THINGS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY

The Fair will be held tomorrow. Steam heat was turned on in Philipsburg last Friday morning. Bellefonte still shivers. Miss M. Snyder wishes to announce to her patrons that her models will be ready by October 9th and 10th.

The engagement of Miss Nell Ryan, of this place, to Mr. George Fisher, of Boalsburg, has been announced. The Nittany furnace was banked on Sunday and no iron has been made since because of the impossibility to get coke.

Dr. and Mrs. R. G. H. Hayes entertained in honor of Dr. and Mrs. W. James Roberts, of Pasadena, Cal., on Monday evening. Anthon Benser lost several fingers of his left hand while bolting in the stove mill at Hecla park on Friday. He got in the way of the circular saw.

Canfield and Ryan are the comedians who hold up the levity in "Shooting the Chutes". They will be seen at Garman's on the evening of Oct. 10th. Lyon & Co. talk some good news to you in today's issue. They mention a few special bargains in men's overcoats that the approach of winter makes very reasonable.

W. L. Daggett has purchased the Ardell property on east Linn street and expects to move into it, with his family, just as soon as some necessary repairs can be made. Dan Nolan has resigned his position in Harper Bros. grocery and has gone to Tyrone to try railroading again.

Owing to the rupture between the state and national organizations of the D. A. R. their annual conference, which will be held here next week, is likely to be of more than usual interest. While the WATCHMAN has no intention of putting itself on the back it does wish to remind Bellefonte theatre goers that the "Prisoner of Zenda" fully justified the strong endorsement this paper gave it.

Rev. J. Ellis Bell, presiding elder of the Altoona district, preached in the Methodist church in this place on Sunday night. There was a large audience present and Rev. Bell delivered an intensely religious sermon. James Bailey, of this place, and Miss Elizabeth C. Curry, of Waddle's, were married at the home of Justice Kehline, on Bishop street, last Thursday evening.

Confirmation services will be held in St. John's Catholic church in this place on Sunday October 12th. It will be the first service held in Bellefonte by Bishop Garvey, the new head of the new Altoona Diocese. The Western University of Pennsylvania football team played at State on Saturday afternoon and was beaten by the score of 27 to 0.

About one thousand people witnessed the game which was rather slow, because of the heavy grounds. The Bellefonte colored people who presented the temperance drama "Out in the Streets," in Petriken hall, on Wednesday evening, had been up to Tyrone the evening before and gave it for the benefit of the A. M. E. church in that place.

Don't fail to see the great race between Siney Hoy's bull and Al Grove's mule. It will not be the fastest on the fair grounds, but it will be the funniest. One heat will be run this afternoon and the finals tomorrow, Saturday. Sechler & Co's hay-motor took another fit Monday and ran away down High street, ending his wild flight at the Palace livery, where the racket frightened Jim Chambers' racing horse "Theron Powers" so badly that he fell over on his back and now there is a big lump thereon.

A USEFUL LIFE ENDED.—While the announcement of the death of Mrs. Abram Baum, which occurred at her home on east Bishop street last Thursday night at 10:30 o'clock, was not unexpected it caused genuine sorrow and regret to many hearts in the community. She had been suffering all summer with rheumatism and several weeks ago her condition was so precarious that her entire family, with the exception of one daughter who was too ill to come, were summoned home.

She was a woman of unusual energy and action and though that probably hastened her death, her life was immeasurably full of kindness to others and the affection of her family. Of pleasing personality and a bright disposition, she was devoted to her home and its interests. By her strength of character she inculcated diligence and thrift into all her children and they in return fairly revered her.

She is survived by her husband and thirteen children: Salina, Freda, Alfred, Simon, Isadore, Morris and Harry at home; Mrs. Nathan Reesman, of Princeton, Ind.; Mrs. Jacob Hassel, of Washington, Kentucky; Mrs. Morris Monish, New York City; Jacob and Ferdinand, of Rockford, Ind. She is also survived by two sisters, Mrs. Carrie Lowenstein, Charleston, West Va.; and Mrs. Pauline Kinga, Mt. Vernon, Ind.

Funeral services were held on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the family home. Rabbi Henry Klime, of Altoona, officiated and a great number of people were present. The pall-bearers were Sigmund Joseph, M. Fauble, Lewis Grauer, Jacob Marks, Adolph Fauble, and Aaron Katz. And the body, with its many beautiful floral tributes, was interred in the Hebrew cemetery.

ADAM HENRY GREENWALT.—There died in Columbus, Ohio, on the morning of Sept. 29th, a man who will be remembered by many of the older residents of this section, but whose long life away from the scenes of his early manhood had made him almost forgotten.

