THINGS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY

$15 Reward.

The Sportsmen's League of Centre County will pay $15.00 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of any violator of the game and fish laws of this Commonwealth.

Two highway robberies occurred in Lock Haven last Thursday night.

Next Tuesday evening the famous Howe moving pictures will be seen at Garman's.

The Howard Creamery corporation has been chartered by the State with a capital of $24,000.

Rev. Dr. Gill, of State College, filled Dr. Shriner's pulpit in the Methodist church here on Sunday.

Tonight or tomorrow night will be the last opportunity you will have of seeing the Conroy-Mack and Edwards players.

Mrs. William Taylor, John Meese and Frank Galbraith have all been quite sick at their homes in this place within the past week.

Missioner Crittenden and his Seneca Indian singers held a gospel song service in the hotel dining room at Keating Thursday evening and standing room was at a premium.

The oil excitement about Lock Haven is dying out. The drill on the Gummo farm well will be sent down three thousand feet, but many of the early enthusiasts are losing interest.

The partnership heretofore existing between Col. W. Fred Reynolds and J. Harris Hoy under the firm name of Rock Farms has been dissolved and Mr. Hoy will conduct the business himself in the future.

Rev. Geo. I. Brown has been invited by the class of 1902, Bellefonte High school, to be their baccalaureate preacher and has accepted. The services will be held in St. John's Episcopal church Sunday evening, June 1st.

Hon. A. O. Furst gave his lecture on the Passion Play, which he saw at Oberammergau in 1900, in the Presbyterian church in Lock Haven Tuesday evening for the benefit of the young woman's foreign missionary society of that church.

Frank H. Clemson, Supt. of mines for the Bellefonte furnace and the Nittany iron company, will move into the old Valentine company house at the works. His leaving Scotia is principally to admit of better school opportunities for his children.

The Logans invite you all to Garman's, next Tuesday night, to see the Howe moving pictures. The Howe show is a refined and pleasing exhibit of extraordinary scenes throughout the world. They are true to life as photography can make them and always illustrative of the very latest matters of public interest.

The WATCHMAN has in past years undertaken to publish a list of the trout catches on the opening day of the trout season, but they were so small on Tuesday as to be hardly a matter worth recording. Various theories have been advanced as causes. Some fishermen say the water was too high, others that it was too cold and white both may have had something to do with it, the real reason is that the streams in this section are depleted. They are over-fished and under-stocked.

It will be a matter of interest to many of the older residents of this community to know that "Uncle Billy" Reble is not dead, as was generally supposed. On the contrary he is very much alive and though in his eighty-seventh year contemplates a visit to Centre county during the summer. He spent the winter in Florida and is now at his home in Nebraska, enjoying splendid health. In the days when the old B-lifedde band had a state-wide reputation "Uncle Billy" was the man who played the bass horn.

James G. Taylor, a brother of Capt. Hugh S. Taylor, of this place, has been appointed by President Roosevelt to a cadetship at West Point. The appointment was made upon the recommendation of Congressman J. K. P. Hall and young Taylor will go in June, 1903, to represent this district at the great military institution. He is a bright boy, a member of the Senior class at the Bellefonte High school and is already quite conversant with military tactics. The appointment is a good one and the appointee will prove an honor to this district.

Thomas Hutchinson, who is an express messenger running between Williamsport and Kane, is quite ill at the latter place with pneumonia. His life was despaired of for a few days but, happily, he has recovered sufficiently to give hope of his survival. He is a son of Mrs. Margaret Hutchinson, of this place. His sister, Miss Fannie, went down to Williamsport on Saturday to care for his children, who are also ill, while Mrs. Hutchinson is at the bedside of her sick husband. Word came yesterday afternoon that he was much worse and his brother Harry left at once for Kane.

