The Aeroplano opera company that sang at Garman's a few weeks ago, came to grief at Kane last Sunday when their manager disappeared with all the money. The people of Kane gave them a benefit Monday night, at which the receipts were large enough to send them on their way rejoicing.

At a regular meeting of Gregg post, on Saturday evening resolutions on the death of Governor Hastings were adopted, after which Col. Austin Curtin, of Milesburg, installed the following officers for the year: Commander, Emanuel Noll; senior vice commander, Alfred Hassinger; junior vice commander, Daniel Walters; quartermaster, H. B. Pontius; adjutant, S. B. Miller; guard, John Bryan; officer of the day, J. I. Curtin.

THE RANKIN—McFARLANE NUPTIALS.—The marriage of Miss Isabella Katharine Rankin and Mr. Frank McFarlane, which was planned to have been a delightful affair and the most important social occasion of the month, took place on Wednesday at 3 o'clock at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Barbara Rankin, on Allegheny street.

The wedding was to have been celebrated at "The Red Lion" with many guests present, for when the engagement was first announced ex-Governor Hastings, who was Mrs. McFarlane's brother-in-law, asked the privilege of having the wedding at his own home and took a lively interest in all the arrangements for it. Just two weeks ago to-day he and Mrs. Hastings sent out the invitations and a very happy affair was anticipated. His sickness following so closely stopped all of the preparation for the festivities and on Thursday, although he seemed better at that time, the bride-to-be recalled all of the invitations. The sorrow of the subsequent days made a happy event an impossibility, so with no one present but the members of the two families and a few old friends the marriage was solemnized on the day it was originally intended to be.

Rev. Dr. Laurie, of the Presbyterian church, pronounced the ceremony and the bride was given away by her brother, Edward B. Rankin, of Harrisburg. The maid of honor was Miss Janette McFarlane, the groom's sister, and Jack Mitchell, of Lemont, was best man. The bride wore a going-away gown of dark blue cheviot and carried orchids. After the ceremony refreshments were served by Ceader and Mr. and Mrs. McFarlane departed on the 4:45 train for Washington and Philadelphia.

Upon their return they will make their home at the McFarlane homestead near Boalsburg. They are both so favorably known throughout the county that it is sincerely hoped that the cloud that overshadowed their day of days is only the precursor of a sunny life.

REV. MORRIS SWARTZ'S NEW CHURCH.—Everyone of the large congregation—for it is always sure to be a large one when Rev. Morris Swartz comes among us, as we all knew him before he aspired to a reverend and wear a frock coat and white tie—present at the Methodist church Sunday morning, August 4th, 1901, was filled with admiration at the pluck of a man who, having learned as he entered the pulpit that his own church in Shippensburg had just been destroyed by fire, could proceed to preach a very delightful sermon and do it as smilingly and apparently unperturbed as though sympathy were farthest from his needs.

It will not be a surprise to these same people to know that he has just dedicated his new church which is declared to be, by one very competent to judge, "A gem; the most complete, most convenient, most commodious, most harmonious church for $26,000 in the State of Pennsylvania." That is saying a great deal, but we all know it could be said of a church which an enthusiastic and energetic pastor such as Morris Swartz would undertake; then since we are on home grounds we dare add that he always had that pleasing art of stroking people the right way, which is sure to get him about what he wants. The church is of buff brick with grey stone trimmings, the pavement and steps of granolithic limestone. From the vestibule four or five easy steps lead to the main audience room, which has a seating capacity of about four hundred and separated from the Sabbath school room by three large sliding doors, which can be pushed aside making the whole into a large main room.

Opening out of this is a large and conveniently arranged library, an infant room and three closed class rooms. The windows are all memorial and the scheme of decorations such as to make an harmonious whole.

We are very glad the congregation of Shippensburg have such a successful realization of their plans for while it is easily possible now-a-days to have beauty in architecture and decorations there is often such a diversity of taste in a congregation that it is difficult to have a successful finale in a building.

WHERE DEMOCRATS ARE SCARCE.—C. N. Humphrey, of Philipsburg, and Joseph Steinkrohner, of Newton, Kansas, hold the record for big contributions to the WATCHMAN exchequer thus far in the New Year and while we are very willing that they should have the honor for a little while we hope there are some other subscribers who will knock them out ere long.

Mr. Steinkrohner is an old resident of Centre county and like his relatives here, the Beezers, Hazels and others, always was a great Democrat. He writes, however, that he doesn't have much company out where he is now. You know they are all Republicans, Pops, Carrie Nationites, Mary Ellen Leasers or something else equally as foolish out there and Joe finds it pretty hard to locate any one imbued with the good, sound, sensible Democracy that he learned in old Centre. Of course it is not to be expected that he will ever bring the Sun flower State around to his way of thinking, but it is a dead certainty that that will have to be the result if he and the rest of Kansas ever get together in politics.

