THINGS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY

—Are you going to the concert next Thursday evening?

—The first tenants, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Gephart, moved into Petriken hall on Tuesday.

—The Yeager & Davis shoe windows in the Arcade are about as attractive just now as the shopper cares to look into.

—The law firm of Reeder & Quigley is to be dissolved on April 1st. Both gentlemen expect to continue in practice, but will do so individually.

—A fine new Doremus cancelling machine has been set up in the post office here. It will add to the already splendid service of the office.

—Irvin Gettig moved from the McQuiston house on High and Thomas streets, on Monday, to the old parental homestead at Pleasant Gap.

—Miss Emily Alexander, of Centre Hall, is taking the role of "Plaintiff" in the cantata "Trial by Jury" to be sung in Tyrone next week.

—Easter vacation at the Academy has begun and many of the students have scattered to their homes for a short rest before beginning the summer term.

—Boyd A. Musser has been appointed regimental commissary of the Fifth and R. C. Daley, of Koma, quartermaster sergeant by the new Col. Rufus Elder.

—McAlmont & Co. have about completed moving into their new quarters in the Arcade. It will become time, however, until they can get their immense stock adjusted.

—Herman Cruse, a former employe of the Bellefonte glass works, but now of Dunkirk, Ind., was married to Miss Jane Bryant at the Methodist parsonage in this place on Saturday evening.

—Sixteen students of the State College with Prof. C. L. Griffin as guide were in Johnstown on Tuesday and Wednesday investigating the different processes of steel making at the Cambria works.

—It is a good while ahead, but sometimes advance dates are important, therefore you should remember that on April 22nd the great Howe moving pictures will be shown here for the benefit of the Logans.

—The Undine Easter hall will be the first post-tent festivity and the boys are making preparation to have a big time. You should go, for two reasons: First, you will enjoy it. Second, they deserve your financial support.

—Robert V. Miller, of East High street, is still a little crippled from the effects of an accident he met with in the American pike quarry on Friday afternoon. A large stone rolled down from the opening, painfully bruising his foot.

—Dr. L. M. Collett, of Philadelphia, will deliver the baccalaureate sermon at The Pennsylvania State College in June and Charles M. Schwab, president of the United States Steel Corporation, will deliver the commencement oration.

—The Howe moving picture show has something new to offer every time it comes. On the night of April 22nd, when it will be here for the Logan benefit, the list of scenes will be entirely different from the ones seen here at the Gregg post benefit recently.

—The entertainment which the young people of Pleasant Gap gave in the Ax Mann church, on Saturday night, was a great success, financially, as well as artistically. About $29 were cleared for the church and the people of Ax Mann feel deeply grateful to their talented neighbors for having contributed so largely to their work.

—Dr. M. J. Locke has purchased the old Pifer property on north Allegheny St. It is now occupied by the Y. M. C. A. and at the expiration of the Association's lease, April 1st, 1903, he will probably begin remodeling it for office and residence purposes. While it is his intention to make radical changes in the interior the present front of the building will not be materially destroyed.

—And now Harry Gussanus, the latest acquisition to the WATCHMAN force, who is recognized in the pressroom as "the devil," is quarantined on account of scarlet fever. He is getting along nicely, however, and we are mighty glad that it wasn't small pox or the bubonic plague for when the head of the establishment was arrested for libel and the flood cleaned out or pressroom we were expecting a third calamity.

—For persons desiring to attend the Sabbath exercises of the M. E. Conference, the Bellefonte Central R. Co. will run a special train from points on their line, leaving Pine Grove Mills at 7:30 a. m., State College 8 a. m., Scottdale and Graydale 8:20 a. m., arriving at Bellefonte about 9:15 a. m. Returning leave Bellefonte after the evening exercises about 9:30 p. m. Single fare for round trip. No fare less than 25 cents.

—A small frame house owned by S. Peck, near the school house at Snydertown, was destroyed by fire between four and five o'clock Monday morning. It was occupied by Mrs. Sallie Lose and when first discovered the fire was located near the roof in the kitchen loft. The Lose's were able to save most of the furniture on the first floor. They had insurance, as well as Mr. Peck.

TWO NEW CASES OF SMALL POX AT REBERSBURG.—All of the original small pox cases in the home of Wm. Frank at Rebersburg are convalescent, but notwithstanding the strict quarantine that was belated in going into effect two new cases have developed in the home of William Shultz, a half-mile distant from the Frank home.

