THINGS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY

$15 Reward.

The Sportsmen's League of Centre County will pay $15.00 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of any violator of the game and fish laws of this Commonwealth.

The onion snow has fallen. A large silk mill is looking for a location and wants to come to Bellefonte.

Carter's "Fast Mail" comes to Garman's Tuesday night, April 5th. Arbutus is already spreading its delicate perfume through the mountain ravines.

Mrs. Jonathan Auman is so ill at her home near Rebersburg that she is not expected to recover.

Irvin Gray, of Stormstown, is to train "Richard A.," the fast pacing horse owned by N. W. Fredericks, of Lock Haven.

Bert Bathurst, who is a fireman at the Buffalo-run kiln, broke his right leg while loading a car of lime on Tuesday morning.

A car loaded with lime from this place caught fire and had to be unloaded at Mill Hall last Thursday. It was considerably damaged.

Next week the members of the Merchants' Exchange of Buffalo, N. Y., will stop in Bellefonte for a brief visit, while touring central and northern Pennsylvania.

George Brown, who farms the old Mitchell homestead near Lemont, was attempting to shoe a horse a few days ago, when the animal kicked and broke his left leg.

The Sunday school of St. John's Episcopal church contributed $51.00 to missions during the Lenten period. The amount is nearly $30 in excess of last year's offerings.

The unsettled weather of the fore part of the week undoubtedly gave the timid little onion set, which many gardeners had already set out, a very decided setback.

The Undine Easter ball in the armory on Monday night was a very pleasant affair. Dancing was continued until quite late and as both the floor and music were good the young folks enjoyed the first after Lent social very much.

The Bellefonte athletic club basketball team defeated a team of Lock Haven players in the Armory here on Wednesday evening. It was an exciting game throughout and resulted in a victory for Bellefonte by the score of 26 to 22.

Herman Trause, the Mackeyville patient who has been living with a broken back for many months, has begun to suffer severely. Up to a few days ago he did not suffer at all; merely being rendered helpless by the breaking of his spine.

The rabbit laid a lot of nice Easter eggs for the WATCHMAN. There was a whole batch of letters came in this week and scores of subscribers sent Easter remembrances. The prevailing color was green, too, which made them all the better.

The county Sunday school convention to be held at Centre Hall, on Tuesday, April 8th, will have three sessions, morning, afternoon and evening. Mrs. J. W. Barnes, the great junior worker, and other prominent Sunday school authorities, will be in attendance.

The Presbyterian Sabbath school will give "Nature's Hallelujah"—a very beautiful Easter service, on next Sunday evening, April 6th, at 7:30 in the Presbyterian church. A choir of sixty voices and an orchestra of twelve pieces will lead the music. Everybody is cordially invited to attend.

Andrew Zerby, aged about 81 years, passed away at his home at Sober, Penn township, on Sunday morning. He is survived by his widow and two children, Francis, of Green Grove, and Nina, living near Bellefonte. Interment was made at the Cross church in George's valley on Wednesday.

Rev. R. Crittenden has been confined to his room in Crider's Exchange for a week. He overworked himself and a slight cold found him a helpless victim for a week or more. He expects to be around today and we sincerely hope his expectations will be realized.

Lincon J. Carter's "Fast Mail" company, which will appear at Garman's next Tuesday night has played all through the United States for the past seven years. This season it has new scenery and mechanical effects that surpass all previous efforts. The present season Mr. Carter has companies in this country and in England.

Picking up the wrong bottle Rev. Samuel Creighton, of Mackeyville, took a large amount of poison on Saturday evening. He thought he was getting a remedy for tooth-ache, but when the pain was not eased as usual he went to investigate and found that he had his mouth full of deadly poison. Fortunately he had not swallowed any of it.

THE VALENTINE IRON WORKS TO RESUME.—It is now certain that within a very few weeks, the heavens will again be lighted by the lurid glare of molten metal belching from the old Valentine furnace, wheels will start revolving again and that great industrial heart will throb with an activity never before known in its history.

Since the old charcoal furnace passed out of existence that valuable property has had an eventful history. Capitalized once at $650,000, and paying dividends, it has gone through various stages of prosperity and depression, making and wasting fortunes, until it was finally bought at sheriff's sale by the Commonwealth Trust Co. of Harrisburg for the sum of $88,000. The old Valentine charcoal furnace brought and amassed wealth in this community for nearly a century, but the modern blast giant that reared its towering stacks and ovens on the same site dissipated much of it; whether by mismanagement or conditions which no one could control is not a question for discussion here.