The borough council of Danville is at logger-heads over the payment of a bill of $2,000 presented by J. Murray Africa for surveying its streets.

The citizens and supervisors of Lamar township want Clinton county Commissioner to build a bridge over Fishing creek, near Dr. Samuel Creighton's farm because the last grand jury recommended it.

Semi-annual clearance sale of overcoats and suits, 1/2 off; overcoats and suits 1/2 off; overcoats and suits 1/2 off. Montgomery & Co., Clothiers.

Register A. G. Archey met with an accident on Sunday that would prove one of the greatest jokes of the season were it not for the dangerous consequences that might follow. While at his home at Pine Grove he was endeavoring to catch two horses that had been let loose in the barn yard, when one of them playfully snapped at him with its teeth. Unfortunately for the "Squire" his nose was right in line and the animal molar closed on it with the result that he has an exceedingly troublesome injury to the capital of his face. While the skin was not broken it was bruised badly and to add to his discomfort a bad cold has come along to push the injured member into constant use.

The entertainments thus far given under the management of Petriken hall Star course bureau have been of such a high class that little more than a mere announcement of the future ones is necessary to assure the people that something good is coming. Next Tuesday night, January 20th, the Chicago Glee club will sing in the hall and their singing the Toledo Blade says: "An improved version of Tom, Tom, the Piper's Son was brought out in a manner that threw the audience into a state of good natured collapse. The singers were in a liberal mood and the number of encores equaled the original program. "Tyrolense Hunter's March," by Koschat, and "Remember Now Thy Creator," a splendid sacred composition by Rhodes, were both rendered with excellent effect. A group of sailor songs in costume was an especially enjoyable feature."

STATE HORTICULTURAL ASSOCIATION.—The forty fourth annual meeting of the State Horticultural Association of Pennsylvania will be held in the board of trade rooms in Harrisburg on Wednesday and Thursday, January 21st and 22nd. All persons interested in the pursuit of horticulture are cordially invited to attend and participate in the discussions.

Martin, Deputy Secretary of Agriculture; Gabriel Heister, of Harrisburg; Prof. R. L. Watts, of Scalp Level; Prof. Wells, of Washington, D. C., and others.

KEEP IN MIND.—The "Illustrated Lecture, Oberammergau Passion Play" in the court house, Friday evening, Feb. 6th, 1902. It has never been equaled by anything of the kind seen in Bellefonte. Doctor and Mrs. Burnett witnessed the performance of the Passion play at Oberammergau in 1900, and secured the finest pictures obtainable while making a careful study of this most remarkable presentation of the pious peasants of Bavaria. It is a rare privilege we are offered to see, and hear this magnificently illustrated lecture. All the press notices speak in the highest terms of Doctor and Mrs. Burnett's entertainment. Admission 25 cents. No reserved seats.

THE FARMERS MUTUAL ELECTS OFFICERS.—At the annual meeting of the Farmers Mutual fire insurance company of Centre county, held at Runkle's hotel, in Centre Hall, on Monday, the following officers were elected: Ten of the twelve former board of directors were re-elected. Two new directors were chosen, John B. Goheen in place of the new county commissioner Bailey, of Ferguson, and James B. Strohm, in place of W. B. Mingle.

The following are the directors, John B. Goheen, H. C. Campbell, Col. W. Fred Reynolds, Frederick Kartz, Jacob Bortoff, Frank McFarlane, James B. Strohm, F. M. Fisher, H. E. Duck, Z. D. Thomas, Geo. B. Haines, J. R. Brungart.

The board organized by the election of the following officers: President, Fred Kartz; vice president, H. C. Campbell; treasurer, B. H. Arney; secretary, D. F. Luse.

A resolution was passed authorizing the change of the home office of the company from Centre Hall to Bellefonte.

SAMUEL GRAMLEY.—A life long resident of Brush valley passed away on Tuesday, when the venerable Samuel Gramley died at his home in Rebersburg. He had been ill a long time with troubles incident to old age so that the end was not unexpected.

Deceased was born on his father's farm in Miles township, March 4th, 1827. His early life was spent about the place, working in the summer and studying in the winter to prepare himself for teaching, which he preferred to farming. From the time he was 22 years old he taught school continuously for forty-three years. In 1861 he moved to his father's place at Rebersburg where he resided ever after. He served the county three years as a Commissioner and for fifteen years was Justice of the Peace of Miles township.

