Paid before expiration of year....... 1.50

Paid after expiration of year 2.00

Democratic State Ticket.

For Governor: ROBERT E. PATTISON, of Philadelphia. For Lieutenant Governor:

GEORGE W. GUTHRIE, of Allegheny. Secretary of Internal Affairs: JAMES NOLAN, of Berks.

The County Ticket. For Assembly:

J. W. KEPLER, of Ferguson Twp.
J. H. WETZEL, of Bellefonte H. WETZEL, of Bellefonte.

For Sheriff: H. S. TAYLOR, of Bellefonte. For Register:

A. G. ARCHEY, of Ferguson Twp. For Recorder :

JNO. C. ROWE, of Philipsburg. For Treasurer :

W. J. CARLIN, of Miles Twp. For Commissioner: HUMPTON, of Snow Shoe Twp. P. H. MEYER, of Harris Twp.

For Auditor : J. H. BECK, of Walker Twp. W. H. TIBBENS, of COLLEGE TWP.

Democratic County Committee Meeting

The Democratic County Committee will meet in the arbitration room in the court house, Bellefonte, Pa., on Monday aftering is the selection of a candidate for a Coroner and to arrange for the coming | way of office. person, or if this is not possible, see that a there in his stead.

JOHN J. BOWER, S. D. GETTIG, Secretary

The Republican County Convention.

Continued from page 1. For Auditor Archibald Allison,

Gregg, and H. B. Pontius, of Bellefonte, were chosen upon motion of T. M. Gramley. There" who failed to get in 1898, arose in in the morst grand-illoquent manner and presented the name of J. N. Schoonover for the office. Eli made all sorts of predictions about the election of the ticket. But it must be remembered that he once offered to give his head for a football if he wasn't elected to the Assembly and judging from good his promise. It was a pleasant sight not run back far to discover him shaking his clenched fists from the very chair in which he was waiving the olive branch on Tuesday. When Eli had gotten through Dr. Bilger presented Jas. B. Strohm, of Potter Just why James put himself in the hands of the veterinarian so early in the race we don't know, but he'll need a horse doctor in November, for he will certainly be among the "also rans".

For Coroner Dr. S. M. Huff, of Milesburg, was unanimously chosen and that ended the ticket making.

AUNT CLEMINTINA GOES DOWN. The only real interest in the convention centered in the instruction of congressional conferees. There were two aspirants for the honor; Clement Dale Esq. and Dr. M. J. Lock. The former had everything in support of his candidacy; long residence in the county, large family connections and a stalwart Republican record, but the machine wanted Locke and he was given the endorsement, with authority to name his own conferees.

If "man's in graditude to man makes countless millions mourn" the numerous Dales in Centre county have ample reason to grieve over the treatment accorded their aunt Clementina. And probably all of them do feel badly but their 'Cousin Jack' and his face was beaming like a full moon.

The bearded lady has figured often in Centre county politics. In 98 she was a factor until Arnold sent her back to her knitting. Previous to that time she had covered many a Quay scheme in the broad folds of her skirts. In 1900 she was in bed with doubtful DANIEL and on Tuesday both sides took a hand-ful of her whiskers so that she was permanently disfigured as a political curio.

PATTON ENDORSED FOR SENATE Upon motion of S. M. Miller, of Philipsburg, Col. A. E. Patton, of Curwensville was endorsed for the State Senate. with authority to select his own conferees.

AN EFFORT TO TIE REEDER'S HANDS. After J. S. McCargar had made another of those deaf and dumb speeches of his placing W. F. Reeder in nomination for hairman for 1903 the convention took the dose and acted favorably, but no sooner had the vote been taken than the Burgess of Bellefonte arose and read a lengthy lot of said to-day that this growth was accounted rules that were proposed for the govern-ment of the Republican party in Centre county. It was thought to be an opportune time for such an effort, as the regular rules of the party is away off in Carlsbad and anything on paper might be accepted as being better than such orders as doubtful Daniel sees fit to give them from time to time. So far as the reading was concerned it went lovely and Ned Chambers was in Jehn Reavis in the office of the Overland thing" so that Eli could hear and Eli was on his feet in an instant in endorsement of from him and heat his head to a jelly with my Sherlock Holmes Mitchell to know what it all meant. Of course that astute adviser to his doubtful excellency informed the Colonel that Will Gray had prepared the rules at Love's behest and then Reeder took a hand. He told the convention fairy tales about other rules being in course of preparation just as soon as the smart people of Cameron county could get them ready, Johnny Gowland blinked once or twice and it was all over. That meant that the Blanchard rules would be referred to Colonel Reeder's committee for report next year or any other old time he cares to act

