

Hubersburg.

Pearl Hoy and Anna Weaver spent Sunday at Lanar. J. N. Sharp, the ventriquist was at Spring Mills Saturday. Mrs. Frank Carner and children spent Sunday with friends at Salona. Grandfather Whitman, of Northumberland, aged 79, is visiting his son here. David Vonada was confined to his home several days from a slight illness. Miss Maud Shamp was a pleasant caller at the home of Jacob Weaver, Sunday. James McCormick, of Allegheny, is paying a visit to his wife at the home of Mrs. Love. John Bierly and wife, of Parvin, were guests at the home of E. L. Markle on Sunday. Harve Kessinger and wife and daughter Verna also Herbert Decker and wife, of Pittsboro, are spending a pleasant vacation in our midst. The members of the Young People's society of the Reformed church elected the following officers Sunday evening: Pres., H. I. Crow; vice president, J. W. Lee; treasurer, Mrs. E. L. Markle; organist, Ethel Miller; secretary, Edna Decker. Last Thursday evening a number of young men, including Harry Yearick, Emory Deitrich, Calvin Hoy, John Walkey and Rhoads Rumberger, of this place also Prof. Weaver and Mr. Emerick of Wolf's Store, went to Sheldrake, on the Cayuga Lake where they expect to be employed as waiters. Joel Stover, of Zion, and Edgar Martin and Charles Decker, of Nittany, also accompanied the party. A large party escorted them to the station and they departed with the good wishes of their many friends for a very enjoyable summer.

Lemont.

Miss Ruth Bortoff returned from Bucknell Saturday. Miss Anna Behers departed for Pittsburg Saturday. Rev. Alfred Wirtz spent a few days in our midst recently. Dr. Samuel Gilliland, of Oak Hall, is home for a rest and visit. "Judge" Hess, of Bellefonte, was seen on our streets Monday. Mrs. Maggie Houtz brought her sojourn to a close this last week. William Mulbarger transacted business in Bellefonte Tuesday. A. J. Tate, of Pine Grove Mills, was seen on our streets Tuesday. William Hockman, of DuBois, is visiting his many friends in these parts. Mrs. Benjamin Brisbin has gone to Tyrone to visit among her relatives. Thos. Decker is reported ill with a cancerous growth on the side of his neck. Mrs. James Osman is taking a week's visit at the home of her son Golla at Jersey Shore. Miss Miriam Dreese and Miss Maud Mayes have returned from the Lock Haven Normal. Mrs. Lenker and her daughter Susan brought their sojourn here to a close Thursday last. John Mitchell reports a grand time at Pardeue, where he spent several days camping and fishing. Miss Maud Moore has returned from East Stroudsburg to spend the summer with her mother. Ina Payne has gone to Tyrone to spend a week or so with her mother and her uncle Alfred Wasson. Miss Roush, of Pine Grove Mills, and Miss Elsie M. Mitchell are having a very pleasant visit at the home of G. R. Roan. Jesse Klinger is looking the future in the face, for he has been engaged during the last week constructing an ice dam. Mrs. John Fishel has been quite ill with pleurisy since returning from her visit, which she did not enjoy owing to illness. Mrs. Geo. B. Thompson has been quite ill this last week but we are pleased to note that she is much better at this writing. The M. E. Children's day services were a success in every way and no one went away without deriving some good, which it is hoped all took away to profit by.

Spring Mills.

John Smith and his daughter, Miss May, will leave on Saturday next on a business and pleasure trip to Philadelphia, New York and Cape May, and expect to be absent about three weeks. The berry season promises to be a large one. Huckleberries are being brought in to town quite freely and are meeting with ready sale. O. T. Corman is our heaviest shipper of berries, and will buy all that is brought to the store. Over in the Seven mountains they say the crop will be immense. Similar reports come from Brush valley. Spring Mills castle K. G. E. will decorate the graves of their deceased members at Farmer's Mills on Sunday next. Services in the morning by the Reformed pastor, Sheriff Taylor and other prominent speakers of Bellefonte will address the members. In the afternoon at 3 o'clock the decoration will be at Spring Mills, sheriff Taylor will also deliver an address here, besides several other distinguished gentlemen have promised to be present. Millheim castle will participate in the decorations and will be largely represented. Spring Mills castle expects to equip about sixty members. The school board has appointed the following teachers, Spring Mills, Prof. Hosterman, intermediate, Miss Orpha Gramley; primary, Miss Goodhart; Penn Hall, A. L. Duck; Beaver Dam, Erl Grove; Pike, Miss Mary Guise; Farmers Mills, Tibbens Zubler; Logan, John Rosman; Hoy, Geo. Weaver; Murray, Miss Theresa Bachau; Cross Roads, Miss Clara Condo; Fako Hill, R. U. Biter; Decker, C. E. Borer. The Mountain school will be discontinued. Parents here regret exceedingly that Miss Theresa Bachau, a very competent and successful teacher of children, was not re-appointed to her former charge here. She has a remarkable influence over children. All were fond of her and when teaching here last year her little pupils advanced rapidly and the question is now asked. Why was she not retained and continued in the primary department of our Academy, the duties of which she so admirably discharged. Had the school board any reason to make a change?