MILDRED E. WAGNER.—The death of Miss Mildred Estella Wagner at the home of grandmother, Mrs. Sarah Wagner, on south Spring street, Saturday evening at nine o'clock, was not unexpected for though she was out on the street only a few weeks ago it was evident to the most disinterested observer that she was failing rapidly. She had been ill for some time with consumption and several of her acquaintances anxiously urged her going to Arizona or Texas, but she was not privileged to go and was very hopeful that with the warm days of spring her health would improve. She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Wagner Jr. and was born in Osage, Mitchell county, Iowa, August 24th, 1877. She came here when only a little child to make her home with her grandparents and graduated at the High school in the class of '97. She had a most amiable and kind disposition and was, moreover, an excellent and self-sacrificing young woman. She had an intelligent knowledge of financial affairs and until her grandfather's death had much to do with his many business transactions. She was a reliable member of St. John's Reformed church and actively engaged in all its charitable and mission work. Her life—short though it was—was full and replete of kindness and service for others and her death will be sincerely mourned.

She is survived by her aged grandmother, to whom she was most devoted, a sister, Mrs. Howard Brubaker, of Woodstock, Ill., a brother, John Wagner, of Altoona, and a large circle of relatives. Funeral services were held on Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock from the Wagner home on south Spring street with Rev. Ambrose Schmidt, of the Reformed church, officiating. Interment was made in the family plot in the Union cemetery.

MRS. REUBEN GLENN.—The death of Mrs. Mary Strouse Glenn, wife of Reuben Glenn, at their home at State College, on Sunday evening, was exceedingly sad. She was a young woman whose entire life was spent in service for others and three little children were left motherless. She was only sick two days and her death was brought about by a fall which she had had a month previous.

She is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Strouse and she was just a few months past thirty one year of age. Her home had always been in the vicinity of State College where she endeared herself to everyone who knew her by her genuine kindness and unselfishness. She was most energetic and industrious and her life, possibly, would have been prolonged for many years if she would have complained more and worked less. She was a zealous member of the Lutheran church and her pastor, Rev. C. T. Aikens, assisted by Rev. Benj. Gill, of State College, and Rev. G. M. Glenn, of Roaring Springs, conducted the funeral services on Tuesday afternoon. Services were held at the house and in the Pine Hall church and the body, with its pall of beautiful flowers, was laid to rest in the Pine Hall burying ground.

She is survived by her husband, three little children, Charles, Edna and Joseph; her parents, five brothers and many relatives and friends.

SCOTT BRICKER.—One of Boalsburg's best known citizens, L. Scott Bricker, passed away at his home in that place on Sunday evening at 9 o'clock, after a lingering illness of tuberculosis of the throat. For many weeks he had only been able to take nourishment through a tube but he endured his sufferings with great fortitude. He was almost 43 years of age and his entire life was spent in or near Boalsburg, where he filled many positions of trust. Of late years he had been engaged in the mercantile business and no one ever left his store empty handed. His genial manner and kind disposition made him many friends. He had been a member of the Lutheran church since childhood and the entire community regretted his untimely death.

He is survived by his wife, two sons, John and Charles, his mother, one sister, Mrs. Bery Kramer of Punxsunawney, and his brother Mitchell of Lewistown. His pastor, Rev. Lescher, assisted by Rev. Black, conducted the burial services on Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock. Interment was made at Boalsburg.

HENRY WILLIAMS.—As respected and honorable a colored man as ever lived in the town, died yesterday morning at 3 o'clock, after a long illness of tuberculosis of the alimentary canal. He was a great big, healthy looking young fellow but he hurt himself last summer and was operated upon for hernia at one of the Philadelphia hospitals. He returned home, though, too soon, and working constantly he had not an opportunity to regain his former health. Several months ago he was obliged to give up and go to bed, where he received every attention and kindness that his mother or sisters could devise. He was only twenty-one years of age and he was as conscientious and faithful a christian as we have ever known. Henry did the best he could with the opportunities he had in this life and surely he has entered into his reward of rest and promotion.

