—Mrs. Joseph Ceader gave a dinner to a party of ladies at her home on north Allegheny street last Thursday evening.

—Rev. J. Ellis Bell, presiding elder of the Altoona district, preached in the Methodist church here on Sunday evening.

—It will not be long until the Logans will entertain you with Howe's moving pictures. They will be seen here on the evening of April 7th.

—The condition of Thomas Moore, who is in the German hospital in Philadelphia suffering with typhoid, is not as favorable as could be hoped for.

—James J. McClure has opened a business office at the corner of Spring and Logan streets and will buy furs. He will pay the highest cash price for all kinds of raw furs.

—Samuel Loper has purchased G. Willard Hall's news stand in the Racket. He has resigned his position with Montgomery & Co. and will give all of his attention to the new business.

—Ensign Alfred Terry Brisbin has been assigned to the "Kearsage," the flagship of Admiral Higginson's north Atlantic Squadron. The assignment is regarded as one of the best in the navy.

—The WATCHMAN has lately received several anonymous communications, which, though quite meritorious, were assigned to the waste basket because the author's name did not accompany them.

—Grant Hoover, the bustling insurance agent, has something new to tell you in his advertisement this week. It will pay you to look it up, just as it will pay you to place some business with him.

—Tonight the A class at the High school will give their measuring party for the benefit of the school hospital fund. It will be a pleasant entertainment and every body should go.

—Rev. T. W. Perks will entertain Rev. May Whitehead, of McKeesport, at his home on Thomas street over Sunday. Rev. Whitehead will fill the pulpit at the Valley View church Sunday evening.

—Up to yesterday afternoon the new Y. M. C. A. building and gymnasium fund had reached $8,105.00. The people are giving generously because they recognize the urgent need of a permanent home for the Association.

—Joe Kelleher, conductor of the local shifter crew, is in Philadelphia attending a school for passenger conductors. We don't know whether Joe is to be promoted or not, but he is certainly a faithful and intelligent employee.

—A party of young ladies and gentlemen from this place had a sleighing party to the Cambridge home, near Unionville, last Friday night. George Frey and Fred Lane drove the four-in-hand and they all had a very enjoyable time.

—The creditors of former sheriff John P. Coudo, who is going through bankruptcy, received $5,000 on their claims yesterday morning. The distribution was made by H. C. Quigley, commissioner in bankruptcy for this district.

—Reuben Miller accidentally fell out of one of the windows of the casting house at the Nitany furnace, on Friday evening, and injured himself quite severely by striking on the railroad tracks. His nose was broken and a deep gash cut in his head.

—Prof. and Mrs. J. Dorsey Hunter at State College are pardonably proud of the big boy that came to their home last Saturday. He is their first born, consequently it is only natural to suppose that there isn't another baby half as dear in all this wide world.

—The Bellefonte Central rail-road has been operating under difficulties this week. Trains have been late and at times it has been impossible to run into State College from the Junction. A car broke down there on Monday and on Wednesday two ice cars left the tracks at Hunter's park, delaying traffic for hours.

—Mrs. W. F. Reeder, of this place, was chosen vice-regent of the Daughters of the American Revolution of the State of Pennsylvania at a caucus at the Ebbitt house in Washington, on Tuesday. Miss Susan Carpenter Fraser, of Lancaster, was re-elected Regent. Mrs. Reeder is one of the most active members in the Bellefonte chapter and will give both dignity and graciousness to the office with which she has been honored.

—Miss Newman was in town on Tuesday arranging for the appearance here of Simvelle's scenic production of "Romeo and Juliet," which will be seen at Garman's on Wednesday evening, March 4th. Charles Balser and Pauline Pauli are in the leading roles and a really meritorious performance may be expected. Miss Newman was selling seats in order to make a certain guarantee and succeeded so well that a large house will greet the Simvelle people.

ELLIS L. ORVIS IS THE PRESIDENT.—A new organization to be known as the Hayes Run Fire Brick Company, with a capital of $100,000, is applying for a charter to manufacture fire brick and allied commodities at Hayes Run, along the line of the Beech Creek rail-road, in Centre county. The land under control of the new company comprises a tract of 600 acres underlying with a rich vein of fire clay and orders have already been placed for the buildings and machinery.

