The Kaiser and Mr. Morgan.

A couple of weeks ago the newspapers were filled with interesting accounts of sumptuous entertainments given by the German Emperor in honor of Mr. J. PIERPONT MORGAN, and a good many of our leading journals were inclined to feel a sort of pride in the deference paid to our monarch of the monetary world.

Now, however, the real facts are coming out and if they happen to be less flattering and more accurate, there is nothing left for us but to take the medicine. In other words, in conversation with a distinguished French statesman the Kaiser frankly revealed his private opinion of Mr. MORGAN, the other day.

There are a good many people who are lacking in respect for the opinions of the Kaiser and the friends of Mr. MORGAN will have the right to shield him behind that barricade. But it must be admitted that the number of those who regard his Majesty in that light are diminishing very rapidly as time moves onward and the opportunities to judge him by his works and measure his intellect by his achievements are presented.

One Man Who is Not Worrying Over the Outlook for Cousin Samuel.

It is not to be wondered at that ex-Governor BEAVER is not hunting his throat in an effort to make votes for Mr. QUAY's cousin SAMUEL. Once upon a time Governor BEAVER was a candidate for the position Mr. PENNYPACKER now seeks, and was defeated. That was a long time ago, but the ex-Governor remembers it too well to forget it even though it was twice that length of time.

It is the remembrance of the work of Cousin SAMUEL, at that time, that now comes so vividly into the ex-Governor's mind every time his enthusiasm for the machine's nominee begins to bubble because of the claimed respectability of a moss covered ancestry.

Skinning Our Own People.

How Republicans Trust take Advantage of a Protective Tariff and Make the People of the United States Pay 40 Per Cent and Upward More Than Foreigners for the Same Manufactured Products of Our Own Mills.

It is for the man who believes that tariffs are beneficial and who shows that he favors trusts by his vote for the Republican party, that we re-publish the following. It is given only that he can see how he can, and how he is, robbed for the benefit of others—how the tariff protects the trusts and how the trusts take advantage of that tariff protection to fleece the people of their own country.

Chairman Griggs, of the Democratic Congressional Committee, has made public this list of American and European prices on American made goods, which an agent of the committee secured from certain New York exporting houses. The list is as follows:

Table with 3 columns: American Price, Foreigners Price, and Item. Items include wire nails, wire rope, lead, shovels, axle grease, meat choppers, washboards, barbed wire, clock, lawn mowers, fruit jars, typewriters, sewing machines, first-class piano, tin plate.

"This," said Judge Griggs "is the whole story in a nutshell. The people of the United States are paying 40 per cent. and upward more than the foreigner for the same American manufactured article. The question is, will they longer submit to it? I do not believe they will."

Bullets for the Anthracite Miners.

Rioting and Blood Shed over the Attempt to fill Mines with Non-Union Miners Makes an Excuse for Ordering Out the Militia. Their Presence Expected to Encourage the Operators and Break the Strike.

SHENANDOAH, July 30.—A reign of terror, compared with which the scenes enacted during the riots of 1900 seem insignificant, holds Shenandoah in its grasp to-night. Since 6 o'clock this evening Centre street, which is one of the principal streets of the town, has been in the hands of an infuriated mob.

Three of the borough policemen were shot, one perhaps fatally. Joseph Beddal, a leading merchant and a cousin of sheriff Beddal, was clubbed to death, and a score of strikers whose names at this writing could not be ascertained, were shot by policemen, and it is expected that many deaths will result. The policemen wound are:

Chief of Police Fry, shot in the arm and badly beaten: condition serious.
Policeman Rengheiser, shot in shoulder and hand, also beaten with stones and clubs; condition serious.

The trouble started about 6 o'clock this evening when Deputy Sheriff Beddal attempted to escort two non-union workers through the strikers' line of pickets. The workmen were dressed in their street clothes, but one of them carried a bundle under his arm and this aroused the suspicion of the strikers. The bundle was torn from him, and when it was found to contain a blouse and overalls the man was taken from the deputy and beat almost to death.

