

Pine Grove Mention.

Jack frost put a stunner on vegetation Tuesday morning.

Mrs. D. S. Erb, of State College, is visiting at J. B. Heberling's.

Mrs. Maria Goss is up at Eden Hill for a week at J. N. Bell's home.

Miss Ella Livingston, of State College, has taken rooms at the St. Elmo hotel for the summer.

Miss Ina Krebs, after a three months' visit to Dr. J. B. Krebs at Northumberland, is home again.

Dr. J. E. Ward, wife and family are spending a few days at the old Ward home on Main street this week.

Miss Mary Noll, one of Millheim's expert seamstresses is a visitor, at Amos Koch's home near Fairbrook.

Prof. G. C. Butts and wife, of State College, were royally entertained at the parsonage Saturday and Sunday.

A bran new picket fence, beautifully painted, now encloses Jacob Sparr Reed's handsome residence on Main St.

Samuel Rowe, one of Centre Hall's straight-laced Democrats, transacted business in this section on Monday.

Julian Fleming, of Centre Hall, was here Tuesday looking after the interests of the Johnson Binery Company.

Paul Fortney, of Bellefonte, is exercising his muscle by helping his uncle James make hay on the big Branch farm.

Harry Cramer with Ed. Moore, of State College, was handling the ribbons over a 2.10 stepper Sunday, in our town.

Harry Wagner is short a good horse. Last Saturday while hauling lumber from Centre Hall to Oak Hill it dropped dead.

Miss Sadie Dannelly, the very obliging and efficient Exchange lady at State College spent Sunday at her home on Main street.

Mrs. Effie Stover, of Altoona, with her little family, is here for an indefinite stay at the Judge Smith home on Water street.

Miss Mary Woods spent last week with friends at Watsons, where she was a guest at the Bryson-Woods reception.

Wm. B. Ward is breaking ground for a new house on the Sample lot down town. It is to be ready for occupancy by the time the snow flake fly.

Mr. John P. Forsby and wife, of Iowa, are visiting relatives in this section and being royally entertained at G. W. Homan's hospitable home.

A young butcher arrived at Robt. Glenn Goben's home last week. He weighs 12 pounds and is able to shout for Penny-packer already.

The harvest home picnic will be held in the grove near Baileyville August 9th. It will be under the auspices of Washington Camp P. O. S. of A. Everybody is invited.

A fishing party consisting of a dozen or more anglers spent last Saturday along the rippling waters of Spruce Creek. One chub, a crab and a snapper was the extent of the catch.

Mr. Blanchard Black, a student of Franklin and Marshall college, is spending his vacation among relatives here. He very ably filled the pulpit in the Reformed church last Sunday morning.

Frank McFarlane, of Boalsburg, has just finished having his handsome brick mansion finished up with a new coat of paint, which makes a decided improvement and from present indications register Archie will get a call.

Ray Morgan deputy postmaster at State College has been spending the week in Washington making the final arrangements for the new free rural mail delivery which is to go into effect about Aug. 1st.

Register A. G. Archey enjoyed a drive to our town Sunday and the boys are keeping a close look-out in the license column. It is said, and truthfully too, that every bachelor must pass through the hands of two women, and he is no exception to the rule.

Last Monday quite a hail storm passed over this section, causing many frowns. June has been the coldest known to our oldest citizens. Corn has been replanted time and again, and is almost a miss and the hay crop the shortest for years. The wheat crop will be half sized. Now the last week in June the weather is as cold as November.

Children's day in the Presbyterian church, last Sunday evening, exceeded in abundance and beauty all former events. The entire pulpit was concealed by a bank of the loveliest and choicest flowers that overhung the little ones whose songs and words gave praise to the service. Each one filled his or her part to perfection. The church was filled to standing. During the service Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Gibson had their baby girl baptized, her given name being Elizabeth Irvin. Rev. H. E. Hepler made the address of the evening, basing his remarks on the Sunday school and its christian influence with man and womanhood.

At a meeting of the Ferguson township school board at Centre school house last Saturday the following persons were elected to teach: Pine Grove grammar, Wm. Books, Magazines, Etc.

To describe adequately "The World's Great Discoveries" is the task set C. Bryson Taylor, in the July Everybody's. He has written in superb style the stories of the destruction of Pompeii, the earthquake at Lisbon, the passing of Port Royal and the cataclysm at Yeddo, picturing the life of those cities at the moment of destruction. Photographs of the ruins of St. Pierre accompany the article. The interest of "A Lost Art Revived" is pictorial—here are reproduced the Leonil illustrations of the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution of the United States. The parchments are set off with fine miniatures of the great men of Revolutionary days and scenes in the history of America. Donald Murray, inventor of the Postal telegraph, a system of Writing Telegraphy, writes "The Strange Story of the Printing Telegraph." "The Delights of Salmon Fishing" are described by Charles Hallock, and finely depicted by Ingmors and other photographers. A "Revival of Feminine Handicrafts" by Minnie J. Reynolds, describes the new movement which promises to provide general employment for men and women having an artistic sense. There is also a capital description of Grand Prix Day in Paris telling of the habits and manners of the French grande monde on that great occasion, together, of course, with the colletes they display.
