

Lemont.
Oscar Osman is home for a few days.
Miss Nellie Herman has gone to State College to work.
Clarence Houtz and wife and son Sundayed at the home of G. W. Williams.
Mrs. Armstrong and sons are guests at the John I. Thompson home for a few days.
Jacob Klingler, has been on the sick list of late, but has been improving slowly.
Miss Edna Clark was a pleasant caller at the home of Jacob Bortford during the week.
Mrs. Geo. Tibbens spent Sunday at the home of her parents, Geo. Scholl, of Houserville.
Mrs. Tabitha Brisbin is at Unionville visiting her many relatives in Bald Eagle valley.
Geo. R. Roan is improving the appearance of his home by having a new front porch built.
Mrs. Harvey Meese, of Peru, has moved to State College where she intends making her future home.
Miss Ruth Bortford has gone to Lewisburg to spend the winter as a student of Bucknell University.
Mr. and Mrs. John Close, of Oak Hall, are delighted over the arrival of a great big daughter.
Mrs. Sarah Bloom, of Nebraska, is here visiting at the home of her brother Andrew Whitehill.
Jas. Shugarts, of Altoona, came on Tuesday to visit at the home of Harry Burns, of Oak Hall, for a few days.
Misses Keath and Cassin have been enjoying the hospitality of the Dr. J. Y. Dale home for a few days.
We had heavy frosts in these parts on Saturday and Sunday morning but they did not do much damage.
Dr. Mary Thompson, of Altoona, has spent a few pleasant days at the home of her father, John I. Thompson.
William Shuey, has been quite ill of late. He has been threatened with the fever and does not appear to be improving much.
Miss Frances Woodring has gone to Stormstown, the home of her mother, to spend the winter and to go to school.
J. Oscar Williams and family have spent a very pleasant week reviewing old acquaintances and having a good time generally in this section.
The Misses Mayes, of Philipsburg, who have been the guests of Mrs. Frank Osman, of Puddingtown, for a few days, have returned to their home.
James Glenn and George Meyers have gone from our town, the former as a student at Millersville Normal and the latter to Franklin and Marshall.
Miss Miriam Dreese returned to Lock Haven to attend the Central State Normal school, and Miss Maud Mayes accompanied her, as she intends taking a course in the same school.
Clayton Eiters, of Oak Hall, has made another improvement in his mill by putting in a larger water-wheel to give more power to the mill so that he can meet the demands of his many customers.
Emanuel Shuey, one of the enterprising Illinois farmers, is here for a two weeks visit among his many friends, and he looks as fresh as he did when he went from this place many years ago.
John Meese, of Upper Sandusky, Ohio, has been circulating among his friends and as it is thirty-eight years since he went from these parts he has been almost forgotten by old acquaintances.
The "Feast of Seven Tables" held at the home of Rev. D. E. Hepler, on Friday evening, was quite a success and all that were there had a very pleasant evening and did not begrudge the time spent at the feast.
Miss Maud Moore, one of the educators from this place, has been elected an instructor in the East Stroudsburg Normal school and this week went to take up the duties of her new position which she will make a successful instructor.
Howard.
Balsler Weber departed on Tuesday for college.
We notice that house cleaning has begun in Howard.
Miss Anna Weber did some shopping in Bellefonte on Monday.
M. I. Gardner, of Bellefonte, visited our town on last Thursday.
We are sorry to say that John Weber is on the sick list at this writing.
We are glad to say that Mrs. B. Weber is improving at this writing.
Mrs. James Thomas, of Berwick, has been visiting here for the past week.
If rumors are true there will be a couple more weddings in town before long.
Mrs. Minnie Kling, of Philipsburg, visited friends and relatives here on Wednesday.
It is reported that Howard is to have another big store, also a new millinery store.
There has been two very heavy frosts at this place this week, but they did not seem to do much damage.
There will be no use for the Bellefonte sportsmen to come to Howard to fish any more for Bald Eagle is now controlled by the meat trust.
The remains of the four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Gardner, of Johnsonburg, were brought here on last Thursday. Funeral services were held in the Fairview church. Rev. Bair officiated and interment was made in Schenck's cemetery.
HOWARD'S CHAMPIONS.—The Howard base ball team crossed bats with the State College team on last Saturday, Sept. 13th, at Howard. The game began about half past two with a large crowd of spectators gathered at the athletic park to cheer our boys on to victory. The game was a very interesting one, for it meant for Howard, if they won the championship of Centre Co. The game was called at four o'clock as State team had to go home on the 4:14 train, State having 7 innings and Howard only 6, but when the score was 9 to 7 in Howard's favor great cheers went up from the crowd for the boys of Howard.