Pine Grove Mountain.

Lawrence Eckley, of Pittsburg, was shaking old cronies by the hand this week. Frank Herman, of Oak Hall, transacted business here the beginning of the week. Charley Martz, of Burnham, is home for a few days rest with his family on Water St. Reuben and George Stewart, of Pittsburg, are visiting their old home in Boalsburg this week. Miss Ella Robison, of Bellefonte, a successful school teacher, is visiting H. H. Goss, on Main St. Mrs. Maria Goss is making her annual visit to her daughter, was N. J. Bell, at Spruce Creek. Misses Kate and Ella Dale, of Oak Hall, Sunday at the home of their uncle G. W. Keichline, on Main St. Dr. Kitter and wife enjoyed the sea breezes at Atlantic City last week. They returned home on Monday evening. Miss Kate Roush and her friend, Miss Mitchell, of Tyrone, are visiting at the former's parental home here. Wm. Young is in hard luck again. Some weeks ago he smashed his hand and now he is laid up with a lot of other injuries. Fred Bortoff and Arthur Fortney spent last week at Oakland, Md., looking after the former's extensive coal interests down there. John Reed, one of the representative men of Spruce Creek, as well as a successful farmer, spent a day in our town on business. Mrs. Mary Krumrine and little boy are down from Altoona for a two week's stay at grandpa J. T. McCormick's, at State College. The old battle scarred veteran, Wm. Floyd Herberling, is laid up with a badly cut foot which he did with an ax while chopping wood. J. M. Keichline Esq., of Bellefonte, spent several days, the beginning of the week mixing pleasure and business in and about town. Wm. Brouse and wife accompanied by Mrs. Fredericks, of Boalsburg, were entertained at the Wm. Brouse home on Main street, on Sunday. We are sorry to note the illness of the venerable Daniel Keller who is quite ill at his home in Boalsburg, suffering with partial paralysis. Our town is again without a blacksmith. Mr. Thomas Stewart, a very good and obliging smith, is obliged to quit the business on account of his health. Daniel Hess, one of the old pioneers at Linden Hall, is laid up by a fall from the hay mow, dislocating his left shoulder. Dr. Kitter adjusted the dislocation and the old gentleman is getting along nicely for one of his advanced years. A hack load of jolly fellows came over from State College to spend Saturday evening in our town. There were in the crowd Willard Karstetter, Charley Klinger, E. W. Yeakly, George Rearick, Wm. Spotts, Henry Sents, Arthur Karigan, Ed. Shoop, Wm. Beck and Walter Carson. Wm. Glenn and wife, of Snyder county, are visiting the home of his youth, at Mr. and Mrs. Henry Snyder's at White Hall. It is twenty years since they were last here and were surprised very agreeably at the improvements in our beautiful town with its railroads and telephone connections with the world, as well as our well lighted streets. Little Jared Lytle, while shooting sparrows last Saturday with a revolver, accidentally put a ball into his left hand, entering near the thumb and lodging near or about the middle finger. Dr. J. Y. Dale advised leaving it for some time when the X rays can be used to properly locate it. The little fellow is bearing his affliction bravely.

Army Worms in the West. The Solid Column Nearly Three Miles Long on the March.