SHERIFF OPENED FIRE.

In the meantime Beddal opened fire on the mob which had gathered by this time, and emptied his revolver. Two of the shots took effect, one man being shot in the leg and the other in the foot. The deputy and the other strike breakers were compelled to fly for their lives, and took refuge in the Philadelphia and Reading Railway depot. The depot was soon surrounded by an angry mob of 5,000 which was becoming more threatening and demonstrative every moment.

Joseph Beddal a hardware merchant and brother of the Deputy Sheriff, was seen making his way through the crowd in an effort to reach his brother, and the mob, diving at him when it was seen to fall, to those inside the depot, seized him and beat him with clubs and billies into insensibility. He died en route to the Miners' Hospital.

POLICE SHOOT INTO CROWD.

Shortly after this the entire borough police force arrived on the scene, and escorted the deputy sheriff and his men to an engine which had been backed into the depot for that purpose. When the mob realized that their prey was about to escape they surrounded the engine, and the engine was afraid to move. In a few moments, however, the police fired a volley dispersing the crowd for a brief period, and the engine turned on full steam and got away with his men. Stones were now thrown which fell fast about the heads of the police, whereupon Chief John Fry gave the order to fire. At the first volley the mob fell back and were seen to fall. Their retreat, however, was but momentary. They turned and with revolvers, stones and even a few shotguns they charged on the little band of policemen and made them fly for their lives. The policemen turned in their flight at short intervals and fired volley after volley at their pursuers, but the mob seemed thoroughly infuriated and smoking revolvers seemed to have no terrors for them. When the Lehigh Railroad crossing was reached a passing freight train blocked the progress of the police, two of whom were caught and brutally beaten. One of them, Stiney Yacopsky, will die.

TWENTY STRIKERS WOUNDED.

It is estimated that upwards of one hundred shots were fired, and the wonder is that more fatalities did not result. More than twenty strikers, all of whom were foreigners, were shot, and at least two of them will die.

Many of the merchants and politicians are refusing to sign the call for troops, fearing that the miners will boycott them after the trouble is over and, as the Governor has made the sending of troops contingent on the petition of citizens, there is some doubt as to whether they will be sent. The streets late Wednesday night were still crowded with people, but everything is quiet.

THE MILITIA ORDERED OUT.
HA RISSBURG, July 30.—The Eighth and Twelfth regiments of the Third Brigade and the Governor's Troop have been ordered to proceed to Shenandoah. The order was issued by Adjutant General Stewart, after a consultation with General Gobin over the reports from Shenandoah. Deputy Sheriff Beddal asked for troops at once, saying murder and bloodshed had already occurred, and another clash between the strikers and police might take place at any moment.

Governor Stone has been informed of the critical situation and is on his way to Harrisburg from the Adirondacks. He will arrive some time tomorrow afternoon and take such further measures as may be necessary to quell the disorder.

ADDITIONAL LOCALS

The annual fantastic parade given under the auspices of the Pleasant Gap band will take place at Pleasant Gap, on Saturday evening Aug. 9th. The parade will form at 6:30 o'clock.

George C. Haney, of Mill Hall, had stolen from him a horse of the following description:—"Bay, blind in right eye, bobbed tailed, mane clipped, hind feet white, weight about 925 pounds." It was hatched in a top buggy and the owner will be glad to get any information concerning his loss.

A WELL SPENT LIFE.—Miss Nancy Pearce, one of the most exemplary and well-known citizens of Penns valley, passed away at her home at Potter's Mills on Saturday the 27th after a long illness. Funeral services were held on Tuesday morning by the Rev. T. W. Haven pastor of the Penns valley circuit, and interment was made in the Spruce town burying ground.

Miss Pearce was a daughter of Rev. Maraduke Pearce, one of the pioneer Methodist preachers of this county, and was eighty seven years of age. Her entire life was spent in the county and for many years she and her sister Jane have resided at the old home at Potter's Mills. She was a great Bible student and it is said that during the last thirty years of her life she had not failed to read the inspired book entirely through each year. She was a life-long member of the Methodist Episcopal church and a lovely, earnest christian. She is survived by her sister Jane and her brother Rev. John J. Pearce, of Conneaut Ohio, as well as several nieces and nephews among whom are Mrs. Margaret Hutchinson of Howard street, Mrs. John McCormick of State College, and Charles Pearce Hughes, Esq., of Erie.