Adam Henry Greenwalt, whose body was brought here and interred in the Union cemetery last Thursday afternoon, was born in Clarion county, January 1st, 1865. In '57 he married Mary McKinley, of Milesburg, and six years later they moved to Osceola Mills to make their home. But six houses marked the site of that thriving town in those days and he helped organize the Union church there, which was the first place of worship the settlement had.

Surviving him are the following children: Mrs. Anna Parks, Renovo; Mrs. Carrie Shields, Milesburg; W. C. Greenwalt, Columbus, Ohio; Mrs. Charlotte McCurdy, New York city, and Mrs. Myrtle Likens, of Columbus. At the meeting of the Lutheran Synod in Lock Haven last week Dr. H. C. Holloway, pastor of the Bellefonte church, was elected one of the directors of the theological seminary at Gettysburg.

Deceased was born near Howard in 1819, and was one of the members of the old and respectable family of that name that has been so prominent in the lower Bald Eagle for nearly a century. He was a farmer, but after the death of his wife in 1889, he retired and lived thereafter with his children, the following of whom survive: Joseph L., Henry C., Michael P., John B., J. Shuman, Mrs. Catharine Williams, Mrs. Susan Loder, Mrs. Mary Schenck, also two sisters, Mrs. Nancy Thompson, aged 87, and Mrs. Elizabeth Mahaffey, aged 85, and one brother, Christian, all living in Howard and vicinity.

The funeral services were held at the home on Sunday afternoon, Rev. G. F. Boggs officiating, and Rev. I. N. Bair assisting. The remains were laid to rest in the Schenck cemetery. Mrs. Anna Cowher, who was born near this place July 15th, 1860, died at her home in Tyrone on Tuesday morning, after a year's illness with consumption.

She was the wife of Peter W. Cowher, who survives her with their two children. Her brothers and sisters living are A. C. Moore, of Harrisburg; Mrs. Maggie Meyers, of Milesburg; Mrs. Bella Woodring, of Port Matilda; and Thomas Moore, of Loyalhanna. Services were held yesterday morning and her body was brought to Port Matilda for burial.

The widow of Daniel Minnigh at Huston died yesterday morning at the age of 89 years. She had not been ill very long and her collapse was due to old age. Her husband died some years ago and of their seven children only four survive as follows: Mrs. Jacob Weaver, of Hubsburg; John, at Huston; Mrs. Samuel Ertle, of Spring Mills, and Mrs. John Messimer, of Penn Hill. Funeral services will be held at the home of her son John, on Saturday morning at 9 o'clock and her body will be taken to Hubsburg for burial.

DIED SUDDENLY.—William H. Snyder, a prominent citizen of Eagleville, died suddenly at his home in that place last Friday evening from an affection of the heart, with which he had suffered only a few hours.

Deceased was a civil engineer and had been engaged on many of the public improvements in this section of the State. He was 62 years old, and is survived by his widow, with three children: William B., of Philadelphia; Helen V., and John M., at home. He was a member of Bellefonte lodge No. 268, F. and A. M.

Funeral services were held at his late home on Wednesday afternoon, with Rev. L. F. Brown officiating. Interment was made in the Baptist cemetery. A large delegation of Bellefonte Masons attended the funeral. Mrs. Eliza Snook, wife of J. C. Snook, died at their home in Millheim last Thursday morning, after a lingering illness.

Deceased was 58 years old and is survived by her husband and six children, Ammon M., Corde, Minnie, Lula and Mrs. Herald Stover, of Millheim, and Edward, of Dakota, Ill. Interment was made on Sunday morning, after services had been conducted by Rev. F. W. Brown.

Miss Sophia McEwen died at the home of her brother-in-law, James Carner, at Hubsburg, at 3 o'clock Wednesday morning, after a short illness. Deceased was 66 years old and for years had been a devoted member of the Reformed church. Rev. Crow will officiate at her funeral, which will be held in the church at Hubsburg this morning.

There was a great crowd at the fair yesterday but Pennypacker didn't draw it. "Shooting the Chutes" is a farce comedy, full of music, ridiculous situations and specialties. It will be seen at Garman's Friday night, Oct. 10th.

Remember that the Fair will be held on Saturday. Wednesday's bad weather pushed all the races back just one day, so that you will get the big ones today and tomorrow. The sixth annual convention of the 4th sub-district of the Altoona district Epworth League will be held in the M. E. Church at Snow Shoe on Wednesday and Thursday, October 8th and 9th.

