in the vacant store room on Allegheny street, next door to Irvin's book store. The WATCHMAN has just forwarded $1.00 to the fund for the relief of the family of David Long, of Jacksonville. It was the contribution of Miss Eliza M. Thomas, of this place, and will be greatly appreciated by those poor folks who lost all they had in a fire recently. The moving pictures of the "Passion Play" and "Joan d'Arc" which were shown in St. John's Catholic church Wednesday evening, crowded that large edifice with spectators. Messrs Sam Hart and M. F. Hazel and Mrs. Farish sang during the progress of the entertainment. The annual meeting of the Sportsmen's League of Centre county was held in the court house here, on Monday evening, there being quite a large attendance. The officers elected for the new year are as follows: President, Dr. J. D. Geissinger; vice president, Kline Woodring; secretary, John J. Bower; financial secretary, L. H. Gettig; treasurer, John A. McGinley; directors, B. D. Tate, R. S. Brouse, C. M. Heisler; auditor, R. S. Brouse. On Tuesday of last week A. J. Lindsey, who operates the flour mill at Bald Eagle, was kicked by a horse so badly that both bones of his right leg below the knee were fractured and his left leg painfully out. A farmer named Dyer had driven to the mill from the Fowler farm and having a new set of harness on his horse he invited the miller out to see it. While both were admiring the harness the vicious animal kicked, with the above unfortunate results.

KILLED BY HIS BROTHER'S ENGINE.—A shocking accident occurred in the yards of the Valentine iron works Wednesday afternoon by which Mortimer O'Donoghue Miller, the 8 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. James Miller, met with such terrible injuries as to cause his death several hours later. The lad, in company with a number of companions from about the works, had been down to Morris Furey's sale and when they started home they discovered an engine on the Nittany valley railroad near Taylor bank and hurried across to get a ride home. Mortimer's older brother Robert was the engineer and his other brother Lew was the brakeman on the train, which was made up of a car of telephone poles and two cars of ore. Robert told the boys they could ride home on the train and was careful to see that they were all in places of safety before starting. The trip to the furnace yards was made without incident and the train had dropped down to the trestle below the Standard scale works for the purpose of weighing. When it came to a stand-still and before the shifting began Robert stopped the engine and put all the boys off. Little Mortimer, however, must have climbed back onto the first ore car ahead and concealed himself, for later when the engineer whistled for brakes the little fellow scrambled up over the ore to a brake, but just as he reached the end of the car his brother, not seeing him, put on the air and the train slacked so suddenly as to throw the boy on off between the cars. Robert looked up at that instant and realizing the awful danger brought his engine to a standstill, at once jumping out and running forward. He was horrified to find his own little brother lying on the rails. The front truck of the car had cut his left leg off. Even in this terrible condition he was trying to crawl out of further danger when Robert got to him. Soon afterwards he lapsed into unconsciousness and remained so until death came to relieve him, about nine o'clock Wednesday night. Intermment will be made in the cemetery at the furnace this afternoon at 2 o'clock. COL. JAMES T. STEWART.