

Pine Grove Mention.

Most of the corn is on the stalk yet. A. M. Brown is recovering from his recent indisposition.

A diamond drill is in operation hunting for coal on the Reitz farm below Boalsburg.

Mrs. Joseph Johnson with her little family are visiting her father, J. C. Markle, at Tipton.

Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Corl, of Pine Hall, were entertained at J. C. Corl's home at White Hall Sunday.

D. G. and Mrs. Meek spent the beginning of the week at the home of Adam Krumrine, at Tusseyville.

James C. Hamar is here from Philadelphia to spend his two week's vacation among the chums of his youth.

General Frank Crawford registered at the St. Elmo Monday night, and did up our merchants in the hardware line.

J. N. Everts has sold his home at State College and fitted to Tyrone on Thursday, where he will reside for a time.

W. O. Daugherty is tired of farming and is going to offer his stock and farming implements at public sale in a few weeks.

Walter Woods left for Philadelphia last Friday to resume his studies in the University, where he has two more years.

Rev. Mr. Harnish will preach in the Presbyterian church next Sunday evening, at 7:30 p. m. On Sunday the 11th, of Oct. Rev. E. D. Hepler will preach here.

James G. Fortney while walking around in his wood house on Wednesday fell and struck his head on a stick of wood and in consequence is hurt quite seriously.

Mrs. L. H. Osman and Mrs. Geo. Behrer, are visiting friends over at Milroy this week. They will stop with the Sankeys in George's valley before returning home.

Miss Ruth Goheen, of Tyrone, is visiting her cousin, Mary Bailey, on Main St. Miss Ruth has been in Philadelphia for a year or more under medical treatment. Fortunately she is much better.

Mrs. Joseph Corl is slowly recovering from an attack of typhoid fever. Dr. W. S. Glenn is very hopeful of her recovery. Mrs. Nannie Shaw is convalescing nicely. She is able to sit up a short time each day.

Insurance agent and farmer Frank McFarlane, is slowly recovering from an attack of nervous chills. We are not quite sure what remedy he will be recommending but we are quite sure that the patent medicine vender is the better off.

The venerable J. J. Goheen, of Rock Spring, spent Friday in town. He was accompanied by his son, J. C. Goheen, who is going about with the aid of a crutch, having received serious injuries while in Philadelphia. A street car did him up there.

William Collins moved into the H. M. Stover house on Main street on Thursday. Mr. Collins is an up-to-date blacksmith as well as a straight-out Democrat. To him and his good wife we extend a cordial welcome hoping that their flit will not be a short sit.

Ira C. Corman was obliged to kill one of his horses on Sunday. It had its left front leg broken near the knee by a kick from another horse. J. W. Sunday, at Rock Spring, had the same experience. His bay mare had her left hind leg broken near the stifle. She was put out of her misery on Monday.

Mrs. John J. Fleming and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Jas. Fleming, of Fayette county, are visiting at the old Sample home here. On Tuesday they drove down Penns valley to see Mrs. Frank McFarlane, who is Mrs. Fleming's cousin. The latter part of the week they will spend with Spruce Creek friends.

In every direction the steam thresher is busy. We have heard of several brag crops this week. Albert Witmer is at the front. He had nine hundred and fifty bushels of wheat which was an average of 29 1/2 bushels per acre. Abe Markle has the floor just now. He reports his harvest as averaging 34 1/2 bushels per acre. His oats yielded 5 1/2 bushels per acre and thus far he has the belt.

A pleasant little surprise party was given on the tenth anniversary of Verna Lytle by a number of her playmates. Refreshments were served with a liberal hand by her mother and grandmother, Caroline Houseman, who royally entertained the youngsters until the going down of the sun. Then they departed for their homes leaving behind them some very pretty presents as a reminder of the birthday.

Mrs. Matilda Musser, of Altoona, and her invalid son John, are visiting relatives here. Mr. Musser is in the hardware business in Bellefonte for some years and afterward went to San Francisco. There he was stricken with locomotor ataxia on account of which he has become a confirmed invalid. He has improved sufficiently to drive about to see his friends and they are in hopes that the improvement is permanent.

