THINGS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY

Next week the fair. Deputy recorder Ambrose Sloteman is ill at his home on Willowbank street. Examinations for clerk and carriers in the Philipsburg post-office will be held on Oct. 6th. Bert Blair left for Philadelphia on Monday afternoon to enter the University of Pennsylvania, Md. Gen. Jas. A. Beaver has been drawn as a juror for the United States court that convenes in Pittsburgh on Oct. 7th. Rev. Ellis Bell, presiding elder of Altoona district, will preach in the Methodist Episcopal church on Sunday evening. The performance of "the Pirates of Penzance" by Lock Haven amateurs netted $103.47. The gross receipts were $297.10. Headquarters have been opened by chairman Bower of the Democratic county committee in the rooms adjoining Sheffer's grocery on north Allegheny street. Edmund Blanchard, manager, and Frederick Blanchard, assistant, went to New York last evening to put the first consignment of Kar-Sic on the market. Miss Helen Atherton, of State College, has the organ in the Presbyterian church in this place during the absence of Mrs. Bonbright, who is in San Francisco. The nineteenth annual meeting of the Woman's Home Missionary society of the Central Pennsylvania conference of the Methodist church is in session at Altoona. Cameron McGarvey has accepted the position in China Hall made vacant by the departure of Clarence Longacre for Williamsport, where he has secured a place in a large store. Rev. Dr. H. C. Holloway will deliver the morning sermon at the forty ninth convention of the Central Pennsylvania Synod of the Lutheran church, in Lock Haven, on Sunday. Miss Snyder has returned from New York where she has been for more than a month attending the openings at the most exclusive milliners of the city and selecting goods for her fall trade. James H. Harris, who has been in New York for the past six weeks taking a course of instruction in tailoring, returned home Monday evening, looking a trifle thinner but as happy as ever. John Doak, the young man who was brought home from Niagara Falls only a short time ago suffering with typhoid fever, is laid up again. This time it is an ax wound in the hand, self inflicted. The WATCHMAN will not advise you to go to any show unless it honestly believes it to be worthy your patronage. Remember this. The "Prisoner of Zenda" will be a good one and you will be pleased with it. Henry Lowery, the candidate for sheriff, has a new baby up at his home on Bishop street and it is a most opportune arrival, for now Henry will have something to occupy his time after he gets done running for sheriff. Invitations are out for the wedding of Chester Munson Lingle, son of the late L. G. Lingle, of Philipsburg, and Miss Loreta Neff, of Masonstown. The wedding is to be a big affair and will take place October 1st, in the Methodist church at Masonstown. Sunday night burglars forced open a window in the home of Herbert T. Miller, on east High street, and went clear up stairs to the room in which Mr. and Mrs. Miller were sleeping. There Mr. Miller's trousers were secured, carried down stairs and relieved of $12. The "Prisoner of Zenda," the play that will be seen at Garman's next Tuesday night, is one of the kind that you should greet with a crowded house. The good shows should be encouraged, so that we get more of them and this is a very good one. Take our word for it. While P. C. Bradford and others, of Linden Hall, were out on hunting Tuesday night they tried what they supposed to be a coon, but when Philip climbed the tree to shake it down it proved to be a large catamount which jumped into the crowd below and escaped. The coon hunters hurriedly made their way home thinking they had had enough experience for one night. The barn on the farm owned by Mrs. Pugh and Miss Clara Valentine, near Nigh bank, was totally destroyed by fire late Thursday night. The farm is occupied by Henry Kline, who discovered the fire in time to rescue his stock. His crops were all lost, however. The cause of the fire is attributed to spontaneous combustion caused by the overheating of the second crop of hay. The display of beautiful fruit that is attracting so much attention in the window of this office is in no way in opposition to the great Centre county fair next week. It merely represents a little of the overflow of our friend William Hepburn's big heart and some of the ordinary products of his fine orchard along the mountain below town. William is going to make an exhibit at the fair next week that will make some of the more pretentious fruit growers of the county hustle to get anywhere near his class.

