Doings in the August Court.

Two Weeks Work Crowded into One yet All Pushed Through by Wednesday Night.

The regular August term of quarter sessions convened on Monday morning when Judge Love presiding and notwithstanding a proclamation had been issued doing away with the second week's sessions all of the work was cleared up and the jurors discharged on Wednesday night. There was a short session of argument court yesterday morning and the grand jury presented its report, which finished up all the work for the session.

The morning session was taken up in the presentation of motions and petitions by the several members of the bar; the instructions to the Grand Jury, of which body the Court appointed Riley Pratt, of Unionville, Foreman; the returns by the Constables of the Boroughs and Townships in the County, etc.

The application for the Charter of the Nittany Country Club was presented to the Court.

After the charge to the Grand Jury, that body retired to consider the few bills of indictment to be laid before them by District Attorney Spangler. The list of criminal cases is quite short, and no cases of much importance are for trial.

W. C. Miller Esq., of the Clearfield County Bar was admitted to the local bar on motion of Col. Reeder.

The case of Geo. Dale, A. A. Dale, Clement Dale, who survive Henry Dale dec'd., executors of the last will and testament of Christian Dale, Sr., dec'd., versus Clement Dale and Blanche Hoy executors of etc., the last will and testament of Christian Dale, Jr., dec'd., with notice to Blanche Hoy legatee and devisee under the Will of said Christian Dale, Jr., deceased, was continued because it was improperly on the list. This was a scire facias to revive a certain judgment.

The first case tried Monday afternoon was that of Ralph Geyer and J. A. Gardner trading and doing business under the firm name of Geyer and Gardner vs Michael Davidson and M. I. Forcey trading and doing business under the firm name of Davidson and Forcey. This was an Appeal taken from the judgment rendered by a justice of the peace, and was for the breach of a coal contract. Some time during the last winter the plaintiffs ordered some coal from the defendants who have control of a mine in this County. They agreed to ship the coal as ordered, but after some inquiry they learned that a man by the name of J. W. Gardner, who they thought was one of the partners of Geyer and Gardner, was insolvent, and without further inquiry cancelled the order and refused to ship the coal. It later turned out that the Gardner who was insolvent was not a party interested, and that they had actually recinded the contract without legal grounds. The Court after a brief charge turned the case over to the jury and in a few minutes a verdict was rendered in favor of the plaintiffs and against the defendants in the sum of $127.75.

The case of J. C. Rossman vs Jacob F. Musser, which was an appeal, was settled by the parties.

There are only two civil cases on the list for trial at this session:—Wm. Hall vs The Singer Sewing Machine Mfg. Co., and Maggie Woodring versus H. M. Dunning. Both these cases are appeals from the judgment rendered by a justice of the peace. A report of the facts in each case will be given later.

The Grand Jury ignored the bill of indictment in the case of Commonwealth vs Ernest Viard, who was indicted by Policeman Bowlick of Phillipsburg, for resisting an officer and for assault and battery, and placed the costs upon the County. A cross suit was instituted by Mr. Viard against the Policeman for assault and battery and the Grand Jury ignored this bill and the Court sentenced Mr. Viard to pay the costs of prosecution or go to jail.

The first criminal case tried was that of Commonwealth versus Earl Midlan, Ray Crisp-n, Frank McCartney, and Thos. McCloeky, who were charged with the larceny of money from the store of Mr. T. B. Buddinger at Clarence. T. B. Buddinger was the prosecutor. A nol pros was entered Tuesday morning as against Crisp-n and McCloeky. Neither of the defendants were fifteen years of age.

The Commonwealth alleged that some time during the month of July and part of August cash was missed from the money drawer in the Clarence store, and no trace of it could be found until after the clerks had put a $20.00 bill in the drawer, looked it and left the room for a short time. In less than ten minutes the $20.00 bill was missing and when they called to one of the above defendants he told them that he had found the money on the floor. They then made a further search and found that another similar bill that had been lost was presented at a store in Snow Sho. to have it changed for one of the boys. They were immediately arrested and given a hearing and bound over for Court. No testimony was given on part of the defendants and after the jury was out for half an hour returned a verdict of guilty and asked the mercy of the Court in imposing sentence upon the youths.

Antonia Pitorraig who was charged with the crime of larceny by Peter Kriporski, was acquitted by the jury. Geo. Kachick acted as interpreter for the parties.

Keturah Colpeter who was charged with an assault and battery by Margaret Tressler was found guilty by the jury and sentenced to pay the costs of prosecution and a fine of ten dollars.