No one has seen Willie Gray since, but he has probably had another nervous collapse and will have to go back to Atlantic City so that Beckwith's trial can be postponed

The whole scheme was to tie Reeder's hands up. The proposed rules were harmless enough in everything but the plan to permit each precinct to elect its own pre-cinct chairman, which the Love people thought ought to be done, especially after the manner in which Reeder tore the South ward committee up some time ago.

THE RESOLUTIONS. The report of the resolutions committee was not long enough to embrace any endorsement of the present state administra-tion, though Hard Harris and all the other Insurgent satellites of a year ago yelled 'aye," to the plank endorsing cousin Matt's cousin Pennypacker.

On the whole the convention had a superficial barmony that was amusing. Everything had been agreed to the night before, when the ticket was made up and the fel lows who were not needed were sent away back up stage to play thinking parts. Among them was Edward McKinley, of Milesburg, who was of the opinion that his ten children platform would go for another campaign, but Reeder said nay and Edward is now talking about running independent

They had a great time finding a legislative candidate Monday night. Hon. William Allison could not be used again for fear Thompson's friends would knife him, noon, August the 25th, 1902, at 12:45 so Col. W. Fred Reynolds, John Knisely, noon, August the 25th, 1902, at 12:45 S. H. Bennison and Edmund Blanchard o'clock sharp. The purpose of the meet-were all talked of, but James B. Strohm was considered to be the right party, be cause he has never had anything in the

It was amusing, after the convention campaign. We would urge that every had concluded its work, to hear the member of the committee be present in speeches. All of the candidates were called on and responded; the new Congressman's essay drawing the prize for being regularly constituted substitute will be the best steal. When he opened up he frankly acknowledged that he had been told in the morning that he was to get the endorsement and should hunt up a speech somewhere. Some of the post-masters who wanted to hold their jobs called for Col. Reeder and that was the saddest moment of his life, for he didn't dare tell about how Matt has made him the big boss and how he expects to run things in the future, for part of the harmony deal was that Reeder shouldn't talk and he had to acknowledge that he wasn't to make a speech. This instance, alone, explains the kind of harmony that tied all mouths shut for When nominations for Assembly were fear the whole thing would break out inandeclared in order Eli Townsend, the "Git other eruption like it did in the days when Steele Crissman and Eli Townsend and Ned Chambers et al were calling the Hastings people liars and thieves and when doubtful Daviel was hurling expletives of the vilest kind upon the man whom he had helped to elect to the last Legislature.

Bids for the New Capitol.

HARRISBURG, August 5 .- The meeting his talk on Tuesday he must have made of the capitol building commission was held in this city to-day at which it was decided to open bids publicly at noon on September to behold him dwelling in harmony with 6th at the executive department. The bids his fellows, for the memory of man need must be sealed and delivered to the commission in an envelope of uniform size to be furnished by the secretary of the commission. The blue prints may be seen and specifications had at the office of Joseph M. Hustin, of Philadelphia, architect for the building in Philadelphia.

Compares Taylor to a Jingo.

BERLIN, August 4.—The utterances attributed to Rear Admiral Taylor, of the United States navy, as to the probable conflict between Germany and the United States in 1907, was printed conspicuously here. The Tageblatt says it requires all the wrong headness of the jingo, combined with complete ignorance of European affairs to imagine that Germany intends to annex the Netherlands. Any German Admiral so indiscreet, the Tageblatt continues, would be relieved of his duties immediately.

Ex-Senator Cameron Injured.

LONDON, August 4.-While former United States States Senator J. Don Cameron and Mrs. Cameron were driving this afternoon from Fort William, in shire, Scotland, to Inverlochy castle, Lochabar, which he has leased for the summer. the horses shied and the carriage collided with a cart. Both Mr. and Mrs. Cameron were thrown out, and the Senator was severely injured in the groin. With the exception of the shock, Mrs. Cameron was Big Fire in Small Village.

