

Howard.

Miss Minnie Ammerman is visiting at the home of Mrs. Al White.

George Williams is spending the week with his family on Walnut street.

T. A. Hunter, of Mill Hall, made a business trip to our town Tuesday.

Mrs. Al Moore, of Flemington, visited relatives here a few days this week.

Wednesday, Mrs. Mable Pletcher left for Philadelphia, where she will be employed for the summer.

Miss Alice Riddle departed on Tuesday for Tyrone, where she will visit relatives for the next ten days.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Workman, of Mingo-ville, were guests on Sunday at the home of Mrs. T. E. Thomas.

Miss Flora Groover, of Philadelphia, arrived in town on Wednesday and will visit her parents for a short time.

On Saturday evening Miss Ada Shope gave a party in honor of Rev. I. N. Bair's daughters. Those present report having a fine time.

Miss Mable Packer, of Pittsburg, arrived in town last week and is visiting at the home of her grand-parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Robb.

A. A. Pletcher has resigned his school. His resignation took effect March 13th. Joseph Meirick will be his successor to finish the unexpired term.

DEATH OF HENRY GROSS.—On Wednesday evening, March 11th, death entered the home of Robert Cooke, and claimed as its victim Henry Gross, Mrs. Cooke's father. Mr. Gross has been in a serious condition for the past weeks with infirmities incident to old age. He was eighty-four years of age and the latter part of his life was spent in this place. Surviving him are four daughters and one son. Mrs. A. E. Folmer, Windburne; Mrs. Anna Bechdel, Salona; Mrs. J. Hoy, Walker; Mrs. Robert Cooke, Howard and Lot, of Altoona. Funeral services were held on Saturday morning at 10 a. m., with Rev. J. N. Bair officiating. Interment was made in the Howard cemetery.

Lemont.

Mrs. Lizzie Grove, of Bellefonte, is visiting at the home of H. F. Evey.

Mrs. Matthew Riddle visited a few days of last week at the home of E. B. Peters.

Luther Dale moved from Pine Grove, on Monday, to his uncle William Dale's farm, near Pleasant Gap.

William Evey, from Pittsburg, is making his annual visit among friends in these parts and looks old-fashioned.

C. D. Houtz and wife and John Williams, wife and daughter Isadore, Sunday at the home of Geo. Williams.

Mrs. Weaver, the mother of S. B. Weaver, the division boss, has been suffering from a stroke but is getting some better.

Harry Wagner's son, Fred, fell from the hay loft on Saturday, cutting a long gash above his right eye which required a number of stitches.

On Friday, State College sent a car of eighteen fine beef cattle from Oak Hall and among the lot was one that weighed 2010 lbs. which was a beauty.

Harry D. Porter, the person spoken of last week, was taken to the Danville hospital on Friday. He is quite a sufferer and besides has been bereft of his reason.

Harry Shugarts and his bride spent Thursday of last week at the home of Harry Burns, at Oak Hall. That evening a band of serenaders rendered some music for their comfort—or discomfort.

Rev. W. K. Shultz preached for the congregation of this place in the place of his father, the minister, who has been returned to this charge for another year, which affords the people much pleasure. The gentleman who preached goes to Milesburg.

Samuel Kaup, the gentleman who has carried the U. S. mail between Boalsburg and Oak Hall stations for the last eight or ten years, has sold out to Dr. Kidder and moved to Renovo, the home of his father-in-law. He will be missed by all as he was very accommodating.

Books, Magazines Etc.

IN THE "GREATEST OF COPPER CAMPS"—"On the night I arrived in Butte," says Ray Stannard Baker, whose "Butte City: Greatest of Copper Camps," the April installment of his "The Great Northwest" series in the Century, is likely to make Butte proud to the third and fourth generation, and to waken Easterners to a new realization of Butte City's fabulous resources—"on the night I arrived in Butte City I was awakened at two o'clock in the morning by an enterprising reporter who wanted an interview. He shouted his questions over the transom; I shouted my replies from my pillow. In parting he gave me the name of a man connected with his paper who he said was the 'real thing.' He concluded: 'He can give you more dope about Butte than any other guy in Montana.'"

—Illustrations of the April Century's leading article, "The Restoration of the White House," written by Charles Moore, clerk of the Senate committee on the District of Columbia, are not by photographs, but from drawings, exterior and interior, by some of the best draftsmen in the country. As seen from the State dining-room windows, and the south portico and new wings. Other drawings are of the main entrance hall, the staircase grill, the East Room, the fireplace in the Red Room, the President's study, the private dining-room, the main staircase, and the new concert grand piano.

—Rather a new departure for St. Nicholas will be the article in the April issue on "Training for Interscholastic Athletics," by G. W. Orton, whose words of warning and advice carry the weight of an active athlete, a holder of American and world championships. The illustrations will be from photographs of notable athletes—photographs whose life and action will delight the boys.