George Garman who was charged with the crime of larceny by W. H. Criesman entered his plea of guilty. The Court suspended sentence for the time being.

Edward McCullough entered a plea of guilty to the crime of adultery and was sentenced to pay the costs of prosecution, a fine of $50.00 and to the jail of Centre Co for a period of nine months.

Commonwealth vs Joseph Niccon, indicted for assault and battery; prosecutrix Mary C. Brook. This case is from Snow Shoe township at Clarence and some altercation took place between these parties on the 18th of August and as alleged by the prosecutrix the defendant kicked her in the stomach and hit her with stones, while on the other hand the defendant alleges he was assaulted. Verdict of not guilty and the defendant to pay two thirds of the costs and the prosecutrix one third.

William Hall vs The Singer Sewing Machine manufacturing company. This case is from Snow Shoe township and is an appeal from decision of justice of the peace and it appears from the evidence that some time in the eighties the plaintiff bought from the defendant company a sewing machine for fifty-five dollars and in 1896 turned this machine in as part payment for a new machine which was to be first class and plaintiff claims the machine was not satisfactory and the defendant's agent promised to replace the machine with another one, but never did so and in the meantime plaintiff paid for machine in full. Beginning of 1901 plaintiff's wife again requested agent to replace machine according to his promise and offered to give him $2 for his trouble and a new machine was brought and Mrs. Hall paid him $2 and about the same time asked her to sign a paper which the agent stated was done on account of a different number, which afterwards turned out to be a lease and the plaintiff refusing to make the payments as provided by this lease the agent came there and removed the machine. Defendant alleges the machine was all it was represented and she in 1901 machine was a sale and he had acquainted Mrs. Hall with the contents. Verdict in favor of plaintiff for thirty-nine dollars and fifty-eight cents.

Maggie Woodring, now Witmer vs H. M. Dunning, an appeal from judgment of a justice of the peace. This case is from Half Moon township to recover on a note. Verdict in favor of plaintiff for sixty-two dollars and fifty-eight cents.

Commonwealth vs Edward Mays, indicted for betrayal; prosecutrix Minnie Wisner. This case is from Snow Shoe township. Verdict guilty and sentenced to pay to the prosecutrix fifty dollars for lying in expenses, &c., the child having died.

Commonwealth vs Milton Weller, indicted for betrayal; prosecutrix Katie Emihizer. This case is from Boggs township. The defendant plead guilty and sentence suspended pending settlement.

REPORT OF THE GRAND JURY.
To the Honorable Judges of the Quarter Sessions Court of Centre County.
We report that we have acted on 23 bills of indictment, of which 11 were found true bills and 12 were ignored.
We beg leave further to report that we have visited and inspected the county buildings and find them to be clean and well kept. We find that the floor in the Recorder's office should be repaired as many of the tiles are loose. We further recommend that the county commissioners be notified to have the floor in the jail painted and the iron work in the jail also.
We further report that there are two rooms on the second floor of the dwelling at the jail which need papering and painting and recommend that the same be done.
Also that a 3 foot walk be made between the dwelling and the jail to the stable.
We do further recommend that such additions be added to the jail house as will increase its capacity and afford greater convenience for the grand and traverse jurors and for the county library.
RILEY PRATT, Foreman.

Parents, Give Your Sons and Daughters the Very Best Education.
Parents living in the country and towns within easy access of Bellefonte should have their children take advantage of the courses of instruction offered by the Bellefonte Academy which is acknowledged to be one of the most thorough preparatory schools in the country. The future will call for educated men and women in every department of life. Success will not be attained without it. You owe it to your children to place them early in a good school and have the foundation work of their education made the very best.
It is a great mistake to keep them in schools inadequately equipped in teaching force or in apparatus until they have outgrown them, and then expect them, when entering such advanced schools as the Academy, to be prepared to class with those of their own age. Ten teachers constitute the faculty of the Academy and the apparatus of the school is up to date. Special individual attention to your children is guaranteed. Student rates on railroads. School schedules arranged to suit the railroad schedules. Certificate admits to Penna. State and other colleges. Terms reasonable. Fall session opens Wed. Sept. 9th. For further particulars address:
JAS. R. HUGHES, A. M.
Head Master.

ADDITIONAL LOCALS
—About five hundred people went to Hunter's park yesterday morning to attend the first annual reunion of Odd Fellows at that place and everything seemed primed for a very successful gathering when rain began falling about 1 o'clock and put an end to all the enthusiasm. While the Odd Fellows and their friends were able to keep dry in the pavilions and enjoy the rest of the day as best they could rain was certainly the last visitor they were ready to welcome.