He is survived by his parents, Benjamin and Alice Taylor Williams, five sisters, Mrs. Reuben Harrison, Clara, Alice, Celia and Louise and one brother Lawrence. Funeral services will be held in the A. M. E. church, of which he was a most faithful member, on Sunday.

Harry Bowman, who died near Mill Hall on Friday evening, was given a military funeral on Sunday. He served in the Spanish-American war and was a member of the Lock Haven military company at the time of his death.

DEATH OF DR. HARSHBERGER.—Dr. Harshberger, brother of H. H. Harshberger, of this place, died suddenly at his home in Philadelphia on Thursday, April 10th. He was 62 years of age and was a native of this county. His boyhood days were spent at Zion and he served with distinction throughout the Civil war, having first enlisted in the 4th Pennsylvania Vols. He is survived by a wife and two children, Mary a teacher in the Girl's High school in Philadelphia, and John A., an instructor at the University of Pennsylvania. His brother, Mr. Harshberger, attended the funeral on Monday.

Mrs. Susan Kooztz, wife of Christopher Kooztz who was a resident of this place many years ago, died at her home in Waynesboro on Friday. She was well advanced in years and had only been sick for a week. Interment was made at Waynesboro on Sunday afternoon. She is survived by her husband and the following children: Charles, of this place; Lewis, of Chicago; Forney, of Galveston, Texas; Frank, of Washington, D. C.; Mrs. Margaret Shearer, of Boston; Mrs. Verna Ovelman, Mrs. Ida Krider, Ella and Victor, of Waynesboro.

The death of W. S. Rearick occurred very suddenly at the home of his son J. F. Rearick, in Spring Mills, late Saturday night. He was 69 years, 11 months and 11 days old and had retired in his usual health. About 11:30 the family heard a peculiar noise in his room and upon investigation found him prostrated by a stroke of paralysis. A physician was called at once, but he survived only thirty minutes. Burial was made on Wednesday in the Presbyterian cemetery.

Old age and the ailments consequent thereto caused the death of Mrs. Hannah Shilling, widow of David Shilling, at her home on Ridge street, on Tuesday morning. She was a little over 80 years old and is survived by several children. Funeral services were held at the house yesterday afternoon and interment was made in the Union cemetery.

A long illness terminated in the death of Levi Stover, at his home in Penn township, on Wednesday. He had attained his 44th year. Funeral services will be held at the house to-morrow morning and interment will be made at Aaronsburg.

An infant of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wolf, of Madisonburg, died on Sunday and was buried on Wednesday.

They have quite an interesting and live subject for debate at the Academy this afternoon: It is "Resolved that as a matter of public policy it is expedient to educate colored children in the same schools with the whites."

The feast of the Passover or "Päsach" will commence on Monday evening, April 21st, or according to the Jewish calendar on the 14th day of Nisan. This holiday is in commemoration of the exodus of the Jews from Egypt under the leadership of Moses and the attainment of their liberty after their 430 years of slavery. Unleavened bread or "Matzes" is eaten for a period of eight days.

The boiler house at Lingle's foundry caught fire on Sunday afternoon and before the flames could be subdued had been almost entirely destroyed. Both fire companies were on the scene early, so that the flames were confined to that one building and no serious loss was occasioned. The boiler room was not dismantled by the fire and work went on as usual at the foundry on Monday. Insurance in the Hoover agency covered the loss.

The trouble over the assignment of Rev. Amos H. Baldwin, of Lock Haven, to the Pine street Methodist church, Williamsport, had been finally adjusted by Bishop Walden. Rev. Baldwin is made presiding elder of the Juniata district and Rev. Emory Stevens, who had been on that district, has been sent to Pine street. The trouble all arose out of the refusal of the Williamsport congregation to accept Mr. Baldwin; his appointment having been made by the last Conference here.

