THINGS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY

—“Faust” at Garman’s next Wednesday night.

—James G. Taylor and Joseph Shaughtens have been appointed corporals in Co. B.

—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hartsock, of Coleville, are mourning the loss of a little daughter.

—Wm. J. Dorworth, a son of Dr. E. S. Dorworth, of this place, is on the committee for the Junior assembly at State College after Easter.

—After a residence of thirty-one years in Aaronsburg, Mrs. M. M. Musser and his daughter, Mrs. Mary Edwards, have moved to Bloomsburg.

—Thieves carried sixteen choice smoked hams and pieces of side meat away from Elias Snyder’s smokehouse, in Nittany valley, recently.

—The life of The Pennsylvania State College student is a busy one. Military drill is to be started at 6:45 in the morning; which means that the boys must arise by 6 o’clock.

—A house owned by Mrs. Deitz and occupied by Lizzie Haines, about half a mile from the borough of Howard, was totally destroyed by fire early Wednesday morning.

—The barn on the John Lyons place, along the public road in Howard township was totally destroyed by fire Wednesday morning. Mr. Lyons’ loss is placed at $1,000.

—William Krazier, of Mill Hall, has accepted the position of head baker at the Harrison bakery on Bishop street, to take the place made vacant by the departure of Win Love.

—Jim Passmore’s hotel in Philipsburg has become so popular that it will no longer accommodate the guests who seek entertainment there so a large addition is to be built to it.

—Conductor John Hall, of the C. R. R. of Pa. has been off duty since last Friday with a severe attack of tonsillitis. He has recovered sufficiently to be down stairs yesterday.

—If you are moving and want the address on your WATCHMAN changed remember to send your present address as well as the new one to which you want the paper sent in the future.

—Miss Louise Kellerman has entered the training school for nurses at the Bellefonte hospital. Miss Clark, of Mill Hall, has been accepted as a nurse in training and given her cap.

—All money refunded at the end of the third act to those who are in the least dissatisfied with Porter J. White’s production of “Faust.” At Garman’s Wednesday night, April 8th.

—Dr. John M. Keichline addressed the meeting in the Salvation Army hall on Tuesday evening; giving quite an interesting talk from the view point of the medical man engaged in christian work.

—The Howe moving pictures is the kind of a show you can take your wife and children to see without fear of having them offended in any way. They will show at Garman’s next Tuesday night for the benefit of the Logans.

—Rev. C. L. McConnell, pastor of the Lutheran church at Millinburg, has been conducting services for the Rev. Dr. Holloway in the Lutheran church here every night this week.

—What burgess W. Harrison Walker has been doing to the drunks and disorderly characters during his first month’s term of office is best seen in the amount of fines, $27.50, he handed over to the borough treasurer on Tuesday.

—Andrew Carnegie has increased his gift to the College for a library building from $100,000 to $150,000. Work upon the building will be commenced at once. The plans submitted by Davis & Davis, of Philadelphia, have been definitely accepted.

—Talk about the forward condition of vegetation at this time. Rev. P. McArdle said, the other day, that he remembers having seen the horse chestnut trees in Bellefonte in full bloom on the 8th of April and one year he drove to Hubblesburg in a sleigh on the 12th of April.

—Archie Allison, who has been housed up with a broken knee cap for some time, is able to be at his place of business a few hours each day now. His physician thinks he is not well enough to get out yet, but Archie has a little opinion of his own that is rather hard to circumvent, and he is out.

—Dr. S. C. Musser, of Aaronsburg, has presented Dr. H. C. Holloway, of this place, with a sickle bearing the name “John Holloway” on the handle and the date 1830. It was found in the granary of an old barn that was being torn down at Aaronsburg and is supposed to have been laid there by Dr. Holloway’s father.

—There are seven patients in the Bellefonte hospital at the present time. Last week the little institution was so crowded that cots had to be placed in the halls and several patients had to be turned away. Within three weeks, however, the fine new property on Willowbank street will be ready for occupancy and then there will be no such crowding as has been necessary at various times since the opening of the hospital.

