Persons Killed.

Iowa Storm-Swept. Three Tornadoes Within Twenty-four Hours-Many

DES MOINES, Ia., May 26.—Iowa has been storm-swept for the past twenty-four hours. Three tornadoes—two last night and one to-night—resulted in the loss of six lives, the fatal injury of three persons and the serious injury of a score of people, besides great property loss.

The killed and injured at Glenwood were all inmates of the school for the feeble minded. The tornado struck the girls dormitory. The roof was-torn off and with a terrible crash, fell back again on the wrecked building. All the buildings of the group, including the hospital, dormitory, boys building, custodian's building, farm cottages and the board room were more or less damaged by the storms.

Eleven girls were injured and are being cared for in the hospital. BLANCHARD, Ia., May 26.—A tornado struck the town of Elmo, eight miles west of Blanchard, and just across the Missouri line this evening, destroying the town. Six persons are known to have been killed

Sensational Development in P. O. Scan-

A. W. Machen, General Superintendent of Free Delivery Service, Under Arrest.—Alleged to Have Received "Rake Offs" from Contracts Made with Firm of Groff Brothers, of Washington,

WASHINGTON, May 27.—By far the most sensational development of the postoffice investigation up to this time occurred today when August W. Machen, the general superintendent of the free delivery service, was arrested on a warrant issued upon the information of postoffice inspectors, charg-ing him with having received "rake-offs" from contracts made with the local firm of Groff Brothers for a patent postal box fastener. The warrant specifically charged him with receiving $18,981.78 since August 8th, 1900. It is alleged, however, at the department that this amount does not represent all that Machen obtained in connection with these contracts, it being charged that he has profited by them for several years prior to the date of the first contract mentioned in the warrant. Other arrests are to follow. Immediately after Mr. Machen was taken into custody the Postmaster General issued an order removing him from office. He had been practically under suspension for a fortnight pending an investigation into his bureau. The discovery of Machen's alleged interest in the contracts was made quite accidentally by the inspectors some weeks ago and since then their energies had been directed toward making out the case.

Last night, after the authorities had be-

Last night, after the authorities had become convinced that they were in possession of the necessary evidence, Mr. Machen was notified to appear at the Department this morning. He did so and was subjected to a "sweating process" by the inspectors and General Bristow for three hours, but no admissions that he had profited by the contracts could be secured from him. He declined to answer many ques-tions on the ground that they related to his private business, but insisted to the end that he had not received a cent improperly. Nevertheless, he was arrested on the warrant, which had been prepared and taken before a United States commissiouer, where his attorney immediately demanded a full hearing. Assistant district attorney Taggart, however, was not ready to proceed with the case and the hearing was set for June 5th. Mr. Machen gave a $20,000 bond, furnished by a Philadelphia bonding company, for his appearance, declining to accept the proffer of friends to go on his bond. After his release, he declined to make any statement beyond the single declaration that the whole thing was a grandstand play and would come out all right. His attorneys disclosed that at the proper time they would show conclusively that he had been guilty of no wrong in connection with the contracts and, on the contrary, they would be able to show that his administration of the free delivery service had been characterized by ability and integrity. The Department officials claim that their evidence is conclusive. It is understood that civil suit will be entered to recover from Machen the amount he is alleged to have received on the contracts.

Delegates Obey Orders of "Boss." Snyder, Matthues, Morrison and Henderson Were Nominated by Republican State Convention Without a Semblance of Friction in a Short Session

HARRISBURG, May 27 .- Without a semblance of friction, the Republican state convention, which met here to-day, nom-inated candidates for Auditor-General, State Treasurer and two places on the Superior court bench. A feature of national importance was the endorsement of President Roosevelt for a second term. United States Senator Quay, who has been the head of the state committee for years, de-clined a re-election to the chairmanship, and Senator Penrose was chosen to succeed him. Governor Pennypacker's adminis tration received a vote of confidence through a strong plank in the platform. No mention was made in that document of the libel bill passed by the recent Legislature.

