Heart Wounds Not Necessarily Fatal.

Many Instances in Which Persons Thus Injured Have Recovered.

In wounds of the heart itself the escape of blood is never in large quantity and the lethal consequences are due to the fact that the escape of blood from within its cavity (or cavities) into the surrounding sac of the pericardium mechanically interrupts the alternate contraction and expansion by which its pumping is maintained. Accordingly, the results of wounds of the heart are usually identical with those of gradual suffocation. This fact was strikingly demonstrated in the case of the Empress of Austria. And the diabolic skill and precision with which the wound was inflicted in her case offer a diagrammatic illustration of a necessarily fatal wound of the heart.

The instrument used was two large to form a mere "needle puncture," it was inflicted too high in the chest to be "non-penetrating," for it was aimed with truly fiendish ingenuity at the position of one of the thin-walled of the fourth cavities of the heart, and the directness of the penetration, combined with the thinness of wall of the cavity, rendered it physically impossible that the wound could be "valvular."

The Israelite warrior of old smote the enemy—when possible—"beneath the fifth rib," because the impulse of the heart is felt there. But he probably did not know that it is in that precise position that wound of the heart is least necessarily fatal.

The Italian assassin of recent date displays incomparably greater skill and knowledge. The science of the present day also proves that the historic account of the death of Admiral Villeneuve is open to skeptical doubt. And the recent cases of suture of the heart give illustration that modern surgical skill may attempt and with success the seemingly impossible.—American Medicine.

Man And His Wife Murdered.

Mr. and Mrs. Yeager, aged, respectively 60 and 61, were found murdered at their home on a farm a few miles out of Warren, Mo., by officers and neighbors, who went to the house on Wednesday. Information of the murder was found by the rural mail carrier in an anonymous letter left in a box in front of the house. The carrier at first thought the letter was a hoax and did not investigate at once. The bodies when found were badly mutilated and indicated that there had been a fearful struggle between the aged couple and their assailant. Suspicion is directed against William E. Church, an adopted son of the murdered couple, who has disappeared, and the most diligent search has failed to disclose any trace of him. All his personal effects had been removed from the house.

AFTER VACATION.—Just as it is harder to set a ball in motion than to keep it in motion, it is harder to take up any line of work again, after the summer vacation, than to keep on with it.

The effects of the strain are seen in changed looks, diminished appetite and broken sleep.

Now is a time when many—clerks, book-keepers, teachers, pupils and others—should take a tonic, and we think the best is Hood's Sarsaparilla, which acts on the whole system, builds it up, and wards off sickness.

AN ANCIENT FOE

To health and happiness is Scrofula—as ugly as ever since time immortal.

It causes bunches in the neck, disfigures the skin, inflames the mucous membrane, wastes the muscles, weakens the bones, reduces the power of resistance to disease and the capacity for recovery, and develops into consumption.

"A bunch appeared on the left side of my neck. It caused great pain, was lanced, and became a running sore. I was persuaded to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, and when I had taken six bottles my neck was healed, and I have never had any trouble of the kind since." Mrs. K. T. SYDNER, Troy, Ohio.

HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA AND PILLS

will rid you of it, radically and permanently, as they have rid thousands.

TRUSTS GOING OUT OF BUSINESS

That is a head-line you don't see in the new columns of this paper. The trusts are not breaking up into the smaller concerns that were merged into them. The trusts are the greatest labor-saving invention yet made, and they will stay till they can be replaced by something better.

There is only one trouble with the trusts. They enable men to produce more wealth with less waste of energy than was ever possible before but they take most of the wealth away from those who do the work and give it to those who do the owning of stocks and bonds.

Suppose that we who work for a living should decide to do the owning ourselves, and to run the trusts for the benefit of all.