The Shultz children, a little boy and girl, who had been back and forth to Franks before the real nature of their disease was known, were taken sick and now have fully developed cases of small pox. On Sunday night the little boy was carried to the Frank home and on the following Tuesday night his little sister Tessie was taken over to the place which seems really turned into a pest house.

Mrs. Frank, Mr. Frank and Frank Reed have so far recovered from their attacks as to be able to be up and about, while the Hon. Willis Bierly, Minnie Shultz, Ernest Bierly and the little daughter of Harvey Bierly, of Sugar Valley, the other inmates of the Frank home, who had the disease are all doing well.

MILLHEIM HAS A CASE.—Edward Winters, the man who helped undertaker Samuel Campbell, of Millheim, lay-out Arthur L. Bierly, the young man who died with the first case in the Frank family, is down with the disease now.

With the undertaker he went over to Franks on March 7th and after helping to prepare the body for burial he returned to his home. Being suspicious of the case at the time he was vaccinated that night. The vaccination took very well and continued taking until Saturday morning when Winters took to his bed and Dr. Frank announced that he had a slight case of small pox, though it is thought his is more from the scare he had and the effect of the vaccination than anything else.

Mr. Winters is 36 years old and has a wife, but no children. Their home is strictly quarantined and a trained nurse was secured from Williamsport for him on Wednesday evening. The people in Millheim are taking every precaution to prevent a spread of the disease.

EAGLEVILLE HAS A SCARE.—Eagleville was considerably excited by the appearance there of persons exposed to small pox. Orrin Stover and wife returned this week from a lumber camp near Reynoldsville in which one of the workmen developed a bad case of small pox.

Mr. and Mrs. Stover had charge of the camp and were exposed to the case. Before the camp was quarantined they left and came to Eagleville, stopping at the Blanchard house, their former home, now occupied as a boarding house by Mrs. Linn, a widow. The facts in the case became known Thursday and the school directors of Liberty township, on authority from the health officers in Bellefonte, quarantined all in the Stover house to await developments. The children of those who had called at the house were hastily sent home from school. Those who were exposed there were very uneasy and much indignation was expressed because the facts were not made public immediately. A partial quarantine is being kept up, but there were no indications of an outbreak of the disease up to yesterday.

ZION FRIGHTENED.—For the past week the case of Charles Rookley, who had been at Pitcairn working and came to his home at Zion about two weeks ago, only to be laid low with sickness, has been exciting the people of that place. He was believed to have small pox, but Dr. Fisher, who is attending the case, strenuously denies the story. Report from there yesterday was to the effect that he is about well.

CONDUCTOR UNDERWOOD'S NARROW ESCAPE.—Conductor Zeph. Underwood, of the L. and T. freight 193, had a miraculous escape from very serious injury on Saturday evening, in fact it is almost a miracle that he escaped with his life.

The freight was bound for this place and was running in from Lemont ahead of the Lewisburg passenger. When about a mile north of Pleasant Gap the caboose left the rails and turned clear over on its side, being dragged quite a distance before the coupling broke. Conductor Underwood was the only one in it at the time and fortunately was near enough to the door to jump. He landed on the track, between the rails, and while badly shocked and bruised escaped without a broken bone.

He was brought to his home in this place where he is still confined to his bed, though his injuries are not serious. Flagman Jack Barnhart would probably have been on the wrecked caboose also, had he not been dropped at Dale's Summit to flag the passenger train that was following.

A MEASURING PARTY.—Next Tuesday night, April 1st, the junior auxiliary of St. John's Episcopal church will hold a novel entertainment in the old W. C. T. U. rooms next door to Sheffer's grocery on Allegheny street. It will continue from 7 until 9 o'clock and is best described in the following invitation:

A Measuring Party is given for you. 'Tis something novel, as well as quite new. Each invitation is sent with a sack. For use in sending or bringing back. Two cents for every foot you are tall. (Measure yourself against door or wall).

Refreshments, you will please bear in mind, will be of a superior kind. For chocolate, tea and home-made cake. We'll give you for your company's sake. And with a welcome very hearty. We'll greet you at our Measuring Party.

If you fail to get a formal invitation you will be welcome without one. A sack will be furnished at the room and your measure promptly taken.

