

Pine Grove Mention.

Amos Koch is suffering from a good dose of ivy poisoning. Frank Black came down from Altoona on Monday to inspect his broad acres here. Mrs. Edward Babb, of Colyer, and her daughter, visited friends in town recently. Joseph A. Goss, of Braddock, is home convalescing from an attack of malarial fever. David Frantz, of Winber, is visiting his son Harry, one of our up-to-date merchants. The long looked for showers have arrived at last and vegetation is very much revived. Grandmother Condo, of Millheim, is here at Amos Koch's for her usual summer's outing. Easter Harry Felty, of Altoona, is down with grandfather Felty taking lessons in farming. A. J. Tate reports another boy at his home who is number six. Both mother and babe are doing well. Frank Bowersox and wife enjoyed a visit at their son John's, who is one of the foremost farmers over in Millfin county. Grandmother Shiffer, the oldest lady in this section of the county, is making her annual visit at the home of her daughter in Bellefonte. Grandmother Harriet Fortney departed for the far west last week where she will spend the summer with relatives. She will remain over winter in California. Fred Bottorf and Abe Markle who are interested in a big coal speculation down in West Va. are at the mines this week with the intention of making a final round up. Mrs. Emma Meek and her husband's cousin, Mrs. Glenn, drove over from State College this week and spent a day at the former's old home at Fairbrook. John Niece, of Penn Hall, and his interesting little family, circulated among Fairbrook relatives in the early part of the week. They were accompanied by Miss Annie Sowers. Jacob Meyers, one of Harris township's extensive farmers and successful stock raisers, spent last Saturday with his brother-in-law, G. W. Keichline. He was accompanied by his good wife. Musser Earhart Heberling laid aside the paint brush last week to accept a fat job with the Potter-Hoy Hardware Co. in Bellefonte. We hope today to note him as one of the partners of that big store. J. B. Ard, wife and son Wilson enjoyed a five over old Tussey mountain last week to enjoy a short visit with his friend Ed. Duff. This is one of the lumber kings of the other end of the mountain. Will Keller, while hauling a load of furniture from the Oak Hall station last Saturday, was thrown from his wagon by the breaking of his lock lever. He fell on his head on a pile of stones cutting an ugly gash on it. The venerable Joel Louder, so well known here, is quite ill at the home of his son, Jonas, at Barree. His trouble is kidney and bladder disease and from present indications his days are about numbered. He is past 84 years old. John Hoy, of Hubblesburg, one of the prominent men of that vicinity has been visiting friends through Penns valley and rounded up his trip at his brother Albert's at State College. The latter has been very ill but is much better now. On Tuesday Tom Decker and Joe Markle spent the day inspecting A. M. Brown's mated teams on his stock ranch at Pennsylvania Furnace. It is one of the finest in the State and is well stocked with some splendid horses, cattle and hogs, as well as a 2-10 pacer. Rev. C. T. Aikens disposed of his sorrel team on Monday to Mr. Cronister, of Warriors-mark. It is a splendid team of roadsters but since their runaway several weeks ago Mrs. Aikens has been so nervous that she persuaded Mr. Aikens to part with his well known team. The following officers were elected at the annual meeting of the school board held recently. Ellis Lytle, president, N. I. Krebs, secretary and J. I. Corl, treasurer. They are all competent men and the re-election of Messrs Corl and Krebs is a testimony of their ability and the worth of their public service. Major Will Close, the up-to-date merchant at Oak Hall took time on Monday to do a little angling. He does not claim the belt for numbers but he did catch one big sucker which measured 19 inches. He reminds his loaters every evening of his catch. He is a battle scarred veteran of Co. G, 148th, Regt. and can swap yarns with any of them. Little George Burwell came very near losing his life on last Friday. He was using a switch on the hind legs of a horse, which was grazing in the yard, when it kicked him on the forehead cutting an ugly gash. Dr. Woods sewed up the wound and the little fellow is doing nicely, but he will likely keep away from a horse's heels hereafter. Mr. Lewis Thomas, who has been spending several months with his aged parents, Mr. and Mrs. Orlando Thomas, and other relatives in Centre and Huntingdon counties, returned last week to his home in Los Angeles, Cal. He has been away twenty-six years and much of that time he spent in traveling through the far West and South but he is located in Southern California and expects to spend the balance of his days there. Ed Mulberger had a narrow escape on Monday afternoon. A terrific thunder storm passed over the Branch and a flash of lightning frightened two of William Evertbark's teams which were plowing. Young Mulberger's team ran away and the one following ran over him. He was caught by the plow and dragged quite a distance. Fortunately he escaped with only a few bruises and scratches. Those who witnessed the accident were horror stricken and were positive he would be killed. Both teams ran a half mile and broke up plows, whiffle trees and gears. Andy Lytle and mail carrier Weaver on route number one F. R. D., got a bad shaking up on Monday afternoon. The lightning frightened Mr. Lytle's horse which threw him off into the mud and ran away. Mr. Weaver's horse during the same storm became unmanageable, broke the shafts, demolished his new harness and scattered the mail. Fortunately the men were only badly frightened and not hurt. J. F. Garner happened along with his team and took the wreckage to State College where carriage maker Bailey and saddler Shaw got in some good work.