The convention did its work rapidly and adjourned two hours and fifteen minutes after it was called to order. Senator William P. Snyder, of Chester county, was nominated for Auditor General; William L. Matthues of Delaware county, for State Treasurer, and Judge Thomas A. Morrison, of McKean county, and Judge John J. Henderson, of Crawford county, for Superior court judges.

Judges Morrison and Henderson are at present members, of the Superior court by appointment of the Governor and their nomination is for the full term of ten

The convention was held much earlier than usual on "off years," on acount of the desire of Senator Quay and other party leaders to be away during the summer. Mr. Quay was not here during the convention and his interests were in charge of Senator Penrose and other lieutenants, who have been on the ground since Monday. Insurance Commissioner Durham, the Repu blican leader in Philadelphia, was also absent, he having sailed for Europe last Friday, to be gone for three months. Former Attorney General Elkin was here during the convention to meet his friends. Senator Snyder was one of Elkin's most active lieutenants in his canvass for Governor, while Mr. Matthues was just as active for Governor Pennypacker. Frederic W. Fleitz, of Scranton, president of the State League of Republican clubs, who was temporary chairman of the convention, is also an Elkin lieutenant. Henry F. Walton, of Philadelphia, speaker of the house of representatives, was per-manent chairman, and Congress man Henry M. Bingham, of Philadelphia, was chair man of the resolutions committee.

Likely the Employees of Textile Mills Will Go

PHILADELPHIA, May 26.-In all of the local textile mills notices were posted today by the manufacturers announcing their refusal to grant the demand of the workers for a fifty-five-hour week.

The employees fixed June 1st as the time limit for the concession and it is almost certain that a strike involving upwards of 100,000 men will be inaugurated next Monday.

Two of the most important organizations in the textile trade—the Ingrain Carpet Weavers' union and the Wool and Cotton Piece Dyers' Wet and Dry Finishers' union—have already voted to strike. The weavers' union has 3,000 employed in sixty-three mills in this district. The dyers union has a membership of 1,200, more than two-thirds of the amployees in that than two-thirds of the employees in that branch of the industry. There are about 10,000 operatives dependent upon the weavers and a strike would close all of the country when a boy, in 1882. He will go home to claim his estate.

Further Particulars of the Paris-Madrid Automobile Race of Sunday.

Many Persons Injured, Some of the Contestants Wanted to Stop, but Others Insisted Their Honor

PARIS, May 25.—It is now possible to assemble from the many reports along the route of the first stage of the Paris-Madrid automobile race a complete list of the casualties. This shows six persons killed, two so dangerously injured that they may die and ten seriously injured. During the day it was asserted here that seven persons had been killed and that seventeen were injured, but this was not warranted Some miraculous escapes have been ported. M. Terry's machine was burned at Coignieres, but he and his machinist were M. Radolph Darzens and his machinist, were thrown out near Bordeaux and were practically unburt, though the car was destroyed. Bordeaux reports that many of the competitors, including M. Charron, Thellier and Passy, desired to abandon the race, but others insisted that their honor required them to resume it at the Spanish frontier if possible; but the Spanish government later forbade the race and thus compelled its complete abandonment. The manufacturers have agreed that as a road race is impossible, the meeting will be resumed within a closed course. The correspondent of the Associated Press interviewed a number of the leading American and Frence automobilists and they all expressed horror at the series of accidents and added that in their opinion it would end speed races in France and at other points on the continent. Foxhall Keene said:

"The killing or maining of so many persons is a terrible blow both to individuals and to automobiling. Marcel Renault and Barrows were both of the highest class of drivers and good sportsmen. Barrow was frequently taken for an American, but I believe he is an Englishman. The effect will be a serious if not an irreparable blow to fast automobiling. I had hoped to drive my sixty horsepower car. It was a won-derful machine, showing 112 kilometres without effort."