The history of the Valentine iron works, the Centre Iron Co. and the Empire Steel and Iron Co. operations are alike unimportant at this time, when the new Nittany furnace demands attention.

For several weeks, in fact ever since the property was abandoned, by the Empire people, there have been rumors of a sale. Various interests have been investigating it, but legal questions involving titles, rights, etc. have been so complex as to balk most of them. Not until the recent sheriff's sale, when the Commonwealth Trust Co. bought it for the bond holders, has everything been cleared up satisfactorily.

Again we see the man who has been doing more than any other within the past decade for Bellefonte, J. Wesley Gephart, president of the Bellefonte Furnace Co. and superintendent of the C. R. R. of Pa., at work. Though modestly disclaiming any credit for the new enterprise he directed attention of capitalists to the idle plant here and his experts were called upon to examine the property for report.

It was upon their report that it was bought and on Wednesday last week the conditions were agreed upon—all except the matter of personal property about the works, which is claimed by the American Bonding and Trust Co. of Baltimore, the corporation that once bought the property with the hope of saving something for Robert Valentine.

And Wednesday of this week the final papers were signed and work commenced on repairs at once. That same evening, L. T. Munson, who will probably be the manager, went hurrying off to Pittsburgh to contract for the supply of coke and master mechanic Joe Wise was instructed to put a gang of twenty-five men to work cleaning up at once. They are at it now.

The purchase money stipulated in the contract is $90,000. The new company will be known as The Nittany Iron Company. It will be incorporated and will have offices in Bellefonte and New York. The company is in no way connected with the Bellefonte Furnace Co. or the C. R. R. of Pa. though several of its individual members are interested in those two properties.

The plans for operation are already formulated. It will cost possibly $25,000 to put it in working condition. The brick for relining the stack have been ordered and the work will be pushed to an early completion. A new roof will be put on the casting house and the lines of the furnace changed to push its output far above the hundred-ton mark as possible.

Mr. Gephart is in New York now in consultation with others in interest. Before going he stated that the new furnace will probably not be run with the same regularity that the Bellefonte furnace is operated. It will not enjoy the same economic ore and lime stone resources, consequently will be kept in condition at all times to run only on good markets. This is not discouraging, in the least, for Mr. Gephart sees three years of activity ahead for the iron business and it is largely on account of this assurance that he has become so interested in this enterprise.

The rumor that all of the ore fields in Nittany valley will be worked by the new company is not correct. In the first place a number of them are so much exhausted that it would not pay to install expensive machinery for the little bit of ore that could be secured and, in the second, the new company will have an unlimited supply from other sources. Nigh and Taylor banks will be worked until they are cleaned up, then the machinery will be moved from them to other places until all of the Nittany fields are worked clear out. Their output isn't entering into the calculation but as they become the property of the new corporation it is its intention to exhaust them gradually, and effectually.

Mr. Gephart did not care to make public the personnel of the new corporation. It is known, however, that he and F. H. Clemson are two of the parties in interest. In the organization of a working force therefore it is only natural to conclude that Mr. Gephart will be the superintendent while Mr. Clemson will add the supervision of the Nittany fields to his already extensive duties as superintendent of mines in the Scotia region. A charter is to be asked for on April 25th, the applicants being J. W. Gephart, F. H. Clemson, L. T. Munson, Archer Brown and William Sampson.

In this connection it will be a matter of great interest to know that it will not be the intention of the new corporation to dislodge or trammel the work of the Standard Scale & Supply Co. Ltd. which occupies part of the yards at the furnace.

About seven rafts have reached Lock Haven on the present flood.

See Lyon & Co's nobby new clothing and shoes for men, women and children.

W. H. Myers has quit the butchering business in Millheim and bought out M. C. Spigelmyer's livery.

The Clearfield opera house is to be remodeled at a cost of $10,000. W. F. Wise has the contract for the improvements.

McQuiston & Co. are offering a lot of second hand buggies and wagons cheap. Call at their shops on Thomas street and see them.