C. B. McCormick is re-roofing his mansion home. Rev. Ezekial, an Armenian, is here as representative of the Armenian cause and will preach in the Lutheran church on Sunday, the 21st, at 10 o'clock a. m. Adam Krumrine is building an addition to his large barn, which would indicate prolific crops not yet in sight, however. The cats crop is badly crippled, hay is a complete failure and the corn is no good at all. Mrs. A. J. Schrivly, Mrs. G. Milton Bair and Miss Roxy Schrivly, of Hanover, are guests of Rev. and Mrs. Aikens at the parsonage. They are here to stay until after commencement at State College and are having a most pleasant time. On Tuesday Mrs. J. A. Aikens, of Bellefonte, spent the day with them. Ross Gilliford and his friend J. C. McDowell drove down from Altoona on Saturday to visit State College. The object of their visit was to size up that institution of learning as Mr. McDowell has a son who is desirous of being educated for an electrical engineer. Of course they were pleased with their outing and perfectly satisfied with the college. At the Children's day services held in the M. E. church here on Sunday evening there was a full house. The rain did not deter the little ones from turning out and doing their parts exceedingly well. The church was beautifully decorated, with ferns and potted plants and a large choir whose voices blended well together, furnished the music for the occasion. Miss Mary Ward presided at the organ and the music was excellent and inspiring. Rev. Edgar Heckman, the pastor, had charge of the exercises which he concluded with an appropriate, happy little talk.

A Valuable Publication.
The Pennsylvania Railroad 1903 Summer Excursion Route Book.
On June 1 the Passenger Department of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company will publish the 1903 edition of the Summer Excursion Route Book. This work is designed to provide the public with descriptions of the principal summer resorts of Eastern Pennsylvania, with the best routes for reaching them and the rates of fare. It contains all the principal seashore and mountain resorts of the East, and over seven hundred different routes or combinations of routes. The book has been compiled with the greatest care, and altogether is the most complete and comprehensive handbook of Summer travel ever offered to the public. The cover is handsome and striking, printed in colors, and the book contains several maps, presenting the exact routes over which tickets are sold. The book is profusely illustrated with fine half-tone cuts of scenery at the various resorts and along the lines of the Pennsylvania Railroad.
On and after June 1 this very interesting book may be procured at any Pennsylvania Railroad ticket office at the nominal price of ten cents, or upon application to Geo. W. Boyd, Assistant General Passenger Agent, Broad Street Station Philadelphia, Pa., by mail for twenty cents.

Tickets will be sold and good going June 30th, July 1st, 2nd, and 3rd, and good to return until July 6th, inclusive. 45-24-2t

A WONDERFUL INVENTION.—It is interesting to note that fortunes are frequently made by the invention of articles of minor importance. Many of the most popular devices are those designed to benefit the people and meet popular conditions, and one of the most interesting of these that has ever been invented is the Dr. White Electric Comb, patented Jan. 1, '99. These wonderful combs positively cure dandruff, hair falling out, sick and nervous headaches, and when used in connection with Dr. White's Electric Hair Brusch are positively guaranteed to make straight hair curly in 25 days' time. Thousands of these electric combs have been sold in the various cities of the Union, and the demand is constantly increasing. Our agents are rapidly becoming rich selling the combs. They positively sell on sight. Send samples. Men's size 35c., ladies' 50c.—half price while we are introducing them. See Want Column of this paper. THE NEW SPRING FOOTWEAR.
The collection of Women's and Children's Shoes the Oxfords for spring and summer wear, which you are invited to come to see, is the best and broadest we have ever had to show. The Splendid assortment is, however, not the most important attraction of the gathering. The chief interest centers in the fact that in all the various lines a noticeable improvement has been made in the quality, style and general excellence of the shoes so that we are able to offer you this season even more true worth for your money than you have ever had from us before. Those who are familiar with the fine values for which our stores are noted will realize what this statement means. This season's styles are lighter and daintier than those of the past year. The soles are lighter and have closer edges. The heels are higher. The artistic possibilities of shoe making are expressed in every line. Prettier shoes and Oxfords were never seen.
The principal leathers are Ideal Kid, Patent Colekin, Patent Calf, Vici Kid and Velour Calf.