PARIS, May 25.—(MIDNIGHT)— A late dispatch from Bordeaux adds another terrible accident to the long list of casualties. Mme. Chissas, accompanied by her husband, both riding bicycles, were watching the passage of the automobiles at St. Andre de Cubzac, twelve miles from Bordeaux, when a horse, frightened by the noise, bolted and overturned the woman, who fell under a racing automobile. Both her legs were cut off. The hope of saving her life is slight.

Russian Orders to Extle Jews.

Those Unable to Show Legal Right of Residence are to be Expelled. Widows Fear Offer of Aid.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 26.—The chief of police of Kieff has ordered the police commissaries within his jurisdiction to institute a fresh inquiry into the legal status of the Jews, and to forcefully expel those who have no legal right of residence and who refuse to leave.

A Jewish deputation from Kishinev recently had a long audience with minister Von Plehwe. The latter denied being a Judophobe and said he had not opposed taking proceedings against the former Governor of Kishinev, General Von Raaben, and the local administration of Kishinev. The minister promised sympathetic consideration of facts set forth in the petitions of the Jewish population for future protection. Consequently, the minister yesterday suppressed the distribution of Krousterau's new anti-Semitic organ, the 'Znamis.'

MOB SUITS ARE BARRED.

The Russian laws do not permit suits against the state for damages done by a mob, but the government can consent to the prosecution of negligent officials. The incriminated officials have no property, hence the purpose is not to obtain pecuniary recompense.

An explicit denial appears in to-days Official Messenger of the allegation that the interior minister, Von Plehne, sent a confidential letter to the Governor of Bessarabia shortly before the anti-Semitic outbreak at Kishinev in which he referred to the possibility of disorders there and the steps to be taken to suppress them. The paper says the reports were inventions.

FEARFUL OF TAKING MONEY. Berlin, May 26.—The German-Jewish relief society which is seeking to relieve the Kishinev sufferers, has sent an agent to Kishinev who reports that 700 houses were destroyed, that 600 shops were sacked and that about 10,000 persons or 2,000 families are homeless as a result of the massacre of last month. Forty-five persons were killed outright in the massacre, 84 were severely wounded and 500 were slightly injured. The widows at Kishinev have declined receiving money, fearing fresh attacks during the Russian Whitsuntide. The number of persons affected through the loss of positions or otherwise is estimated at 20,000, mostly belonging to the Governor money.

BALTIMORE, May 26-Dr. Harry Friedenwald, who has charge of the contributions for the relief of the Kishinev sufferers, sent by cable to-day $4,000 or 20,575 francs to M. Narcisse Leven, the president of the Alliance Israelite Universelle, at Paris.

Mr. Root's Confession.

War Secretary Holds That Philippines Are Yet Under Military Control.

WASHINGTON, May 25.—Word comes from the Philippines that the secretary of war has decided that army officers commanding military posts are fully empowered to perform the duties of justices of the peace when properly elected by popular vote, for the enforcement of the provisos of the new liquor law enacted by the Philippine commission.

Secretary Root held that "officers of the civil government of the Philippine Islands for which elections are held under an act passed by the Philippine commission, are not civil offices within the meaning of section 1222 of the revised statutes, and an officer phosen thereto by popular election, may be ordered to perform the duties of the office as agent of the military power, which con-stituted the commssion itself."

Crime Preyed on His Mind.

CLEARFIELD, Pa., May 27 .- Tom Podwartz, a self-confessed murderer, arrived from Chicago and gave himself up to Sheriff McCollough. He confessed to having murdered a fellow-workman. Evan Pelet, at Smoke Run, while both were intoxicated. He escaped to Chicago, where he had since been employed. His crime preyed on his mind, however, and he decided, to return and give himself up to the law.

Rev. Irl Hicks Forecasts June Weather.