John Zeigler, of Rebersburg, almost severed his thumb from his hand while cutting wood one day last week.

Oscar L. Runk, of Philipsburg, has been granted a pension of $17 per month.

The Undines will hold their annual Easter ball on Monday evening, March 31st. Tickets are only 50 cts. and it is up to you.

F. W. Crider bought the Irvin property on High street on Tuesday and expects to erect another business block on the site. The deal was effected by Blanchard & Blanchard.

Go to Miss McGill's public sale of household furniture, beds and bedding, on Saturday, March 29th. It will begin at 10 o'clock, a. m. at her boarding house opposite the Y. M. C. A. on north Allegheny street.

Bruce Homan was driving a colt into a school yard at Fiedler one day last week when it became frightened and a smash-up followed. The five children in the buggy with him were spilled out, but no one was hurt.

At a pupils' recital given in the concert hall of the Broad street conservatory of music, in Philadelphia, on Wednesday evening, Miss Eleanor Twitmore, who is so well known as a soprano in this her home town, sang the selection "Spring is Here" by Dick. There was a large and appreciative audience present and Miss Twitmore's song is reported to have been one of the most brilliant numbers on the program.

A crate of chickens that were consigned to butcher Lyon in this place on Tuesday bore the marks of some up-country wag, who, being mindful of the Methodist Conference in session here, wrote the following significant couplet on it:

Your end is near, the preachers are here, You, poor chickens, will fill their stomach with cheer.

A beautiful and instructive entertainment will be given in the Lutheran church by the Sunday school, April 13th, at 7:30 p. m. The main feature will be an exhibition of the "Twelve Crosses" with an explanation of the same. The service will be accompanied with special vocal and instrumental music. Admittance free. A silver offering will be taken for home purposes. You are cordially invited.

The preliminary oratorical for the Reynolds contest were held in the High school on Monday afternoon. Those who took part were Willis Wian, Carl Beck, Fred Chambers, Rose Fauble, Carrie Miller, Martha King, Jessie Eters, Guy McEntire, Elsie Rankin, Nettie Cook, Budd Woodring, Herbert Beck, Inez Robb, Laura Harrison, Lottie Robb, Fred Weaver, Lottie Christ, Guy Cox, Lulu Walter, Pearl Sticker and Adaline Woodring. The ten names mentioned first are the ones selected by the judges to contest for the Reynolds prize at the commencement June 4th.

Old No. 2, on the Bellefonte Central has been done over and now she steams into the station here looking as spick-and-span as fresh paint can make her. The public is a little curious about the size of the Fig. 2, that represents the engine's number on the tank. Judging from the size of the tank, it is not surprising that it will be necessary so that the masters of way stations can see what train is flying by and report it into the general office.

Claire Kessinger, an employe in the McAlmont quarries of the American Lime and Stone Co., met with an accident last Friday evening that nearly cost him his right hand. As it is he will probably escape with the loss of his little finger only. He was drying out a 15ft hole and when it was done he dropped a stick of dynamite into it. The stick did not go down properly, so he used the tamping rod to force it to the bottom. An explosion followed, blowing the rod clear through Kessinger's hand, which was so badly shattered that it was at first thought it would have to be amputated.

H. W. Gibson, general secretary of the Lancaster Y. M. C. A., talked on "The Boy Problem," in the Presbyterian chapel here, on Monday night, and quite a large number of interested persons were there to hear him. After a general treatise of the boy the meeting resolved itself into a conference of the whole and some very interesting questions were asked and discussed. Mr. Gibson's theory that a boy can be most easily reached and interested by studying him and working with him along boy lines is the one that has borne results to amount to anything. A boy will be a boy all the time and any effort to tie him to his mother's apron strings or make a premature saint out of him will only result in making him the less able to combat the sin that must eventually confront him as a young man.

Judging from the following paragraph in Rev. H. L. Jacobs' Our Report of recent date we imagine that some wolves must have gotten in among his flock: "We caution all the members of our congregation against the appeal of agents for books, machines, medicines, etc., who use our name for reference or recommendation of their goods. Unless they can show a written statement, duly signed by us, you will be justified in treating them as imposters. Be assured that we never furnish a list of members to any traveling agent. If they come mentioning First church, without a note from us, conclude that they have gotten your name and your relation to First church in an unfair way and be at once on your guard against entering any agreement of any kind."