The Pine Grove Light Co. held its second annual meeting at the St. Elmo on last Monday evening. The president, J. B. Heberling, presided and in a neat cut speech stated the object of the meeting. It was to devise some plan of continuing the street lights. The treasury is empty, there are no funds in sight and there is a small indebtedness to be met. Hon. J. Will Kepler was elected president for the coming year. N. T. Krebs, secretary and J. G. Heberling, treasurer, J. R. Smith, A. S. Bailey and H. W. Franz were selected as a board of managers. Rev. Aikens would the managers that sixty dollars would run the lights for an entire year. There should be local pride enough among our citizens to raise this amount without any hesitancy.

AN AUTUMN WEDDING.—With the splendor of a perfect September day smiling approval, the marriage of Miss Elsie Fortney, and David Clyde Krebs, was celebrated on Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The ceremony took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James G. Fortney, with quite a number of guests present. Rev. C. T. Aikens pronounced the ceremony and the wedding march was played by Miss Annie Fortney. Miss Inez Fortney, of Tyrone, a cousin of the bride, was maid of honor and Mr. Ora Krebs, the groom's youngest brother, was best man. After the congratulations and inspection of the many beautiful presents received a sumptuous supper was served. The usual wedding journey was dispensed with and the young people will go to housekeeping at once on Main St.

The bride, who is the second daughter of James G. Fortney, is an amiable and accomplished young lady. She has a host of friends and is loved and respected by all who know her. The groom is a son of the late Levi Krebs. He is honest, industrious, sober and perfectly able to provide his wife with all the comforts of life. The callithumpians were on hand but were not obliged to exert themselves greatly as the newly married couple promptly put in their appearance and ordered a treat for the crowd at one of the stores.

Lemont.

Miss Mary A. Thomas has been a great sufferer with sciatica of late. John R. Schreck, is better again. It was feared that he was taking fever.

Mrs. Lloyd Houtz, was on the sick list this week, but is much better now.

Cider making and apple butter boiling is on now, with all the attendant sport.

The farmers are slow at getting at the corn cutting as they think some not fit to cut, it being too green.

Miss Maude Hoy, daughter of William Hoy, of Williamsport, is visiting among her many friends in these parts.

George Williams returned from Phillipsburg, Monday evening, where he had been attending the annual session of the United Brethren conference.

Zac Holt and men came back to chop Friday, but Monday they received word to stop chopping as they expected to have a saw mill put in in the near future.

Rev. Crumbling, the presiding elder of the United Evangelical church, preached two fine sermons, one on Saturday evening from John 4:4 and the other Sunday forenoon from Eph. 1:14-19.

Thirty-five of the members of Boalsburg lodge were to Spring Mills, Friday night to confer some of the mysteries of the orders, on a number of candidates, and we can assure all participating that the work was done well—by the Boalsburg team.

The Boalsburg Lutheran Sunday school had a grand time at their social, at the home of Henry Homan, there being about one hundred and thirty in attendance and they cleared the snug sum of twenty dollars.

Arthur Peters, of Oak Hall, took up the reigns and birch of the pedagogue, Monday morning, when he began to teach in the Centre Furnace school which Miss Helen Musser resigned. Miss Musser has now a position with Prof. Surface, of State College, for which she will receive much better pay than in the public schools, not counting the many other discouragements that the teacher has to contend with.

By latest reports it appears that someone or ones have been making use of that which is their neighbor's. During the last week Jesse Klingler's smoke house was entered and three fine pieces of meat taken. Alvin Whitmer also had the misfortune to have five pieces taken. It makes us think that if everyone would take advantage of the good times there would be no need for their neighbors savings to help all their lenders.

Mrs. John Emerick, Sidney Douty and Mrs. Della Haugh, are on the sick list.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Brungard, were guests among their many friends on Sunday.

E. C. Winters and family, spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Perry Winters.

Chas. Geary spent a few days at his home, thus being able to attend the Granger's picnic.

