—The "Feast of Days." —Remember that you dare not buy trout.

—They want to clear $500 at Petriken hall next week, so be sure to be there.

—Eva Archey is the new night operator in the United telephone exchange in this place.

—Mrs. Henry Walkey is seriously ill at her home on Logan street with stomach trouble.

—Remember that you dare not take trout under six inches in length from the streams.

—Three nights of popular prices at Garman's—Thursday, Friday and Saturday of next week.

—Jeweler Frank Galbraith is confined to his home on east Bishop street, threatened with pneumonia.

—James Holmes is building a new iron front building adjoining his business block at State College.

—Miss Sara Oliver is quite ill with pneumonia at the home of Dr. T. C. Van Tries, on Spring street.

—Popular prices will prevail at Garman's next week, when the Conroy, Mack and El wards players are there.

—Ben Shafer has moved his family to Huntington, where he is employed as master tinner at the reformatory.

—The engagement of William S. Furst Esq., of Philadelphia, to Miss Marie Shantz, of Williamsport, has been announced.

—Miss Snyder's millinery opening is being continued today and you will miss something interesting if you don't go around.

—Dr. J. Wesley Hill, of Harrisburg, has consented to deliver his lecture on McKinley, in Bellefonte, at a time to be fixed in the near future.

—The rummage sale conducted by the ladies of the Episcopal church opened yesterday afternoon. It is being held in the vacant room in the Reynolds bank building.

—While chopping wood on Thursday Harvey Gieringer, an assistant in Frank Sausserman's barber shop, struck a stick that broke and flew up into his eye, cutting it badly.

—Miss Lula Rine, of this place, who was teaching the Hecla park school, closed her term's work last Friday and made the day especially memorable for her scholars by having a candy treat.

—At the sheriff's sale yesterday morning George Doll bought the Brant house furniture and fixtures and will conduct that hotel in the future. Will Doll, his brother, at present head baker at Ceder's, expects to take charge of George's grocery store on south Allegheny street.

—Two boys were picked up here Monday evening by officer Miller. They were wanted for train jumping at Tyrone and on Tuesday morning a railroad officer from that place came after them. One gave his name as Karstetter from Centre Hall and the other one was a Port from Tyrone.

—Miss Millie Wagner, who for some years assisted her grandfather the late John Wagner transact many of his financial deals, and who is said to have a keener knowledge of the valuation of bonds, stocks, property and a business dealings than most of the men in town, is near death with consumption.

—Miss Laura Rumberger, who is attending the Broad St. Conservatory of Music in Philadelphia, sang Gounod's "King of Love" at the recital on Wednesday evening. It was said to have been the most successful of the many given this season and, of a certainty, Miss Rumberger's song contributed much to it.

—Robert, the little son of conductor Martin Reese, of the Snow Shoe passenger train, fell out of the loft of the Mountain house barn in Snow Shoe, on Friday afternoon, and fractured both of his arms above the wrist. Dr. R. G. H. Hayes was called from here to assist the resident physician in reducing the fractures.

—Jay R. Woodcock, who was admitted to the ministry by the last Conference, was to have filled Dr. Shriners' pulpit on Sunday, but the unexpected resignation of the janitor left the church unfit for services and none were held. Dr. Shiner is confined to the parsonage with influenza and a nervous break down.

—The Brant house, at the corner of Bishop and Allegheny streets, conducted by Maurice Yeager, was seized by the sheriff on Friday morning. The proprietor left town shortly afterwards and has not been heard from since. The property remaining in and about the hotel was not nearly sufficient to cover the amount of claims against it.

J. W. GEPHART ESQ. WELCOMED HOME.—In a very informal, though intensely enthusiastic, way Bellefonte turned out on Saturday evening to welcome home a man who has done more than any other, within recent years, to build up the business interests of this community.

It has been almost wholly due to the individual effort of J. Wesley Gephart that the Bellefonte furnace and the Scotia ore mines are in successful operation to-day, he was the promoter and builder of the Central R. R. of Pa. and his faith in Bellefonte's resources and energy in the direction of enlisting outside capital in their development have resulted in the purchase of the old Valentine iron works and all the ore rights of that pioneer industry in the Nittany valley. This means employment to a thousand or more men in Centre county and it was but a fitting expression of appreciation that vented itself in the demonstration on Saturday evening.

