Gorman's Son Wins in Politics.

Colonel A. P. Gorman, jr., the only son of the United States Senator A. P. Gorman, was nominated on last Wednesday by the Howard county, Md., Democratic convention for the state Senate, having won a decisive victory over his opponents. Colonel Gorman is thirty years of age, and begins his political career where his father began, thirty years ago.

The New Portage railroad will be opened for traffic about October 1st. The track-laying has been completed and the contractor's men are now engaged in surfacing the road and finishing up the odd jobs. A double track has been laid all the way from Duncansville to Cresson. The connection however, is only with the east-bound tracks. Within the next few days the other tracks will also be joined to the New Portage road. A number of sidings are yet to be built along the new tracks, and large forces of men are rushing these to completion.

Cruelty to the Horse.

The horse, the most useful of all animals, is the one marked for the most of men's ill treatment, says the Indianapolis News. For the most part housed in ill-lighted, ill-ventilated and ill-smelling quarters, worked to its full capacity, cared for only to the degree that selfish interest prompts, the animal is delivered over as the unprotected object of the unrestrained passion of man. The average man fails apparently to understand that animals have a nervous system, among them in a marked degree the horse, and that were he to govern his own temper he could with a little patience get control of the horse's nervous system and make out of it a servant vastly more efficient than it is under the system in which he beats and jerks and drives it to distraction.

A short walk in any city will discover many blind horses. Why? There are no blind ones, comparatively. And yet the sight of the one naturally is as good as that of the other. The difference is simply that the horse from the beginning has been abused, ill-treated, overworked and worked under conditions that have driven him blind. His eyes are shut in by blinders at each side, for which there is no use but to satisfy the caprice of fashion of men. So his vision interfered with, and deprived of air, the wonder is that, with the other treatment it gets, it is not blind often. Besides this, in other cases its neck is almost pulled out of joint by overhead check-reins that raise its face to the air and turn its eyeballs to the glare of the sun unprotected. Or, on the other hand, deprived of check-rein, it is bitten with a curb that pulls its jaw to its breast and tortures it in this fashion. And then, according to the spreading fashion of the day, it is subjected to that most cruel of all practices, docking, which not merely tortures in the practice, but leaves it to the torment of flies for the rest of its life. If it is the merciful man that is merciful to his beast, and if it is the merciful that obtain mercy, we have, as a people, some way to come before we get that blessing.

TRUSTS GOING OUT OF BUSINESS

That is a head-line you don't see in the news columns of this paper. The trusts are not breaking up into the smaller concerns that were merged into them. The trusts are the greatest labor-saving invention yet made, and they will stay till they can be replaced by something better.

There is only one trouble with the trusts. They enable men to produce more wealth with less waste of energy than was ever possible before but they take most of the wealth away from those who do the work and give it to those who do the owning of stocks and bonds.

Suppose that we work for a living should decide to do the owning ourselves, and to run the trusts for the benefit of all.