A REMARKABLE RECORD.—Moses Chamberlain, one of the oldest citizens of the State and a prominent business man in his day, died Tuesday morning at his home in Milton aged 91 years. He was an honored member of the Methodist Episcopal church and gave generously to its work and missions. He is survived by his daughter, Mrs. A. O. Furst, of this place, and three sons, William and Frank, of Milton, and James, of Harrisburg.

By his death is ended one of the strangest chapters in genealogical records of the century. His father, Col. William Chamberlain, commanded a New Jersey regiment at the battle of Germantown during the war of the Revolution. He was married four times and had in all twenty-three children the eldest of whom, Levin, born 1759, was killed at the battle of Germantown, and the youngest of whom was the subject of this sketch. Thus one hundred and twenty-five years have passed since the death of the oldest son until that of the youngest. The elder Chamberlain, Col. William, was born in 1738 and his fourth wife died in 1859 just one hundred and one years after the date of her husband's first marriage.

Mrs. Margaret Eldred, who was in her 79th year, passed away at her home in Mackeyville, on Friday night, after having been prostrated since December with paralysis. Deceased was an earnest member of the Presbyterian church. She is survived by one son and three daughters. Interment was made on Monday afternoon at 2:30 in Cedar Hill cemetery.

DEATH OF AN OLD CITIZEN.—John Gheuer, one of the well known characters of Half Moon valley and a type of the thrifty, German settlers, fast passing away, died at his home near Sootia on Wednesday night. He had been ailing for four or five years and his death was caused by a general breaking down of the system.

He was a native of Germany and was about seventy-four or five years of age. He was an honest, upright citizen and a quiet, industrious man. He was twice married and is survived by his second wife and seven of his eight children, Jacob, William and David by the first wife, Mary, Dora, Wilson and Susan by the second. He was a loyal Democrat and an earnest member of the U. B. church. Funeral services will be held at his home this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock by the Rev. Aikens. Interment will be made in the Pine Hill cemetery.

The body of the late Captain James A. Leyden, who died at Ft. Sheridan near Chicago on the 10th of April '97, after a few days illness of pneumonia, is to be brought here on Saturday for interment in the family plot in the Union cemetery. At the time of his death, which was very unexpected, arrangements were made here for his burial. Mrs. Leyden was so ill at the time that it was impossible for her to make the journey and it was thus decided to make the interment at Ft. Sheridan until the time arrived for the final obsequies here. Captain Leyden was the eldest son of the late Daniel and Louise Alexander Leyden, who were well known throughout this part of the state. He was graduated from West Point in 1879 and though his career was brought to a close far too soon it was one of brilliancy and much ability.

A LITTLE CHILD.—Margaret Fortney Hunt, Mr. and Mrs. William T. Hunt's dear little nine months old daughter, died Sunday morning at her parents home in Renovo, after one day's illness of catarrh of the bowels. She was an only child and consequently fairly idolized by her father and mother, who was Mable Woodring of this place. Her parents accompanied by their pastor and several friends arrived here on the 9:53 train Tuesday morning with the body which was taken direct to the Union cemetery. There burial services were conducted by Rev. Cook, of Renovo, and Rev. Dr. Laurie, of this place. Interment was made in the Woodring lot.

Mrs. Hansey, aged only 19 years, and leaving a husband and an infant, died at her home at Beech Creek Sunday morning and was buried Monday afternoon. Her maiden name was Coffey.

THE SCHOOL BOARD'S STATEMENT.—The Bellefonte school board has filed its annual report and but for its extreme length we would give it place in these columns. It goes into detail fully and much that it shows is known to those interested in the success of our schools. It is full of intimations of improvements and were we not cognizant of the fact that our schools are not a whit better than they should be, a reading of the report would leave us under the impression that they are far ahead of those of other towns.