A strike of the employees of the Lock Haven paper mill occurred last week but was fixed up on Saturday, when employer and employees got together in an amicable meeting.

It will be well for the thrifty housewife to bear in mind that Gottlieb Haag has cabbage plants in good, strong condition already. You can get them from him when you fix up your garden.

Hyde Bros. & Co., Pittsburg promoters, have decided to locate a steel and iron mill in Clearfield. It will employ about seven hundred men. Fire brick, coal and shipping facilities of Clearfield secured the industry.

Charles Heslin, awaiting sentence in the Lock Haven jail for assault and battery, walked out of that place on Friday night and has not been heard of since. That old building seems to have grown very leaky of late.

Sim the Clothier has decided to place his advertising money in different hands. He is going to give it back to his customers, instead of to the printers. He intends giving away a $300 piano, scarf and stool free to his customers. And the recipient of this gift will be very fortunate as the piano is one of the best sold in Bellefonte.

The people of Penns valley and of the surrounding towns are informed that Miss Sara E. and Winifred Wieland will open a millinery in Frank Wieland's store building at Linden Hall the second week in April. All are cordially invited. Miss Sara E. Wieland has been in Philadelphia since the beginning of January attending an art school with the view of adding to her heretofore artistic ability in the line of constructing a "Love of a Hat."

Larger water mains are being laid in Rebersburg.

Alfred Oliver Myers and Miss Theresa Naomi Dillon were married at the home of the bride's mother at Julian on Tuesday of last week. Rev. Lathaw of the Methodist church performed the ceremony. There were only a few of their most intimate friends present, but the event was none the less happy on account of its quietness. Both of the young people are well known about their homes and popular. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter B. Myers, of Martha.

A complete freight train of fourteen cars, illuminated caboose and practical working engine, a scene showing Niagara Falls, by moonlight, with real mist, as viewed from the suspension bridge; the flight of the fast mail, which crosses the stage at the rate of forty miles an hour, and a realistic steamboat race and explosion on the Mississippi, are among the most novel scenic and mechanical effects shown in Lincoln J. Carter's scenic production, "The Fast Mail," which appears at Garman's, Tuesday evening, April 5th.

Mrs. Catharine Berry, wife of John Berry, of Loganton, died on Monday evening, after an illness of several months. She was 75 years old and interment was made yesterday afternoon.

Andrew G. Heckman, who died at his home near Seville, Ohio, on Wednesday of last week, was born in Gregg township, this county, June 12th, 1827. He moved to Ohio in 1852 and had resided there ever since. One son and two daughters survive him.

Ida May Lewis, aged 21 years and 7 months, died at the home of her parents, east of Bald Eagle, Saturday evening from the effects of typhoid pneumonia. She was a member of the Hickory Bottom Methodist church. Interment was made on Monday at Bald Eagle.

The remains of Mrs. Margaret Flynn were brought here for burial on Monday afternoon. She was a native of Bellefonte, but died at the home of her daughter in Hazleton on Friday night; old age being the cause. She was the widow of the late Michael Flynn.

Pearl, the dear little daughter of Joseph and Annie Myers, died at her home at Ax Mann, on Monday, from pneumonia superinduced by an attack of whooping cough. She was a bright little girl of two years. Interment was made at Boalsburg on Wednesday, Rev. Black officiating.

After being ill most of the winter with consumption Edward Armstrong passed away at his home at Lemont on Tuesday; leaving a widow and two children to mourn his death. He was a well known young man of that community and had hosts of friends whose sorrow is expressed in many kindly words of sympathy for the bereaved family. Deceased was a member of the Methodist church and only 35 years and 5 months old. Interment will be made at the "Branch" tomorrow, Saturday morning, at ten o'clock.

A BIG INDUSTRY CAN BE SECURED.—Bellefonte has an opportunity to secure another big industry. One that will guarantee to employ from 350 to 400 men and women wants to locate in Bellefonte and has made a proposition that is fairer than any ever presented to this town by prospective business enterprises. Lovett & Co., the big silk manufacturers, are looking for a location for another mill. For several years they have wanted to establish a plant here, but have never been able to sufficiently interest Bellefonte. Now the proposition is so fair that it is demanding attention.