DEATH OF MRS. S. A. BREW.—The death of Mrs. Catharine Brew, widow of the late S. Austin Brew, which occurred in St. Luke’s hospital, in New York City, on Tuesday morning, was most unexpected to her friends here. Three weeks previous she entered the hospital to have an operation performed, but was so well that she was able to be out of doors so long as the weather was pleasant and almost to the last her physicians were hopeful of her recovery without an operation. The first operation was performed on Monday of last week and was found to be a much more serious one than was anticipated. From the effects of it she never fully recovered consciousness and a second one was resorted to in the endeavor to save her life.

Mrs. Brew was born in Wilkes-barre December 23rd, 1839, and her maiden name was Catharine Pattou. About thirty-three years ago she was married to Mr. S. A. Brew, of this place, and for more than twenty years was an honored resident of Bellefonte. Since Mr. Brew’s death, in June, 1893, she has made her home with her son Thomas in Mahanoy City and Hazleton. She was a woman of splendid integrity and resolute character, but was so diffident in her manner that only those who were more intimately associated with her fully comprehended the abounding generosity and force of her life. She was a most devout church woman. From childhood she had been a member of the Episcopal church and as long as she was able she attended the services regularly and was keenly interested in its work and missions.

Surviving her are her own two sons William, of New York, and Thomas, of Hazleton, whose kindness and devotion to her were way beyond the ordinary, and her husband’s four children by his former marriage C. C. Brew, of Toledo, O., George T., of Rousevelt, W. Va., Harry, of Pittsburg, and Mrs. Harry Feulon, of this place. Of her father’s family one brother William, of Wilkesbarre, and two sisters, Mrs. Jennie Shoemaker, of Wilkesbarre, and Mrs. Eliza Woodring, of Reynoldsville, are living. Her body was brought here on Saturday morning and taken to the home of T. B. Hamilton on Howard street. Funeral services were held in St. John’s Episcopal church on Sabbath afternoon at 3 o’clock, with the pastor, Rev. George I. Brown, officiating. The pallbearers were C. F. and Joseph L. Montgomery, Frank P. Blair, J. M. Shugert, James H. Potter and Harry Keller and interment was made in the family plot in the Union cemetery.

WAS KNOWN IN BELLEFONTE.—W. C. Irwin, superintendent of the federal building, Smithfield street, Pittsburg, died Sunday morning at his home in Ingram, after an illness of several months. He was 58 years old and leaves a wife and five children. The deceased was born in the vicinity of Tyrone and for several years was a passenger conductor on the Tyrone division of the Pennsylvania railroad. Later he served as a conductor on the Pittsburg and Lake Erie, and was for some years stationmaster for that railroad at Pittsburg. About 1895 he took the position which he held until his death in the federal building. He was a Knight Templar. He had been sick since last fall, and since Christmas had not been able to leave his home. The remains were brought to Tyrone Monday at noon, and conveyed to Tyrone cemetery for interment.

Mr. Irwin will be remembered by a number of friends in Bellefonte who knew him when he ran on the valley. His daughter has been a frequent visitor to friends here and in Unionville.

G. W. BECK.—The death of G. W. Beck occurred at his home on Bishop street, in this place, at 8 o’clock on Sunday evening. He had suffered for a long time with Bright’s disease.

Mr. Beck came to Bellefonte several years ago from St. Johnsburg, Vt., and had been one of the most skilled of the employees of the Standard scale works up until the time when his health forced his retirement from active work. He was a man of very retiring disposition, genteel, affable and devoted to his home and family. He was a consistent member of the Presbyterian church, a Mason and an Odd Fellow.

Surviving him are his widow, two daughters and three sons. The body was taken to Wilkesburg for burial yesterday.

WILLIAM YEAGER KILLED.—William Yeager, a son of the late Daniel Yeager, of Snow Shoe, was killed at Ramies mill near Empire, Elk county, Monday morning. He was employed on a lumber operation at that place and had started to work when a heavy rain turned him back toward home. On the way he climbed onto the lumber train for a ride and when getting off near his home his heavy rubber coat became entangled in the wheels, drawing him into them, where he was crushed to death.

Deceased was about 50 years old and is survived by his widow and five children. He was a brother of Mrs. John Davis, of Coleville, and has several half brothers and sisters living about Snow Shoe.

Interment was made at Moshannon yesterday.