—The death of Col. James Thomas Stewart, one of Harris township's prominent citizens and popular men, which occurred at his home in Boalsburg on Friday morning, the 7th, was not unexpected for he had been seriously ill for days with pneumonia. Funeral services were held Monday at 10 o'clock at his late residence, with his pastor, Rev. Hepler, officiating, assisted by the Rev. Schuyler, of Centre Hall, and Revs. Lescher and Black, of Boalsburg. Intermment was made in the family plot in the Branch burying ground. Col. Stewart was the eldest son of Daniel Stewart and was born near Linden Hall, Dec. 9th, 1837. His boyhood days were spent on the farm and while yet in his teens he was engaged in school teaching in Clearfield and Centre counties. For a time he kept books at the old Monroe Furnace and when the call for troops was issued in 1861 he was one of the first to enlist in Cameron Infantry Co. H, 7th Regiment of the Pennsylvania Volunteers. At the expiration of his enlistment for three months he was discharged July 22nd, '61, and re-enlisted Aug. 31st in Company G, 49th Regt. in which he served honorably and with a splendid record for three years and ten months. On March 16th, 1862, he was commissioned second lieutenant of his company and on Nov. 16th of the same year he was promoted to the first lieutenantcy. On Dec. 12th, 1862, he was transferred to new Company G, and commissioned captain of the company on Feb. 25th, 1864. On Jan. 4th, 1865, he was detailed at sharpshooters' headquarters; April 6th, 1865, commissioned brevet major; June 1st, 1865, mustered as major; June 1st, 1865, detailed as inspector general; July 14th, 1865, commissioned lieutenant colonel; discharged July 15th, 1865. Colonel Stewart was wounded Nov. 7th, 1863, at Rappahannock Station and May 10th, 1863, at Spottsylvania Court House, Virginia. At the close of the war he engaged for some time in the mercantile business in Pittsburgh; afterward was in the west for some years; conducted the woolen mills at Houserville and then purchased a home at Boalsburg where he served as postmaster and conducted a store for many years. He was an elder in the Presbyterian church; one of the charter members of Gregg Post in Bellefonte, a member of the Loyal Legion No. 94 and a man who was universally respected and beloved by his acquaintances and neighbors. He is survived by his wife, who was Nancy Hunter, four sons William and David, of Pittsburgh; George and Reuben at home; one sister Priscilla Stuart, of Boalsburg; two brothers John W. Stuart, postmaster at State College, and Harry Stuart postmaster at Sandy Ridge and a great circle of friends, as the unusual attendance at his funeral testified. Memorable croup caused the death of Esther Laura, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Miller, at their home north of Bald Eagle on Friday morning. She was an interesting little girl of a year and four months and interment was made at Port Matilda on Sunday morning. Alfred Alem Smith, aged 65 years and 10 days, one of Tyone's early business men and a substantial citizen of that place, passed away at his home in that place on Tuesday morning, from the effects of pneumonia and exhaustion consequent thereto. Jacob D. Platt, aged 67, died at his home in Coburn on last Wednesday. He is survived by his widow and three sons, James and John at home and Joseph in the Philippines.

T. FRANK ADAMS IS DEAD.—An illness of several weeks with acute Bright's disease terminated in the death of former county commissioner T. Frank Adams, at his home on east High street, at a few minutes after 8 o'clock Tuesday morning. His condition had been practically hopeless for ten days before death came to relieve his suffering and while there is great sadness in the cutting down of a life in its prime, yet it seemed inevitable in this case and came in the nature of a blessed relief. Deceased was born in Bellefonte November 29th, 1855, and was a son of Thomas Adams. After growing to manhood he was engaged in various business and mercantile enterprises at Howard and Milesburg. It was while a resident of the latter place that he was elected commissioner of Centre Co., serving capably for two terms of three years each. He was active and prominent in local as well as county politics; having been constable of Boggs township for a period of ten years before his election to county office. Since the