How The Czar Lives.

Simple Habits of the Richest Ruler in the World—Banquets His Abomination.

Though the Czar of Russia is the richest man in the world, writes Fritz Morris in the "Cosmopolitan," and the disposal of every penny raised for the government is absolutely in his control, and though he draws upon it to as great an extent as he pleases, as if it were his private purse, the home life of this imperial couple of Russia is very simple and almost without ceremony.

The czar rises at 8, and his toilet lasts until nearly 9 o'clock, when he sits down at his writing table to discharge such important matters of state as do not admit of delay.

From 10 to 11 he enjoys a short rest, during which he partakes of a light luncheon, and then the time is again devoted to work—to the signing of documents, to the study of bills and the reports of ministers and governors, to which he adds numerous marginal remarks.

At 4 the czar begins work again, sometimes only until 6, but often until 7 o'clock, which is the dinner hour. The czar likes simple food and a very quick eater. He seems hardly to have begun when he is finished. His dinner consists of but few courses, and he likes to talk and joke during the meal.

Mr. Ralph was born in New York city on May 27th, 1853. He was the son of Dr. Joseph Edward Ralph, a physician. At the age 13 years he became a typesetter on the "Red Bank Standard."

After leaving the "Sun" Mr. Ralph went to London as correspondent for the New York "Journal." When the war between Turkey and Greece began he joined the force of Osman Pasha, the Turkish general, and went through the campaign in Thessaly as correspondent for the London "Daily Mail."

He went to the Boer war for the "Daily Mail" and accompanied Lord Roberts to Pretoria. He collaborated with Kipling in publishing the paper called the "Friend" at Bloemfontein after the British had captured the place. He returned to the United States in March, 1902, his health having been weakened by his South African experiences.

Besides writing for magazines Mr. Ralph had written "An American With Lord Roberts," "War's Brighter Side," "Toward Pretoria," "Chicago and the World's Fair," "On Canada's Frontier," "People We Pass," "The Angel in a Web," "Alone in China" and "The Millionaire."

Mr. Ralph married Isabella Mount, of Red Bank, in 1875. She survives him with five children.

Owens the Largest Farm.

Wonderful Records of the Past Year's Work.

David Rankin, of Tarkio Mo., owns the largest cultivated tract of land in the world, says the Cincinnati "Enquirer." To those who have never visited a large ranch the methods necessary to carry on the vast amount of work would seem a great problem.

Soon after his accession the czar laid out $400,000 in remodeling and refurnishing the royal kitchens at the winter palace. All the cooking utensils are of solid silver. The spoons are of solid gold, engraved with the royal arms, and the ranges and ovens are edged with silver.

The most profitable ranch is the one looked after by Foreman George Ross, whose yearly report contains the following statements: Number of acres, 3280; cattle, 1328; net proceeds from cattle, $44,598.90; hogs, 1232; cash for the same, $17,954.19; expense per acre, $4.39; corn bought, 98,720 bushels.

Mr. Rankin is a close observer and soon picked out the good qualities of his men. He is pleasant and accommodating, daring and energetic, which qualities have won for him the wealth he now commands. Beside his farm he has an interest in several banking concerns, but to these latter he gives little attention, and spends most of his time riding over the ranches to see that proper care is being given the stock.

Articles of food that are damp and juicy should never be left in paper. Some paper is simply a compound of rags, glue, lime and similar substances, with acids and chemicals mixed, and, when damp, is unfit to touch things that are to be eaten.

A Sectarian Language. Helen, a little daughter of Presbyterian parents, became very much annoyed one evening at the maid-of-all-work for conversing with her friends in the Norwegian tongue, and exclaimed:

"Why don't you talk the way we do? We don't talk Norwegian; we talk Presbyterian!"

Pennypacker's Cabinet.

Hampton L. Carson, the new State Attorney General, was born in Philadelphia on February 21st, 1852. His father, Joseph Carson, was for twenty-six years professor of materia medica in the medical department of the University of Pennsylvania, and was the author of a history of the medical department. Dr. Carson's father was a Philadelphia merchant, and his grandfather signed the non-importation resolutions just before the revolutionary war.

James M. Shumaker was a member of the last Legislature from Cambria. He was sheriff of the county from 1892 to 1895, and has always been a staunch supporter of Senator Quay.

Bronley Wharton, the Governor's private secretary, is a descendant of an old Philadelphia family that settled there just after Penn's arrival. Born in that city June 20th, 1864, Bronley Wharton was educated in private schools and later entered the employ of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company as private secretary to one of the transportation agents.

Dr. Ward, of Chester Killed. While boarding the Danish steamship Euxinia, from Rotterdam, in the Delaware river, off Marcus Hook, on last Wednesday night, Dr. J. M. B. Ward, deputy quarantine physician, fell down the vessel's coal hatch, and was instantly killed.

Five Boys Killed. Five youthful coasters were instantly killed by the Reading flyer at the Pine street crossing in South Bethlehem on Thursday. The dead are Dennis McGinley, John Coyle, Owen Cahill, Patrick Cahill and one who was badly mangled that he was not identified.

Domestic Statistics. One of little Paul's sisters had been married in a few weeks when he was asked by a workman to whom he had been talking for a quite a long time:

Recovered. Little Charlie, being asked by his teacher the subject of his geography lesson, answered promptly:

Learning by Degrees. Little Charlie, being asked by his teacher the subject of his geography lesson, answered promptly:

After Eating. Nausea between meals, belching, vomiting, flatulence, fits of nervous headache, pain in the stomach, are all symptoms of dyspepsia, and the longer it is neglected the harder it is to cure it.

Important New Law.

It Relates to the Collection of Unpaid Taxes—Some Marked Changes.

A new law went into effect on January 1, relating to unseated lands and municipal liens, or unpaid taxes. Under the new arrangement the tax collector of the various boroughs and townships will now make their report of unseated lands, and the amount of tax thereon, to the prothonotary, who will enter it on the new docket. The tax thereon becomes a lien on the land described in each return. At any time thereafter the commission may issue a scire facias and reduce the lien to a judgement, after which the property may be sold by the sheriff the same as on any other judgement.

Under the old law the unseated lands, that is, where the owner could not be found, were returned by the collectors to the office of the county commissioner. The returns were in due time certified to the county treasurer, whose duty it was to keep the list and sell the properties at public auction every two years.

One feature is very plain. The costs will be made much greater than heretofore. A man who has a sale to gain a title to a piece of land will now have to pay the full value of the same, if the piece be small and of little consequence.

Main Line Congested With Freight.

In consequence of the serious congestion on the Pennsylvania railroad, fully twenty-five per cent. less than the normal traffic is now moving. On the main line fewer than 5,000 cars a day are passing a given point. The movement has often exceeded 6,000 cars, and some Pennsylvania traffic men think that a much heavier business than this, even should be handled.

The tunnel which is to furnish pure water to Cleveland from an intake five miles out in Lake Erie is now practically completed after six year's work at a cost of $250,000. It runs 100 feet below the lake bed, and is nine feet in diameter. Fifty lives have been lost in this work.