Rev. Irl Hicks, the prophet, says that our weather for June will be about as follows. Watch it and see how accurately he

We enter the solstice month, June, very near the center of a Venus equinoctial dis turbance, this period having begun in May and extending up to and beyond the mid-dle of June. All storm phenomena throughout the most of the month will show the presence of the Venus perturba-

The first storm period is centrel on the 4th, covering the 3nd to the 6th. There are good reasons to expect the crisis of this period on and touching the 3rd. On that date the planet Mercury is between Earth and Sun, the Moon is near first quarter and on the celestial equator, and Venus is really at the center of her equinox, although the storm diagram would indi-cate that the center of the Venus period falls on the 12th. High degrees of humidity, high temperature, and very low barometer, on and next to Wednesday, the 3rd, will prove certain harbingers of severe storms. If these conditions develop about the 3rd, and actual storms are delayed. even up to the 5th, or 6th, do not be thrown off your guard until the indications culoff your guard until the indications cul-minate. Vicious thunder storms, accom-panied with hail and possibly tornadic cen-ters, are among the things reasonably to be expected at this period. Venus downpours of rain, amounting to cloudburst in many localities, are also more than probable. You can depend upon it, the storms of this period will not be entirely over until the barometer makes a decided raise, and the winds change and blow strong and much cooler from the west and north. Some very cool nights are sure to result when the storms are over. Remember that the marked characteristics of the Venus periods are, exceeding high temperatures during the first stages of regular storm periods, excessive electrical phenomena, and followed by sudden changes to phenomenally cool.

On and touching the 9th and 10th, look for reaction to storm conditions—change to much warmer, falling barometer and more storms of rain, thunder, and heavy squalls of wind. The regular summer solstice disturbances will set in at this time, mak-ing June thunder showers probable almost any afternoon and evening. From about the 8th to 15th each year, the Earth passes a point in its orbit at which abnormal electrical changes are infused into our globe and atmosphere. Seismic and volcanic disturbance reach a maximum in the globe generally, and a general electrical condition is absorbed that expresses itself in an excess of summer lightning, especially through the June evenings and night almost to the end of the month. The greater part of this solstice lightning, flashing and playing through the heavens, often throughout the June nights, is wholly harmless, and should excite no nervous fear even in the most timid person. Of course the lightning bolts that fly from compact and rushing thunder storms are different, and every precaution against danger should be taken at such moments. Under no circumstances should one ever take refuge under a green tree in one of these vicious, June thunder storms.

The regular storm period covering the 14th to the 19th, will reach its culminating stages about Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, the 17th, 18th and 19th. The storm diagram shows that the summer solstice is in full force at this time. Many electrical storms will be most natural, with some energetic and dangerous wind storms. Watch the clouds, your barometer and other indications-have a safe refuge available in case of manifest danger, and all will be well. Put away foolish forebodings and go about your business. Make careful plans to avoid the June showers, especially in your hay-making at this time. On touching the 21st and 22nd, look for the return of storm conditions, with renewed thunder and rain squalls, and much harmless lightning at night. Most sections will have sufficient rains at this and other June periods. Central regions may have too much, while extreme north and south sections may suffer some shortage. The last week in June is covered by a combined Mercury and Vulcan storm period. About the 25th it will turn exceedingly warm, the barometer will fall and persistent cloudiness and frequent storms of wide extent with much energy will mark the closing days of the month.

Sections of Nebraska Visited by s Series of Destructive Tornadoes.

HASTING, Neb., May 25.—A series of heavy storms, two of which developed into the worst tornadoes that have visited Southern Nebraska for years, passed over portions of Clay, Franklin and Kearney counties last evening. Fifteen persons are known to have lost their lives and over a score of persons were more or less seriously injured.

Near Norman, at the home of Daniel McCurdy, a number of relatives and friends were spending the day and not one in the house escaped death or serious injury. Two miles south of Upward, German Lutheran services were being held in poorer classes. The rich Jews were not attacked and the "Tageblatt" asserts that molishing it, killing four of the occupants, they purchased exemption by paying the one the minister, and injuring a number of others.