The program has been arranged to benefit all spiritually, intellectually and socially. On Wednesday evening Rev. B. B. Hamlin, D. D., of Huntington, will deliver a lecture on "Learning to Read." Presiding elder, Rev. Bell will preach the convention sermon Thursday afternoon. "Hang On" is the subject of Rev. Geo. D. Pennypacker's lecture on Thursday evening.

The Allegany Conference of the U. B. church, which closed at McKeesport, during the fore part of the week, will meet next year at Philipsburg. Rev. S. W. Keister and J. I. L. Ressler were made presiding elders, but the most important part of the conference assignments to people of this vicinity is the return of Rev. T. W. Perks to the Bellefonte church. Rev. Perks is a splendid man, full of zeal in his christian work and by reason of his strong intellectuality gives his church a standing in this community it never enjoyed before in its history.

Other nearby appointments are: Tyrone, Oct. E. B. Rice; Birmingham, R. S. Woodward; Altoona, First church, W. Hough; Bellwood, B. J. Hummel, East Freedom; George Cavanaugh; Huntington, J. N. Hawes. At the meeting of the Lutheran Synod in Lock Haven last week Dr. H. C. Holloway, pastor of the Bellefonte church, was elected one of the directors of the theological seminary at Gettysburg.

According to the statistical report it was shown that the Synod embraces six counties, having a population of 170,000; the Lutheran membership is 25,000; the young people of the congregation are active and zealous; there are 1,300 children in the catechetical classes, and $12,000 contributed for benevolence; number of ministers belonging to the Synod, 40; number of churches, 86; communicant membership, 9,389; baptized children, 2,227; estimated value of church property, $497,550.00; local expenses for all objects, $80,791.01; benevolent offerings, $11,427.83; total amount expended by all churches, $72,218.84; number of Sunday schools, 87; number of officers and teachers, 1,462; number of pupils, 10,875; membership young people's societies, 2,410.

The company that presented "The Prisoner of Zenda" at Garman's, Tuesday evening, was one of the strongest ever seen at that play-house and the force they put into Hope's beautiful romance made the large audience forget all about the dingy old scenery or the noisy gallery. In truth the gallery was as much interested as any other part of the house, despite the fact that there wasn't a song or dance or "bum" or "nigger" in the show. In the dual role of Rudolph V. and Rudolph Rasendyl Edwin Mordaut was superb. In physique, style and acting he was all that Hope could have idealized in his adventurous young Englishman, while "Old Sapt" might have stepped right out of the pages of the book itself, so well did John W. Rose interpret the part. As Madam de Mauban Miss Florence Gelbart was extremely strong and divided honors very evenly with the star, Miss Ola Humphrey. Roberto Deshon, in the role of Rupert of Hentzau, was fully up to the strong caste with which he acted and Carroll Daly, as Black Michael, was all that vicious intriguer could have been. Altogether we have the Shippman's to thank for a road show par excellence.

AN INTERESTING WEDDING.—The wedding of Dr. Mary Irvin Thompson, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John I. Thompson, and Dr. Orr Hileman Shaffer, of Altoona, which was celebrated at the home of the bride's parents in Lemont on Wednesday at noon attracted more than usual interest, although it was designed to be a small, quiet affair.

The invitations were limited to the relationship and the more intimate friends but the prominence of the Thompson family and its wide kinship, as well as the attractive personality of the bride, made it an event of importance. Five members of the clarinet club of State College played the wedding march and in the reception rooms a screen of palms and tropical plants made an artistic background for the bridal party. The decorations in the dining room and library were of ground pine and asters. Rev. D. E. Hepler of the Lemont Presbyterian church pronounced the ceremony and Misses Helen and Bess Thompson were the maids of honor. They wore white tulle and carried great bunches of pink carnations. In the processional the bride accompanied the groom. Her gown was of white Paris Muslin over tulle, nicely made and trimmed with many lace medallions. She carried a bouquet of bride's roses.

More than seventy guests sat down to a delicious breakfast which was served directly after the ceremony. At the bridal table quaint old china was used which had descended to the family from the bride's great-grandmother, Mrs. Ann Watson Irvin, wife of John Irvin, of Harris township. The bride and groom departed on the afternoon train for New York, the trip up the Hudson, Niagara Falls, and Cleveland. They will make their home in Altoona, where their apartments are already furnished and where they will board at the Logan house.