—On Monday morning Nicodemus Lose, of Haines Twp., while going to his fields to work found a man by the roadside half dead from exposure. He put him on his wagon and hauled him home. A physician was summoned and the man restored, when it was found that he was an Englishman without friends or relatives in this country. The overseers of the poor took charge of him.

MISS LULU WALTERS.—The unexpected death of black jaundice of Lulu Walters, daughter of Scott Walters, which occurred Thursday, April second, at her home near Milesburg, seems unusually sad as she was a member of the Senior class of the High school and had taken her examination there in algebra on Monday. She has not enjoyed good health for some time but nothing serious was apprehended as it was apparently only the indisposition and fatigue so often incident to close application and the overwork of the modern students life. She was a very ambitious and studious girl and so desirous of making the most of her few remaining school days that she worked on oblivious to the indisposition which suddenly developed a serious and fatal aspect.

She was a member of the Presbyterian church and in this and her home life was as consistent and faithful as in the school life where her associates so deeply regret her death.

A SAD DEATH.—Harry Shay, of Pottsville, a brother of Miss Margaret Shay, the well known nurse, died at the home of Philip Beezer, on Reynolds avenue, on Tuesday night at 11 o’clock. He had been suffering for some time with consumption, which he contracted in the Philippines while there as a soldier and teacher for three years and came here on last Thursday to visit his sister with the hope that a stay among the mountains would be beneficial. He was only twenty years of age and his death was an unusually sad one, for he was so determined to live and made such a desperate fight to get well. His father and mother reside in Pottsville and his body was taken home to them on Thursday morning for interment.

MISS MARY BARNHART.—At the age of 32 years, 18 months and 27 days Miss Mary Barnhart passed away in the hospital in Wilkesburg on Friday last week.

She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Barnhart, of Oak Hall, and her body was taken to their home on Monday. Interment was made in the cemetery at Boalsburg on Tuesday, with Rev. J. I. Stoneypher officiating.

Walton Emigh died at his home at Philipsburg on Thursday morning from the effects of lock-jaw, which developed from injuries sustained by falling from a telephone pole on Tuesday of the week previous. He had both arms broken, one of them in two places. The boy was only 13 years old and a son of Dr. Geo. W. Emigh.

Mrs. Lydia Motz, widow of the late Samuel Motz, died at her home north of Woodard, on last Friday, at the age of 84 years, 2 months and 18 days. Funeral services were held in the United Evangelical church at Woodward on Monday and interment was made in the cemetery there, with Rev. I. N. Bair officiating.

Charles Eisenbuth, aged 19 years, and a son of Henry and Elizabeth Eisenbuth, of Ingleby, died at Ashtola, Somerset Co., on Saturday of small-pox. He was buried there under very sad circumstances.

It is soon time for a big circus to be headed towards Bellefonte.

Clarence Kiester has been appointed clerk in the post-office at Millheim.

Lock Haven is to have an old fashioned Fourth of July celebration.

Up to Sunday forty-one rafts had arrived in the dam at Lock Haven thus far this season.

There will be a partial eclipse of the moon on the evening of April 11th. It will be visible at 8:52 p. m.

A sucker weighing 2½ lbs and measuring 18 inches was caught in Cold Stream, near Philipsburg, one day last week.

The Bald Eagle mountains were afire about Mill Hall on Saturday and Sunday, but Monday’s rain put an end to it.

Blaine Noll has resigned his position as teacher of the Plum Grove school, near Madisonburg, and gone to Altoona to enter the Y. M. C. A. work.

Don’t forget the Howe moving pictures at Garman’s next Tuesday night, April 7th, and don’t forget that they will be shown for the benefit of the Logans. It is a good show and a good cause. Go and see it.

K. Oshima, a native of Japan, made an investigation of the respiration calorimeter methods and work at State College recently. Mr. Oshima is in this country for the purpose of making special study of animal nutrition and came to the College from Connecticut.

The temperature during the month of March this year was notably higher than it has been during the same month for any time during the past sixteen years. It averaged 41° as against 32° in 1900 and 1897. In 1895 it averaged 36°, but even that was considerably lower than the average of 41° of this March.

The Joseph Bros & Co. millinery opening next week is already being talked of by the ladies. They are on qui vive to see the many chic effects in feminine headgear that Miss Lawler and her corps of trimmers has promised them and a glance through that department, a few evenings since, convinced us that no one who goes to the opening on the 8th, 9th, and 10th will be disappointed.