They propose to establish a plant that will employ from 350 to 400 persons, mostly women. To do this they will need a building and several acres of ground, but ask for no bonus or gratuity. What they do want is $25,000 of home capital invested in the buildings and grounds, all of which amount to be refunded in interest bearing bonds secured by a first mortgage on the property.

If that isn't a fair proposition no one can name one. The Lovett people do not ask for a cent as a gift and they do not want a penny of local money tied up in their property that is not secured in the best possible way. All they do want is merely the investment of enough money by the Bellefonte people to insure local interest in their enterprise.

Many will say "a silk mill is no good; it employs too many women," but the person who goes to the bottom of business conditions, carefully and without prejudice, will see the many empty houses there would have been in Bellefonte, the idle grocer's shelves, despondent butchers, depressed shoe dealers, unfrequented notions and millinery stores had the army of girls employed by The Penna. Match Co. not been active here during the past few years.

True, girls do not earn as much as men but it all helps and the WATCHMAN is of the opinion that this silk mill enterprise is a matter worth taking up, especially since it requires no bonus. In Lock Haven they look upon their large silk mill as a very desirable industry. Let us have one in Bellefonte.

ANOTHER IMPORTANT BUSINESS CHANGE.—Another important change was effected in business circles in this place last Friday, when W. R. Jenkins, so long senior partner of the firm of Jenkins & Lingle, founders and machinists, withdrew; leaving J. Howard Lingle as sole owner of that long established business.

The works that Mr. Lingle has come into sole possession of have been doing so much of late as to make them more important than ever in the industrial interests of this community. They have had and era of great prosperity during a few years just past and Mr. Lingle will throw every energy into pushing it still further. He has succeeded to ownership of all of the firm's valuable patents, among them that for the celebrated Jenkins' power hammer.

Mr. Jenkins' retirement from the firm was necessitated by the increasing demand on his time at the Howard iron works.

THE SMALL POX APPARENTLY UNDER CONTROL.—Inquiry at Rebersburg, Millheim and Zion last evening elicited the information that the small pox is not spreading in those communities and has been confined to the places where it was first discovered. The rigid quarantine observed has had much to do with preventing a spread of the disease.

The Rebersburg cases are all convalescent. Everyone in the infected Frank home is able to be up and about but the Hou. Willis R. Bierly, who was last to contract the disease and was so run down by waiting on the others that when he did get it the case was a bad one. He is getting along encouragingly.

Edward Winters, of Millheim, who was undertaker Campbell's assistant at the funeral of the first small pox victim, is also improving. In fact his case never was real bad and editor Hosterman, of the Millheim Journal, thinks that the effect of his own vaccination is far more horrible than Mr. Winters' case of small pox, though he hasn't offered a trade as yet.

The case of Charles Rockey still intrigues the people about Zion. He is getting well about as fast as possible, but no one seems to know whether he has small pox or something else.

A correspondent at Eagleville writes us that the report that there are several cases of small pox at that place is a mistake. He says: "There is no small pox in this place. Neither have Mr. and Mrs. Stover been exposed to the disease as has been reported in this place. It is a shame for people to report and publish such falsehoods, when it injures innocent people as has been the case with Mrs. Linn and the Stover family. Mrs. Linn keeps the Blanchard house and such reports injure her trade."

LUTHERAN CHURCH.—Easter services in the Lutheran church were very impressive and beautiful. The Rev. William Moses, of Harrisburg, preached a fine sermon in the morning. The church was handsomely decorated. The music was of a high order. The church was crowded with a deeply interested audience. The pastor, Dr. Holloway, received eighteen members into the church by confirmation and letter. This congregation has much to encourage it. There will be more additions shortly. The communion was continued in the evening. The church was again filled. The Rev. Dr. Lippincott, of Philadelphia, preached a fine sermon.

News Purely Personal.

Mrs. Fleck Weir, of Altoona, is visiting at the Schofield home on Thomas street.

Mrs. Anna C. Woodcock, of Soranton, is a guest at the Meek home on High street.

Mrs. and Mrs. Robert H. Fay, of Altoona, were in town for the German on Wednesday evening.

Bishop and Mrs. J. M. Walden, who had been guests at the Hastings home, departed yesterday afternoon.

Jerome Harper, Maurine Jackson and Miss Lulu Smith went to Tyrone Monday evening to attend a dance in that place.