Dr. Thompson possesses that rare affinity which characterizes her family for generations and is moreover cultured and clever. She was educated at Birmingham seminary and is a graduate of the Woman's Medical college of Philadelphia. She has been more than ordinarily successful in her practice in Altoona, where she opened an office soon after graduating and will now work jointly with her husband, Dr. Shaffer is regarded as one of the best physicians in Altoona where he is well established in his profession.

RECORD BREAKING BEES.—Some time ago we published an account of the remarkable performance of a few swarms of bees, owned by train-master Emmanol Noll, of this place, in making a great quantity of honey in a very short period of time. That these same bees are record breakers in other ways needs but this story of their final summer work to prove. Mr. Noll kept four swarms over winter. Three of the ordinary black variety and one of Italian bees. From the four he has taken five hundred and seven sections of honey. On the 20th of May the latter swarm put out another and on the 31st, just eleven days later, it put out still another swarm. This latest swarm made one hundred and thirteen sections of honey during the season and the first of the new swarms put out two virgin swarms that made one hundred and twenty-five sections of honey.

Now if their is any apiarist in the country who can beat this Mr. Noll would like to hear from him, though he arrogates no superior knowledge of the business to himself and only keeps bees because of the interest he finds in watching their habits. A NEW ORATORIO.—Not content with being the author of a score or two of song foibles and many choir anthems, Alfred Beirly, the widely known composer and music dealer, of Chicago, and who is originally from this county, has just launched out into the latitude of the great masters by publishing "Emmanuel" an oratorio. It is quite effective and dramatic and is much more difficult than any of his earlier compositions. A number of the best musicians of the country are commending it highly and it promises to be a favorite with the public, as it is with choral societies and choirs.

BURGLARS AGAIN AT PORT MATILDA.—At 12 o'clock midnight Sept. 24th, burglars made a raid on A. W. Reese's store at Port Matilda. They were forcing their way through the end of the ware room and had one plank about forced off when Mr. Reese's son Clifton, a young man about 17 years old, heard them at their work. Hastily dressing himself he took a gun and went out on the roof of a low building adjoining the house, it being so dark he could see nothing but knowing the lay of the land well he fired his gun. The would be burglar beat a hasty retreat, having about as close a call as he need want. Several other attempts at burglary have been made in the same place recently.

DEDICATION POSTPONED.—The dedication of the new church at Hannah Furnace, which was to have taken place on the 12th, has been postponed until Sunday, October 19th. Rev. Edward J. Gray D. D., president of Williamsport Dickinson seminary, and Rev. D. S. Monroe D. D., pastor at Shamokin, are expected to be present. Services will be held at 10 o'clock a. m., and 7 o'clock p. m. There will be a platform meeting in the afternoon at 2:30. Everybody is invited. Because of ill health the pastor, Rev. E. S. Latahaw, who has so successfully managed this new enterprise at Hannah, will retire from the work on the Port Matilda charge and seek a milder climate in the western part of North Carolina.

News Purely Personal.

Robert Morris spent Sunday at his home in Tyrone. T. B. Hamilton returned from Philadelphia on Friday evening. Mrs. Nannie K. Orblison is away visiting relatives at Bridgeton, N. J. Mrs. Hanna Newman is visiting the family of William Grauer in Altoona.

Miss Anne Blanchard has returned from a tour of Canada and Maine resorts in company with Mrs. Wistar Morris, of Overbrook. Rev. Dr. J. T. Norman, a son of the late Thos. Norman, of this place, was in town during the fore part of the week visiting friends.

The Merrimans have returned to Bellefonte for the winter and will take the house on Curtin street just vacated by Mrs. Breese. John Sourbeck Jr. is home from New York nursing an injured leg. He had it broken by having a radiator fall on it some time ago. Mrs. W. R. Gainfort departed for Philadelphia last Thursday morning. She expects to spend several weeks with friends in that city.

Mr. and Mrs. James Cox and their little daughter, of Altoona, are guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Koonce, on east Bishop street. Mrs. Nannie Willard, who has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Will Larimer, on Thomas street, returned to her home in Philipsburg on Saturday. Miss Christine Krumme, of State College, was a visitor at the home of Sidney Krumme, on south Allegheny street, during the fore part of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Mather, of Elmira, N. Y., and Mrs. Keagle, of Beech Creek, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Daggett, at the Bush house, on Tuesday. Dr. and Mrs. Thos. R. Hayes have gone to Atlantic City, where they expect to spend the early fall at the Agnew, going later to Pasadena, Cal. for the winter. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Taylor, and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Dukeman, of Bellefonte, spent Sunday at the home of Mr. George Taylor, on Willowbank street.