Belleville, Mifflin County, Visited by a Conflag

LEWISTOWN, August 4.—The village of Belleville was visited by fire this afternoon that threatened the destruction of the business part of the town. There being no fire department, help was asked of this town and a fire company from here responded. The properties destroyed were the Eagle hotel, Belleville depot, bank, post-office and store-room, three dwelling houses and three stables. Loss, $30,000; insurance Fully 10,000 New Pensioners.

WASHINGTON, August 4.—Commission er of Pensions Ware to-day said that legislation enacted by the last session of Congress will result in at least fully 10,000 new pensioners. The number of pensioners on July 1st of this year was 999,446 for by the constant new pension legislation by Congress.

They Killed Each Other. ST. PAUL, August 4.-A Fort Benton, Mont., special says: Last night in a quarrel over a card game John Allen, a the back-ground to shout "That's a good hotel, at this place. Before Reavis fell he their adoption. Meanwhile Reeder was up against a last chance and slid over to Tom-

A Most Disgraceful Record.

Oleo Bill" and His Work as a Public Official. For Everything that was Wrong and for the Ring all the Time. A Subservient Tool of the Machine and a Supporter of Every Corrupt Measure in the Legislature.

Senator Quay's candidate for Lieutenant Governor is soliciting support for himself on a strange platform.

"I wasn't a member of the last Legislature; I didn't vote for any of the bills the people are complaining about; why should I be held responsible for them?" Brown asks, when confronted with the record of the Quay machine.

And what Mr. Brown says is true, for he was not a member of the 1901 Assembly. As Lawrence county's Representative in the State Senate during the sessions of 1899, however, William M. Brown made a record that will rise before him many times during the present campaign. In that great gallery of Legislators who have betrayed their constituencies while serving Senator Quay and his machine, there is a picture of this Quay candidate. For his services to the boss he has been rewarded with the nomination for the Lieuten-

ALWAYS READY TO TURN, IN.

Brown didn't vote for any of the steal legislation or pinch bills that made the last session so universally notorious, but he voted for the same sort of bills during the sessions of '97 and '99, every time they were presented by a Quay Senator, and every time Brown's boss gave orders for the passage of such bills. During both of these sessions he earned for himself the reputation of being one of the most abject and obedient tools of Quayism.

Aside from the position he assumed on the oleomargarine question, which brought him the title of "Oleo Bill," his most daring piece of work during the '99 session was to champion the "McCarrell jury bill." When the bill was offered Senator Quay was under indictment in the Philadelphia courts. In a short time he was to be tried on a charge of fraudulently using the state treasury funds.

The "McCarrell bill" was intended to prevent Quay's conviction. Though the whole Assembly was absolutely bossed by Quay and the Quay machine, public sentiment was too great to admit of the bill's passage, the Democrats and independent Republicans standing unitedly against it. Fearing the wrath of their constituents at home, one or two of the least harmful of the Quay men also refused to vote for it, though it was passed by the Senate, in which body "Oleo Bill" made several speeches in its interest. Quay then pleaded the statute of limitations.

RANK STEALS UPHELD.

In 1897 Brown voted for what was probably the worst expense bill ever presented in any of Pennsylvania's Assemblies. It amounted to $65,000, and was alleged to have been contracted by a legislative investigating committee delegated to examine into the municipal governments of Philadelphia and Pittsburg. This whole movement was an effort on Quay's part to frighten the municipal machines of the two big cities into his support-it was purely a spite measure in Quay's personal interest. Senator "Bull" Andrews, who was an intimate friend of Brown, was chairman of the committee. Its sessions were avowedly for the purpose of punishing Quay's enemies, and not one whit of good was accomplished by it at any time.

In the bill presented by Andrews railroad tickets to the extent of several thousands of dollars were charged up, although it was well known that every member of the committee had free transportation. Tomatoes were charged to the State at $2 apiece, and asparagus at $1 a portion. It contained all manner of hair-raisers, including whiskey and cigars without limit.

ALL QUAY FAKES SUPPORTED. Brown championed this outrageous bill in the Senate, when it was passed,

During the 1897 session Brown also voted for all of the Quay fake reform bills, and refused to lend any assistance whatever toward the passage of fair primary or election laws. He voted for the legislative junketing trips to New York when the Grant monument was dedicated, and to Philadelphia when the Washington monument was unveiled. The bills presented for the entertainment of the Legislators on costly champague, rich food and choice cigars ran way up into the thousands of dollars, but Brown voted for them. They were too flagrantly corrupt for even Governor Hastings to endorse and he vetoed them

No Legislature since has had the nerve to again pass the bills, and the men who furnished food and booze to Brown and his fellow-Legislators are still waiting for their pay, though at each session since the bills were contracted measures have been offered having payment of the accounts as their purport.