Owing to the extremely disagreeable weather there were only a few delegates present at the Centre county Sunday school convention in Centre Hall last week, but the meetings were none-the-less helpful. The officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: President, Rev. J. M. Rearick, Centre Hall; vice president, Rev. J. D. Shortess, Millheim; recording secretary, Miss Anne Hamilton, State College; corresponding secretary, Rev. A. A. Black, Boalsburg; treasurer, A. Lukenbach, Bellefonte; primary superintendent, Miss Elizabeth B. Thompson, Lemont; home department Supt., Rev. D. E. Hepler, Lemont.

Frank Gamel, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., has consented to give instruction on certain subjects which have been introduced in connection with the teachers' Bible class held every Wednesday evening, and which, because of limited time, could not be discussed as fully as desired. The time appointed for this instruction is every afternoon of next week, beginning Monday, the 21st, from 4 to 5 o'clock. The subjects will be as follows: Monday, "The Wonderful Word;" Tuesday, "Regeneration;" Wednesday, "Consecration and Cleansing;" Thursday, "The Holy Spirit;" Friday, "Prayer;" Saturday, any topic that may be suggested. These talks will be given in the Association hall and all interested are cordially invited. They are free and no collection will be asked for.

A N EXPLANATION.—A mistaken thought seems to prevail in the minds of many, concerning the change of ownership in the property now occupied by the Young Men's Christian Association to the effect that the Association will be obliged to move in the near future and that thereby a large part of the money recently invested in improvements will become a dead loss.

The facts are: First—By far the greater part of all money spent in improvements was invested in furniture and fixtures, which can be removed and which would be just as valuable in another building as in the present one. The painting and papering are the chief items that cannot be moved and nearly two years use will take most of the shine off these.

Second—The present lease does not expire until April 1st, '03 and Dr. M. J. Locke, the new owner of the property, states that unless he is really obliged to vacate his present quarters at that time, he will be glad to give the Association a new lease. The Association is grateful to its friends for the many expressions of interest in the matter and this statement is made by the authority of the board of directors, that all may have a clear understanding of the facts.

Respectfully, FRANK H. GAMEL, General Secretary.

A NOTABLE LECTURER COMING.—Bellefonte is soon to have an opportunity of hearing Hon. Joseph Belford lecture. Aside from the high place he occupies in oratorical and political circles in New York Mr. Belford's visit will be looked forward to with a keener interest because of the fact that he once made Bellefonte his home.

A number of years ago he taught a private school in this place. Though he met with but indifferent success he was recognized as a man of brilliant attainments. After leaving Bellefonte he located in New York city, where he attained prominence as a lawyer and linguist and was sent to Congress. He is coming to Bellefonte to lecture for the benefit of Petriken hall and because of his love for the cause and Bellefonte has kindly volunteered to come for nothing. It will be a great treat to hear the honorable Mr. Belford and while Bellefonte cannot claim him entirely she will be glad to give him cordial welcome because he once lived within her gates.

Reading merchants have long had the reputation of being among the finest and leading business men of the State. They have prospered when those of other towns were complaining of dull times and grew wealthy while others eked out a slim living. The reason is because they do business on business principles and act with good judgment in matters that affect them. It has a mercantile association of over 200 which has just shown the good sense to decide against all advertising schemes outside of the columns of newspapers. The association declares that, inasmuch as "merchants in general have suffered for years from constantly increasing solicitations for advertisements for hotel registers, desks, bill board, blocks, key boards, charts, programs, tickets, cook books, moving pictures, enunciators, certain advertisements, oil paintings and pamphlets, the members pledge themselves that they will make use of no such forms of advertisement."

John H. Landis, who has been appointed superintendent of the mint in Philadelphia, to succeed Henry K. Boyer, is a brother-in-law of Supt. F. H. Thomas, of this place. That the appointment is regarded as a very satisfactory one is apparent from the following editorial paragraph in the Record: "The selection of Mr. John H. Landis to succeed Mr. Henry K. Boyer as superintendent of the United States mint in this city is suitable both as a matter of business and as a matter of politics. As chief coiner for several years past Mr. Landis has acquired familiarity with the working of the greatest of our money factories, and his previous reputation as a staunch partisan of the party in power rounds out the measure of requirement. The retiring superintendent brings to a close a satisfactory incumbency of his own choice. He has been both efficient and popular."