—On Tuesday afternoon a very severe storm passed over the lower end of Bald Eagle valley; being particularly destructive about Beech Creek. Many trees were uprooted, corn and plants were beaten flat to the ground by the rain and the hail, several houses were unroofed, among them the Presbyterian church and the railroad station, the end of Geo. D. Hess' brick building was blown in and the farm barn of John Swartz unroofed. The storm crossed Nittany and Sugar valleys, leaving considerable wreckage in its wake. In the latter Joseph Brungard's barn roof was partially blown away.

—Robert Mensch, of Aaronsburg, secured $1.75 per bushel for a wagon load of peaches that he hauled to Millheim on Monday.

—Valentine Fleck, aged 30, formerly a resident of Phillipsburg, was probably fatally burned by an explosion in the Altoona gas works on Tuesday morning.

—On Wednesday Burdine Butler, of Howard, was showing his three little children: Margaret Ellen, Thomas Burdine and Hugh McAllister, the sights of the town, and a brighter trio of little ones would be hard to find anywhere.

—A fine line of free open air amusements have been secured for the great Centre county fair in October. In fact there will be something doing all the time and when you once pass the gate you will be inside the largest show Centre county has ever seen.

—Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. West, of Pittsfield, Mass., have sent out invitations for the marriage of their daughter, Isabel Morrison, and Mr. William Benjamin Jackson, on the evening of Thursday, Sept. 3rd, at 7:30 o'clock. The marriage is to take place in the First church of Christ at Pittsfield. The groom-to-be is a son of the late Josiah Jackson, of State College, and is now with the Stanley Electric company of Pittsfield.

—A party of foreigners who had been married yesterday morning drove down town in all the glory of most gorgeous clothes. The bride wore a flowing white veil with a wreath of flowers, while her groom was scarcely recognizable behind an immense bontoneire of pink asters tied with a pink bow. The cab was stopped at the Bush house and the bride, who is very pretty, smiled as if in the highest glee when her new husband emerged from the bar room with a big long bottle.

—Despite the inclement weather society was out in full force at the tea yesterday afternoon from four until six o'clock which Mrs. James R. Harris, Mrs. Frank Warfield, Mrs. Archibald Allison and Miss Mira Humes gave at the Humes home on the corner of Allegheny and Howard Sts. The affair was in honor of Mrs. Luther Roberts, of Passadena, Cal., who assisted the hostesses to receive. Smith's orchestra played during the afternoon and the Misses Anna McCoy, Kate Shugert and Eleanor Harris presided over the tea table.

FIREMAN HURT.—After firing extra load No. 56 to Lock Haven on Saturday evening Philip Loudon, of Sinking Valley, was on his way back to Tyrone on the engine of another train when he met with an accident that might have caused his death. When near the Wallace brick yards in Milesburg he leaned out between the cab and tender to look ahead. Leaning too far over the tracks his head came in contact with a steel car that was standing on the siding there. Loudon was knocked to the ground unconscious. When he was picked up he looked to be in a terrible condition for his head was all cut up and blood was spurting from the wounds.

He was brought to the Bellefonte hospital on an engine and is doing as nicely now as could be expected. There is no fracture of the skull; the only injuries being scalp wounds.

—Mrs. W. F. Reeder entertained a small party at the Country club on Friday evening.

—Mr. and Mrs. Katz gave a musicale at their apartments in the Bush house on Tuesday evening.

—Mrs. L. T. Munson entertained a party of sixteen ladies at the Nittany country club on Tuesday evening.

—Mrs. H. S. Cooper gave a progressive bridge party at the home of the Misses Benner, on Monday evening.

—Mr. John VanPelt gave a dinner at the Country club on Wednesday evening in honor of Miss Blanche Brisbin, who is visiting her sisters Daisy and Kate, at Col. Spangler's.

—Mr. and Mrs. Harry Keller entertained at the Country club in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Canfield, of Wyoote, and Col. W. R. Teller, of Havana, Cuba, on Friday evening.

—Miss May Crider gave a party for thirty of her friends at Hecla park on Wednesday evening. They had a chicken and waffle supper at Workman's and later had the Bellefonte orchestra for dancing in the pavilion.

—Col. and Mrs. W. Fred Reynolds celebrated the tenth anniversary of their marriage, on Monday evening, by entertaining the members of their wedding party and a few other friends at their home on Linn street. During the evening the Coleville band gave a concert on the west lawn.