PERRY WILSON McDOWELL.—With the passing of Perry Wilson McDowell Marion township has lost her most eminent resident and Centre county a distinguished citizen. While he had been in poor health for some time it was not thought that there was imminent danger of death until he had almost crossed the dark portals. He died at the home of his son Harry T., in Marion township, last Thursday evening at seven o'clock, having been critically ill only seven days of the preceding day. Deceased was born Sept. 28th, 1817, in the Kishacoquillas valley, Mifflin county, on the property which his grand father, John McDowell, who came to this country from the north of Ireland, settled. He was a son of William McDowell and Ann Alexander, a daughter of Maj. Thomas Alexander of Revolutionary fame. Of their seven children Perry was one of the last survivors. His early life was spent about the parental home where in the days of crude machinery and rough land there was plenty to occupy the time of the country boy. In 1839 he made his first venture alone, going to live on a small farm near Milroy. In 1842 he married Miss Catharine Conley and took her to live on the little place. They resided there but a short time, however, for Mr. McDowell bought a farm in Marion township, this county, and removed to it. Later he went back to Milroy to educate his children, but again returned to this section and located on a farm near Lamar. This latter place he sold and again moved to Marion township, where he remained until he bought the place he still owns near Mackeyville. Mrs. McDowell died in 1897, from the effects of a paralytic stroke, but all of their five children survive. They are Mrs. J. W. Blair, of Belle Centre, Ohio; Mrs. Jas. Allison, of Seaman, Ohio; Mrs. S. H. Benison, of Jacksonville; Mrs. J. E. Tibbens, of Beech Creek, and Harry T., of Aldera. Mr. McDowell was a man of distinguished ancestry and impressive personality. He lived a long and useful life in Nittany valley; having been prominent in the life of that community and wielding an influence for good that will have its effect on many generations to come. Interment was made from the home of his son Harry on Sunday afternoon at two o'clock. Revs. Brown and Mark officiating. The pall bearers were six of his grandsons. MRS. CHARLES GUMMO.—Mrs. Frederica Gummo, wife of Charles Gummo, passed away on Monday noon at the family home, on the mountain north of Waddle's station, after a long illness of paralysis. Funeral services were held on Wednesday morning in the U. B. church at Paradise of which she was a devout member and interment was made in Gray's burying ground. Mrs. Gummo was a native of Germany and her maiden name was Frederica Barlt. She was aged 72 years, 4 months and 2 days and her marriage to Charles Gummo took place in 1852. The following year, May 19th, 1853, she came with her husband to this county and has been a resident of Buffalo Run since. She was one of the frugal and hard working women whose influence for good has given such stability to the German element of the country and from the fact that she is survived by eleven children, all of whom are known for their unusual size and sturdiness, as well as their diligence and respectability attests to her personality and worthy influence. She is survived by her husband and eleven of their thirteen children, Charles and William, of Wisconsin; Fred, George, Andrew and David, of Half Moon; John, of Fairbrook; Mrs. Elizabeth Dunlap, of Pine Grove; Mrs. Emma Louck, of Pine Hall; Mrs. Minnie Gettig, of Bradlock, and Katharine, who came home from California to care for her mother during her failing health. She is also survived by fifty-two grand children, two great grand children, and a sister in Germany through whose generosity and kindness she was amply provided with all the comforts of life and many of the luxuries. HENRY WHITELEATHER.—Another of the older residents of Marion township died last week also in the death of Henry Whiteleather that community has lost a man who made for its advancement every day of his life there. For years he had been a well-to-do farmer in the vicinity of Jacksonville and having accumulated enough of this world's goods to insure comfort in his declining days he sold out last spring and moved to Look Haven. On Monday evening of last week he was stricken with paralysis while sitting on the porch of his home. He never regained consciousness and died Friday afternoon. Deceased was born in Gregg township, Feb. 19th, 1842; his parents having been Jacob and Catharine Frazier Whiteleather. He was brought up as a farmer. On April 3rd, 1866, he married Miss Catharine E. Dorman, of Penns-Valley. To them nine children were born as follows: Emma J., John F., Sarah L., Jacob, William H., Catharine R., Mary A. and Rosie B. After a short residence on farms in Gregg township and in Brush valley Mr. Whiteleather rented his father's farm in Marion township, which was his home ever after and which, with his brother Amos, he purchased. Funeral services were held at his late home Monday morning and interment was made in Highland cemetery, Lock Haven. Franklin S. Hough, aged 37 years, died at the home of his parents, Nathan and Emaline Hough, at Livonia, on the 16th. He had suffered with consumption for a number of years. He is survived by his widow and three sons.