HON. N. L. ATWOOD.—The Hon. Nathan L. Atwood, well known in political circles throughout the State, died in a hospital in Erie, on Monday, having failed to withstand the shock of an operation for an obstruction in the bowels. His remains were brought to Howard on Wednesday, where Revs. Bergen and Miller, of the Disciple church, officiated at the interment, which was made in the private burying ground of the Packers.

Mr. Atwood was the last of the family of Origin Atwood and was a brother of the late Mrs. John H. Orvis of this place. He was born near Ithaca, N. Y., about 81 years ago and most of his early life was spent at Salona with his parents. He was a brilliant man, but peculiar in the respect that with all his talents he could not confine himself to any particular vocation.

From the management and operation of a foundry, he became a lawyer, then a preacher in the Disciple church and in the later years of his life devoted much of his time to politics. He displayed signal ability in all of these widely diverging spheres but seemed more pleased with variety than in attaining the eminence that was within his grasp in any one of the undertakings he made.

Surviving him are his six children: John, of Oil City; Origin, of Bellefonte; Frank and Thomas, of Girard, and Alice and Jane, both of whom were at home with him.

AN OLD MINISTER GONE.—In the passing of Rev. Finley B. Riddle one of the oldest land marks of Methodism in this vicinity has been effaced. He died at his home in Bloomsburg on Monday morning, from the effects of a stroke of paralysis suffered about sixteen months previous.

Deceased was born at Howard, this county, in 1831, and was educated for the ministry at Dickinson college. He entered the Baltimore Conference in 1857 and when the Central Pennsylvania Conference was formed in 1869 he became a member of it. He was an able and useful minister, having filled such important charges as Shamokin, Berwick, Altoona, Danville, Huntingdon, Tyrone, Lewisburg, Renovo, Wrightsville and Bloomsburg.

For the past three years he had been retired from the ministry but was quite active in the care of several business undertakings that turned quite a profit for him.

Surviving him are his widow and three children. Interment will be made at Bloomsburg today. Dr. W. W. Evans, presiding elder of the Danville district, will officiate at the services.

Mrs. Anna F. Hess, wife of George D. Hess, of Beech Creek, died early yesterday morning after a lingering illness from a complication of diseases. She was aged about 57 years and is survived by her husband and three daughters; Misses Laura, Mary and Ella, and one son, George F. Hess. One brother, G. Thomas Furst, also survives. Mrs. Hess was a lady of fine Christian character, most highly respected and beloved by a large circle of friends. She was a faithful and consistent member of the Presbyterian church for many years, also a teacher of a class in the Sabbath school. The funeral services will be held at the home Saturday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, conducted by Rev. L. F. Brown. The remains will be taken to Easton, Pa., for interment Sunday, at noon.

MRS. SAMUEL STOVER.—Just when life promised most and seemed dearest Mrs. Samuel Stover, of Hublersburg, fell a victim to heart disease and slipped away to her eternal home almost before those about her could realize it. Her death occurred last Thursday morning. She was 24 years, 2 months and 20 days old and leaves a husband and little son to mourn a loss that is irreparable.

Interment was made on Sunday in the Reformed cemetery, with Rev. Crow officiating.

Mrs. DAVID VONADA.—Mrs. David Vonada died at her home at Hublersburg on Sunday after a lingering illness caused by the infirmities of age. She was 74 years and 4 months old and leaves a husband and one daughter to mourn her going.

Rev. Crow, of the Reformed church, conducted services over her remains on Tuesday morning and interment was made in the Reformed cemetery at Hublersburg.

Daniel Moore, aged 91 years, and a famous river pilot in the days when rafting was at its height on the West Branch, died at Karthaus a few days ago.

TWO GREAT MEETINGS.—A mass meeting for men only will be held in the court house, Sunday, March 30th, at 4 p. m. Addressed by Rev. J. W. Hill, D. D., of Harrisburg. Subject "Shadows!" A chorus of 25 male voices, supported by an orchestra will lead the singing. Solos by Prof. J. M. Black, of Williamsport. All men welcome.

At the same hour, Rev. Chas. Rhoads, D. D., of New York, will speak to boys over 11 years of age in the Y. M. C. A. building. Subject: "The Life of a Hero." He will illustrate the address by means of Crayon sketches, candles, and other unique objects, good singing. All boys over 11 years old can get tickets for this meeting by asking at the association office.