C. M. Muffy, of Howard, was a Bellefonte visitor on Saturday. Mr. Muffy is looking around for a good business location.

Mrs. Wister Morris, of Overbrook, and Miss Elizabeth Blanchard, of Philadelphia, who had been visiting relatives in town for a few days, departed yesterday.

W. H. Smith, of Unionville, was in town on Monday looking around among the ministers and settling up some business that needed his attention before April 1st.

Manager L. T. Munson of the Bellefonte Furnace Co., left for Pittsburgh Wednesday evening to make contracts for the coke supply for the new Nittany furnace that is to be started soon.

William Showers dropped in again Wednesday morning and shot his label along a few pegs more. He will soon be so far ahead that we will have no chance of ever catching up to him again.

J. L. Tressler, of Linden Hall, was a Bellefonte visitor on Wednesday. He farms his father's farm at that place and is one of the "hale fellows, well met" who has worked his way well up along "easy street."

Our old friend Isaac Tressler, of Oak Hall, was in town on Monday tending to a little business and getting his affairs all straight for another year. Mr. Tressler is a remarkable man in that he never seems to grow a day older.

J. A. Reeser, of Centre Hall, was among the great crowd of strangers in town attending conference on Sunday. He drove over especially to hear Dr. Hill's address "Shadowed" and, like everyone else, was wonderfully impressed with it.

Martin Hogan, as square a little block of the "old sod" as ever wore the green, was in town on Monday and we were very sorry to learn that he has never fully recovered from the injuries he received by being thrown from a load of fodder last fall.

E. K. Smith, of Oak Hall, was in town on Wednesday. He has completed his winter school term and expects to begin selling insurance at once. He represents a good company and being a good fellow, himself, he ought to make a success of it.

L. S. Frain, of Abdera, spent Tuesday in town acquainting his friends with his decision to run for county commissioner. Mr. Frain is one of the best known farmers in the county and has been before the people in political contests on several occasions.

Dressed up in fine clothes and looking like anything else than a boss quarryman we almost mistook Michael Hayes for a Methodist preacher on Saturday. The weather was too bad for working in their quarries, so he came into town and spent the afternoon looking at the crowds.

J. P. Odenkirk, of Centre Hall, was in town on Wednesday on his way to Warrensburg, Mo. He had tried old Centre again for a few years, but decided that the south-west is bigger and better, so bade farewell to his friends here and started back to take up the business he left there when he came East.

Editor Wilbur F. Harris, of the Republic, and his brother H. P. Harris were both in Harrisburg to attend the funeral of Paul Hench, of that city. He was the only brother of Miss Lillie Coyne Hench and her many friends in Bellefonte are indeed pained to learn of the great sorrow that has come into their home.

Samuel Brugger, of Unionville, was in town on Friday and rather resented a rumor that was about to the effect that he was contemplating moving away from that place. Mr. Brugger says he likes it entirely too well up there and proposes spending the rest of his days right in the fine old home he has occupied so long.

Dr. and Mrs. William A. Stevens, who were guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Meese during conference, returned to their home in Carlisle yesterday afternoon. They had expected to stay with their friends here until Saturday but Mrs. Stevens was sick and they hurried home, much to the regret of their old parishioners here.

James A. Keller, of Centre Hall, was in town Monday making preparations for an extended visit in North Carolina and Cuba. He went south Wednesday and after seeing the exposition at Charleston will spend some time with his son who lives in North Carolina. Before returning home he will visit Florida and Cuba.

Among the prominent lady who were in town over Sabbath attending conference were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Murray, of Clearfield; George G. Hutchinson, of Warriors-mark; Geo. Hipple, of Lock Haven; Mr. Weber, his daughter Miss Mary and W. L. Woodcock, of Altoona; Dr. Carver, of Roaring Springs, and H. D. Striver, of Hanover.

William Close, of Oak Hall, is the proud possessor of several relics that are really valuable. Mr. Close is a grand-daughter of Gen. Philip Benner, of revolutionary fame, and the relics are a legacy from him. There is a corner clock, and open-faced gold watch, an old writing chair and a collection of rare coins. Though the watch cases are worn through and the clock many years old both are in good running order.