TACOMA, Wash., June 19.—Hosts of army worms in a solid column, 150 yards wide and nearly three miles long, are marching through Walla Walla county. This morning Oliver Dwiit, a Dry Creek rancher, met the army emerging from Harbert's wheat field, about five miles out. He tried to turn some of the leaders back with a stick, but failed. His horses and team crushed thousands, but had no effect on the remainder. The worms are from 1 1/2 to 2 inches long, and are brown and fuzzy, with green stripes in some cases, and are like caterpillars. The ranchers are alarmed for their garden truck and wheat.

A GREAT PAPER.—The Philadelphia Record, which recently observed its twenty-sixth anniversary as the pioneer one-cent newspaper of America, claims the largest circulation of any paper published in Pennsylvania. Its claim is without doubt a just one. The secret of this is not hard to find. Throughout its entire career the Record has combined a certain spirit of conservatism with a progressive policy, and the result has been a newspaper that inspires and holds the confidence of its readers. There is a vast deal of difference between conservatism and old-fogeyism. The Record is always keen, alert and up-to-date, and never allows itself to become hysterical. The metropolitan journals of to-day may be enterprising to the point of sensationalism, and in the existing spirit of rivalry may often overstep the bounds of decorum and good taste; but in this respect the Philadelphia Record is not a sinner. It is always sane, always temperate, always satisfying. Without half the fuss and feathers of some of its contemporaries, it is not to be gainsaid. It is this authoritative confidence in itself which has wrought confidence in the general public and has been instrumental in establishing its prestige. "Let us see what the Record says about it," is a remark of frequent occurrence; and what the Record says is usually regarded as final and incontrovertible. The newspaper is still largely a model of public opinion, in spite of the theorists, and while the confidence of the public may be shaken in some phases of modern journalism, the class of which the Philadelphia Record is a fine type still survives, and will continue to survive for good. We could ill afford to spare any of them, least of all the Philadelphia Record, the largest city in Pennsylvania's leading newspaper.

Books, Magazines, Etc. If the continent of South America could or should be doubled over on the Northern Hemisphere, at the equator, Buenos Ayres would lie out in the Atlantic Ocean many miles east of Richmond. Buenos Ayres is the largest city of South America, and the largest city in the southern Hemisphere. It is also the largest city in the Western Hemisphere south of Philadelphia. In fact, Buenos Ayres is a city of unusual interest; and G. M. L. Brown, who taught school down there long enough to find out much worth knowing, has written for the July St. Nicholas an account of this "greatest city south of the equator."

Everybody's Magazine is making a reputation for striking covers. The birch-bark cover of the June number is followed by a brilliant Fourth-of-July cover of the July number. The bunch of fire-crackers looks natural enough to stir the warm blood of a patriot. The magazine itself is an exceptional number. Mr. Ridgway and Mr. Thayer are justifying the wisdom of their former employers, who paid them the highest salaries in their respective lines. They are surely making a splendid success of Everybody's Magazine. They are not imitating, they are not adapting, they are not copying; on the contrary, they are heaving out their own lines in so independent and vigorous a fashion that it is not beyond the point to prophesy for them a most promising future. You will find several features in Everybody's Magazine which cannot be had in any other magazine. "Significant Autobiographies" is one of the features. The July number gives the autobiography of a successful lawyer. The story is splendidly told, several dramatic incidents are narrated. Every lawyer will wish to read it, and everybody else, because everybody is interested in knowing how great successes are achieved. Another feature is "The Unemployed Rich," treating, in the July number, of a wedding, describing the feelings of a rich girl who marries for position, and the impression the wedding makes on her cousin who is not rich. The picture is not overdrawn, the writer is not cynical, the story is straightforward and wholesome. "Intimate Portraits" is another feature. The publishers promise to give portraits of people who are doing things, whether they are getting rich at it or not.

Of recent finds in the East, none is of more interest to scholars than the stele of Hammurabi discovered by De Morgan in Susa. A study of this important document, from the pen of Dr. William Hayes Ward, will appear in the July Century. Hammurabi reigned in Babylon about 2250 B. C., and his code carried back the history of law a thousand years or more. Comparisons of Hammurabi's code with the M. C. legislation shows the former to be, on the whole, very much more humane. If a man has given his wife, son, or daughter to serve in payment of a debt, they shall not serve more than three years and shall go free on the fourth; the Hebrew law said the seventh. The condition of the country appears in the provision that if a thunder-storm has ravaged a debtor's field, or there has been a drought the debtor shall be released for that year, his note altered, and no interest charged.