MISS MILDRED BARNHART.—The family of the late John Barnhart have been sadly afflicted in the last few years. First the father died, then Julia a bright, promising young woman passed away after a short illness of spinal meningitis. The mother is sick unto death with an incurable disease and now Mildred, another daughter, has gone the way of all flesh. She had been ill for several months with tuberculosis of the bowels and her death occurred on Tuesday evening at the home of her sister, Mrs. Will McClure, with whom she made her home while in Bellefonte. She was a bright, attractive young girl, within a month of being twenty-one years of age. She was born at the old family home on the farm east of town and in 1899 was one of the graduates of the Bellefonte High school. In 1901 she was graduated from Banks Business College in Philadelphia and from that until her health began to fail a few months ago she was employed as a stenographer in the office of Arthur B. Page, an attorney in that city. She was a regular attendant at the Methodist church and was highly esteemed by her associates. Surviving her are her mother, Mrs. Martha J. Barnhart, and the following sisters and brothers, Mrs. William McClure, Mrs. Charles Hassinger, Belle, John and Harry, of this place; Carrie, of Philadelphia, and Mrs. Abram Johnson, of Columbus, Ohio. Funeral services will be held this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the McClure home on west Bishop street. Dr. W. P. Shriner will officiate and interment will be made in the Union cemetery. MRS. MARY ANN SMITH.—Mrs. Mary Ann Smith, relict of Henry R. Smith a veteran of the Mexican war who died about six years ago, passed away at the home of her son-in-law, Dr. H. S. Alexander, in Potters Mills, on Monday morning. Mrs. Smith was 74 years old and had been in declining health for the past year. Until recently she made her home with her son Lowell in Pine Grove Mills, but after his death she removed to Potters Mills, where she remained ever after. Mrs. Smith was an earnest, christian woman; for years having been identified with the reformed church and when able she was ever willing and helpful in the service of the Master. Surviving are the following sons and daughters: John and William, of Spring Mills; Emma, of Chicago; Luther, of Johnston; Ella, Emanuel, Michael and Kate, of Potters Mills. The funeral took place from Dr. Alexander's residence yesterday morning at 9:30 o'clock. MRS. REBECCA NEIDIGH.—Mrs. Rebecca Neidigh, relict of the late John Neidigh, of State College, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Benjamin Beaver at State College, on Wednesday afternoon, after an illness of about six months that culminated in pleuro-pneumonia. She had been bed-fast only a few days before her death. Mrs. Neidigh was sixty-seven years old last Monday and most of her long and useful life was spent in the vicinity of State College, where she lived among her neighbors in peace and helpfulness. She was a consistent member of the Lutheran church and Rev. C. T. Aiken, of Pine Grove Mills, will officiate at her funeral at Pine Hall on Friday afternoon. Surviving are her three children, Benj. Beaver, State College; William, of Warriors-mark; and John, of Wilmerding. These sisters also survive, Mrs. Thomas Strouse, Mrs. Emanuel Fye, Mrs. Annie Stover and Mrs. Harry Gebert, of this place. Jennie Taylor Russell, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Russell's dear little eleven month old daughter, died of congestion of the lungs on Wednesday afternoon. Funeral services will be held this morning at 10:30 o'clock at the home of her parents on Willow bank street. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Malone, of Snow Shoe, are mourning the death of their infant son Frederick who died at their home on Saturday. Interment was made at Curtius' works on Sunday. Mrs. Charlotte Letterman, of Wayne Station, a sister of the late Dr. Blair, of Unionville, died last week. Beech Creek and Flemington closed their base ball seasons with Saturday's game in which the former team was victorious by the score of 16 to 7. The Philipsburg Rod and Gun club will hold a two days' shoot in that place on Oct. 9th and 10th. Five hundred live birds will be offered to the contestants and a big shooting event is promised. The Philipsburg sportsmen are especially desirous that a few of the Bellefonte shots should be present to contest, so the question is up to the Sportmen's League. William B. Reeve, organist and choir master of Christ Episcopal church in Williamsport, has tendered his resignation to take effect Oct. 1st. He will go to Shreveport, La., to be organist and choir master in St. Mark's Episcopal church and of the Jewish Synagogue and instructor in music in the public schools. Mr. Reeve was formerly organist of St. John's Episcopal church in this place. The "Prisoner of Zenda," the play that will be seen at Garman's next Tuesday night, is one that will please all lovers of the romantic drama. It is a beautiful story and when put into action by one of Shipman's companies it will make a beautiful play. Edwin Mordant takes the role of "Rudolph Rassendyl" and is supported by Ola Humphrey as "Flavia." Both are artists of high class.