SOLD SOME OF THEIR PATENTS.—The International Electric Co., of this place, an organization formed several years ago to support Edward McGarvey and Guy Linn in the experimental work they had begun on an electrical scale recording invention, has about closed a deal with the Central Electric Co., of Ohio, whereby the latter gains control of fourteen of the valuable patents of the former.

The solicitor, secretary and electrician of the Ohio corporation are in town now and yesterday the deal was practically closed. While it is not known what the exact amount of the consideration is there are rumors to the effect that the local company receives $60,000 for their patents. The patents they have assigned are the ones covering the invention to weigh objects passing rapidly over the platform of a scale by means of an electric vibrator indicator.

The invention is the product of Edward McGarvey, the young electrician of this place, and Guy Linn, whose experience as a scale worker gave him a knowledge of scale mechanism. When they started working on it everyone was skeptical. Well, not everyone, for a few gentlemen got together and financed them and now they are to enjoy the first fruits of success. In the company are Edward McGarvey, Guy Linn, Ellis L. Orvis, Hugh S. Taylor, R. B. Taylor, Sidney Kromine, James Aikens, Col. J. L. Spangler and the estate of John Walsh.

The International Electric company has not disposed of all its patents by any means and the work on several more important inventions will be pushed with renewed vigor.

THE CREAMERY AT SALONA BURNED.—The creamery at Salona, owned and operated by a stock company in which many Nittany valley farmers were interested, was destroyed by fire last Friday night entailing a loss of about $4,000; only partially covered by insurance.

The fire broke out about 11:45 and as the building was a light frame one it burned rapidly. The flames destroyed Samuel Shaffer’s adjoining black-smith shop, causing a loss of $300 for him.

The Salona creamery was a very complete one. Fortunately there was not much of a stock of butter on hand at the time, but a large number of eggs were burned.

B. F. Long, the manager of the property, is busy making arrangements for rebuilding and already has a temporary butter-making place in operation. The new creamery will not be put on the same site, but some distance south on Water street.

WHO OUR NEW MINISTER IS.—The Tyrone Herald has the following complimentary things to say of the new minister who comes to serve the Methodists in this place.

Rev. John A. Wood Jr., who served the First M. E. church of Tyrone as pastor the past three years, has been assigned to the church at Bellefonte. Mr. Wood is not only an earnest and faithful minister of the gospel, but is very practical in his pulpit deliverances; yet he is by nature kindly and no matter how straight his arrow is aimed at a prevalent sin his words and manner of speech are softened with that kindly spirit that counts for good. The good wishes of the people of Tyrone, regardless of church affiliation, go with him and his most estimable wife to their new field of labor.

A SAD ACCIDENT AT MILL HALL.—About 3:30 Tuesday afternoon J. D. Miller, a respected resident of Mill Hall, met with an accident that has maimed him for life. He was walking on the N. Y. C. tracks, just below the station when a fast freight came along. Stepping away from it he was knocked down by some cars that were being shifted on another track and fell under the wheels of the freight. Both feet were cut off just above the shoe tops and he received a bad scalp wound.

When picked up he was conscious of what had happened and later was taken to the Lock Haven hospital where the one leg was amputated above the knee and the other below.

Ralph Mallory has purchased Samuel Taylor’s interest in the studio of Mallory & Taylor in this place and will continue the business alone in the future. The Mallory & Taylor studio has gained a reputation through its good work that has brought it prominence from all quarters and as all of the mechanical departments have been under the sole control of Mr. Mallory it is only reasonable to believe that their present high standard of excellence will be maintained.

In the hardest game of the season the State College basketball team defeated the Williamsport Y. M. C. A. five in the Army, Thursday night, March 19th, the score being 13 to 9. The game at Williamsport having ended in a tie each team was determined to win and the play was exceedingly fast throughout the game. Fouls were numerous, Williamsport making seven of her nine points on goals from fouling. Williamsport has a very strong team.

The contract for building the power house, sub-stations, erecting the lines and equipping the road for the new Philipsburg trolley system was awarded to the Scanlon Construction Co., on Monday. Thus it appears that Philipsburg is to have her long talked of street car service.