The financial statement that makes up a goodly part of the report, is clear and explicit. It shows that the school debt is $29,000. That including a payment of $1,000 on that indebtedness, and $896,000 to the sinking fund account the total expenditures for school purposes, and interest on school debt, for the past year, was $18,894.25.

That portion of the report that will most interest the tax-payers is given in the following itemized statement.

SALARIES OF TEACHERS.
D. O. Eters, as fixed in 1901 for 3 yrs. per year.....$1,600

It would be a good thing and most highly satisfactory to the town's taxpayers if the other departments of the borough government would give them as intelligible and frank a statement of their financial conditions.

Some Curious Entries in an Old Docket.

When the late Marion Petriken died she made many bequests, both to the public and to individuals who had won her preference either through ties of friendship or relation. They varied in value all the way from the splendid High street property, which she gave to the W. C. T. U., and upon which Petriken hall now stands a monument to her memory, to little trinkets that had no more value than that placed upon them by their recipients because they had once been hers.

To Hardman Petriken Harris, a distant relative and namesake of her only brother, she left her library. It comprised a collection of books more curious and interesting, from an antiquarian standpoint, than because of their literary standard. They are a constant revelation to their new possessor, for almost daily they reveal some secret of the early days in Bellefonte. Some time ago Mr. Harris uncovered an old Justices' Docket, in a splendid state of preservation, and covering all the business that came before William Petriken, Justice of the Peace, from March, 1810, to August, 1821.

As it will be impossible to publish all of the entries, we will confine this article to only such as involve names that are likely to be known and crimes that are of especial interest.

It will be a matter of general interest to know that Justice Petriken was very hard on persons arrested for swearing. Inasmuch as this matter has been repeatedly called to the attention of the authorities of the present day, this voice from 1810 comes as a grave demonstration to Burgess Blanchard and his policemen, for tolerating the profanity that is heard on all sides. The good they tried to do in that direction, however, had its evil counterpart in the number of under-brush cases. Nearly every other entry in the docket is of that sort. In fact, there are so many of them that those who are appalled at the number returned at the quarter-sessions court, nowadays, can take heart that the present generation are not nearly as bad in this particular way as their ancestors must have been.

Another notable entry is the commitment of James Monks, the county's first murderer, which, with a number of others, is herewith published.

Commonwealth vs. Larceny of the goods of James McElberry to wit: John Fleck } One jug and two quarts of whiskey in it on the 15th of March, 1810. Held in $100 bail.

Commonwealth vs. For swearing twenty-seven for use of poor of f) profane oaths by the Sacred Spring township, names of God and Jesus vs. Christ, William Smith, com. Selvey Blake } stable of Spring township prosecutes ex-officers. Offense committed on the 4th of July, 1811. Warrant issued on the 4th and within the seventy-two hours limited by law. Witnesses for prosecution, Arche Bathurst, Hugh Riddle and Thomas Holt.

Forfeit.....$18.00
Justices' costs.....1.10
For witnesses one day each.....1.00
Con't Little......1.50
$21.60.

Commonwealth vs. Larceny, stealing sixty heads of cabbage, the property of Philo G. Lewis. Warrant issued October 29th, 1811.

Commonwealth vs. Breach of the Sabbath Day, the Lord's day commonly called Sunday, by driving a team loaded with bar-iron through the streets of Bellefonte Borough on Sunday the 12th day of January, 1812. Warrant issued on the 4th and returned by Samuel Fleck constable, with defendant in custody and on hearing before William Petriken and Elisha Moore Esq., defendant was convicted.

John Stewart was arrested the same day for the same offense and was also convicted. Each had to forfeit $6.00, but Roland Curbin came forth and engaged to pay it for them.

Commonwealth vs. Larceny, stealing one axe, the property of Jackson Miles, on the night of Jan. 22nd, 1812.

It will be seen from this that Bill Carr must have been in the stealing business long about that time.