expiration of his tenure as commissioner, in 1896, he had been connected with the Owego bridge company, at which business he was becoming quite successful when he was stricken. In June, 1883, Mr. Adams was married to Miss Linn Campbell, of Milesburg, who survives him with their one child, Lee T. Shortly after his election as commissioner they moved to Bellefonte and have been residents of this place ever since. Other members of his own family who survive are Mrs. Frank Wagner, Charles, William and George, of Milesburg, and Richard, of Phillipsburg. He was a gentleman of unobtrusive manner, genial at all times and ready to lend his efforts for the public good whenever possible. From the early age of 15 years he had been identified with the Methodist church and was regular in his worship there. He was a member of Bald Eagle lodge No. 410, I. O. O. F. Dr. Wilford P. Shriver will officiate at the funeral this afternoon, services being conducted at the house at 2:30. Intermment will be made in the Union cemetery. DIED WHILE VISITING HIS AUNT.—Arthur Lee Bierly, a son of Hon. Willis R. Bierly, of Grand Forks, N. D., died at the home of his aunt, Mrs. W. H. Frank, in Rebersburg, last Friday, after a brief illness with measles. He was born at Williamsport, December 24th, 1878, and had been east learning to operate a linotype. Having mastered the machine in Brooklyn he came up to Centre county to visit relatives and while here fell a victim to measles. The case was very aggravated from the first and notwithstanding the most careful treatment he sank rapidly. His father and mother and several brothers survive him. Owing to the nature of the disease the funeral was private. Intermment was made in the Union cemetery in Rebersburg on Saturday. Mrs. Ellen F., wife of Harry Stiner, of Phillipsburg, died at their home in that place early Wednesday morning, after suffering several months with cancer of the liver. She was 55 years old, having been a native of Baltimore. Besides her husband three children survive her. They are: Mrs. Edith Bullock, of this place; Mrs. Grace Green, of Arcadia; John, Perry, Anna, Blain, Fred, Robert, Chester and Ellen. Three children preceded her to the grave. Intermment was made on Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Lydia Frank, widow of the late Emanuel Frank, of this county, died at the home of her sister, Mrs. Daniel Barner, near Carroll, in Sugar valley, on the 5th inst. Deceased was 69 years old and is survived by her daughter, Mrs. Lewis Trump, of Jersey Shore; William, of Rebersburg, and Henry, in the State of Washington. She was buried at Eastville Friday morning. Mrs. Hanna Dubs, aged 81 years, 10 months and 6 days, died at the home of her son-in-law, Noah Corman, in Rebersburg, on Thursday last week. She was the widow of Daniel Dubs and is survived by their one child, Mrs. Corman. Burial was made at Rebersburg Monday morning. Thomas Sanders, aged 69 years, died at his home in Howard township on Friday afternoon, death having been caused by a complication of troubles. He is survived by his widow, three sons and one daughter. Intermment was made in Schenck's cemetery Monday afternoon. On Tuesday Mrs. Elizabeth Strickland passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Clara McCullion, in Howard. She had reached the age of 81 years. Intermment was made in the Methodist cemetery at that place yesterday. An infant child of Gowan Lester died near the Bellefonte furnace Wednesday morning of cholera infantum and was buried yesterday morning in the Catholic cemetery. The county tax in Blair has been reduced from four to three mills. Dayman Jacob Barlet has purchased W. V. Larimer's home on Willowbank street and the latter will move into the house on Thomas street to be vacated by Mr. Elmer Davis. There are many rumors afloat concerning the old Valentine iron works, but none of them authentic. Just as soon as there is anything definite to be known concerning its future the WATCHMAN will give it to you.