Pine Grove Mention.
Ada Koch is visiting friends in Millheim.
Snitzing parties and apple butter making are the rage now.
Seedling is mostly done and much of the corn is in shock.
Aaron Tressler, the obliging creamery man at Baileyville, Sundayed with C. B. McCormick.
A. M. Brown shipped to Lancaster a car load of fat cattle on Tuesday.
Mrs. Gustie King, of Altoona, is spending several weeks at her parental home on Main street.
Mrs. Will Wagner and her daughter, Helen, of Altoona, are attending the Granger picnic at Centre Hall.
Ernest Hess and Dice Thomas, two of the Branch farmers and their families are visiting relatives in Altoona.
Miss Maud Hunter, of Stormstown, was elected teacher of the Pine Hall school and began to teach last Monday.
Walter Weaver, a fireman on the main line from Altoona to Johnstown, is spending a few days with his family here.
Hon. John Hamilton, Secretary of Agriculture, will accept our thanks for a late edition of Smull's hand book.
Miss Rose Ruher, the accomplished daughter of Adam Bucher, of Altoona, is making a prolonged visit with Centre county friends.
The plumbers are at work in J. B. Heberling's home putting in a bath room, hot and cold water and all the modern improvements.
Isaac Martz, formerly of this place but now a Stone valley farmer, has turned out to be a full fledged sheep drover just as was expected.
Communion services will be held in the Presbyterian church next Sunday at 2:30 p. m. Preparatory services Friday evening and Saturday morning.
The carpenters are busy on James Reed's new house just north of Boalsburg, which will be when completed one of the most beautiful houses in Penns valley.
Joseph Hess, who was operated upon in the German hospital for appendicitis last week, is recovering as well as could be expected. His father, C. B. Hess, returned home on Friday.
Oliver Gibboney, of Saalsburg, and his little frau passed through town Saturday enroute to Boalsburg to visit Dr. Kidder. On their return they stopped at the St. Elmo and were royally entertained by the Randolphs.
Samuel Weber, son of John H. Weber, of Oak Hall, left for North Carolina last week to engage in college work. He is a State College graduate of the class of 1902 and is a most progressive as well as an industrious young man.
Rev. J. C. Stonescypher has accepted the call to the Shiloh, Boalsburg and Pleasant Gap Lutheran churches. The parsonage at Boalsburg is being repaired and just as soon as the improvements are completed the Rev. and his family will move in.
Will Swab, of Rock Springs, went to Bellefonte Monday to attend to a little business before spending the balance of the week with the Grangers at Centre Hall. We are willing to wager a quart of pickled onions that he will get as much fun out of the picnic as any one on the grounds.
The venerable John Morgan, of Wheeling, W. Va., is visiting Centre county relatives after an absence of fifty years. He is a native of Boalsburg and is one of the representative families of that section, but for many years has been contracting in West Virginia and as the saying goes is well heeled.
James A. B. Miller, one of Bellefonte's promising young lawyers, who has a fairly good clientage already, spent Sunday at the home of his father, D. L. Miller, at White Hall. He was accompanied by his estimable wife and family of little children who enjoyed their outing very much. They returned to their home on Monday.
James G. Fortney has decided to quit farming next spring on account of the condition of his health. Mr. Fortney has farmed the same farm, which is known to the older people as the Oliver Campbell farm, for 40 years. The Fortney home has always been a royal place to visit, for Mr. and Mrs. Fortney are both so genial and kind and the farm was always well stocked for the managers would neither tolerate nor stable cattle of an inferior breed or poor horses.
—It is the worst folly to lose sight of the work on earth while dreaming of the wages in heaven.

THE HOSPITAL.
BY M. V. THOMAS.
A pile of architecture, gloomy, tall,
Reared aloft amid the stately trees,
Where Nature's minstrels build their dainty homes,
And breathe their melody upon the breeze.
Without, Dame Nature, decked in brilliant hues;
Sweetly responsive to the beaming sun,
Sheds forth in smiles, the love-light of the heart
Discovering new beauties one by one.
Within those sombre walls behold the change.
The helpless victims of disease are found,
Sorrow, anguish and pain are gathered here.
Strong man, shorn of his strength, is helpless, bound.
As 'twere the Stygian river's gloomy banks,
The silent boatman lurks with muffled oar,
To seize each victim in his deadly grasp,
And bear him to the undiscovered shore.
But ministering angels flit about,
And hover o'er each struggling, sinking soul,
Striving to stay the icy hand of death.
And cause the stricken victim to be whole.
With soothing hand to cool the fevered brow,
With patient ear to hear the "Tale of woe,"
Low, tender voice to guide the erring one—
God bless them for the blessings they bestow.

Books, Magazines, Etc.
Richard Whiteing, the author of "No. 5 John Street," has written a novel, "The Yellow Van," a story of rural England, which is to appear first in The Century Magazine. The central figure is said to be an American woman who marries a great English landlord, and the plot tells of her experience in a strange land, the scenes belonging in the main to country life. In "No. 5 John Street" Mr. Whiteing sought to show the striking contrast between the life of the poor and the life of the rich in London. In "The Yellow Van" he contrasts the wonderful life in the country houses and the feudal system in its richness and pride with the dullness and squalor of village life.