On Saturday afternoon Michael Kerestetter, of Pleasant Gap, dropped in for a little call and when later Ferns Potter, of Linden Hall, came in and they were both shown the food line in our press rooms both looked as if they would be willing in the future to believe any hard-luck stories the WATCHMAN might have to tell.

Mrs. Helen Kirtz Sanford, daughter of the Rev. Thomas Kurtz, a resident of this place in the early thirties but now of Cleveland, O., is visiting at the home of her uncle, J. L. Kurtz, on Curtin street. Mrs. Sanford lives in New York, where her husband is the engineer in charge of the construction of the sub-railway at 42nd street and stepped here on her way to Cleveland.

Miss Gertrude Scott went to Pittsburg Monday to make her home with her brother Frank. She was accompanied by little Helen Marshall who has been most of her life with her grandmother, Mrs. Jane Marshall, but who will now reside with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Will Marshall, in Allegheny, inasmuch as her grandmother has disposed of her house and closed up her home.

Dr. Tom Glenn, of Rixford, McKean county, Rev. George M. Glenn, of Roaring Springs, and Dempster L. Glenn, of Sparrows Point, Md., were all in town this week between trains and way to State College to attend the funeral of their sister-in-law Mrs. Reuben Glenn. A rather unusual feature of the funeral was the presence of the five brothers of the deceased, her husband's four brothers and her mother-in-law's family of sisters and brothers.

Mr. Joe R. Pott, who for many years has been managing the Pennsylvania business of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad, was in town a few hours yesterday looking up the interests of the place. The C. M. & St. P. has always been popular hereabouts, and largely so because Mr. Pott has made it that by his courteous treatment of those with whom he comes in contact and the faithful fulfillment, by the company, of any representation he makes.

Mr. Edward Shannon, of Moshannon, was a very pleasant caller on Friday afternoon and seemed very much worried because we wouldn't take any more of his money. He is paid up now for more than two years in advance and wanted to display more faith in our ability to "make good." Mr. Shannon subscribed for the WATCHMAN when it was first issued. He was living at Unionville then and has drifted about a good bit since, but the paper has been a constant companion and he finds it more desirable now than ever, because he has accumulated enough of this world's goods to retire and doesn't have anything else to do than to read.

The Huntingdon Presbytery before adjourning at Everett last week accepted Rev. Dr. Schuyler's invitation to hold its next session at Centre Hall. The meeting will convene the first Monday in October and continue for three days. About one hundred and twenty ministers and elders are usually in attendance.

At the bankrupt sale at the Model shoe store they are almost giving shoes away. That is due to the enormous business they are doing.

Mrs. A. Lukenbach, of Willowbank street, spent part of last week with her sons F. K. and Charles in Phillipsburg, returning Saturday evening.

Mrs. C. M. Garman is in Jersey City visiting relatives who live on the Heights. Upon her return she expects to stop for a visit in Philadelphia.

N. H. Stone, of Coatesville, a director of the First national bank in this place and otherwise interested in Centre county properties, was in Bellefonte on business on Tuesday.

Col. and Mrs. J. L. Spangler arrived home from their cruise among the West Indies, on Saturday afternoon, both looking in splendid health and the Colonel convinced that he is once more his former vigorous self.

Mrs. Harvey Yarrington, of Richmond, Va., and her mother Mrs. Margaret Alexander, who has been spending the winter in Pittsburg with her niece Mrs. Elliot, are expected in town next week for a short visit.

O. J. Storer, of Eagleville, was in town on Wednesday looking after some business. He has returned to that place from the lumber regions of Potter county and with Mrs. Storer is making a temporary home there.