His marriage to Miss Sarah J. Small, of Miles township, on August 7th, 1849, resulted in a family of seven children, two of whom, Isabella and Tiras J., died when quite young. The surviving ones are C. L., superintendent of the public schools of the county; Titus M., of Spring Mills; Mrs. Naome J. Heckman, of Clinton county; Clement H., and Mrs. Ada E. Hubler, of Miles township. His first wife died in 1880 and several years later he married Mrs. Catharine C. Ocker, who also survives.

Funeral services will be held at his late home in Rebersburg this morning. Rev. C. B. Hartman will officiate.

MRS. CHARLES H. KASE.—Mrs. Elizabeth Heylman Kase, wife of Charles H. Kase, formerly of this place, died at her home in Trout Run, Lycoming county, on Tuesday evening of acute Bright's disease. Some months ago the disease first developed and although she rallied the improvement was only temporary.

Mr. and Mrs. Kase with their family came to Bellefonte when the nail works were established and until three or four years ago, when they removed to Trout Run, were among our most worthy citizens. Mrs. Kase was a refined, gentle woman, very much admired by her acquaintances and beloved by her associates. She was about 49 years of age and was a sister of J. G. Heylman, of this place. She is survived by her husband and two children Ruth at home and Charles H., of Philadelphia. She was an useful member of the Presbyterian church, and her burial will take place to-day in Williamsport.

MRS. LYDIA NEESE.—The death of Mrs. Lydia Neese, a respected old lady of Spring Mills, occurred at her home in that place on the morning of the 5th inst. Though she had been suffering with dropsy for some time her death was comparatively unexpected. Mr. Neese died a number of years ago and surviving her are five sons and four daughters as follows: Alice and Lavina J., Spring Mills; Rebecca, Beuna Vista, Va.; R. W., J. Howard, and P. C., Auburn, New York; J. A., West Superior, Wis.; Emma, Scalp Level.

Mrs. Neese was 65 years, 2 months and 11 days old. Interment was made in the Cross cemetery in George's valley last Thursday morning; Rev. J. M. Reaick, her pastor, having officiated.

A DEAR LITTLE BOY.—Robert Reese, the little eight year old son of Martin Reese, the conductor of the Snow Shoe passenger train, died at the family home in Snow Shoe on Saturday evening at 11 o'clock. Just before Christmas he had scarlet rash, which finally developed into dropsy and as he was always a delicate child he finally succumbed to the disease. He was a dear little boy and his father and sister, Marie, are sadly afflicted by his death following so closely that of his mother. On Monday his body was taken to the home of his grand mother, Mrs. Holter, at Howard, for burial and it was just three months to the day that his mother's body had been carried to the same place. Interment was made in Schenck's burying ground on Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock.

DEATH CAME AT LAST.—For several years the case of Homer Harry, of Smulton, has attracted the attention of both physicians and the public. About two years ago he had his back broken while at work in the lumber regions of Potter county and though rendered perfectly helpless thereby he lived and was full of good cheer and hopefulness up to the very last.

Deceased was the son of Serenus Harry, of Smulton, and was about 30 years old. Funeral services were held in the Reformed church at Rebersburg on Monday morning, under charge of Rev. Wetzel.

S. H. GLOSSNER.—S. H. Glossner, aged 63 years, a well known resident of Eagleville, died at his home in that place on Tuesday night, after a protracted illness of consumption. His widow, two daughters and three sons survive him.

Interment was made in the Baptist cemetery on Monday afternoon; Rev. L. F. Brown having conducted services at the house.

James A. Wands, a 15 year old Tyrone boy, who was subject to epileptic attacks, had one on the floor of the Academy of music in that place, on last Thursday night and fell headlong to the stage, 25 ft below. He died next morning from the effect of his injury.

MRS. MARY ELLEN HEPBURN.—Mrs. Mary Ellen Hepburn, relict of Thomas Hepburn, who died fifteen years ago, died very unexpectedly from heart failure at the home of her daughter, Mrs. William Martz, at Rock View, on Sunday night. She had been in her usual health almost up to the moment when the fatal stroke came.

She was 51 years, 9 months and 11 days old and nearly all of her life had been a zealous member of the Methodist church. Surviving her is her one daughter, Mrs. Martz, with whom she had made her home for several years.

Rev. Heckman, of State College, conducted services over her remains on Wednesday afternoon, and interment was made in the Union cemetery in this place.

HER DEATH DEPLORED.—The death of Miss Estella Williams, youngest daughter of E. R. Williams, which occurred at the home of her brother Elmer, in Julian, on Sunday morning at 11 o'clock is greatly deplored. Seldom does a young person possess so many excellent characteristics as she did. She had a lovable disposition and her entire life was spent in service and sacrifice for others. She had been sick for nine months and was twenty-four years of age. Twelve years of which she has been a cheerful worker in the Methodist church.

Burial was made on Wednesday of the ten months old son of Harvey Hoover, of near Woodward. He died on Sunday morning.