Rev. Dr. W. P. Shriner will preach his last sermon in this place on Sunday morning and Rev. Jay Woodcock will fill the pulpit in the Methodist church Sunday evening.

While in Philipsburg on Monday with A. W. Sandoe, of Centre Hall, who, by the way, was looking for a location for a merchant tailoring establishment, county commissioner P. H. Meyer notified L. G. Dom of his appointment to succeed the late W. H. Lingenfelter as assessor of the Third ward. Mr. Sandoe did not find a suitable place to locate.

News Parly Personal.

—“Jack” Furst, of Mt. Carmel, spent Saturday at his parental home in this place.

—Mrs. H. W. Tate, who had been in Philadelphia visiting her mother for a week or more, arrived home Thursday evening.

—Miss Romie Van Pelt has returned to Centre Hall after a few weeks’ visit with her aunt, Mrs. Rachel Harris, in this place.

—Miss Marie Walsh, who is in Philipsburg taking instruction in music from Miss Leavy, spent Sunday with her mother here.

—Supt. F. H. Thomas, of the B. & O. R. Co. entertained William McConnell, a prominent hardware dealer of Ashland, over Sunday.

—L. C. Bullock, the Milesburg inventor and patentee, left on Tuesday to introduce his combination swings to the trade in the eastern cities.

—Win Love, for some time connected with the Harrison bakery in this place, has gone to Huntingdon, where he has accepted a position in a bakery.

—Mrs. Wm. Laurie returned from Cape May on Saturday evening. She had spent several months with her daughter Mrs. Sam Eldredge, in that place.

—Miss Sallie Waite is spending a few days with her mother on Thomas street and enjoying a short vacation from her work at the Lebanon valley college at Ansville.

—John M. Dale Esq. left yesterday at noon for Prescott, Arizona. He expects to be gone about four weeks in order to look after the interests of some clients down there.

—Hon. and Mrs. J. W. Kepler and Mrs. J. B. Heberling, of Pine Grove Mills, were in town on Monday morning on their way to Harrisburg, where the ladies will spend the week.

—Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Crider went to North Carolina on Saturday, to be gone several weeks. Mr. Crider will look after some of his lumber interests in that State and other points in the South.

—Mr. and Mrs. Gerberich spent Sunday at Philipsburg with their children and grandchildren. Mr. Gerberich came home on Monday, but Mrs. Gerberich will prolong her visit for several weeks.

—Miss Elizabeth Wieland, of Linden Hall, and Mr. Letzler, of Northumberland, assistant superintendent of the Linden Hall Lumber Co. were guests at the Ott home on east High street over Sunday.

—Among the Bellefonters who attended conference at Altoona during part of the session were W. T. Twitmyr, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Shuey, G. W. Rees, Milton Johnston, Dr. and Mrs. Edw. Ward, John I. Oleswie, and Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Bell.

—Walter Whippo came home from Pittsburg on Saturday night to move his family to that city but one of the children was suddenly stricken with scarlet fever and their home is quarantined now so that it is uncertain as to when they will be able to move.

—B. Pifer, of Alexandria, who can’t make up his mind whether he likes his new home better than his old one at Pine Grove, was in town on Saturday attending to some legal business. He had driven up to Pine Grove and came down from there on the train.

—Charles L. Jackson, who until last July was employed at Pileara but since that time has been wandering about over the country having a good time, was in town yesterday on his way back to his old home at Scotia. He will visit friends there for a time at least.

—“Col” Jack Hartsock, of McPherson, Kansas, was in town over night Wednesday on his way up Buffalo-run to visit his brother John. The Colonel has been a resident of Kansas about twenty-five years and in that time has been prosperous beyond the degree of the average man.

—Dr. and Mrs. William Frear and their little daughter were in town on Monday on their way home to State College. Mrs. Frear and her daughter were returning from an extended visit with Mrs. Frear’s parents in Kentucky and the Doctor came down to see that they got home safely.

—Judge John D. Thomas, of Ebensburg, spent Wednesday night and yesterday in town visiting Bellefonte for the first time in his life. He has been prominent in Cambria county politics for years and expects to see the Democrats get more in the future up there than they have had for some time in the past.