The storm was equally destructive at Fairfield. Six dwellings were blown to pieces at that place but their occupants escaped injury with a few exceptions. Dwellings and outbuildings in the path of the tornado were blow to pieces and the financial loss thus far accounted for, will reach about $60,000.

The family of Peter Hockingson, nine in number, was reunited to-day. They lived near Norman and were separated by the storm, it being feared at first that some of them had been killed.

There were two tornadoes, both originating within a mile of Fairfield. The first one moved to the northwest and the second to the southwest did the greater damage and all the fatalities seem to have been in its path. The greatest loss of property was sustained by farmers. The neaviest individual loss is that suffered by Charles Taylor, who places the damage to his farm, including horses and cattle, at $21,000.

Geo. L. Reed vs W. S. Weston. How A. G. MORRIS FARMS .- The following from the Tyrone Herald of Saturday will give our Centre county farmers an idea as to how A. G. Morris Esq., the extensive lime operator, farms. It appears that he is quite as much a success at tilling the soil as he has been making lime and ballast and the method he has adopted is worthy of study by the practical farmer. Mr. Morris sells everything that is raised on the farm, even baling hay, straw and shredded fodder and selling it. He buys what is needed in the way of fertilizer and makes all of his transactions clean

There is an immensity of field reminding one of the broad expanses of grain in the west, and as well the force and vim of business method native to the east, in the aspect of the huge farm of A. G. Morris just over the hillside from the limestone quarries at the entrance to Sinking Valley, about two miles from Tyrone. This is the old Kinck farm which for several years has been the property of Mr. Morris and has been improved and cultivated under his direction with gratifying results.

Mr. Morris' farm consists of four hundred acres finely situated. The view from

Corn, oats, wheat and hay are here produced in abundance beyond the scope of most farms of this section. At present the wheat, fifty-five acres of it, already shows healthy heads and the oats gives a green glow to the big field in which it is pushing above the surface. The grass has been greatly retarded by the long drouth but with more rain will recover its sprightliness. Especially interesting is Mr. Morris' 80 acre corn field. This broad expanse was plowed last fall and the corn was planted in the first half of the present month. In general it has now peeped from the ground and the cultivators are at work urgng healthy growth. In little more than five months this corn will be matured and in all likelihood it will furnish an immense crop. It will be husked by machin-ery and Mr. Morris also finds ready mar-ket for the shredded fodder which he bales by machinery, at the time of husking.

The massive barn is one of the most notable features of this farm. It is big enough to house a national political convention. Neatly and strongly constructed. it is 160 feet long. The ground floor contains a room for farm machinery, fifty cattle stalls and twelve horse stalls. The upper part divided into large bins furnishes storage room for many tons of farm prod-nots. Near the barn is a large space de-voted to raising of potatoes and truck in general. A moderate size barn is also situated near the farmhouse which is occu-pied by Harry Weyer who is in charge of the entire place. There is an abundance of farm machinery of most approved patterns used in the farm work. From a reservoir water is conveyed in pipes wherever needed upon the place.

Mr. Morris also owns and conducts the Weston Mill farm where the same progressive methods are applied with the same satisfactory results. John Cole is here the farmer. Both of these farms are under the active management of John B. Campbell, who has the practical experience and busi-—All of the patients at the Bellefonte hospital are doing well. --- The United Brethren church, at the corner of High and Thomas streets, was crowded Sunday morning; it being the occasion of the annual Memorial sermon. Nearly all of the old boys of Gregg post and most of the young Spanish-American veterans were there to enjoy the splendid discourse which Rev. Perks made.

---Mike Mahoney, an Irishman aged about 46 years, was ground to pieces by an engine at Philipsburg early Sunday morning. The engine was standing on the side track near the electric light works in that place, while the fire box was being cleaned out. It is supposed that Mahoney laid down on the track in front of it, for when it was started toward the engine house the hostler felt something jolting under the wheels and when an examination was made the unfortunate man's body was found. He was a coat maker by trade.