All through the senatorial deadlock of the session of 1899 Brown voted for Quay for United States Senator.

He voted for the confirmation of all of Stone's appointees, including Elkin and Reeder, who had been invited out of the Hastings' administration. When Sergeaut-at-Arms Harrah, of the Senate, presented enormous expensive bills in the Heller-Laubach contested senatorial election case for Northampton county, Brown voted to pay them all, for Harrah was the friend of Brown voted to pay the exorbitant bills in the Shiffler-Leh contest in Northampton county, and the Saunders-Roberts legislative contest in Philadel-

THE SPECIAL CHAMPION OF THE OLEO TRUST.

Brown was the especial champion of the oleo trust, which explains the name"Oleo Bill." When Senator Rice, of Bucks, introduced an anti-oleo measure in the Senate, Brown tried to have it killed in committee without a hearing or any publicity. In this he failed. He made a speech against it on the floor of the Senate, defending "bull butter" and the oleo trust in Chicago. He was one of the four to vote against it when the measure finally passed.

Anything Quay or the machine wanted was fair in Brown's eyes. He was for the machine and himself first and the people of the State and his senatorial district when the "old man" did not require his services. No item of expense incurred by the machine was too unreasonable for the State to pay.

In consideration of the distinguished service rendered to the machine and boss, Quay promised, three years ago, to give Brown the nomination he now has -not because of any loyalty or service to his party, but because he served Quay faithfully and well.

BERLIN, August 5 .- Ambassador White mailed his resignation to the United States several days ago. It is to take effect early in November.

Ambassador White's Resignation.

ADDITIONAL LOCALS - Arrangements have been made where-valley railroad, with the exception of No. 52, the noon train east, will stop at Miles' woods east of Martha station, on the 16th, when the Williams family reunion will be held at that place.

-Over three-hundred and fifty people were present at the basket picnic at the old Cambridge homestead on the mountain south of Unionville on Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Earon were the host and hostess of the day and their generous hospitality and complete arrangements were greatly enjoyed by every one present. of the ceremonies and Finkbinder, the -Mrs. Mary Ann Johnson gave a very pleasant party on Tuesday evening in honor of her guests Mrs. Tanner and Miss Bennett, of Pittsburg. Not a man was present. The hotess evidently supposed the men of her acquaintance—since they are so shy in attending prayer meetings and temperance talks-would neither appreciate a lot of good things to eat or some by all passenger trains on the Bald Eagle fine music and confined her invitations to the women. Forty or more were present and during the evening a number of songs were sung by Miss Rebecca Rhoades, Miss Louise Calloway and Miss Blanche Hayes.

-Judge Keller, of the West Virginia federal court, who granted the injunction against president John Mitchell and others of the United Mine Workers of America restraining them from interfering with the operation of mines in West Virginia, is a native of this county. He is a brother of the late D. S. Keller, of this place, and the uncle of Harry Keller Esq. Judge Keller was but recently elevated to the bench in Great long tables were spread out under that district. He is a graduate of The the trees and eighty-five guests were serv- Pennsylvania State College and was one of during the day. ed at once. John Daley acted as master the distinguished guests at the last commencement exercises there.

Subscribe for the WATCHM AN'

THE DR. WOLF JUBILEE.-The golden anniversary of Rev. Dr. Wolf's service as a school teacher in Centre county, at Spring Mills, yesterday proved all that good weather and a large crowd could make it. The program was carried out as previously announced in these columns.

It was estimated that there were from twelve to fifteen hundred present, many of them being persons from a great distance who had been students of Dr. Wolf.

--- Should this edition of the WATCH-MAN appear a little collicky you can blame it all on Fred Musser, Platt-Barber & Cos. hustling salesman in this section. Within the past ten days he has flooded Bellefonte with water melons and cantaloupes; no less than three car loads being disposed of within the week. On Wednesday evening he sent the jumbo one of them all up to this office and the force fell to at once to can be out of bed about fifteen minutes each try to dispose of it, but the whole crowd stalled. Even the "devil," who has an appetite that would make a healthy tapeworm appear snippy, had to give up and there is still some melon left. How Mr. Musser sells such monsters at 15c to 20c is hard to imagine but he does and isn't in business for his health either.

