None of the many hunting parties that have gone out from here have reported the capture of any big game up to this time.

Frank Smith, of Milesburg, and Miss Bertha Price, of Snow Shoe, were married on Thursday afternoon, by the Rev. R. H. Wharton, of Milesburg.

On Thursday last Orvis Heaton, of Milesburg, shot three rabbits, one squirrel and a wild turkey. The same day Harry Grabb shot two turkeys and several grey squirrels.

Mrs. Odille Mott, of Bishop street, became quite ill while at worship in St. John's Catholic church on Sunday. It was not of long duration, however, and she was well again in a day or so.

There was quite an exodus of scale workers from here on Monday and we were especially sorry to see our old friend J. H. Stecker going, for he is one of the kind of citizens any community would miss.

Miss Caroline Orvis, of Linn street, helped receive at a reception which Miss Kress gave in Lock Haven, on Saturday evening, in honor of Miss Sara Hepburn Harvey, whose engagement to Mr. Harold Walton Hudson, of Harrisburg, was announced.

Friday, Nov. 20th, will be Governor's day at The Pennsylvania State College. Governor Pennypacker, with a number of other state officials, will visit the institution and the next day they will probably visit the new Bellefonte fish hatchery at Pleasant Gap.

A threatening blaze in one of the departments of the Phoenix Planing mill on Thursday, started the fire alarm and brought out the engines and hose carts belonging to the different fire companies. It was of slight consequence, however, and the damage done was but trifling.

Sheriff and Mrs. H. S. Taylor celebrated the ninth anniversary of their marriage by entertaining a party of their friends at their home on the hill, on Monday evening. About thirty guests were there and progressive euchre was played; Mrs. F. E. Naginy winning the ladies prize and Col. Amos Mullen, the gentlemen's.

A dear little son, who has already been named George Porter Lyon, is the latest acquisition to the family of Mr. and Mrs. John Porter Lyon, of Pennsylvania Furnace. He was born on Wednesday morning and he occasioned so much happiness and pleasure that, for a time at least, the sorrow of the Mitchell home was forgotten.

The annual meeting of the Aid Society of the Bellefonte hospital will be held at the home of Mrs. Joseph Ceder, on Allegheny street, on the afternoon of Friday, Nov. 20th, at 3:30 o'clock. Every member of the society is requested to be present to participate in the election of officers for the coming year and the transaction of business of importance.

When the Oak Hall schools were opened on Monday only four out of thirty-six scholars were in attendance. While the Knops are well of the small pox and everything about their home and the school has been thoroughly disinfected, under the direction of the state board of health, Mrs. Bible has not recovered as yet and parents hesitate to send their children where there is even the remotest possibility of catching the disease.

Mr. Henry Fredricks, of Boalsburg, stands at the head of the class of corn growers in this county, as far as heard from the present season. While from more than half the farms within the county only about half a crop was harvested, he gathered from a four acre field 714 bushels, making an average of 178 1/2 bushels to the acre. If there is any one, anywhere, who can beat this yield, the WATCHMAN will be glad to record the fact.

The borough of State College is in the throes of a sidewalk and street crossing controversy that seems to have resolved itself into a question of the "importance" of the individuals whose homes an admiring public most desire to behold. Measured from the standpoint of "importance" since Prof.—Treasurer—former Secretary of Agriculture—present Special Farmer's Institute Commissioner—John Hamilton isn't there very much any more what's the use of bothering with sidewalks at all.

BLANCHARD—GREEN.—Miss Rebekah Blanchard, eldest daughter of the late Edmund Blanchard and Dr. George Dorsey Green, of Lock Haven, were married in the Presbyterian church on Wednesday afternoon. The wedding was a very quiet one on account of the recent death of the bride's mother, Mrs. Mary Blanchard, and the guests were limited to the fewest number possible.

There was no attempt at elaborate decorations in the church, but palms and foliage plants were massed about the chancel and a great bunch of chrysanthemums beautified the pulpit. The ceremony was pronounced at 3:30 o'clock by the Rev. Dr. Laurie, pastor of the church. Mrs. R. G. H. Hayes was the organist and the ushers were Thomas Beaver, of this place, Sedgwick Kistler, H. T. Hall, R. L. Fishburn and T. I. Lynch, all of Lock Haven.

The bride entered the church with her brother, Frederick Blanchard, of Chicago, who gave her away. Her gown was a beautiful one of white accordion pleated pine apple gauze, and she carried Brides roses. Her two sisters, Misses Anna and Christine Blanchard, were her only attendants. They wore white swiss with black sashes and carried white chrysanthemums. The groom and his best man, Edward Hoy, met the bride and her party at the altar.

After the ceremony Dr. and Mrs. Green received the congratulations of their friends in the church and were afterwards driven to the Blanchard home on Linn street. They departed on the 4:45 train for their wedding journey. They will make their home in Lock Haven, where the groom has already established a good practice. He is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. G. Dorsey Green, of Briarley, and is a graduate of State College as well as the medical department of the University of Pennsylvania.