THE GREAT CENTRE COUNTY FAIR.—This being the last opportunity we will have to talk to the people of Centre county before the annual meeting of the Centre County Agricultural Exhibiting Co., which will be held on the fair grounds in this place on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of next week, we think it but proper to give you an adequate understanding of what it will be. In the first place it represents the best and most elevating of amusements. It is designed to encourage advancement in agriculture, stock raising, horticulture, gardening, fruit growing and the domestic arts. It is backed by gentlemen of known integrity and honor and in every way possible being made to serve the long felt need of a first class agricultural fair in Centre county. Naturally those who are opposed, for selfish reasons, to the fair will say that it is a money making scheme and that these men are "not in it for their health." Granted that such is the case. Where under the blue canopy of Heaven can you find an entire day's program of such good, wholesome amusement and instruction in every branch of industry in which you are interested as is here offered you for the small sum of 25c? But the fair is not altogether a money making scheme. In fact it has not made any money yet and is not likely to pay even interest on the investment for many years to come. Because it is only in the formative state now. Next week you will be given an opportunity of judging for yourself what a great thing the fair will grow into and it is your duty as a public spirited citizen to take a part in helping its growth, by encouraging exhibits and augmenting the attendance. The racing features are already assured, the classes filling nicely. That favorite in Centre county, the only one of the old fair racing men who is left in the business, "Jeff Meadows" will be here with a string of five horses, including such fast ones as Highwood Spider and Organ. Thereon Powers, the horse that won the $1,000 stake race at Geneva, N. Y. last week, is also entered and among other good ones are George C. Easton, Fannie Stebbins, Gail, Graymont, Miracle, Joe Wilkes, Worth, Drollery, Big Harry, Billy Obedient, Jim Saup, Hartford, Cuckoo, Dan W., Lillie Riekel, Glencoe, Suzanne, Dan and Alice W. There are twenty-five entries in now with more coming every day. The track is in splendid condition and the rain this week was just what was needed to put the finishing touch on it. With fair weather we will have a great fair next week. Let us hope that the weather man will give us his best, for it is certain that the fair company will do the same. THE WORK OF ARTISTS.—There are two pastel portraits on exhibition in Blair's jewelry store which are attracting much attention because they are very excellent portraits of two well known men, Gen. Jas. A. Beaver and the late Rev. Mr. White, of Milroy. Even a novice in art will judge a portrait favorably when it is the well portrayed features of one who is familiar to him, but Sir Joshua Reynolds says "In portraits, the grace, and, we may add, the likeness, consists more in the general air than in the exact similitude of every feature," and it is this general air which is so pleasing in these two portraits, for with the similitude of features there is harmonious blending of colors and softness in outline obtainable only in pastels. In all ages portraits have been the most ambitious productions of great artists and while oils have been largely the medium, pastels are now winning laurels, as they have the merit of not cracking with age and can be more skillfully handled by the average portrait painter. These portraits are the work of Messrs. William L. Antrim and Marcus A. Landy, whose studio in Philadelphia is of 20 years standing. Mr. Landy has been spending some time in this part of the State studying the originals of his portraits. And in addition to what he is exhibiting here he has done some very satisfactory work in Lewistown and other places. He will be in Bellefonte until next Tuesday and will be glad to converse with anyone interested in his work or desirous of sitting to him while he is here. A MYSTERIOUS FIRE.—A very mysterious fire occurred in this place early Monday morning when the "Big Spring Cafe," on Water street, was nearly wiped out of existence. The flames were discovered about 2 o'clock, but it was some time before an alarm was gotten in so that when the fire companies arrived the building, which was a cheap frame structure, was doomed and their attention was directed to saving surrounding property. The place was run by O. H. Osman, who has been in charge of it about a month. It is reported to have been quite objectionable to the residents of that end of town and anything but a well ordered place. Osman was at the Cafe until 1:20 Monday morning. The building was owned by Calvin Ray, who has $400 insurance on it. Osman carried $200 on his stock of confections, etc. The adjoining building, occupied by Darius Waite, as an implement store house, was damaged to a slight extent. PATISON NOT TO BE HERE.—According to the itinerary arranged for Governor Patison's campaign he was to have been in Bellefonte for a night meeting on October 7th, but at a meeting of the executive committee, held in this place on Tuesday, it was decided that Philipsburg was entitled to the distinction of this visit from the state campaigning party and accordingly the meeting will be arranged for that place.