Rev. and Mrs. Scott departed for their new home at Frankfort Springs, Beaver Co., Tuesday. During the years that Rev. Scott has had charge of the Presbyterian churches at Buffalo Run, Jacksonville, Unionville and Port Matilda he has accomplished a good work and both he and Mrs. Scott leave many friends in this community whose richest blessings will follow them to their new field of labor. He could not stand the exposure necessary to cover his widely separated charges here and was subject to rheumatism as a result of it.

Al. Myerly was down from up in Half-moon township on Saturday and we want to tell you right here that that is news. For Al isn't a fellow who comes to town often and it wouldn't have been here this time had it not been that Frank Clemson has purchased the farm he has been running for some years for Mr. Shoemaker and Al has to move. Where he will go is as much of a puzzle to him as it could possibly be to you, but Al has been connected with the Collins people so long that their successor, Tom Shoemaker, will find a nice place for him, and he deserves it.

Barber I. A. Beck has moved into his new quarters on the northeast corner of the Diamond, where all of his old patrons will find him. Though the moving period of inconvenience will be rather longer than usual with the well known old barber the change will be so grand in the matter of improvements that the temporary crudeness of his shop will be more than repaid in the splendid quarters he will have when they are finally fixed up. Remember, that Beck is still in business and you will be served just as faithfully as ever in his new location, just across from the First national bank and you will fully agree with him when the changes are completed—that he has a veritable palace to invite you into.

On Saturday, April 5th, Sim the Clothier will have a person in his window playing on the piano that he intends giving free to his customers. He has displayed good judgment in selecting a Hobart M. Cable piano, for it is stated that this is one of the best pianos sold to-day.

This evening at 8 o'clock there will be a meeting of the Sportsmen's League of Centre county. It will be held in the arbitration room in the court house and it is important that there be a good turn out.

Nittany Items.

Elwood Winkleman and sister Minnie spent a few days visiting across the mountains.

Mrs. Thomas Shope and two of her bright children, of Milesburg, visited her mother Mrs. Tate last week.

W. E. Shafer and family last Wednesday left for Millifinburg, where they expect to make their future home.

James Hayes and daughter Rilla, of Clintondale, joined the throng for Bellefonte to witness the doings of Conference.

Mrs. Bert Weber has been seriously ill with pneumonia. At present indications are in favor of improvement.

Geo. Ohl, of Clintondale, who has been employed as a traveling salesman for the last month, has been very successful in his new venture.

John Mayes, of Lamar, has gone to Elk county, where he has been spending his summers for ten years past, at good wages in the lumber regions.

The carpenter work of the new store is being rapidly completed by Mr. Miller and Scott Stover, of Rebersburg. The latter is a good mechanic and a jolly good fellow.

John Tolbert has gone to Windburn, where he has secured employment as a clerk in a grocery. John has always proven himself to be honest and obliging, which are requisites of a good clerk.

S. J. Alexander, of Ventura, Cal., visited his cousin Mrs. Henry Snavely, last Sunday. He comes from southern California, from the midst of flowers and a land where winter does not exist.

Squire Peck clerked the sale of Sally Lose, at Snyderstown, last Saturday. The Squire had purchased the property shortly before the building burned, hence is interested in looking after his financial claim.

Rev. Young, a highly educated minister of Indiana, preached a trial sermon in Snydertown Lutheran church last Sunday. The house was filled to hear and see the new minister who was loaded with odd hand sermons and delivered them eloquently.

FARMER WANTED.—I want a married man; one who has had experience in dairying and general farm work. Should be at least two milkers in the family. Will pay good wages, to the right people. A six room house, just built and plastered. Water in kitchen.

When answering this advertisement state how much dairying and farming you have done and who it was for, and where. Give number in family, and ages, and give wages wanted by head of the family. Those who can not give first class references as to their truthfulness and honesty need not apply. J. P. WATTS, Kermoor, Pa.

Summer Millinery Opening. Thursday and Friday April 10th and 11th are the days we have set for our summer opening and our display will be the most complete ever shown in Bellefonte. Just call and look before you decide on buying. MRS. E. J. YEAGER, Cor. Bishop & Allegheny Sts., Bellefonte.

Sale Register. April 17.—At Lew Bullock's carriage works in Milesburg 100 carriages, buggies, wagons, wagonettes, surreys and hacks. A great sale. Sale at 10 o'clock a. m. Jos. L. Neff, Auctioneer.