W. M. Grove, of Centre Hill, was in town last Friday, but he was in such a hurry when he dropped into the WATCHMAN office that we didn't even have an opportunity of finding out any of the news of that section from him.

Dr. H. K. Hoy, formerly of this place, but lately of Altoona, spent several days in this part of the county last week looking after some business interests. The Dr. has lately been making some stock investments that promise very prolific returns.

Col. Fred Reynolds is in Charleston this week enjoying the Cotton States and West Indian exposition with Governor Stone. The Governor and his staff, of which Col. Reynolds is a member, were there for the observance of Pennsylvania day on Wednesday.

Mrs. Earl Way returned to her home at Wilkesburg Tuesday after a short visit at the home of her parents at Wadley. She was accompanied by her mother, Mrs. D. L. Weck, and her mother-in-law, Mrs. Benner Way, who went with her to assist in establishing her new home.

Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Bell, who have been residents of this place for a number of years, are going to Chicago on Tuesday to essay their fortunes there. They had expected to move to Pittsburg, but have finally decided in favor of Chicago where Mr. Bell has had several good offers.

On Saturday afternoon Michael Kerestetter, of Pleasant Gap, dropped in for a little call and when later Ferns Potter, of Linden Hall, came in and they were both shown the food line in our press rooms both looked as if they would be willing in the future to believe any hard-luck stories the WATCHMAN might have to tell.

At the bankrupt sale at the Model shoe store they are almost giving shoes away. That is due to the enormous business they are doing.

E. P. Lingle, of Lemont, was in town for a few hours on Wednesday. He expects to leave that place soon, as he is what the theatrical people would call "at liberty," now that he is out of business. He doesn't know just exactly where he will locate, but wherever it may be we bespeak a warm welcome for him. Certainly such a pleasant, responsible gentleman merits it.

HAPPILY MARRIED.—Surely Miss Anna Kate Bell, who was united in marriage yesterday morning to Samuel T. Brooks the enterprising liverman, must have been supremely happy if the old saying "Happy is the bride that the sun shines on" is at all true. The ceremony took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Bell, at Pleasant Gap, and was solemnized by the Rev. B. A. Salter, of the M. E. Church, at 11 o'clock.

Sixty guests were present and a delicious wedding breakfast was served after the ceremony. The bride wore a very becoming gown of white organdy and her sister, Miss Mame, was maid of honor. Mr. and Mrs. Brooks will spend their honeymoon visiting friends and on Monday will go to home longing in the house next door to Mrs. Longwell's on Spring street. They are both deserving of the best that is going and we wish them only good fortune and happiness.

"CRANFORD."—Which was given in Petriken Hall on Wednesday evening, in connection with the fair that is being held there now, was as entertaining and dainty a show as Bellefonte has had for many a moon. The much-lauded sextette in "Florodora" are not a degree finer than the young ladies who acted the characters in Cranford. The stage furniture and costumes were as quaint and aesthetic as the figures in an old print and combined with the good acting it was a clever bit of comedy.

THE FEAST OF DAYS.—The fair that is now in progress in Petriken hall is quite as great a success as was anticipated. Those who were not there the opening days missed a real treat, for the booths were decorated so artistically and contained by far the greatest stock of well made articles that had ever been offered for sale at a hazard here.

Even if the Logans were not to receive one cent of benefit from the Howe moving picture show on the 22nd it would be worth your while to attend the novel entertainment then to be given. But especially since it is to be a Logan benefit it is more than that, it is your duty to see that the house is filled to its utmost. You will get your money's worth in the show itself. It will be worth more than the price of admission, so this is your opportunity to see something good and, at the same time, help a good cause.

The bankrupt sale now going at the Model shoe store seems to be the busiest place in Bellefonte. All the shoes are sold below cost. When you come to town you can save your expenses by calling at the Model shoe store.

Miss Nancy Ne well is seriously ill at her home on Bishop street, occasioned by a stroke of paralysis.

The self denial altar offering at the Salvation Army on Sunday evening was $40.53.