Mr. Gephart had been in New York carrying his big deal to consummation and when the word reached here that it had been successful there was a spontaneous outburst of gratitude that called for some public entertainment. A large banquet was first spoken of, but those who knew the man best knew that he was very much averse to any ostentatious display, in fact when a similar affair had been proposed on a former occasion he sat down on it most effectually. Many plans were suggested, but finally it was decided that a very informal little reception would be given him. Something, the very simplicity of which would prove its genuineness. Even this it was feared would prove distasteful to the modest gentleman of whom so little is heard and yet by whom so much is accomplished, but inasmuch as it was the act of friends and neighbors it was decided to go ahead on the assumption that no man could be offended by such an unfeigned compliment.

It was all arranged in less than half a day, consequently the crowd that thronged High street, when the train bearing the honored townsman drew into the station, would have more than pleased a Prince Henry. The band was playing, everybody was cheering and the lurid glare of red lights lit up the streets clear up to Mr. Gephart's home on east Linus street. Mayor Edmund Blanchard, representing the town, and Judge John G. Love, representing the Board of Trade, were at the station; having previously corralled L. T. Munson, one of the resident incorporators of the new Nittany Iron Co. They were not long in discovering Mr. Gephart, who was made to understand that there was no escape and he was conducted to a waiting carriage. Mayor Blanchard entered it with him and Judge Love escorted Mr. Munson to another carriage, both drawn by spanking teams of four. The band wheeled about and started up High street and the carriages followed. Though very short the parade had all the other requisites of a triumphal pageant. The streets were lined with cheering people all the way to the Gephart home. There the Mayor made a brief speech of welcome to Mr. Gephart and introduced Judge Love who spoke more at length on the significance of the event. Though very much fatigued by the work of the week Mr. Gephart replied in a happy vein, expressing his great sense of satisfaction at having given up the law for the more strenuous manufacturing business.

It was all over in less than an hour, yet it was one of the most sincere, and for that reason we say the most appreciative, expressions that the people of Bellefonte have ever given vent to. No man deserved it more than J. Wesley Gephart and there is every reason why he should be proud of the unaffected gratitude of his friends and neighbors, as shown on Saturday night.

A FEAST OF DAYS.—On Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of next week there will be a big fair and festival in Petriken hall, the proceeds of which will be used to purchase chairs for the auditorium. At appropriately decorated booths representing in each day in the week there will be offered for sale aprons, sweeping caps, bags of every description, kimonoes, fancy stocks and collars, candle shades, all the latest novelties in fancy work, household helps and a vast aggregation of candy, cake, pastry, bread and other edibles.

In connection with the sale a social good time is anticipated for first class entertainments have been arranged for the three evenings. The fair will open on Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock with a public reception to which you and all your friends are cordially invited. No admittance will be charged and the Coleville band will furnish music for the event. On Wednesday evening "Cranford" a three act play adapted from Mrs. Gaskell's famous story of that name, will be enacted by the following cast: Mrs. John Shugert, Misses Rebecca Blanchard, Emily, Louise and Ellen Valentine, Adaline Harris, Daisy Potter, Jane Furst, B. rtha Laurie, and John Blanchard.

An admission of twenty-five cents will be charged on Wednesday evening for Cranford as well as for the minstrels on Thursday evening. The latter will be in the form of a vaudeville performance with the Bellefonte minstrels the principal actors. "The Feast of Days" is the biggest affair of the kind that has been attempted here for several years and from present indications will be a great success.

—The Conroy, Edwards and Mack comedy company will open a three nights' engagement at Garman's next Thursday night, April 17th. "The Daughter of Cuba" will be the play presented at the initial performance and others will be announced later.

—Remember that you dare not sell trout. —Go to Petriken Hall next week and see the "Feast of Days."

—There was quite a flood on the river at Lock Haven on Wednesday. It reached the eight foot mark and rafts and logs were running in plenty. Bald Eagle was also very high but no particular damage was done.

