THINGS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY

Two of Lewis Wetzel's children in Phillipsburg have the scarlet rash. Eighty-five hundredths of an inch of water fell in Wednesday nights rain. There were no services in the Presbyterian, Reformed or Lutheran churches on Sunday evening. Miss Grace Blackford gave a Boston bean party at her home on east Lamb street on Tuesday evening. Since the post office system has been reorganized it would be very convenient if postmaster Montgomery would correct the collection cards on the mail boxes. Grocer Hammon Sechler has been indisposed for the past few days and was even feeling so bad that he wouldn't go down to the business men's picnic. Mrs. W. Fred Reynolds entertained last evening in honor of Mrs. James R. Pierpoint, of Philadelphia. She had sent out cards for progressive bridge. The Wallace shows that were wrecked at Durban, Michigan, recently, with such a frightful loss of life, will be here on September 8th. They carry thirty eight cars. The venerable Wm. P. Fisher, of Unionville, the noted horticulturist and farmer, is quite ill and not much hopes of his recovery are entertained by his family. He is 85 years old. The Methodists were so pleased with their picnic at Hecla last Friday that they have decided to hold a union picnic of all the Methodist Sunday schools in Centre and Clinton counties next year. James Marks, of Port Matilda, who had been taken to the Phillipsburg hospital for treatment several days previous, was brought home Saturday; his disease having been pronounced incurable. Henry Lowery has secured the contract for building the new track house on Beaver field, at State College. The building is to be 33x84, frame, three stories high and will contain full accommodations for the athletes during training and contests. J. A. Miller, of Ax Mann, was taken to Danville on Monday; his mind having become so affected as to make his confinement necessary. His brother William and Charles Wetzel accompanied him to the hospital. The concert which the ladies of Centre Hall gave for the benefit of the hospital on Tuesday night netted them $28.40. Jno. M. Bullock and Miss Mary Bradley, of this place, drove over and contributed several numbers to the program. The work of laying the large pipe from the spring to the proposed new pumping station at the Phoenix mill has been begun and it will soon be settled as to whether there is enough water power there to pump the water that Bellefonte drinks. Miss Monks, of Pansuatawney, who is a guest at the home of James Barnhart, on Thomas St., sang in the Methodist church on Sunday morning to a very appreciative congregation. She has a fine contralto voice that she uses to very pleasing effect. A story comes from Snyderstown to the effect that while on walking near that place Rev. W. F. D. Noble, formerly pastor of the Methodist church at State College, walked into a den of copperhead snakes and before he got through killing thirty nine of the reptiles were stretched on the ground. The marriage of Miss Minnie Smeltzer, a daughter of Albert Smeltzer, of Pleasant Gap, to Mr. Jonas E. Wagner, was celebrated at the bride's home last evening. Mr. Wagner was formerly an instructor in the public schools here but lately accepted a position at Warren. The shifter jumped the track near Rhoads' coal yard about 9:30 Monday morning and from that until noon people in the vicinity of the station had a peace that was delightful. At noon they got the old tormentor back onto the rails and she began at once to make up for lost time. Joseph H. Painter, a State College student who has visited in Bellefonte frequently, has gone to Mexico with a party of botanists sent out by the Smithsonian Institute at Washington. While they expect to study the flora of some unfrequented parts of Mexico their objective point is the volcano of Toluca where grows the rare "Juliana." The four night festival of the Alpha fire company came to a close at State College on Saturday night; the gross receipts being $405.00. On Friday night the Logans, with the Coleville band, went up from here on a special and made things lively at the College for a few hours. Quite a crowd accompanied our firemen to the College; there being about ninety people on the train. The boys all came home more than satisfied with the way they had been treated. Mike Hazel gave his annual banquet to his fellow employees of the Potter-Hoy Hardware Co., on Tuesday night, and his home along Spring Creek was about the happiest place in the country for the five hours that that outfit held sway. About the only good things to eat those Potter-Hoy people ever see are what they get out at Mike's and it is little wonder that they stuff themselves so much that it always takes about one more going out to haul them home than they use going out.

THE BUSINESS MEN'S PICNIC.—Far beyond the expectation of anyone was the pleasure experienced by the great crowd of people that gathered at Hecla park for the picnic of the business men of Centre and Clinton counties on Wednesday.