Pine Grove Mention.

Harvest home picnic at Baileyville next

The ball boys cleared fifty dollars at their festival on Saturday evening. Charles Wright and wife, of Half Moon, spent Sunday at J. D. Tanyer's. Oliver Gibbony, of Saulsburg, is spending his vacation at the St. Elmo.

Our worthy friend D. L. Dennis is recover. ing from a severe bilious attack.

Isaac Watts, of Stonevalley, visited friends here the beginning of the week.

Mrs. G. W. Thorp, of Virginia, is visiting relatives and friends in this section. Harvest home services will be held in the Lutheran church on Sunday morning.

I. J. Dreese, the popular and obliging agent at Lemont, was entertained at J. B. Ard's on The missionary society will have a lawn social in Ripka's park on Tuesday evening, The Graysville congregation have called Rev. R. Campbell, of Port Royal, for their Miss Matilda Fortney, of Tusseyville, is spending a week at grandpa Fortney's on the Branch.

A. F. Smith. D. G. Meek's farmer, is receiving congratulations over the arrival of a voung daughter.

and Albert Musser, in Clearfield. Mrs. George H. Woods and her little son

George returned home Saturday from a visit in the western part of the State. J. H. Miller, of Tyrone, the flour and feed man well known here, is off to St. Paul and Minneapolis on an extended trip. Mrs. Thomas Gates, of Altoona, and her baby daughter, Sarah, is visiting her mother at the old Gardner home at the Glades. Miss Sallie Black, of Tyrone, who was here visiting her brother, was called home on Monday on account of the death of her aunt. That jolly good fellow J. M. Watt, of Tyrone, and his estimable wife were entertained at A. M. Brown's splendid home on Mon-

Rev. J. A. Adair and wife, of Indiana, passed through town on Saturday en route to Stone valley where the Rev. has some earthly

Mrs. William Fleming and her son and daughter of Salem, W. Va., are visiting old acquaintances here with headquarters at J.

B. Ward's. A. M. Brown shipped a car load of fresh cows and springers to Mt. Joy last week. Charley Stem secured a lot of cattle and hogs for the Altoona market.

Rev. J. I. Stoneschypher, of Hartleton, will preach a trial sermon in the Boalsburg Lutheran church next Sunday. He is an aspirant for Rev. Lescher's place,

Next Saturday afternoon State College, Pine Grove, Baileyville, and Stormstown and Baileyville and Gatesburg will contest for the ball championship at the Baileyville

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. McWilliams, their son Henry, and Mrs. J. G. Bailey attended the funeral of Mrs. J. C. Cummings at McAlevy's Fort. Mrs. Cummings was probably better known as Miss Aggie Barr and had many acquaintances and relatives in this valley. She was sick only three weeks with tuberculosis and died on the third. Her funeral was the largest ever seen in that section.

Frank Weaver, of State College, has been appointed mail carrier in place of L. H. Osman, who resigned. His son Edward will be his deputy. Over one hundred pieces of mail were distributed on Monday over route No. 1. In depositing mail in the boxes along the route the flag must be raised to avoid delays as the carrier is not supposed to know there is any mail in the boxes unless the flag

Mrs. Wister and daughter, Mrs. Spangler, spent a few days at Mill Hall this week. Mrs. George Thomas, who was quite sick ast week is better at this writing.

Dr. Beck, of Mill Hall, was seen shaking hands with his many friends on Tuesday. M. I. Gardner and wife, of Bellefonte, pent Sunday with his parents in this place. We are sorry to say that Mrs. A. A. Schenck, who has been sick, is much worse at present. Mrs. Sallie Askey Tipton, from Williamsport, was here in attendance at the funeral of Mrs. Laura Tipton Hunter. The M. E. Sunday school will hold a picric on Saturday in Schenck's centennial ground. They have invited ten other schools. There will be music by the band, and different games and races will take place

Anna, the seven-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Engle, died Tuesday evening at her parent's home in Roanoke, Va., and her remains were brought here on

The weather has been very hot of late.

William Coble is able to be around again. It seems by all reports that J. W. Tate is to be I. J. Dreese's farmer.