—It has been a long time since Bellefonte has had a popular priced repertoire show. The Conroy, Mack and Edwards combination will be here next week and will open at Garman's with the stirring comedy "A Daughter of Cuba."

—Mrs. Elsie Chambers, formerly of this place, was married to J. Blaine Loveland, of Lock Haven, at the home of the bride's sister in Lock Haven, on Saturday evening. The Rev. L. F. Brown, of Mill Hill, performed the ceremony.

—Miss Elizabeth G. Reed, of Pottstown, has been elected superintendent of the Cottage hospital in Philadelphia. The position carries a salary of $60 a month. Miss Reed succeeds Mrs. T. M. Morrow, who resigned because of her marriage.

—Miss M. Snyder's millinery opening, which was made under such favorable conditions yesterday morning, continues to-day when more people, than visited her fashionable place on Bishop street during the first day, are expected. Competent judges are of the opinion that Miss Snyder's display of spring hats and bonnets far exceeds anything ever seen in Bellefonte. If you haven't been there you should see the sight to-day.

—Mr. John Larimer and Miss Emily Furey surprised their friends, on Thursday evening, when they announced their marriage, which had taken place at Milesburg that evening, at the home of Rev. E. C. Honck, pastor of the Baptist church. The groom is a son of Rush Larimer and has been employed at the Globe, where he is valued as a popular and intelligent clerk. His bride is a daughter of Morris E. Forey, the well-known Spring township farmer, and is a bright, prepossessing young woman.

—A young Bellefonte dry goods merchant took one of the local millinery for a drive on Sunday. They thought it would be fun to go up to the clairvoyant's along Spring creek to have their fortunes told and so it was until they found that they had a narrow foot-log to cross, ere they could present themselves before the mysterious person who dissipates the clouds that obscure our future. The young man walked boldly onto the log about ten feet, but a strange giddiness stole over him so that he had to drop aside of it to keep from falling into the water. His companion gave one of those little feminine shrieks—a sort of opening day "ain't it lovely" expression—but that didn't help the situation. Gush didn't go. Willie was too giddy for that and he squeezed that log until it began to lark with pain. This attracted the attention of Jim Hale, a farmer who lives about a mile and a-half distant, and he hurried to the rescue. Then they all held hands and got over in safety.

FAUBLE—SCHLOSS NUPTIALS.—Though the wedding, on Tuesday afternoon, of Miss Blanch Loeb Fauble, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Fauble, and William Wolf Schloss was intended to be a quiet family affair without any ostentation or show it was one of perfect appointments and much merriment.

The guests were limited to the members of the two families and the colors chosen for the wedding were white and green. The entire first floor of the Fauble home, on east High street, was artistically decorated with Easter lilies, smilax, palms and ferns. Miss Mabel Fauble, the bride's sister who studied music in Berlin, played the wedding march from Lohengrin and at 5 o'clock the bridal party entered the reception room where Rabbi J. Leonard Levi, of Pittsburg, performed the ceremony. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Jennie Fauble, of Harrisburg, as maid of honor and the groom's brother, Leon Schloss, of Baltimore, was best man.

The bride wore a handsome gown of white crepe de chene and carried a bouquet of Bride's roses. The maid of honor was dressed in white voile over taffeta and her bouquet was of maiden hair fern. The ceremony was followed by a sumptuous supper served by Ceder, and the bride and groom departed on the 8:16 train for their wedding journey. They will spend their honeymoon in New York and Atlantic city and will eventually make their home at 1934 West York street, Philadelphia.

The bride is one of a family of accomplished and attractive young women. She is a graduate of the training school for nurses of the University hospital and was for a year or two head nurse of the Mont Sinai hospital in Philadelphia. She resigned her position on the announcement of her engagement and the collection of beautiful gifts which were displayed in an upper room at the wedding evidenced in some measure her general favoritism. Mr. Schloss is a traveling salesman for a wholesale clothing establishment in Philadelphia and is a prominent member of the fraternity, as well as clever and well to do.