THE PLEASANT SIDE OF LIFE.—The reception given by Mrs. Austin O. Furst, at her home on Linn street, on last Thursday evening from seven until ten o'clock was a most delightful affair. Nature paid her tribute with a perfect night and the house was abloom with flowers and foliage. Smith's orchestra played during the reception and there were about one hundred guests present.

Mrs. Furst was assisted in receiving by her daughter Miss Jane, while Mrs. Evelyn Rodgers and Mrs. Sadie Larimer presided at the table in the dining room. There great masses of scarlet gladioli decorated the table and mantle and the room was further beautified with scarlet shaded candles. Refreshments were served by Misses Margaret Cook, Elizabeth Potter, Daisy Potter, Anna McCoy and Margaret Thomas.

—The great Centre county fair, Oct. 6th, 7th, 8th and 9th. Remember, they are dates you want to bear in mind.

—The county convention of the W. C. T. U. convenes in Bellefonte Sept. 10th-11th. Each union in the county is expected to send their president and two delegates. The talented national lecturer Miss Belle Kearney, of Mississippi, familiarly called "The Slave Holders Daughter," is to be one of the attractions.

—Howard S. Yeakle, of Norristown, who was graduated from The Pennsylvania State College last June, was killed near Pittsburg on the afternoon of the 17th. He was in the service of the switch and signal department of the railroad when he was run down by a train and killed. While at College Mr. Yeakle was a member of the Varsity ball team.

—The enlargement of the accounting department of the Potter-Hoy Hardware Co. is about completed and will soon be ready for occupancy. In their new quarters the large force of book-keepers and stenographers necessary to keep the immense trade of the firm moving right will find everything more commodious and perfectly lighted.

—At the third annual reunion of the former Centre countians, now resident of Blair county, which was held in Glasgows grove, near Bellwood, on Saturday, there were one thousand guests. It was an old-fashioned basket picnic at which everyone had a good time getting acquainted with the others and recounting some tale of their former life in old Centre. During the day addresses were made by Clement Dale Esq., of Bellefonte; Col. E. J. Pruner, of Tyrone; H. Harter, of Juniata, and former mayor S. J. Bresh, of Altoona. The officers of their permanent organization were elected as follows: President, A. Bucher; vice presidents, S. J. Musser and A. B. Struble; secretary, J. W. Smith, and treasurer, Samuel Felty.

—The recent decision of the general staff of the army to appoint each year six honor graduates of six different schools and colleges which have had a regular army instructor in military science, to second lieutenancies in the army, subject to the usual examinations, will affect The Pennsylvania State College. It will be possible in his turn for one of the honor graduates from State to take rank in the army with the West Point graduate and this decision should prove a great stimulus to the young collegians to pay more attention to the military work while in college. Even should they fall short of honors the military drill will have done much for them physically.

—The Milesburg band festival attracted a great crowd to that place on Saturday night and as the receipts ran up into the neighborhood of $200.00 there must have been some good spenders among them. The extensive program advertised by the band boys was carried out all but the daring dive which Johnny Johnson had promised to make from the iron bridge to the Bald Eagle, forty-feet below. The stream was too low for him and he had to call his dive off. It was not because he is a fakir, but because the water into which he was to dive had fallen away below the safety mark. He has made the dive often before. Harry Lose, of this place, won the Bullock porch swing with No. 777.

—John Brown, a clerk in Fox's store in Lock Haven, met with a bad accident at Mackeyville about 9 o'clock Sunday night. With a horse and buggy he had secured at Mill Hall he had driven a young lady from that place to the home of her uncle, T. J. Snull, in Mackeyville, and was returning when, in the dark, he drove off the bridge crossing the race near the Tobias place. With horse and buggy he fell ten feet into four feet of water and was in a sorry plight when his cries attracted some men to his rescue. Aside from the water and mud Brown was not hurt at all, his horse was slightly bruised, but the buggy didn't have a scratch. The young man had never been over the road before.

—Bellefonte is becoming quite a centre for proprietary remedies. If they meet with anything near the success that is hoped for it will not be long until the town will be as famous for its patent medicines as Lowell, Mass. First we have the Kar and Sea Sic, Co., with its various remedies that are really beginning to sell right readily. Next the Penn Chemical Co., a new organization that has put Vintena, Penn's dyspepsia tablets and Vintena liver pills on the market with very encouraging results. The latest addition to the list is the Bellefonte Chemical Co., an organization that manufactures "Painticide," which they advertise as "the world's only satisfactory paint remover." They claim that "Painticide" will take old paint off boards without destroying the surface of the wood and do it in a very few moments.