Next week the fair will claim your attention. Take the family, they will enjoy it. The Hebrews New Year comes on Oct. 1st, and "Yom Kipur" or the "Day of Atonement," comes on Oct. 11th. On these two occasions the stores under the management of the Hebrews in this town will be closed from six o'clock on the evening of the 1st to 2nd and 11th to the 12th. These days are always strictly observed by our Jewish people in Bellefonte. THE SISTER OF CLARA PRICE MARRIED.—On Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock Miss Anna E. Price, of Karthaus, was married to Thomas Smith, of Smithsburg, Va. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's father, David Price, in the presence of about a dozen guests; the Rev. T. S. Faus, of Snow Shoe, officiating. Mrs. Smith is a sister of Clara Price, the girl who was murdered by Alfred Andrews on the lonely road near her home some years ago. A very pretty wedding was celebrated in the Catholic church at Hollidaysburg when Mr. Joseph Bitsendorf and Miss Ida Milligan were married. The ceremony was followed by a reception at the home of the bride's father, former councilman James Milligan, of that place, eighty guests having been present. Later the bride and groom departed for Altoona where a furnished home awaited them. The bride is one of Hollidaysburg's fairest daughters and is a sister of Mrs. William Dawson, of this place. The meeting of the Huntingdon Presbytery in Penns-Valley on Oct. 6th promises to be quite an event among the Presbyterians of Centre, Blair and Huntingdon counties. On page 2 of this issue will be found a most interesting article on the early church in Penns-Valley, written by Dr. T. C. Van Tries. It is in direct connection with the event so soon to take place. We are requested to announce that the Spring Mills Presbyterian church and their friends will furnish a free lunch to members of the Presbytery and also convey them free from the Spring Mills station to the grounds. For the accommodation of others William Rubl, of Spring Mills, will run a hack, charging 25c for the round trip and the Penn Hall hand will furnish a lunch for a reasonable charge. News Parly Personal. Dr. W. E. Park, of Centre Hall, has gone to Nelson, Tioga county, to locate. Mr. and Mrs. W. Harrison Walker arrived from Pleasantville on Wednesday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Meyer, with their little daughter, of Millersburg, were in town visiting friends on Wednesday. Mrs. Roland C. Cheeseman, of Washington, is the guest of Mrs. Henry P. Harris at her hospitable home on Howard street. Mr. and Mrs. Peter Romeiser, of Niagara Falls, are visiting relatives in this place. Mrs. Romeiser will be remembered as Miss Mabel Cowdrick. W. I. Swoop, Esq., of Clearfield, spent Sunday with friends in this place, having been called here on Saturday on very important legal business. After a month's visit at his home here Alfred Brislin departed for Annapolis on Tuesday to take up his last year's work in the Naval Academy there. A. J. Griest Esq. was in Bellefonte on business yesterday and judging from the way he views the coal strike there must be a few chilly houses up at Unionville. Mrs. Adaline R. Fairbank, of Philadelphia, is a guest at the Weaver home on Howard street. She is a daughter of the late George Weaver, of this place and has many friends in Bellefonte. Miss Annie Cleaver, stenographer in the W. B. Rankin agency in the Exchange, left for Philadelphia and Atlantic City on Tuesday, to be gone for a vacation of several weeks. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Jennings concluded their summer stay in Bellefonte on Friday and returned to Mahonington, W. Va., where Tom has an interest in the large co-operative glass factory. Mr. and Mrs. John Walker returned home Saturday from a delightful trip on the lakes and a week's stay at Mackinac Island. While away they visited friends in Chicago, Buffalo and Titusville. Mr. Oliver Hutzel, of Kings Mills, Ohio, who had been visiting friends in this place for a few days, left on Monday morning for Philadelphia, where he will resume his studies at Jefferson Medical College. Harry Kline, proprietor of the Kline house in Middletown, was in town for a few hours on business on Tuesday, but had to hurry home to look after his property during the building of the P. R. R. sub-way in that place. Mrs. Estella Lyon, of Linn street, went down to Philadelphia on Wednesday to make the acquaintance of a young grandson who recently arrived at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Alfred Gordon, on Pine street. Rev. and Mrs. Geo. I. Brown, with their children, have gone to Stamford, Conn., for a month's visit among their relatives. There will be morning services at St. John's during the