A chute or incline will convey the clay to the works without the additional expense of freight or any extra handling. There is also an abundance of coal on the lands to run the works, with an additional saving to the company, and will enable them to manufacture brick at a minimum cost. In addition to the large building and kilns to be constructed at once, the company will erect twenty dwelling houses at Hayes Run for occupancy by some of the men to be employed at the works.

The plant will have a capacity of 40,000 fire brick a day at the start, and will give employment to at least fifty men. However, the plans of construction have in view the enlarging of the plant, as circumstances may warrant, and the consequent employment of a much larger force of men.

The office is elected by the stockholders are: President, Ellis L. Orvis Esq., Bellefonte; treasurer, W. I. Harvey, Flemington; secretary, T. M. Stevenson Esq., Lock Haven.

ANOTHER CENTRE COUNTYMAN ATTRACTING ATTENTION.—On another page of this issue will be found an interesting article on the immunization of cattle against tuberculosis. Aside from its worth as a carefully prepared treatise of a question that is of vital interest to the stock raiser and the consumer of milk and beef it has the additional significance of having for its author Dr. Samuel H. Gilliland, a native of this county. Dr. Gilliland is a son of Mr. James Gilliland, of Oak Hall, and is now assistant bacteriologist of the State Live Stock Sanitary Board. In conjunction with Dr. Leonard Pearson, state veterinarian, he has been making some original investigations along the line of immunization against tuberculosis that has aroused the interest of scientists everywhere. When it is known that tuberculosis of cattle now causes in this State an annual loss of at least one million dollars the hoped for fruit of Dr. Gilliland's research will be evident to all. We are glad that it is a Centre countyman who is attracting so much attention in this line of work and we trust that the success will be commensurate with the earnest effort Dr. Gilliland will put forth.

THE CENTRAL SUPPLY CO. RETIRES FROM BUSINESS.—The Central Supply Co., which had been doing business in the room formerly occupied by McCalmont & Co. since last fall closed on Monday night. The exact reason for the suspension is not known to any outside the corporation. It was doing a splendid business and increasing it right along until the day the store was closed.

Platt-Barber & Co., the wholesale grocers, are to take the room and E. M. Grist, who has been the Central Supply Co. manager here, will either remain here in charge of their branch or go to the Phillipsburg or DuBois house of that firm.

Roger Bogue has purchased Smith's grocery in the Arcade and will continue in business there by himself. He is an old and practical groceryman and both by reason of his long experience and wide acquaintance he should be able to build up a nice trade.

SECRETARY JOHN HAMILTON IS NOT LONG IN FINDING A NEW BERTH.—John Hamilton, of State College, whose successor as Secretary of Agriculture for Pennsylvania was announced last week by Governor Pennypacker was not long in finding a nice, new berth. He had scarcely stepped out of the one office ere President Roosevelt made him head of the farmer's institute section of the division of Colleges and Experimental Stations in the United States Department of Agriculture.

It is the most important educational appointment in the gift of the federal government, and has but recently been created by Congress. It is an office which Mr. Hamilton is amply qualified to fill and the federal government has secured a man who will give it the most conscientious attention.

TRAVELED MANY MILES FOR A WIFE.—Last Friday evening there was quite a romantic wedding celebrated at the Garman house in this place. It was the marriage of Miss Ida M. Herr, of Beech Creek, to Frank Vogel, of Turtle Lake, North Dakota, and the ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Shriner of the Methodist church.

Mr. and Mrs. Vogel had never seen each other until the day of their wedding. All of their courtship had been by mail and when they finally decided to marry the groom traveled clear across the continent for his bride. He is a young Dakota farmer and while here made a very good impression. His bride is a daughter of John M. Herr, of Beech Creek.

THE FIRST NATIONAL.—The First National bank of Bellefonte has just been granted a renewal of the charter under which it has been doing business since Feb. 24th, 1863. The charter covers a period of only twenty years so that another renewal will have to be secured Feb. 24th, 1923. The First National of Bellefonte is what might be called one of the heavy banking institutions of the central part of the State. At the close of business on February 24th it had assets of $1,019,264.78, with deposits amounting to $764,936.69.