There were between six and seven thousand people on the ground and so admirably were they entertained that nothing but praise is to be heard of the gentlemen who had the program and the train accommodations in charge. Everything was so nicely done that there seemed to be no cause for complaints from any quarter and the amusements provided were of such a high class as to set this, the seventh annual, picnic apart as the most successful in every way that has ever been held. An alarming south wind that blew up on Tuesday evening presaged rain and in fact there was a slight drizzle between 6 and 7 on Wednesday morning, with threatening clouds hanging overhead until almost noon, when it cleared up and a more glorious afternoon could scarcely be imagined. Out of Bellefonte 2,432 paid fares were collected and from other points on the line enough to run the total of passengers on the rail-road up to 5000 were lifted. More than 1500 others walked and drove to the park. The program began with a delightful concert by the Milesburg band from 10 to 11 in the morning, then the younger generation of Bellefonte amateurs gave a minstrel show and cake walk that delighted all who could get near enough the big elevated stage to hear. From 1 to 2 the Coleville band played and then the ball game between Williamsport and Harrisburg, a state championship game, was called. There were 1800 paid admissions, most of whom were ready to root for Williamsport but they couldn't hit the Harrisburg pitcher nor could they keep the Harrisburgers from knocking out hits at will and lost, in an uninteresting game, by the score of 9 to 2. Right after the ball game the horse race was called. There were three starters: Cayote, owned by Kessinger, of Mill Hill; Trixie, owned by George Beezer, of Bellefonte; and Dan, owned by Al Baum, of Bellefonte. The first heat, 1/4 mile, was a runaway for Cayote in 43, with Dan and Trixie trailing in the order named. The second heat was a hair raise, however, for Trixie came down the stretch like a cyclone closing up a long gap, and Cayote beat her under the wire by just a nose. Time 43. Second and third mares were divided between Trixie and Dan. At 5 o'clock the trap shooting was called and out of 15 targets each the shooters killed the following: Quigley 12, Chambers Dave 12, Van Pelt 11, Meek 9, Blair 9, Garman 8, Miller 7, Graham 7, Knisely Jake 6, Wilson 6, Knisely John 5, Jackson 5, Bower 4, Eckenroth 3, Sauerman 3. Chambers was not shooting for the trophy consequently Quigley won first prize and Van Pelt second. After the shooting there were more hand concerts, another minstrel show and closing it all a fine display of fire works. It is only due them to say that the C. R. R. of Pa., performed wonders in handling so large a crowd without a single accident and getting the trains to and from the park so nearly on schedule time as to cause no inconvenience. Gen. Passenger Agent Warfield was on the grounds all day to personally see that the business men and their friends had everything they desired. As to the general management committee, Messrs J. C. Meyer, Geo. W. Mason, J. Will Conley, O. E. Miles, P. P. Rittman, John I. Olewing, Geo. W. Fredericks, J. D. Sourbeck, Sidney Krumrine, J. L. Knisely, G. W. A. McDonald and Joseph Haberstroh the thousands of people who were there owe gratitude for a most delightful picnic day. A heavy rain storm came up about 9:30 but most of the people had left the park by that time and the few who remained found ample shelter in the pavilion and station. AN EXCITING RUNAWAY.—While driving over Nittany mountain last Tuesday evening a party of Millheim ladies had quite a serious accident. They were Mrs. J. C. Smith and her daughters, Mrs. Rose Mallory, Minerva and Hattie. They were on their road to Nittany valley and had just reached Zeiglers saw mill when the harness broke and their horse ran away. The carriage was upset, throwing all of the ladies out except Mrs. Mallory, who became entangled in the top and was dragged by the runaway until her clothing was torn off. She was badly bruised and out, but had no broken bones. Mrs. Smith had her left knee cap broken and a bone broken in her right leg. Minerva was slightly hurt, but Hattie escaped without a scratch. The women were in a deplorable plight until a man came along and hauled them to the home of Mrs. Smith's brother, William Mauck, at Huston. FOR A NEW GLASS WORKS.—An effort is being made to reorganize and re-build the Bellefonte glass works according to the most modern methods known to glass making. All of the members of the old corporation have signified their willingness to go into the rebuilding project and as an earnest of their intention have offered to turn the site of the burned factory, with all the fixtures on the ground, in as $12,000 subscription of stock. It is proposed to capitalize the new corporation at $62,000, thus leaving $50,000 to be subscribed. The usefulness of a glass factory as a revenue producer for the community should appeal to our business men so strongly that little trouble should be experienced in finding buyers for all the stock.