Commonwealth vs. Charge, swearing six profane oaths on this day Feb. 13th, 1812, in the borough of Bellefonte. Prosecuted by James Rothrock, one of the overseers of said borough.

Forfeit.....$1.02
Justices' costs......03
Con't Little......03
4.81

Commonwealth vs. For being intoxicated for the poor of Bellefonte on the 23rd day of Nov., 1812. Convicted on his own confession by James Curry } to pay following fine and costs.

Fine.....$1.00
Justices' costs......09
Swearing warrant......37
$1.46

Commonwealth vs. Swearing one profane oath by the name of God in view and hearing of William Petriken, one of the Justices of the Peace for Centre county within the said Borough on the 11th of April 1812.

Forfeit.....$0.67

Commonwealth vs. Larceny, Taking 3 ounces of thread from Catherine & Robert Raymond } Gersentimer on the 12th of May, 1815. Held for trial.

Commonwealth vs. Madamcanor, Giving whiskey clandestinely to John L. Brown } the prisoners in the Gaol of Centre county. Warrant issued July 17th, 1815.

Commonwealth vs. Charged with seducing a certain Polly Grimes, black woman, from the service of Nancy Hays who claims her as her slave and entertaining the said Polly in his own house in the Borough of Bellefonte. Held in $100 bail for court.

Commonwealth vs. Charge of contempt of the administration of Justice, committed by defendant before one, William Petriken, one of the Justices of the Peace by calling William Alexander, of Bellefonte, a villain and after being ordered by me not to use such language to a witness the said defendant did again call the said William Alexander a villain and a rascal.

According to the docket Matsey was held for court in default of $100 bail. What a change between then and now. In these days of grace lawyers call each other any old thing they please and an ex-Governor even charges a Legislator with being a "liar and a thief" right before the very eyes of Justice.

The Docket is full of such interesting entries and is in such a good state of preservation as to make it readily intelligible to any reader. Doubtless, if you are interested in a further perusal of its contents Mr. Harris will permit you to look over it.

THE DR. WOLF RE-UNION.—All arrangements have been perfected for the reunion and celebration of the Fiftieth anniversary of the work of Dr. D. M. Wolf as an educator. Advices from his former pupils indicate a very large attendance upon this occasion, the 7th of August, at Allison's Grove, Spring Mills. Efforts are being made to secure excursion rates between Bellefonte and Rising Springs and Coburn and Rising Springs and if possible a special train will be secured from Rising Springs to Bellefonte. There is perhaps no one in Central Pennsylvania who has contributed so largely to the advancement of human character and the elevation of young men as has Dr. Wolf, and the project which has originated in the minds of some of his pupils is a very fitting tribute to the splendid work he has been doing in the last half century.

Spring Mills.

Merchant O. T. Corman is largely engaged in the lively business.

Mrs. Lucinda Runkle had her dwelling thoroughly painted last week. It now presents a fine appearance.

A variety show called the Sensation circus was here on Saturday evening last, but owing to other attractions, there were no audience and of course no show.

The festival on Saturday evening last gotten up by the ladies of the Lutheran church for the benefit of their building fund, was largely attended. About everything was disposed of, and of course the sum realized proved highly satisfactory.

Over 500 invitations have been extended to parties residing out of Centre county, to attend the half century anniversary of Dr. Wolfe's teaching in the 8th prox. Of course no invitations have been sent to anyone residing in the county. They are all expected.

Quite a lively social assembly at the residence of J. F. Breen on Friday evening last, as a surprise party to Mrs. Breen it being her 64th birthday. Supper was announced at 9 o'clock, and the party entered the dining room and enjoyed a meal fit for the gods. The occasion was a very enjoyable one, and at a reasonable hour all retired after wishing Mrs. Breen many returns of the day.

Howard.

Miss Ella Fletcher is visiting friends in Milesburg this week.

W. E. Ertle, wife and three children spent Sunday at Lock Haven.

Rev. Schriest, of Lock Haven, spent Monday visiting friends.

We are sorry to note that Mrs. A. A. Schenck is not so well this week.