THE COMING CONFERENCE AND SOME OF ITS TROUBLES.—The Central Pennsylvania Conference of the M. E. church, which convenes in this place on Wednesday, the 26th inst., promises to give those in attendance the full worth of the money it will cost them to get here. In fact it gives every evidence of proving one of the liveliest gatherings of the kind that has ever been held, and of furnishing to the christian and ecclesiastical world as much excitement and worriment as was experienced by the state ring and its satellites during the trial of Harris libel case. Bishop Walden, of Cincinnati, who is to preside over this Conference for the first time, will have his hands full deciding knotty parliamentary questions. Two or more of the leading lights of the Conference will have to face charges of a serious character, and as each has his friends some warm debating can be looked forward to. When the name of the Rev. Dr. Silas C. Swallow, of Harrisburg, the "Fighting Parson," former prohibition candidate for Governor and editor of the Pennsylvania Methodist, is called, the report of the ecclesiastical court, which recently found the doctor guilty of a charge of lying preferred against him by the Rev. Mr. Hartzell, pastor of Harrisburg Vine street Methodist church, will be presented to the Conference. Dr. Swallow does not intend to allow the Conference to endorse the finding of this minor court without a fight, and proposes to come back at his accusers with voluminous charges. His chief target will be the Rev. Dr. J. Wesley Hill, pastor of Grace Methodist church, the largest of that denomination in Harrisburg and chaplain of the State Senate by the grace of the Quay machine, who took a most prominent part in the action against the "Fighting Parson." Others who will be brought under the fire of Swallow's batteries are the Rev. E. H. Yocum, D. D., presiding elder of the Harrisburg district; the Rev. Mr. Hartzell, Swallow's accuser, and the Rev. M. L. H. Ganoe, of York, a member of the trial board in the Swallow case. Rumors have been prevalent for some time that Dr. Swallow was preparing to bring charges against Dr. Hill, and in answer to a question put to him lately as to the truth or falsity of the reports Dr. Swallow said: "It would not be proper for me to say anything for publication. It is a matter that belongs wholly to the church, and should not be tried through the newspapers. When assailed through the papers I have sometimes replied, but do not lead off in furnishing information." RAPID TRESTLE BUILDING.—The long trestle which carries the B. N. and L. railroad over Spring creek, just south of the P. R. station in this place, was carried off by the floods just two weeks ago. Since that time trains on the road have been stopping at the Reynolds Ave. crossing and it was the general opinion that they would continue to do so for some time. On Friday afternoon, however, Messrs Morgan and Winton, the boss bridge builders of the P. & E. arrived here with four men. They went to work on the trestle at once and Sunday morning the force was doubled; the result being that by noon on Monday trains were running over the trestle as usual. In other words a 200 ft trestle had been put in place over a deep stream, ties and rails laid, all in just a little over two working days. The trestle was swept clear off the piles that supported it and swung around at right angles to its original position: banging there by the iron rails. As soon as possible after the flood section boss Cherry and his men took off the rails and ties and had it as nearly ready for the bridge constructing crew as possible. When they came along they unbolted the heavy work, floated it back to position, set it up and had the trestle replaced in the surprisingly short time mentioned. Of course all the old structure was there, not a single new stick being necessary. The company expects to put a new bridge in there this summer. A FINE ENTERTAINMENT FOR AX MANN.—Just one month after their great success at Pleasant Gap the young people of that place are going to present their two clever productions "Why We Never Married" and "The Destrikt Skule" for the pleasure of the residents of Ax Mann and vicinity. The entertainment, interspersed with good musical numbers by soloists and the Pleasant Gap orchestra, pleased a crowded house at the Gap on the night of Feb. 22nd. It was so well received that the people of Ax Mann asked the young actors to visit their village and reproduce it. This they have kindly consented to do and on the night of March 22nd the entire entertainment will be given in the church at the latter place and the admission will be only 10 and 20 cts. The proceeds will be for the benefit of the Ax Mann church and you may rest assured of enjoying yourself, as well as helping a good cause if you go to see it. Remember the date, Saturday night, March 22nd. Among the star attractions at Mrs. Bonbrigh's song and organ recital in the Presbyterian church, on Thursday evening, April 3rd, will be Miss Alberta Gehman, the well known violinist and contralto of Philadelphia; Mr. George Ford, also of that city and whose rich bass voice has oftentimes been heard here with pleasure and Mrs. R. G. H. Hayes, of local fame and favoritism. The choruses of the evening will be sung by Mrs. Bonbrigh's choral class now nightly rehearsing the masterpieces of the great oratorios that have been selected for the recital.