William Wilkins, formerly superintendent of the Bellefonte furnace, later in charge of the Craubery furnace at Johnson City, Tenn., has accepted the position of superintendent of the furnace department of the National tube works at Wheeling, W. Va. It is reported as being a decided advance for him.

News Purely Personal.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Cook are visiting friends in Williamsport.

Former prothonotary "Bill" Smith, of Millheim, was in town on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob DeHaas, of Howard, were shopping in town on Saturday.

Former sheriff D. W. Woodring was in Huntingdon on a little business trip the fore part of the week.

H. H. Benner and H. C. Baney came up from Atlantic City, on Tuesday morning, on a short business trip.

Mrs. Sue L. Fisher, of Milesburg, arrived home yesterday from a three months' visit at Winona, Minn.

Mrs. Maurice Yeager, with her two children, Fred and Margaret, is in Baltimore for a visit of two weeks with relatives.

Edward McGarvey, who is employed in the telephone business in Williamsport, spent Sunday with his mother in this place.

Wallace J. Kreiter, of Wolf's Store, was in town yesterday, but it wasn't Conference that brought him here. He came up on business.

Col. W. Fred Reynolds and G. Murray Andrews were travelers east on Tuesday. Both gentlemen had business calling them to Philadelphia.

Andrew Kniesly, of Shamokin, the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Hunter Kniesly, is spending a few days with his parents and other friends here.

Dr. and Mrs. Thomas R. Hayes, who are now en route from their usual winter stay in Santa Barbara, Cal., are expected home the last of next week.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Graham returned from their wedding trip, on Tuesday evening, and are now pleasantly located at the Teats home on east Bishop street.

Mr. and Mrs. Temp. Cruise, with that dear little Andrew of theirs came home from a visit of several days to Mrs. Cruise's parents in Millheim, on Tuesday.

Mrs. Earl C. Way, of Wilkinsburg, was in town Wednesday between trains on her way to spend Easter with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Meek, at Wadde's.

T. F. Weaver, of Ax Mann, was in town bright and early Tuesday morning looking for preachers, but in concluding that they were not as easy found as supposed to be.

H. E. Johnson, an electrician in the P. R. R. yard at Pittsburg, arrived in town on Friday for a visit of several days with his mother, Mrs. Mary Ann Johnson, of Linn street.

Will Barick, who has had a nice place in the big carbide works at Niagara Falls for some time, came home on Friday for a stay of two weeks at his father's home in Benner township.

Jay Woodcock, formerly of this place, is one of the young attendants at Conference in whom many Bellefonters have an especial interest. He will be given his first appointment here.

Mr. and Mrs. James A. Ott, of east High street, are entertaining Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brown, who are tarrying here for a few days' visit while moving from Millheim to Mill Hall.

L. C. Irvin returned from Ashville, N. C., on Friday evening. He had accompanied his brother, E. P. Irvin, to that place, the latter's intention being to look up a business location.

T. C. Bell, who has been in Pittsburg for several weeks working at his trade was here to spend Sunday with Mrs. Bell. When he returns to the Smoky city she will go with him to spend several months.

J. W. Raymond, of Houserville, one of the best known and most successful farmers in that section was in town on Saturday attending to a little business and getting prepared for the rush of spring work.

Gen. Taylor, of Lewistown, was a Bellefonte visitor on Monday. He was here looking after some real estate interests he has in Ferguson township. The General is a past commander of the G. A. R. of Pennsylvania.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Achenbach, of Glen's Falls, N. Y., were arrivals in town on Friday and were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Daggett until the next day. Neither one of them seems to have changed a particle since leaving Bellefonte.

Ed. Wasson was down from Patton Twp. on Wednesday and says that the State agriculturists are all wrong in saying that this is the year for the 17 year locusts. According to his figures they are not due in this county for four years yet.

Mrs. W. F. Cohick, who left this place with her husband some time ago for Texas, has returned with her children to Youngdale, Clinton county, where she expects to spend the summer with her parents. Mr. Cohick will remain in Texas.

Miss Sophia S. Rockey, of Hublersburg, was in town on Wednesday doing a little spring shopping. She is quite a stranger in Bellefonte at any time, but her visits have been very rare recently owing to the fact that she has been ill with the grip most of the winter.