Yeager & Davis great sacrifice sale ends on August 22nd. Remember this.

To-morrow the Centre county residents of Blair county will hold their annual picnic near Bellwood. Clement Dale Esq., of this place, will deliver the address and on the committee we notice the names of such well known former Centre county men as A. S. Garman, G. W. Musser and A. B. Struble. Harry L. Fry, a descendant of a well-to-do Warriors-mark valley family, prominent in the Methodist church in Altoona and all right financially and socially, committed suicide Monday evening. He was 38 years old and was married and had five children. No possible reason for his act can be discovered. Last Thursday night, about 11:30 a bad nigger made a murderous assault on John B. Attig, a freight brakeman in Tyrone. The nigger's name is Robert Cadwick and he came to that place to work on the street paving jobs. He shot twice at Attig, as the latter was emerging from a restaurant, the one shot penetrating his cheek and lodging at the back of his neck. William Doll and his brother George have purchased the business and good will of John and Chas. F. Harrison, the Bishop street bakers, and will conduct that old established place in the future. William's long experience in the Ceder bakery has qualified him to handle a business of his own in the best of style and he promises the public service that will be of the finest. Henry Barger, of Moshannon, was brought to the Bellefonte hospital on Monday morning by Dr. Young, of Snow Shoe. He was suffering terribly from appendicitis and was operated on that day. Mr. Barger is a blacksmith and weighed 210 lbs.; being a powerful man he was hard to get under the influence of an anesthetic which made the operation all the more difficult. It was found that his appendix was entirely gone and there were several perforations of the intestines. Invitations are out for the marriage of Adjutant F. Donella McIntyre to Ensign Robert F. Butler, which will be celebrated in the Presbyterian church, at Saratoga, N. Y., on Sunday evening, August 23rd. Adjutant McIntyre is well known in Bellefonte where until recently she was in charge of the Salvation Army work. While here Miss McIntyre made many friends who will wish her the utmost happiness and usefulness in the new life she is to assume. Callie Armstrong, Sedgwick Kistler, Clarence Weymouth and Max Hayes, a quartet of Look Haven tennis players, came up from that place on Thursday in Mr. Armstrong's automobile, to play with some of the boys here. Doubles were played with Wils. Gephart and John Curtin opposing Hayes and Kistler. The latter won 6-4 and 6-3. John Munson and Fred Larimer started off well again Armstrong and Weymouth, winning the first set 6-2, but they lost the next two, 2-6 and 4-6. Last Friday the Look Haven and Bellefonte Methodists met at Hecla park for a joint picnic. There were nearly a thousand people on the grounds during the day and the Methodist brethren were very happy with the fine day and the fine weather and the fine grounds until the dew stepped in and started the meta-tarsal bones of some of the youngsters to rattling to the time of the music, then a great unhappiness fell over the multitude and there was wailing and gnashing of teeth. There were 432 down from Bellefonte and 350 from Look Haven, according to the train records. After several years of discussion the barbers of Bellefonte finally came to an organization agreement at a meeting on Monday night and took a few steps to advance their own welfare that the public will be interested in. After electing their president that exceptional gentleman, R. A. Beck, and making Frank Sauerman secretary they decided that on and after September 1st all shops will close at 8 o'clock in the evening, except Saturdays and nights before holidays; hair cutting will be 20 cts, shampooing 25 cts, trimming beards 10 cts and shaving necks 5 cts extra. The experimental growing of Sumatra tobacco under cover at the state experimental station near Mt. Joy, Lancaster county, was inspected last Friday by a delegation of prominent tobacco growers from that county, who were highly pleased with the results shown. The stalks have borne from fifteen to twenty-five leaves each, all sound and of good color and fully three-fourths of them are regularly and handsomely spotted. Dr. Wm. Frear, professor of agriculture at The Pennsylvania State College, and vice director of the experiment station there, and county commissioner M. L. Grider, of Mt. Joy, a veteran tobacco raiser, have been supervising the experiment. The Huntington county fair is scheduled for September 1st, 2nd, 3rd and 4th. In addition to the usual exhibits of agricultural, mechanical and stock displays the following speed program will be followed: Wednesday, Sept. 2nd—2.50 class, trot or pace; purse, $200. 2.27 class, trot or pace; purse, $200. Thursday, Sept. 3rd—2.35 class, pace or trot; purse, $200; 2.18 class, trot or pace; purse, $200; running race, one-half mile, heats three in five; purse, $100. Friday, Sept. 4th—2.20 class, trot or pace; purse, $200; open to all, purse, $250. The sum of $50 additional will be paid to the horse going the fastest mile in a race during the fair—beating the track record of 5.19.