The bride is one of our most charming young women. She is a graduate of Wellesley and has since childhood been a great favorite with her associates and relatives which include most of the oldest families of the town. That she is exceedingly popular is evidenced by the number of beautiful presents she received and that—when no invitations were sent out for the wedding. Among the gifts, which comprised an unusual display of solid silver and cut glass, were a silver tea set from Mrs. Bright, the bride's aunt, a very handsome berry dish from Mrs. Halderman, of Harrisburg, a chest of flat silver from the groom's family, and valuable Oriental rug from the Misses Peale, of Lock Haven.

The guests from out of town were Hon. and Mrs. S. R. Peale and their two daughters, of Lock Haven, Miss Woodward, of Howard, and Rev. Jay Woodcock, of State College.

RULES FOR HUNTERS.—As the mountains, all through this section of the State, are full of hunters we give the following rules taken from an exchange for the purpose of showing these nimrods how exceedingly easy it will be for them to make work for the coroner and news for the county papers. You should remember first, to always crawl over a fence with the muzzle of your gun towards you. Then, should anything catch on the trigger, the coroner will get a job and the newspaper man will have something interesting to write about the next week. 2nd. If you see anything moving in the brush, you want to fire instantly; never stop to consider. Of course, it may be another hunter, but you can call around in the morning and explain to the widow that you thought it was a pheasant. She will probably thank you a bird. 3rd. Always leave the hammer of your gun up if you have anybody with you. If it should fall, your friend will probably catch the ammunition in his back before it goes far. You can then pick the shot out at leisure. Numerous other similar wise precautions will suggest themselves while you are in prison awaiting trial should you survive rule No. 1.

FOUND DROWNED IN A FISH BASKET.—Henry Linthurst, who was once a resident of Phillipsburg, was found drowned in a fish basket in the river near Millerstown, on Nov. 2nd. It was some time before the body was identified but finally his daughter called and discovered that it was her father.

He was 75 years old and the last seen of him was October 23rd, on which date he left the residence of Mrs. Thos. Smith, 4381 Leidy street, Philadelphia, to go down town shopping. Saturday morning his daughter identified the remains. It is supposed that Mr. Linthurst started to walk from Philadelphia to Lewistown to visit his son, W. W. Linthurst, and fell into the river. He was seen in the vicinity a few days before the body was found and remarked to one that he was going down along the river to take a rest.

A HUNTING ACCIDENT AT REBERSBURG.—Merlin Winkleblecht met with an accident while out gunning near Rebersburg, last Friday, that might result in the loss of his leg. While going through some brush his gun was accidentally discharged; the heavy load of shot penetrating the calf of his leg. Ammon Fiedler, another boy, was hunting with him and ran for help.

He was taken to town and a doctor summoned. At first it was thought that it would be necessary to amputate his leg but yesterday inquiry revealed the fact that he is improving so well that it will hardly be necessary.

Young Winkleblecht is 19 years old and is a son of W. H. Winkleblecht, of Kenova. He was at Rebersburg going to school.

Joseph Woome, of Olivia, has had his pension raised from $8 to $10 per month.

Piano lessons free! See offer of The Pittsburg Sunday Dispatch on page 5.

Rent Walzer, of Mackeyville, went out hunting on Friday and came home with twelve gray squirrels, eight rabbits and a possum.

The engagement of Miss Lucretia Brew, daughter of Mrs. and Mrs. H. C. Brew, formerly of this place, but now of East Pittsburg, to Mr. Albert Dowler Riley, of Wilkensburg, has been announced.

Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Butler, of Buffalo, N. Y., are expected here on Sunday to conduct a Salvation Army rally. Mrs. Butler will be remembered as ensign Molntyre, the organizer of the army work in this place.

Phillipsburg is complaining because of an advance of ten per cent in the price of steam heat over there. While we feel sorry for the victims over the mountain we can shake with them because we have been, and still are, in the same boat.

S. S. Heberling, formerly of this county, who had been working on a big construction operation at Clay Lick Ohio, is now running a steam ditcher at the new Altoona suburb, West Juniata. Something of the magnitude of the work the machine, he is operating, can do will be seen when it is stated that it digs ditches 20 inches wide, any depth to 7 1/2 feet at the rate of 2 feet per minute.

Don't worry your brain out trying to think of something nice to send a friend or relative out of town for a Christmas gift. Don't ruin your eyes making those little flop-over collars or hemstitching handkerchiefs when you can send the WATCHMAN a whole year for $1. It would be a present every week in the year and think of the letter writing it would save you, by telling all the news every week. All you would have to do would be to write about the little matters of gossip that we're afraid to publish for fear of being scalped.