News Purely Personal. Dr. W. U. Irvin, of Julian, was in town on Tuesday for a few hours. T. W. Kramer, of this place, visited his old home in Aaronsburg last week. Dr. John F. Alexander, of Centre Hall, was in town on Wednesday talking business and politics both. Miss Carrie Swartz, of Williamsport, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. George B. Klump, on High street. Mrs. Wistar Morris, of Overbrook, is in town visiting her sister, Mrs. Eliza Blanchard, of west Linn street. Mayor Edmund Blanchard went over to Sandy Ridge yesterday afternoon on professional business. Dr. Joseph M. Broeckerhoff returned from West Virginia Saturday evening having been down there on business for his estate. Miss Kipe, of Philadelphia, after spending the winter with her sister, Mrs. M. J. Locke, in this place, left for the city on Wednesday morning. Harry and Calvin Young, two Harris township boys, departed for Stephenson county, Ill., on Wednesday. They have secured positions there. Miss Sallie Baum returned to her home in this place on Tuesday morning after quite a long visit to relatives in various parts of Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky. Harry McKee, son of H. A. McKee, formerly of this place, who had been visiting H. Y. Stitzer's here for a few weeks left for his home at Williamsburg on Tuesday afternoon. Wm. B. Mingle Esq., Centre Hall financier, and Mrs. Mingle, who were in town on Friday, having tried the sleighing over the Mountain, which they found to be quite good. D. H. Holt, of Phillipsburg, who is resting on his ears a little this winter after his recent fine achievements in the business world, was in town Wednesday between trains. Arthur Valentine, of Crafton, was an arrival in town on Saturday morning and remained with his wife and child, who are visiting his relatives here, until Sunday evening. Harry Brew, of Pittsburgh, was in town yesterday looking so well that anyone could guess that his new home in the Smoky city is proving a pleasant one for all of the family. Edgar T. Burnside picked up his always ready grip yesterday afternoon and hurried away on one of those mysterious trips that nearly always result in a nice order for the Standard. Mr. and Mrs. Emil Joseph, with Edmund and Manny, and Harry Holtz, departed for New York on Friday, called thither by the serious illness of Mrs. Joseph's mother, Mrs. Gutman. W. H. Parks, who has something to do with making the Standard scale as good as they are, dropped in on Saturday evening and contrived a little to the Clearfield-east-flood-damage fund. Col. James F. Weaver, of Milesburg, was in town on Saturday attending to a little business in that easy going, and never ruffled manner of his that would be such a great boon to some people. Jerre Donovan, the Ax Mann junk dealer, Democrat and all-around substantial citizen, was in town on Tuesday and left one sheet of that big roll of Irish colored paper he has at the WATCHMAN office. John Q. Miles, of Martha Furnace, was in town on Monday and we just wondered why the women of his house let him escape on wash-day, when he would make such a good hand to turn the machine. H. A. Bengart, of Zion, was in town yesterday morning but hurried off home without tarrying any time at all. He was a little skeptical as to what the weather man intended doing and didn't care about getting wet. Mr. and Mrs. William Lander and Miss Lander, of Riddlesburg, Bedford county, spent Sunday in Bellefonte visiting their son and brother who is attending the Academy. Mr. Lander is superintendent of the big blast furnace at Riddlesburg. W. L. Duggett, proprietor of the Bush house, returned from a three week's trip through the northern part of the State on Saturday evening. He gained in weight while away and seems to be getting back to his old self about as fast as a mortal can do it. John Gilliland, of Homestead, was in town between trains yesterday on the way to visit his parents at State College. He has resigned a good position with the Carnegie company to go to Sparrow's Point, Md., to work under D. L. Glenn, his old foreman. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Erwin Borches, of Knoxville, who had been in town for several weeks visiting Col. and Mrs. W. F. Reeder, departed Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Borches went to New York to do some spring shopping, while Mr. Borches went down to Washington. Mrs. Emma Alexander and her little daughter, Huberta, were guests of Mrs. Alexander's father, Rev. J. P. Hughes, at the Academy on Monday night. They were on their way from Philadelphia to State College, where Mrs. Alexander has accepted a position. Col. T. B. Jamison, of Spring Mills, who is quite a stranger up here, was in town on Wednesday, having driven up to take Mrs. Thomas, of Milesburg, back to Penns-Valley for a visit. The Col. is so busy with insurance now-a-days that we suppose that is the reason he doesn't come to Bellefonte often. Mr. and Mrs. J. Fred Kurtz, of Lewisburg, spent Sunday at the home of the former's parents here. Fred is looking as though he enjoys "going up against" Benny Foelt's machine down in Union. In fact, the work must be both pleasant and profitable, that is, if appearances count for anything. Mr. and Mrs. Morris Loeb, of Punxsutawney, are guests at the home of Mrs. Loeb's mother, Mrs. Newman on High street. Mr. Loeb has been suffering all winter with nervous prostration and after visiting here for a time in hopes that a change will be beneficial they are going on to Philadelphia to consult a nerve specialist. George N. Brandon, who was over at Clearfield last evening assisting several musicians of wide reputation at an organ recital, will arrive in town to-day for a visit at the Meek home on High street. It was hoped that during his stay he would be able to give a recital on the new organ in the Methodist church here but while he is very much better than he was last spring his health does not yet justify any extra exertion. Former sheriff W. M. Cronister, of Martha Furnace, was in town on Saturday and we were surprised to find his hands badly blistered—not from work of course, but by an accident that was so peculiar as to be almost incredible. A few evenings ago at the Cronister home they had all retired but one of the boys, who was reading at the table in the sitting room. When he had finished he started off to bed without putting out the light. Later his sister went down stairs to do so and discovered her baby brother sound asleep on the couch, where he had evidently climbed by himself and been forgotten. She picked him up to carry him to bed and had scarcely done so when the entire couch seemed to be developed in flames. There was fire everywhere and the flames leaped up so high as to ignite the half-drawn window blinds. The reflection attracted the attention of neighbors, who hurried to the scene, but before they got there sheriff Cronister got down stairs himself and got the burning couch pushed out into the snow, even though it did burn his hands frightfully. Now the mystery is, where did the fire come from?

Mrs. A. E. Canfield and her children Caroline and Albert are here from Wyncote for a few days visit to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Keller, on east Linn street. They had been at Williamsport celebrating the birthday anniversary of Mr. Canfield's father. Mrs. Thomas Mallory, looking better than ever and pleasant and blithe as of yore, was a guest at the Speer home on Wednesday night. Yesterday morning she went to Pine Grove for a short visit at her father's, Major W. F. Fry's, and she will return to her home in Altoona to-day. Charley McLaughlin, who has been at home at Snow Shoe Intersection since before Christmas recuperating from a severe illness, was in town Friday passing a little time. He looks fairly good for an invalid and he is far more concerned about being absent from his post of duty at Winburne than he is about his health. THE BELLEFONTE CLUB RE-ORGANIZED.—At a meeting held in the office of Blanchard & Blanchard, on Monday evening, the old Bellefonte club that had been in a state of innocuous desuetude for several years, was re-organized under most favorable conditions. The officers elected were as follows: President, Dr. Geo. F. Harris; vice president, H. E. Fenlon; secretary, Edmund Blanchard; treasurer, John M. Shugert. A committee was appointed to have the club's property, which has been in storage for some time, repaired and fixed up for use. Also to select quarters and place the property therein at once. The sites under consideration are the rooms in the Arcade in which the club was organized, the old W. C. T. U. rooms in Allison's building, the fourth floor of Temple court and the house on Spring street now occupied by Dr. Sebring. One of Bezer's delivery horses frightened at a falling basket in front of their shop on the Diamond, Wednesday afternoon, and ran away. The buggy was hung up on the court house fence but the horse was uninjured. FARMER WANTED.—I want a married man; one who has had experience in dairying and general farm work. Should be at least two milkers in the family. Will pay good wages to the right people. A six room house, just built and plastered. Water in kitchen. When answering this advertisement state how much dairying and farming you have done and who it was for, and where. Give number in family, and ages, and give wages wanted by head of the family.