THE TOWN COUNCIL IN SESSION.—Members Reynolds, Derstine, Fenlon, Wise and Kirk were present at council meeting Monday evening and what gave promise of being a very uninteresting session turned out to be one of the most complex and generally unsatisfactory meetings the body has ever had—and all about nothing.

There was very little business of any kind to be transacted. In fact the only matters brought up before the trouble began was the question of the amount that should be paid the high constable for killing and burying dogs that run the streets contrary to the borough ordinance and a discussion as to who put the bill boards on Bishop and Thomas streets on borough property. Contractor W. L. Steele was present and owned that he did it with his little hatchet, but Frank Galbraith protested against the one on Bishop street and everyone knew what Dr. Kirk would do to his pet strip of ground along Thomas street. After it took the form of a motion to notify the owner of the property to remove the offending boards within forty-eight hours some of the councilman heavy-weights shook out a few convolutions of gray matter and discovered that the borough is the owner of the property itself, then they decided that as some one had to be notified Mr. Steele, the builder, should be the man. The solution of this weighty problem tickled the body so much that it straightway voted to accept the K. G. E. invitation to make a show of itself and have a free carriage ride in their big Labor day parade. Council was about ready to approve the bills and adjourn when solicitor Fortney pulled another ordinance out of his sleeve and proceeded to read it, then the solons got wise again and peppered the questions at the solicitor so fast that the friction of the sound waves scaled the paint off his new trumpet. Everybody was in it but councilman Wise and he was too far away to be heard. What they talked about or what the outcome of the talk was no one could figure out exactly but it finally developed that the solicitor has had a new ordinance book prepared into which all the ordinances are being transcribed at $35.00 per, and for fear they wouldn't be enough to make the bill becomingly large he thought an historical sketch of Bellefonte ought to be put in as a sort of a preface. Then some one suggested that a drawing of a female figure emblematic of Bellefonte would look nice as a frontispiece and that it would be quite a propos to have her weeping over the Boro debt. This idea struck them all but Dr. Kirk as a good one. He couldn't stand for so much water going to waste and was only brought into acquiescence after his fellow members had assured him that they would have the artist draw a meter on the lady's tear duct so he would have some way of churning up the water she weeps away. At this juncture a boy passing out-side started to whistle "Home Ain't nothing like This," so shrilly that it wakened Tommy Shaughnessy from his slumber and in the lull caused by the cessation of his snoring some one remembered the bills and called for their reading. After they were approved they were ordered paid as follows: Water pay roll..... $156.13 Labor on Water street wall..... 129.75 Street pay roll..... 46.43 John Olevine..... 1.73 S. K. Woodring..... 10.00 A. Allison, supplies..... 3.78 Police pay roll..... 53.00 Mrs. Heinle..... 35.00 Theo. Shaughnessy, 1 mo as clerk..... 1.00 P. R. R. Co..... 97.14 A. Allison, plumbing supplies..... 84.36 J. L. Montgomery, coal for W. W..... 5.01 Thomas Beaver, hauling..... 5.01 S. K. Woodring..... 5.00 Garlock Packing Co..... 4.13 Henry Worthington..... 4.08 McCalmont & Co..... 7.95 Grandall Packing Co..... 1.26 J. S. Knisely..... 1.80 ODD FELLOWS REUNION NEXT WEEK.—On Thursday of next week, August 27th, the Odd Fellows of Bellefonte, Lemont, Pine Grove Mills, Boalsburg, State College and Stormstown will hold their first annual reunion picnic at Hunters park, on the line of the Bellefonte Central R. R. It will be quite a notable event in the social life of the three link men of this county for they are putting forth every effort to make it a success so that there will be a demand for such a gathering annually. In addition to addresses of a purely fraternal nature there will be a ball game, races, dancing and other amusements in which the Odd Fellows invite you to join. Grant M. McGlachery, of Norristown, the Grand Conductor, J. C. Meyer Esq., of Bellefonte; Rev. Miles O. Noll, of Carlisle and Rev. A. A. Black, of Boalsburg, will be the speakers. Remember the date Thursday, August 27th. THE SHAFTERS AND HASELS.—There is to be a reunion of the Shaffer and Hasel families in Centre and a part of Clinton counties at Penn's Cave, on September 23rd. A large turn-out of the families is desired as there will be formed on that day a permanent reunion organization and officers will be elected. The viewers on the abandonment proceedings in the Old Fort and Millifinburg turnpike case have been in session in the arbitration room in the court house most of the week with many witnesses before them. The board is composed of H. T. McDowell and A. M. Schenck, of Howard; J. M. Boal, of Centre Hall, and W. C. Patterson, of State College. They adjourned yesterday until Sept. 22nd. On Saturday the Beech Creek base ball team passed through this place in a hack on the way to State College where they played the local team; winning the game by the score of 8 to 7. Dick Quigley pitched for Beech Creek and Freddie Robinson for State College.