Emanuel Miller and wife, from Illinois, were guests at the home of Amos Fehl, during the past week.

Miss Maggie Winters is confined to the house with typhoid fever. At this writing she is some better.

Miss Mary Hartman and friend, from the West, were guests of Mrs. Geo. Smull, a cousin of the latter.

Misses Hettie and Kathryn Smull and Maggie Weaver, of Aaronsburg, were guests of the former's brother, Herbert.

Mr. Breen and family, of Lock Haven, attended the sale of John Wait on Saturday, and were guests at the home of Herbert Stover.

Mr. and Mrs. Newton Brungard, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Smull and Miss Maude Winters, spent Wednesday at the Cave, where the Shaffer-Hazel reunion was held.

Communion services in the M. C. church were very ably conducted by Rev. Smith, from Clearfield Co., on Sunday morning. His sermon was enjoyed by a large audience.

Spring Mills.

Miss Lizzie Stover left on Wednesday last, for Philadelphia and New York to make her usual fall and winter purchase of hats, caps and millinery goods. Her opening will be on the 13th.

Spring Mills lodge No. 597, I. O. of O. F. had quite a lively and interesting session on Friday evening last. In addition to initiating six candidates, had a visitation from the Boalsburg lodge of over forty members. Centre Hall and Millheim lodges were also present and largely represented. After the address of welcome by the presiding officer, quite a number of lively addresses were delivered by the visitors, and complimenting lodge No. 597—instituted less than three months since, on the admirable manner in which they conducted initiations, and transacted general business, comparing very favorably with much older lodges. A very elaborate and inviting collation was served to which all did ample justice. At rather a late hour all retired to their respective homes, having expressed themselves as having been delightfully entertained.

Convicted of Robbing Mint Vaults.

PHILADELPHIA, September 28.—Robert J. Kilpatrick was convicted in the United States district court today of robbing the vaults of the United States, mint in this city, of 858 silver dollars. Kilpatrick was employed at the mint as a laborer and it was charged he cut open the bags containing the money while at work in the vaults. A knife which Kilpatrick accidentally dropped in the vault led to his arrest and conviction. Kilpatrick was sentenced by Judge McPherson to an imprisonment of four years.

Books, Magazines, Etc.

McClure's October number, in its gorgeous crimson cover can be seen twice across the street, and it's worth crossing the street to buy. First and foremost, there is Lincoln Steffens' long looked for Chicago article, "Chicago: Half Free and Fighting On," a fine, inspiring story of the author regards as the most signal and significant achievement in real municipal reform that any of our great cities have to show. Extremely interesting is Walter Wellman's account of what is without doubt, next to our own Isthmian Canal, the biggest and most important engineering project of the age, the drainage of the Zuyder Zee, whereby the Dutch are planning to increase the habitable land of their little kingdom by almost one-tenth. For fiction, the most crochety taste will find something to its liking. Henry Wallace Phillips has a Red Sanders story, "By Proxy," warranted to dispel the heaviest "grouch." Lloyd Osborne contributes a dashing love story with a Montana heroine, (who has evidently been "finished" in the East) and William Hamilton Osborne has a tip-top business story "Bullock Jr. and the Octopus," all about the formation of a big skate trust. And finally a stunning sea tale—perhaps the best of all—"The Mate from Maine," by Colin McKay, a name one wishes to see more of. Henry Harland's "My Friend Prospero" reaches its penultimate installment; and it's a pity that it's so nearly over.

LITERARY NOTES FROM THE CENTURY CO.—Mr. John Burroughs is to contribute to The Century for 1904 a number of articles on "Current Misconceptions in Natural History," giving his views on the matters he believes to be errors of observation, record, or deduction on the part of contemporary writers on nature subjects. The copies of Mr. Burroughs' article on similar topics which appeared in The Atlantic last spring are still reverberating, and in this series Mr. Burroughs will make his views more fully publishing his matured opinions as to the alleged teaching of young animals by their parents, the play of animals, and kindred themes.
