Books, Magazines, Etc.

A rather daring stand is taken in the September St. Nicholas by Kiyas Richardson Steege when she urges the boys and girls to begin making friends with Robert Browning right away. Yes, the great Robert Browning, the Browning thought to be above the heads of most grown-ups, except when banded together in clubs! The writer is the mother of several little ones, so her words carry weight.

Of course, no very young person could appreciate or understand properly the larger part of Browning's writings, but, still, he has written many things simple enough to give real pleasure even to young folks. A glimpse into a beautiful country is often worth while, even if one can explore only a very little way into its wonders. It seems to me, then, that you young people might enjoy beginning to read and study the great poems of Browning now, just as you study the musical compositions of Bach and Beethoven, only taking the easiest and simplest of them. By doing this you will, after a while, be able to enjoy the more subtle poems, just as in music you will later appreciate symphonies and concertos that at present are too difficult for you.

The sketch, "A Little Talk About a Great Poet," is enriched by two full-page illustrations, reproductions of Rudolf Lehmann's portraits of Robert Browning, and of Guercino's "Guardian Angel," the painting in the church of St. Augustine at Fano, Italy. There are many quotations to illustrate Mrs. Steege's points and to tempt young verse-lovers to read further.

Everything in the September McClure's is worth reading, and it is all good reading too. Ray Stannard Baker contributes an extremely noteworthy article on the present industrial situation in Chicago, a really amazing disclosure of what the author does not hesitate to call a new form of industrial conspiracy. "Capital and Labor Hunt Together," is Mr. Baker's startling title; no more startling, however, than the facts which he recites of the combinations between employers and workmen in various trades to suppress the competition of independent labor and prey upon the public. A thrilling Civil War article, "Andrew's Railroad Raid," will recall a notable incident of the Union campaigns of '62 in the West. The story of the ill-fated raid is finely told by Frank C. Dougherty, a participant and one of the few survivors. Clara Morris writes in a delightfully personal vein of the younger Salvini—Alessandro—recounting in particular the story of his first attempts under her patronage and tutelage, to act in English. "A Pompadour Angel," by Mary Moss, is a delicious skit of a Pullman-carful of staid society people and business men. Norman Duncan's "The Strength of Men," is a splendid story of the heroism of a Newfoundland fisherman. George McCutcheon winds up his refreshing burlesque "The Day of the Dog," for which his brother, John McCutcheon, has drawn more of his inimitable pictures.

BROOM STOCK BOOMS

From the facts presented you will understand why stock of the International Broom Company, Manufacturers of the Twentieth Century Broom, is a gilt-edged investment, and why it is regarded as such by all who will not put their money into any enterprise unless they see great and speedy profits ahead. Owing to the quick growth and great progress of the International Broom Company the stock has been advanced to

60 CENTS A SHARE.

We would advise intending investors to avail themselves of this low price and purchase before another raise. With the various applications for sub-companies now in hand, there is no doubt that about the latter part of August the price will be advanced to

75 CENTS A SHARE.

The high place The New Broom gained in public favor is due to the Company's ability to produce solid proof of every statement.

Contract closed for sub-company in Chicago with largest broom manufacturer in the United States.

Contract closed for sub-company in New Haven, Conn.

Contract will be closed shortly for sub-company in Kansas City, Mass.

Contract will be closed shortly for sub-company in City of Mexico.

Sub-Company now manufacturing the New Broom in Ottawa, Ont.

All on royalties to the parent company—The Ottawa Company alone will pay the International Broom Company about $25,000 a year in royalties.

20 Other Applications for Sub-Companies Now Pending.

WE ASSERT AND CAN PROVE

That the demand for the New Broom is as wide as the civilized world.

That it is the only sanitary broom made. That the Brooklyn factory made in April, 1903, twice as many brooms as in March and four times as many as in February, and earned a profit of more than 25 per cent. over its operating expenses on its production.

That dealers, wholesale and retail, think so well of The New Broom that they are becoming stockholders in the Company.

If we could not prove all this, and more, we should not expect any careful and conservative investor to buy this stock.

As we are thoroughly familiar with the plans and projects of the Company and the possibilities of The New Broom we unhesitatingly declare that this stock should very soon pay a dividend in the par value and rapidly advance until it sells for $2.00 or $3.00 per share.

It is, therefore, advisable that intending investors who wish to investigate this proposition do so at an early date before the next advance in price is announced. Those who subscribe now will be benefited by the increase.

Intending investors can obtain full particulars and ample proof of the claims of this Company on application at our office.