P. Geary. It will be located on Main street and will begin business as soon as suitable quarters can be secured.

—The roof of Snyder State's home at Coleville caught fire in some way Wednesday morning and a hole about eight feet square was burned in it. The Bellefonte Central freight crew noticed the fire and, stopping their train, ran to put it out. Had it not been for their prompt work the entire building would probably have been destroyed.

—Next week McCalmont & Co. will begin advertising their farm and garden tools, fertilizers and seeds. It is not too early to begin to think about such things, for March is only two days off, then April will be upon us before we know where we are and it will be time to have the garden in good condition. McCalmont & Co's tools for out-of-door work and seeds are always of the best.

—Communion service will be held in the United Brethren church, Bellefonte, Sunday morning and evening March 1st, 1902. Sermon at 10:30 by Rev. J. I. L. Ressler, A. —The popular friends' contest, which had been on at Cruse's cigar store since December, was brought to a close at midnight Saturday, with excitement running high. From early in the evening until the stroke of 12 the friends of the two contestants crowded into the store to secure all the votes possible. On Friday evening Cunningham had 13,839 and Noonan had 9,193. You can have an idea of how fast they were voted on Saturday when you know the final figures: Cunningham 29,440 and Noonan 25,355. The men who counted the final poll were L. H. McQuestion and Charles Heiler, of Cunningham; and Frank Saeserman and Ollie Campbell for Noonan. Mr. Cruse presented Noonan with a diamond pin as a consolation prize.

MISS CORA CLEVENSTINE.—Miss Cora Belle Clevenstine, only daughter of Isaac and Mary Clevenstine, of Huhlersburg, died at the family home on Saturday evening, the 21st, aged 19 years, 3 months and 7 days. Although she had been confined to her bed for about six weeks and was known to be suffering with enlargement of the heart yet the announcement of her death caused surprise as well as sorrow among her friends and neighbors.

She was a young lady of excellent qualities and christian character and when about fourteen years of age was confirmed as a member of the Reformed church of Huhlersburg. She was most regular in her attendance at its services and her communion record was complete. She is survived by her father and mother and two brothers, Harry and John. Funeral services were held on Wednesday morning by her pastor, Rev. H. L. Crow, who took for his text, "Weep not for she is not dead but sleeping." The floral tributes were beautiful. Class number three, of which she was a member, presented a handsome piece. The funeral was very largely attended and her two brothers and four cousins Frank, Samuel, and William Clevenstine and Charles Walkey were the pall bearers.

JOHN D. STERRETT.—John D. Sterrett, a native of this county, but who has for more than forty years been prominently identified with the oil business in Titusville, died at his home in that place on Sunday morning, the 15th, after a short illness of pneumonia. Mr. Sterrett was born at Jacksonsville, May 8th, 1828, but his youth was spent in Lewisstown, where his father was engaged in the milling business. Later the family removed to Clarion and for many years Mr. Sterrett was the purchasing agent for several of the largest firms in the oil region. In 1878 he accepted a position with the Standard oil company and remained in its employ until his death. "ROMEO AND JULIET"—Simvelle's scenic production of Shakespeare's "Romeo and Juliet" which comes to Garman's Wednesday night March 4th, is spoken of as follows by the Bridgeton, N. J. Daily News of Feb. 5th, 1903.

"The production by Simvelle's company of 'Romeo and Juliet,' last night was a distinct and very pleasing feature in the season's theatrical events. A very large and appreciative audience gathered at the Criterion to witness it and went away charmed with the beauty and general merit of the performance. Millville sent over a very large delegation, while Bridgeton and vicinity also turned out in great numbers. It was gratifying to see the people thus attesting their appreciation of such high-grade dramatic offerings as this immortal story of Shakespeare's. It was indeed a splendid production which was given. The company is a very competent one. Charles Balser gave a superb interpretation of the character of Romeo and Miss Pauline Pauli, as the fair Juliet, fully seconded his efforts. Some of the scenes between these two were very dainty. The scenic effects were beautiful and the costumes handsome, making the entire presentation a very pretty picture.