That is, he got to the big show at Hecla and visited his father, Mr. J. W. Stamm, who now lives at Mackeysville. Al. Kline, who was for years connected with Green's drug store in this place, and later in Washington and Philadelphia, is now manager of one of the Walthor-Robinson stores in Pittsburg. He is a native of Howard and a nephew of the late D. Z. Kline, of this place, consequently has many friends with whom he is spending a very pleasant vacation. Among the strangers in town last week were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Westcott, of Reynoldsville, who were strangers indeed. Notwithstanding their long residence here prior to moving away and their comparatively short distance from the old home, they had not been back for eight years. Both were looking well and there were many friends glad to see them. Col. James F. Weaver, of Milesburg, was in town on Tuesday morning and when we tried to make him predict fair weather for the business men's picnic he flatly refused to be classed with the prophets. The Colonel's time for looking skyward and worrying will come next month when he and his granger friends meet for their big picnic and exhibition at Centre Hall. Robert Lyon, who has persevered until he has become one of the head men, in fact assistant master mechanic, in the Allegheny shops of the P. R. Aiken, Joseph Fauble and Joseph Druggar. BOUGHT THE BAILEYVILLE CREAMERY.—W. E. Hoffman, of Tyrone, has purchased the creamery at Baileyville from the estate of Francis Rhoads. The creamery had a capacity of 15,000 lbs of butter per day, but it is not the butter so much as the cream that Mr. Hoffman is after. He is a large manufacturer of ice cream in Tyrone and with this creamery under his control he will have a supply house from which he can draw all the cream he needs. It is Mr. Hoffman's intention to put in a new pasteurizer at the plant. The engagement has been announced of Miss Jean McNulty, of Philadelphia, and Dr. Edward H. Harris formerly of this place, but now of Butler. The wedding will take place in Philadelphia on October 21st. "Ed" is a son of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Harris and is getting along splendidly. He was fortunate in securing a good practice, as well as popularity, through his prompt and efficient action with the small pox cases in Butler last year and good luck has been coming his way ever since. Through the kindly interest of Hon. James Kerr, of Clearfield, Lee Walker, the eldest son of W. Miles Walker, of this place, has secured a very desirable position on an engineering corps that is laying out railroads through the new coal fields in the south-western part of the State. Lee is a fine boy and will give ample return in diligent work for the interest which Mr. Kerr took in securing the place for him. At a recent reunion of the family of the late Daniel Boileau held at the house of Mrs. Harriet Haupt in Milesburg, the following descendants were present: Mrs. Nettie Payne and sister, Miss Marion McCloskey, of Renovo; Mrs. Annie Wilkey and daughter, Miss Marion, of Fremont, Neb.; Mrs. Sue Simmonds, of Westfield, Pa.; Mrs. A. Mr. Merrill's share of the prize under the conditions will be $2,500. The Golden Eagles of Central Pennsylvania will probably swoop down on us in such numbers on Labor day as to make the town resplendent with their gorgeous regalia. J. F. Miller, of Madisonburg, has oats that yielded 48 bushels to the acre. Public Sale Register. MONDAY, August 24.—John M. Dale, trustee, will offer at public sale at the court house, Bellefonte, on Monday August 24th at 1:30 o'clock the following real estate: 200 acres more or less.