Miss Gertrude Crawford, of Coleville, almost grown to be a young lady, was a pleasant caller at the WATCHMAN office on Monday. She is so busy with her household duties and music lessons that she doesn't find time to get to town as often as she did when more of a child.

Joseph D. Rhoads, of Tacony, whose frequent promotions in the service of the Pennsylvania railroad company have finally resulted in his being supervisor of one of the most important divisions in all that great system, spent Monday in town with his mother and brother.

Gibson Packer, who was formerly a well known resident of this county, but who is now located at Burrows, in McKean county, was in town on Friday; looking as rugged and healthy as men who have spent most of their lives in the open air are wont to do. "Gib" is a great woodsman and he looks it.

Edward Woomey, who has been so well known as a blacksmith at Boalsburg, bade farewell to old Centre county friends and scenes yesterday and started for Savannah, Ohio, where he will make his home in the future. We commend him to the good people of that place as being a very useful acquisition to any community.

Hon. James Schofield spent Sunday in Altoona, having gone there to visit his brother William, whose health is very seriously impaired as a result of wounds he received in the war and general broken down system. Mr. Schofield is a resident of Birmingham, but was in Altoona visiting a son when the collapse came.

AT IT AGAIN.—We are informed that, as at the Milesburg convention last year, Missioner Crittenden is again using his influence for the presence of the women at the county Sunday school convention to be held in Millheim the 8th of April. He has informed the women that the delegates in attendance, taking little or no exercise, need only a plain lunch for dinner and no sumptuous fare for the mid-day meal.

The women kept at home like Martha in the Gospel "numbered about much serving" lose the benefit of the meetings, while the delegates, overmuch discomfited by a big dinner, gain nothing except a brief temporary gratification.

Mr. Crittenden claims that all the physicians accord with him in his hygienic directions.

WHO AND WHERE THEY WILL PREACH.—The following are the arrangements for services in churches in town, on the coming Sunday, where the pulpits will be filled by the visiting Methodist ministers, both morning and evening:

Presbyterian Church: 10:30 a. m., Rev. Geo. Edward Reed, S. T. D., LL. D. 7:30 p. m., Anniversary Conference Epworth League.

Lutheran Church: 10:30 a. m., Rev. William Moses, 7:30 p. m., Rev. B. H. Moser, A. M.

Reformed Church: 10:30 a. m., Rev. M. L. Ganoe, D. D. 7:30 p. m., Rev. E. H. Whitman.

U. B. Church: 10:30 a. m., Rev. Chas. Roads, D. D. 7:30 p. m., Rev. J. R. Dunkerly.

Evangelical Church: 10:30 a. m., Rev. T. S. Faus, 7:30 p. m., Rev. F. W. Biddle.

Rev. Chas. Roads, D. D., will address a Boy's meeting in the Y. M. C. A., at 4 o'clock.

The board of directors of the Bellefonte Academy, through Gen. James A. Beaver, Ellis L. Orvis, J. W. Gephart, John M. Shugert and John Blanchard, a committee, have just passed lengthy resolutions accepting the resignation of Rev. James P. Hughes as principal of the Academy and making him principal emeritus. Rev. Hughes' long and faithful service in educational work here has merited all the splendid eulogiums voiced in the resolutions and his retirement with the famous old institution on the high tide of usefulness is especially auspicious. Prof. James R. Hughes has been chosen his successor, thus insuring to the Academy a continuation of that earnest and scholarly gentleman's service.

The Holy Communion will be administered in the Lutheran church on Easter Sunday morning and evening. At both services members will be received into the church by confirmation and certificate. Two members of the M. E. Conference will fill the pulpit.

Rev. J. C. Mumma, who once preached to Lutheran charges about Rebersburg, died at his home at Union Deposit, Pa., recently.

FARMER WANTED.—I want a married man; one who has had experience in dairying and general farm work. Should be at least two milkers in the family. Will pay good wages to the right people. A six room house, just built and plastered. Water in kitchen.

When answering this advertisement state how much dairying and farming you have done and who it was for, and where. Give number in family, and ages, and give wages wanted by head of the family. Those who can not cite first class references as to their truthfulness and honesty need not apply. J. P. WATTS, 11-31. Kermoor, Pa.
