Mrs. Smith widow of associate Judge Smith is visiting friends at Centre Line. Frank Smith with his wife and family spent last week in Altoona with friends. Mrs. Susan Ghener, widow of the late John Ghener, is quite ill at her home near Benore. Daniel Driblebis is quite ill with congestion of the liver but his physician, Dr. Glenn, thinks he is improving.

Mr. Hall Musser with his wife and two bright little children are down from Altoon a visiting at the home of O. B. Krebs.

D. G. Meek is now sporting a fine new carriage. It is the work of John Weiland and is a splendid advertisement for his shop. C. M. Fry and wife, of Pittsburg, who have been sight-seeing at the national capitol for the past week, are visiting Centre county

Our hustling carriage maker, H. M. Krebs, attended the Pattison blow-out in Altoona on Saturday evening. Miss Maud Blair, a relative of Mrs. Krebs, is visiting their home on Main street.

Mr. Emanuel Shuey, who went West a score of years ago is now visiting the home of his boyhood near Houserville. He spent Monday in this section with the intention of becoming one of our farmers.

Al. Roberts, of Bellefonte, the well-known drummer boy of the 45th Penna. Vol., regiment, was circulating among his old comrades here on Tuesday and attending the Missionary convention.

The venerable J. J. Goheen, who although the oldest man in the township is yet hale and hearty, passed through town on Monday en route to Boalsburg for a few days. He was accompanied by his daughter Mrs. W. E. McWilliams.

David Nearhood has moved his saw mill to Fred Meyers' timber land near Fairbrook. The first bill of lumber he is to cut is for a new home on Mr. Meyers farm, which is probably better known to most of our readers as the old George Y. Meek farm. Robert Hoy is quite ill at the home of his father, Albert Hoy, with some serious trouble with his liver. He is home on a leave of absence from his position as agent for the Adams express company at Cumberland, Md., and it is hoped that his indisposition is only

Rev. C. T. Aikens is in Lock Haven this week wielding the gavel over the Central Pennsylvania synod, which convened in St. John's Lutheran church there, on Wednesday. He is president of the synod as well as one of the auditors. Henry Elder accompanied him as the lay delegate from the Pine Grove charge.

While returning from church, last Sunday, squire John H. Miller and his family were thoroughly shaken up. The horses frightened at something and soon were tearing along the road at a great rate. They turned the carriage over into a washout and the occupants were thrown out promiscuously Young Blair Miller, who was driving, fared a little worse than any of the rest. His face and head were badly bruised, while the others escaped with only a few bruises. The tongue, and whiffletrees were badly broken and the top of the carriage was a complete wreck so that H. M. Krebs is now in a job.

WOMAN'S HOME AND FOREIGN MISSION-ARY CONVENTION.—The twenty-third annu al meeting of the Woman's Home and Foreign missionary society of the Luthern church convened in this place on Monday evening at 7:30. The attendance of delegates was large and so many citizens attending all the sessions that standing room was at a premium. The convention was called to order by the president, Miss E. Cora Hollahan. Rev. C. T. Aikens conducted the devotional exercises and Mrs. Emma Meek welcomed the delegates in a very cordial and pleasing address. The president in responding to the address of welcome, expressed the hope that the meeting would be mutually beneficial as the Pine Grove society had been instrumental of much good. Short reports were given by all the delegates and Rev. J. M. Rearick, of Centre Hall, was the speaker of the evening. His subject was Mission Work.

On Tuesday morning the session was given over to the business of the convention. It was presided over by Mrs. Deliah Yoder, of Allenville, and reports were given by the secretaries of all the different departments of work. The afternoon session was in charge of Miss Lillian Stitzer, of Mifflinburg. The subject discussed was effective agencies for good in the Woman's Missionary society. Those who took part in the edifying proceedings were Mrs. H. C. Holloway. Bellefonte; Mrs. C. B. Harman, Rebersburg; Mrs. Ira Mechtley, Nittany; Mrs. W. H. Dolber, Belleville; Mrs. M. I. Potter, Middleburg. The evening session was crowded, jammed and those who made an extra effort to get in were fully repaid by the address of the Rev. J. A. Singmaster, D. D., of Gettysburg.

The Wednesday morning session was led by Mrs. H. C. Walker, of Lewistown. memorial services were held in memory of Mrs. Ella Fleming, of Belleville and other co-laborers who are no more. The speakers of the afternoon meeting were Mrs. George Wagoner, of Reedsville, and Miss Ada Burley, of Lock Haven, who talked on the lessons of the recent crisis in the work in India. During the childrens hour Mrs. Julia A. Deininger, of Middleburg made a pleasing address. Rev. A. Stewart Hartman. D. D, of Baltimore and who is the general secretary of the society, gave a very interesting account of the work done in the foreign fields.

The treasurer reported that $1,418,-77 had been contributed to the work during the past year by the society. Before the convention adjourned all of the officers were re-elected. Those in attendance were Miss Mary Himes, Mrs. Deliah Yoder, Allenville; Miss Lulu Stover, Mrs. Cyrus Showers, Dr. and Mrs. Holloway, Mrs. W. P. Kuhn, Bellefonte; Mrs. Dolber, Miss Linden Hall.