H. D. Rumberger, of Philipsburg, was in town on Tuesday, but wouldn't be persuaded to remain for yesterday. You know the reason if you are at all acquainted with Harry's politics. Dr. F. K. White, Philipsburg's leading dentist and one of the prominent Democrats of the county, was in town on Monday, but it was business not politics that brought him over. Adam Hasel returned from Niagara Falls on Friday and reports that he had secured in that section that most of the people are putting in oil stoves and hope to get along with them during the winter.

Samuel D. Sprout, of Mifflinville, was in town on Wednesday; having come up to attend the fair, but he was like all the rest of us so depressed by the bad weather that he didn't feel at all in a fair humor. Mr. and Mrs. John McGinley have gone to Scranton to visit Dr. and Mrs. Coolidge for a few days and to give Mr. McGinley a little rest and change that is hoped will be beneficial to his impaired health. Joseph Ard, of Pine Grove Mills, was in town on Monday morning taking a look around to see if Bellefonte was in proper shape to entertain the fair crowds. He predicted rain, but for what days he wouldn't say.

Postmaster W. W. Montgomery returned from his Canadian tour on Saturday evening. Mrs. Montgomery and their daughter, Miss Emma, arrived home from an extended visit in Pittsburg the day before. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Berry, of Abdera, were among the crowds in town yesterday attending the fair. They were both of the opinion that our promoters up here must have done something to the weather man.

Frank Liggle, of Patton, is in town for the fair. S. C. Burnside Esq., of Philadelphia, has been in town on business all week. Miss Maggie Miles, of Martha Furnace, is visiting friends in town this week. John Curry, of Buffalo, is here for a visit of a few days at the parental home on Logan street.

W. T. Neff and his many little son William were up from Mt. Eagle yesterday seeing the fair. Edw. Loughrey, of Tyrone, is in town for the fair and says he is going to stay until the last horse stops going. Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Getting, of north Thomas street, are entertaining Miss Mary Hartman, of Millheim. Mrs. George Wolf, and her son George, of Altoona, are visiting their many friends in Bellefonte this week.

John Ishler was a pleasant caller on Saturday, one of the kind that makes you feel happier and—and—richer. Miss Nell Burns, of Howard, has been a guest of the Misses Schofield, on Thomas street, for a few days this week. E. E. Davis, of the firm of Yeager & Davis, is in town this week helping in the Bellefonte store during the fair rush.

Mr. and Mrs. John Porter Lyon and their little daughter Deborah arrived in town Wednesday to spend the winter at the Mitchell home. H. T. McDowell, of Abdera, was in town on Wednesday attending to some of the duties that have devolved upon him as executor of his father's estate. Miss Agnes McCalmont arrived in town yesterday from Cincinnati, O., to spend the winter at the home of her cousin, Miss Jane McCalmont, on north Thomas street.

D. W. Holt and Joseph Peters, of Philipsburg, had business (?) in town yesterday and of course everybody knows it was business and not the fair or Pennypacker that brought them. J. E. Koon, of State College, was in town last night, but didn't come down to burrah for Pennypacker. There was free transportation for everybody who wanted it and he just came along for a little trip. John C. Kuhm, of Centre Hall, was in town yesterday, having come over on the train to attend the fair. He said he had tried to persuade Mrs. Kuhm to come with him, but she was fearful of the weather and remained at home.

Mrs. J. D. Campbell, wife of Judge Campbell the general solicitor of the Reading road, and Mrs. Lytle, whose husband is now surgeon of the port at Philadelphia, arrived in town yesterday for a short visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Kurtz on Curtin street. Mrs. Campbell is Mrs. K's cousin. Mrs. Elizabeth Calloway arrived home this week from Atlantic City, where she has been all summer. She shortened her stay at the shore on account of the meeting of the Daughters of the American Revolution and hastened home to entertain some of the distinguished visitors next week.

Herbert Sheffer accompanied by his wife and two dear little children arrived in town Saturday night for a short stay with his parents on Curtin street. Mrs. Sheffer and the children have been away visiting and Herbert came home with them to pack up their belongings and take them all back to Pittsburg. He has lost a lot of flesh since he has been boarding and living alone and now he is going to have an establishment of his own in the Homestead district. Mr. Sarah Teas has rented her house on east Bishop street and is going to Furness street to make her home with her son John, who has an excellent position there with the E. P. Manufacturing company. Mrs. Will Graham, her daughter Margaret, who is so favorably known throughout the county through her connection with the Bell Telephone exchange, has gone to Syracuse, N. Y., to join her husband who is the representative of the Mutual Insurance company of that place.