absence of the rector, but none in the evening. John P. Harris, J. S. McCarger, Robert Morris, Geo. F. Bush, Frank Clemson and A. C. Mingle were a party of local Shriners who went down to Williamsport on Wednesday to help along with the work of initiating Dr. C. S. Musser in Irem temple. William and Edgar T. Burnside left for Atlantic City, on Saturday morning, where the former expects to do so much listening to what the wild waves are saying and so little talking himself that he will get his much needed voice back. Hiram Grove was in town between trains on Saturday on his way back to Morgans, after a pleasant visit to his old home in this county. Though a trifle thinner than he was on his last visit home Mr. Grove said it was not due to ill health, but to the confining nature of his work in the big state institution there. He has lately been assigned to outside duty, however, and expects a change for the better to follow. "Uncle Jimmy" Waddell, conductor on the Valley freight, is off on a vacation and expects to spend two weeks of it in Chicago. The boys of his crew are a little concerned for their good old friend, for under the weight of his 68 years they have an idea he is not capable of taking care of himself unless some of them are around. But we'll bet a bunch of oily waste against a bull nose that were they to see the veteran conductor stepping down Clark street they wouldn't recognize those gray whiskers for the fancy kinks taken on for city effect.

TWO REVIVALS.—For the revivals of "The Cattle King" and "The Bandit King," which are to be presented by Mr. James H. Wallick this season, that manager has secured the services of Mr. John J. Farrell, an actor of well known ability, who will be seen in the leading roles in both of these plays. These parts were formerly played by Mr. Wallick himself, but owing to the immense amount of business he has to attend to in connection with his several organizations, he felt as though it was impossible for him to undertake them. Consequently he was obliged to look about for some capable person to impersonate them. At the instance of several well known managers he concluded to engage Mr. Farrell for these parts, and it is safe to say that they will be in good hands. Mr. Farrell has all the accomplishments necessary for the impersonation of characters of the western border. He has a handsome face, a good voice and a manly bearing, all of which will serve him well in these characters. Both plays will be elaborately staged with new and appropriate scenery, and many startling effects will be introduced, notably the great trotting horse scene. "The Cattle King" and "The Bandit King" will undoubtedly repeat their successes of former years. These two plays will be seen at Garman's next week. The first one on Wednesday night, the other on Thursday. STATE'S FOOT-BALL SCHEDULE.—The Pennsylvania State College opened the foot ball season on Beaver field last Saturday afternoon by defeating Dickinson Seminary from Williamsport by the score of 33 to 0. The schedule of games for the remainder of the season is as follows: Sept. 27—Western University at State College. Oct. 4—University of Pennsylvania at Philadelphia. Oct. 11—Villanova at State College. Oct. 18—Yale at New Haven. Oct. 25—Susquehanna at State College. Nov. 1—Annapolis at Annapolis. Nov. 8—Gettysburg at State College. Nov. 15—Washington and Jefferson not definitely arranged. Nov. 17—(Thanksgiving day) University of Buffalo at Buffalo. SPECIAL TRAINS RETURNING FROM CENTRE COUNTY FAIR.—For the accommodation of persons returning from the Centre county fair, at Bellefonte, Pa., October 2nd and 3rd, the Pennsylvania railroad company will run a special train on these dates to Coburn and intermediate stations, leaving Bellefonte at 7:00 p. m. Excursion tickets will be sold from September 30th to October 3rd, inclusive, good to return until October 4th, inclusive, at reduced rates (minimum rate 25 cents) from Coburn and intermediate points. Mr. and Mrs. John H. Miller, of Tyrone, have sent out invitations for the marriage of their daughter Gertrude May and William Wallace Krebs on Wednesday, October 1st, at 12 o'clock. The wedding is to take place at the home of the bride's parents. The groom-to-be is quite well known in this community having graduated in 1900 from The State College, where he was a general favorite. He is the eldest son of former Judge D. L. Krebs, of Clearfield, and a grandson of U. S. Senator William A. Wallace. The Knecht flour mill at Parvin was completed and the new machinery started for the first time on Saturday. It is said to be very complete and a decided improvement on the plant that was burned some time ago. Don't miss the fair because you will be sorry for it. Philadelphia Markets.