The Evangelical bush meeting will be held at Egghill on Sept. 22nd, 23rd and 24th. Otterbein Dale is back to work again after a long siege of inflammatory rheum atism. Miss Kittie Potter has been spending a few pleasant days at the home of Jno. I. Thomp-

Mrs. Etta Tate has returned home after an extended visit at the home of her father in Philipsburg.

I. J. Dreese and family are home again from their pleasant visit at the home of his

William Lytle is recovering very slowly from his attack of nervous neuralgia, and

Daniel Shuey has returned to work for Jno. I. Thompson, after on absence of about two years which he spent on the Reynold's The people along the rural free delivery routes are well pleased with the convenience afforded by the same and they cannot see how they got along without it for so long, but then others feel that it is only for the Aug. 16th the Sabbath schools of Centre Hall circuit of the United Evangelical church will meet at Centre Hall to hold a picnic, in which they invite all to join and have a day of pleasure. They expect to get reduced rates to all wishing to go by rail.

The Salvation Army people drove up to our burg on Thursday evening, Aug. 7th, and beld services in the United Evangelical church. They had a large crowd and the people were well pleased with the meeting and all would be pleased to have them come

The strike is beginning to disturb this part of the State, as the directors of College township will be compelled to try to use soft coal to warm the school rooms for a few months at least. Do not know how successful they will be, but it is the best that can be done, as none of the coal dealers will venture to make a contract to furnish the fuel needed.

This town will soon need a few officers of the law, as it appears that there are some people in or near it who take pleasure in taking what is, by right of law, the property of some one else. During the past few days, or rather nights, some person or persons entered the barber shop of Grant Meyers and took ten razors, a pair of shears and a pair of hair clippers and one other night the hen roost of Samuel Weaver was relieved of twenty-five nice young chickens, and at another time a square that was the property Miss Elsie Fortney and Mr. Earl Musser of John I. Williams was taken from the new and his sister Lillie are visiting Frank Smith | house that he is erecting for Dr. J. Y. Dale.

Spring Mills.

The K. G. E. comtemplate having a grand picnic during this month.

Miss Anna Corman left, last week, for Altoons, to visit her sister, Mrs. Roland Gent-The Spring Mills planing mill has been so ning at night. C. A. Krape, of the shoe emporium, has just had his store and post office building crowded with orders that the plant has not very handsomely painted and has also added several new improvements. Mrs. Mary Sherman, of Belvidere, Ill., daughter of Dr. J. B. Leitzell, a very prominent physician formerly of our village, is here visiting her uncle and aunt. Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Rearick has in his office a large globe shade over one of his acetylene gas burners. It almost equals an arc electric lamp in brilliancy. One great and important fact with this gas is, to use a common expression, just as safe as a tallow candle.

Merchant O. T. Corman is evidently the heaviest shipper of berries we have in the village. For the last ten days he has shipned on an average fifty bushels per day and has employed an extra force of men to put them in shipping order. For some time berries here have commanded good figures, but within a few days have become demoralized. and the prices of all kinds of berries have declined very considerably.

A day or two since I stepped into the factory office of J. I. Condo and discovered the old veteran carefully packing and rearranging some of his valuable relics of the civil war. Among quite a number of warlike implements was a gun screw driver and hand vice; odd looking things for the present time, a pair of well battered revolvers and a gun lock evidently of foreign make, also a very handsome silver fife which he found on the field at Appomattox. Mr. Condo is uncertain whether it is Confederate or Union property, besides many other articles unnecessary to mention at the present time. But the ear piercing fife he prizes very highly and plays on it frequently, and says that the shrill music always recalls the lively days he had with his comrades, and often too, the sad scene witnessed before grim visaged war had smoothed his wrinkled front. Mr. Condo has an inexhaustible fund of army jokes and yarns.

Mr. Lem Hipple Sundayed at Wm. Eck-Blackberries and huckleberries are all the go just now. Mr. Wm. Shawley and Miss May Walker are both on the sick list. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sayres are the happy parents of a young daughter. Harvey Heaton lost a valuable horse last week. Colic was the cause. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McCartney Sundayed with Jno. Watson, of Holt's Hollow.

Mrs. Rachel Walker and Miss Ida Walker, of Cato, are visiting in our neighborhood. Miss Minnie Hastings, of Lock Haven, is visiting her cousin Mable Boyer, of this

Mrs. Rachel Butler and Miss Gertrude Confer left, Thursday, for a visit to friends in Thursday for burial in Schenck's cemetery. DuBois, Reynoldsville and Brookville.