The out of town guests were the groom's mother, Mrs. Schloss, his two sisters Miss Mabel and Miss Retta, Kador Schloss, wife and daughter, Catharine, and Mrs. Joseph Elias and her son Justina, all of Philadelphia, and Leon Schloss and wife, of Baltimore.

ROBERT McCALMONT EXPIRES SUDDENLY.—The uncertainty of life was most strikingly exemplified in the unexpected death of Robert McCalmont, which occurred at the home of his sister, on north Thomas street, at 2 o'clock Tuesday morning. While he had not been well as usual lately his condition gave him no concern and on Monday evening he was at Judge Furst's office attending to firm settlements when he noticed a peculiar sensation creeping over him. He spoke of it and at once got into his conveyance to be taken home, but lapsed into unconsciousness before reaching there. Though everything possible was done to restore him he lingered in that condition until 9 o'clock, when he passed away. It is supposed to have been caused by a clot of blood on the brain.

Robert McCalmont was born on the old McCalmont home in Marion township on January 2nd, 1841. Being a son of James McCalmont, who was considered one of the most opulent farmers in the valley, he remained at home, helping on the farms, until about seventeen years ago, when he left for Minnesota. He was there nearly a year and upon his return was taken into the firm of McCalmont & Co. which had meanwhile been formed by the late Col. Wm. Shortridge. Robert's connection with the firm continued until the property was purchased by the American Co. and since that time he has not been engaged in business.

Surviving him are his brother James, of State College, and Mrs. Rose Shortridge and Miss Jane McCalmont, of this place.

Services were held at the house yesterday morning at 9:30 after which the body was taken to Jacksonville for interment in the family lot there.

MRS. FRANK WEAVER.—Mrs. Frank Weaver, of State College, died in St. Luke's hospital, Philadelphia, on Wednesday morning. She was taken to that institution on March 18th to undergo an operation for the removal of an internal cancer. It was successfully performed on the following Saturday and she was thought to be recovering when her death unexpectedly occurred.

Mrs. Weaver was a daughter of the late John Wagner, of Milesburg, and a sister of Mrs. John M. Keichline Mrs. P. F. Keichline and Mrs. James Weaver, of this place, also of Mrs. Lew Wallace and Miss Ella Wagner, of Milesburg. She was about 50 years old and is survived by her husband and the following children: Mrs. Harry Harter, Frank, Jennie, Elizabeth, Sue, Kate, Edward, John and George.

Her body was brought here last evening and taken to the home of James Weaver. Interment will be made in the Union cemetery to-day.

MRS. JOSEPH STEINKIRCHNER.—An illness of four weeks' duration terminated in the death of Mrs. Mary Steinkirchner at her home in Bush Addition, on Saturday morning. At her advanced age the shock of a fall by which she broke her leg was more than she could withstand and the complications that developed afterwards caused her death.

Mrs. Steinkirchner was born in Germany in 1825 and when twenty-five years old was married to Joseph Steinkirchner, who survives her with the following children: Michael, of Newton, Kansas; Joseph, of Clearfield; Mrs. William McGowan and Mrs. Margaret Daley, of Bellefonte; and Mrs. P. A. King, of Easton.

She was a most estimable woman and held in the highest esteem by a large circle of friends. Interment was made in the Catholic cemetery on Monday morning, after requiem mass for the repose of her soul had been celebrated in St. John's church.

MRS. JOHN FLACK.—Mrs. Lucretia Flack, wife of John Flack, died at her home near this place early Tuesday morning after having been helpless for a long time on account of paralysis. She was 49 years, 6 months and 22 days old and is survived by the following children: Mrs. Lizzie Sommers, of Potters Mills; Mrs. Bertha Finley, of Punxsutawney; Nelson, of Milton; Edward, Lillie, Willis, Clara and Laura.

She was a member of the Evangelical church and a very earnest christian woman. Interment was made in the Union cemetery yesterday afternoon.