FRIENDS-QUARTERLY MEETING.—Will be held in their meeting house near Stormstown, Centre Co., on Sept. 5th, 6th and 7th. Business meetings pertaining to church affairs will be held on Saturday and Monday 5th and 7th insts.

On Sunday, the 6th, the usual public meetings will be held, the hours being 10 a. m. and 3 p. m., to which the public are cordially invited.

Those expecting to attend are requested to note the hours named, especially that the Sunday morning service convenes at 10 a. m. and not 11 o'clock as many suppose and to be punctual in this observance.

The committee of arrangements also respectfully requests that family reunions and social gatherings in the grove be arranged at other than meeting hours.

AUGUST WEDDINGS.—A very propitious and pleasant wedding was celebrated on Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Neyhart, at Milesburg, when their eldest son, Edward N. Neyhart, was united in marriage to Miss Cora Singleton, of Oil City. Only the near relatives and more intimate friends were present at the ceremony and yet the spirit of happiness and pleasure was so evident that it was from the first a festal occasion.

Rev. Carson, of the Milesburg Presbyterian church, pronounced the ceremony at 6 o'clock and after the usual congratulations and an excellent supper Mr. and Mrs. Neyhart left on the evening train for Oil City. Upon their return they will make their home in Johnstown, where the groom has a house on Barron avenue completely furnished and just ready for occupancy. He is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Neyhart and is an excellent young man, diligent and well-to-do. Both he and his brother Glenn have been employed by the Cambria Iron Co. in Johnstown for several years and there his bride has been making her home for some time too.

MR. AND MRS. R. A. BECK WELCOME HOME.—Had Sir Thomas Lipton won instead of losing all three yacht races and been triumphantly leading the flotilla of popular fireman, R. A. Beck.

For some time there had been a suspicion that he was growing tired of single blessedness but nothing developed until Wednesday noon when he suddenly departed for Philadelphia, leaving behind him the tall-tale marriage license docket. Yesterday morning he was married to Miss Elsie B. S. Eokman, formerly resident of Bellefonte, by the Rev. E. E. Hoshour, also formerly of this place. After the marriage they started directly for their home here and were met at the train last evening by the entire Logan Co. in uniform and after being mounted in a stylish Stanhope the horses were taken out and the firemen pulled them through the streets of the town, with a brass band and plenty of fire works ahead.

Altogether it was the greatest night of Mr. Beck's life, but it was only the fulfillment of a promise the firemen had made and the groom enjoyed it as much as his fellows did.

—On Tuesday evening Miss Edith M. Shank, of Snow Shoe, and Mr. Louis R. Bickel, of Zion, were united in marriage at the Baptist parsonage, in Milesburg, by the Rev. A. C. Lathrop.

—The association which the Bellefonte barbers organized a week or so ago has apparently gone by the boards already. According to their compact all shops were to close at 8 o'clock at night and there was to be a slight advance in the prices for certain work after September 1st, but when it came to posting cards to that effect in their shops president R. A. Beck had changed his mind about its practicability and the whole scheme was called off, much to the chagrin of the other followers of the art tonorial.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR CONVENTION.—The eleventh annual convention of the Centre county C. E. Union, to be held in the Presbyterian church at Milesburg, Sept. 2nd and 3rd, promises to far surpass all conventions yet conducted by the union.

The number of delegates already expected far exceeds the registration of last year, which was more than double that of any previous convention. Almost every society is preparing to capture some one of the banners. The program has been prepared with a view of helping young christians to become efficient workers in Christ's church. It includes, beside many ministers and prominent Christian Endeavor workers from our own county, Dr. H. H. Stiles, of Altoona; Rev. S. S. Bergen, of Petersburg; Rev. J. Mitchell, of Hontzdale; and Rev. Wm. Stokler, of Milroy. The sunrise prayer meeting on the subject "The Great Life Purpose," will be in charge of Rev. Lathrop, of Milesburg.

The Junior rally presided over by Rev. Luther DeYoe, junior superintendent of the Dauphin county union promises to be a great success. The juniors have been for some time preparing, under the direction of Mrs. R. L. Bierly and Miss Kate Baldrige.

A feature of the closing session will be "A study of the Book of Acts," by Rev. DeYoe, of Harrisburg.

Entertainment may be secured for one dollar a day by notifying Mrs. W. B. Thomas, of Milesburg.