—Squire Solomon Peck, of Nittany, and Mr. John Brown, of Loganton, were Bellefonte visitors on Wednesday; having come up to look after some business in which they are mutually interested. The gentlemen were in so much of a hurry that they must have been immune to the spring fever germs that were every where in the air that lovely day.

—Dr. D. S. Monroe was in town on Tuesday night on his way home from attending conference in Altoona. This is Dr. Monroe’s fourth year at Shamokin but the Methodists down there appreciate a good man when they have him and are wise enough to hold on. Two other churches wanted him but like the people of his congregation he knows a good thing when he has it and is very happy at Shamokin.

—Mr. and Mrs. William P. Brew and their little daughter, Lucy, of New York City, and Mr. Tom Brew, of Hazleton who were in town over Sunday attending the funeral of their mother, Mrs. S. A. Brew, departed for their homes on Wednesday afternoon. They were accompanied by Mrs. Brew’s sisters and brothers, Mrs. Eliza Woodring, of Reynoldsville, and Mrs. Jennie Shoemaker and Mr. William Patton, of Wilkesbarre, who were here on the same sad mission.

—During the week quite a coterie of interesting women called at the WATCHMAN office and most of them had business of the sort that would make them very welcome in any newspaper office. Among them were Miss Elizabeth Morrison, who has just retired after ten years of exceptionally faithful service to the “Underwriter’s” association; Mrs. W. H. Flory, of Pleasant Gap; Mrs. Irvin Tate, of Coleville, and Mrs. Fishburn, of Spring Twp. As a rule the ladies are much more careful about their bills than the men and that is one of the reasons we like to have them on our list.

THE WORKMEN AT STATE COLLEGE ARE GRATEFUL.—The laborers about The Pennsylvania State College are very grateful to the president, Dr. Geo. W. Atherton, and Supt. W. C. Patterson for recent advances in their wages. One of them writes to the WATCHMAN, under date of March 3rd, as follows:

We, the employees of The Pennsylvania State College wish to express our thanks to Dr. Atherton and Mr. W. C. Patterson for the interest they have manifested in behalf of the employees of the College. On January 1st, 1903, Mr. Patterson gave the men a raise of 10 cents per day, subject to Dr. Atherton’s approval, he being away at that time. We have just received notice that we will receive another raise of 10 cents per day to take effect April 1st, 1903. The raise in both cases comes as a great surprise to the men and at a very opportune time, as living is very high now. In fact coal and rent is sky high.

—On Tuesday night officer John Brendel of the Lock Haven police force noticed a suspicious looking trio of men about the streets of that place. When he tried to scatter them the larger one drew a revolver on him and he retreated. Later, reinforced by another officer, he went to arrest them and was fired on at close range. Then he pulled his gun and returned the shots with the result that he hit his victim twice; once in the arm and again in the breast, wounding him so badly that he rolled down an embankment and half into the river. Later he was taken to the hospital where his wounds were dressed and not being found to be serious he was then taken to jail.

—Miss Olga Verne will appear at Garman’s on Wednesday night, April 8th, as Marguerite in Porter J. White’s production of Faust. E. R. Smith, manager of Hamblin’s opera house at Jackson, Michigan, says this of her work: “I wish to advise you that the production of ‘Faust’ as given by Miss Olga Verne and her excellent company, and his electric effects, ‘which are more than excellent,’ pleased my patrons so well that the words of praise greet us from all my patrons. I would be pleased to play Porter J. White’s Faust Co. once each year.”

—Philipsburg painters and paper-hangers organized a union on Tuesday evening, having the following officers: President, Lawrence Morgan; vice president, Charles Simler; recording secretary, Allen Boalich; financial secretary, Lawrence Isenberg; treasurer, Millard Peightal; conductor, William Brown; warden, William Nelson; trustees, T. G. Boalich, Wm. Nelson and Lawrence Isenberg.

—Alex McConnell has returned to Bellefonte and accepted the position of head-room in Col. Reynolds’ stables in this place. Charley Hirst, who has held the position for some time, is going back to Philadelphia.

—The Howe moving pictures that will be seen at Garman’s next Tuesday night, make up a show that is not only novel but decidedly entertaining. Besides, it will be a Logan benefit and deserves your patronage.

—The House appropriation’s committee on Wednesday night reported that they were favorable to giving the Bellefonte hospital $5,000.