—After only forty minutes illness with heart disease Mrs. Robert C. Eldred, of Mackeyville, expired at the home of S. B. Dill, in Altoona, on Saturday night. She was visiting her sons George and Leroy, who live in that city, and was walking on the street at the time she was overcome. Mrs. Eldred was 54 years, 3 months and 26 days old. Before her marriage she was Miss Annie E. Welsh, of Bald Eagle valley. Her sisters, Mrs. J. B. McCloskey and Mrs. Hugh White, reside at Mill Hill. Interment was made in Cedar Hill cemetery on Tuesday afternoon.

—Mrs. John Shields died at her home in Milesburg on Monday morning, after a long illness with drousy. Deceased was a sister of Mrs. James Everling, who died in a Pittsburg hospital last week. She was about 45 years old and an active member of the Methodist church. Interment was made at Curtin's on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

—Jeremiah Kline died at his home in Aaronsburg on Tuesday evening, from the effects of a complication of troubles. He was 78 years, 3 months and 19 days old and is survived by four sisters: Mrs. J. H. Musser, Henrietta and Sara, of Aaronsburg, and Mrs. Hoy, of Altoona. Services were held yesterday morning and interment was made in the Lutheran cemetery.

MICHAEL LESH.—Having been ill exactly one week with pneumonia Michael Lesh died at his home at Pine Hall, on Sunday night, leaving an invalid wife and six children without the support of a considerate and devoted husband and father.

He was a good citizen, a man who will be missed not only by the bereaved loved ones but by the entire community. He was a member of the Lutheran church, Rev. Aikens having officiated at his funeral Wednesday morning. It was one of the largest ever held at Pine Hall.

Mr. Lesh was nearly 53 years old. One brother, Charles, resides in Pittsburg.

—Gen. manager Geo. L. Potter, of the Baltimore & Ohio, arrived in town on Tuesday morning in his private car and spent the day with relatives at his old home here. Mr. Potter was accompanied by Mrs. Potter and his sister Miss Lucy Potter, who had been in Baltimore visiting them. Mr. and Mrs. Potter went on through to Pittsburg later in the day.

COUNCIL MET.—President Reynolds, and members Potter, Gherriy, Whittaker, Cunningham, Derstine and Kirk were present at the session of council Monday evening and transacted the following business:

The Street committee was authorized to replace the foot bridges at the car works and the round-house that were destroyed by the recent flood. The committee reported many bad pavements about town and was directed to order them repaired.

The report of Geo. R. Meek, treasurer, showed a balance of $602.61 due the treasurer on April 7th.

The question of a new water works was taken up for discussion again and brought many varying opinions from the different members. Some of them want to go ahead at once while others think the entire question should be carefully studied before being acted upon and others believe that the borough has no right to contract such a debt, being up to its legal limit now. It was decided to purchase a new water-wheel and pump on the theory that a more efficient wheel will effect a great saving in coal, for it will take much of the load off the steam pumps.

Bills were approved and ordered paid as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Item and Amount. Includes A. C. Mingle, rubber boots; Ira Fern, hauling for water dept; Street pay roll; Police pay roll; Water pay roll; F. W. Cr der, rent of public building; Sam. D. Ryan, wood for water dept; E. E. Ill. Co., light for W. W.; Lighting public buildings; Light for streets; Bellefonte Gas Co., heating buildings; R. J. Schad & Bro., supplies; J. H. Wetzel, supplies; A. Allison, supplies; R. B. Taylor, coal for W. W.

The third excursion, made up of representatives of seventy of the wholesale houses located in the city of Buffalo, reached Bellefonte at noon on Tuesday and tarried for about three-quarters of an hour.

The inclement weather made it impossible for them to see much of the town, but wherever possible the visitors looked up dealers in their line and made a friendly call of a few minutes. The object of the visit was purely commercial, the delegation swinging round a circle described by Williamsport, Bellefonte, Altoona, Kittanning, Kane, Franklin and Buffalo. They expect to be out five days and are traveling in three coaches and a dining car. The Buffalo Courier of Wednesday had this is say of their stop in Bellefonte.

At Bellefonte, reached shortly after 12 o'clock, a number of persons were at the station, including Mrs. Andrew Curtin, wife of Pennsylvania's War Governor. Bellefonte is called the "Home of Governors," but there was nothing of interest to be found outside of a few bridges that were down and a large race track under water.