A. C. Mann's beautiful home at Mill Hill was totally destroyed by fire last Friday night. Mrs. Mann and two of the children were visiting friends at Mackeyville and Mr. Mann was out hunting. He returned home that evening and after telling the colored man to make a fire in the furnace retired. He had been in bed only a short time when smoke aroused him and the house was already so enveloped in flames that he had to jump from a window to escape. The loss is estimated at $12,000, with an insurance of $7,000. Mr. Mann had many oriental rugs, rare bric-a-brac and china that can never be replaced.

A young Phillipsburger is said to have made an election wager with a charming Oseola girl that will keep them both busy paying and receiving most of the nights this winter. He promised to give her a box of candy for every hundred votes that Judge Gordon would poll over his opponent Allison O. Smith, for judge; while she obligated herself to give him a kiss for every vote that Smith would have over Gordon. Being a staunch Republican the young lady could see no one but Gordon in the race. As he was defeated by some 2500 hundred votes it will be seen that the kisses she will have to give up will be plenty; but then an Oseola girl is the kind that can make good in this line.

Even with the weather as favorable as it has been and the fact that but little over half a crop was grown, the corn crop in the county is not nearly all gathered, nor will it be for days to come. In some sections "husing" has only been begun while in others few if any farmers have the crop in. This is accounted for as a consequence of a scarcity of farm help. Notwithstanding the fact that scores of men are out of employment there seems to be an indisposition among those needing constant work to labor on a farm, and men who could now be earning fair wages in addition to their boarding, seem disposed to face actual want, during the coming winter, rather than accept employment on the farm. Why this prejudice against this kind of work we do not know, nor is it to be wondered at that farmers become adverse to helping this class of laborers when they are in need.

"Citizen" speaks quite positively on the Water street improvement in Tuesday's issue of the News, but "Citizen" doesn't seem to fully comprehend the situation. In the first place a walk on the east side of the street has been discussed in council several times, but if it is to be laid there the property owners should be made do it, for if the borough should do it once the burden would always remain with the borough; just as it did in the case of the race bridge on High street. There is a bridge over a private water way that was always maintained by the Hale estate until one day a circus came to town and for fear the elephants would break through the street commissioner ran to make some trivial repairs to the bridge. Trivial though they were they were just enough to permit the Hale estate to unload the burden of caring for that bridge onto the borough and there it will remain for all time. Viewed in another light the borough is responsible for a walk on the west side of the street, for it is on borough property. That street was opened by ordinance during the past summer and the lines carry the borough's responsibility to low water mark on the creek. Furthermore, "Citizen's" idea of the amount of traffic on north Water street is ridiculous. As a matter of fact it is one of the most generally used thoroughfares in town and with the possible exception of High, Allegheny and Bishop there is more traffic on it than any other street.

FORTNEY.—After six years of patient suffering, as the victim of paralysis, Mr. Jas. G. Fortney, passed away, at his home in Pine Grove Mills, on Friday morning last. Death came quietly as an evening shadow, and without a struggle his spirit peacefully returned to Him who gave it.

James Guthrie Fortney was the second son of the late David Fortney and was born in Patton township this county on the 29th day of March 1839. His early life was passed on the farm and working at the trade of carpentering. In 1859 he moved with his father, to the Branch, where his death he was left with the responsibility of the large farm, they had purchased, and the care of an aged mother, and the younger children of the family. He soon became one of the most successful farmers in the county, and was noted for the excellence of the stock he raised and the fine condition of his farm and property. He was a man of unbounded hospitality, and no one in need, who ever appealed to him, was turned away unaided. Sun-shine seemed to follow his foot steps, he had a word of cheer and comfort for all, and wherever he went there was brightness and hope. In early life he connected himself with the church of his choice—the Lutheran—of which he was a consistent and faithful member to the end.

In 1862 he was married to Miss Sallie Homan, and the result of this union was three daughters and two sons who with the wife mourn the death of a most indulgent husband and father. The children are C. S. Fortney of Centre Hall, Mrs. E. C. Musser of the Branch, and Mrs. D. C. Krebs, Miss Annie and A. J. Fortney of Pine Grove. Col. D. F. Fortney of Bellefonte and Rev. G. W. Fortney of Suffero, N. Y., are his only brothers.

A large concourse of friends and neighbors gathered at the home on Monday to accompany the remains to the silent city of the dead. His pastor, the Rev. C. Aikens, had charge of the services and paid a just tribute to the virtue of the deceased in his short address. Rev. D. J. Brown and his younger brother the Rev. G. W. Fortney bore testimony to the christian influence of a good man in a home where the bible was revered and prayer was wont to be made daily. Interment was made in the New cemetery.

ISRAEL J. CONDO.—After suffering only one day with cramp of the stomach Israel J. Condo passed away at his home at Boalsburg, on Saturday evening, at the age of 59 years, 7 months and 5 days.

Deceased was a member of one of the pioneer families of Brush valley, his grandfather having settled there in the early days of the county's history. He was born at Aaronsburg March 23rd, 1834, and devoted the early part of his life to blacksmithing, but in later years he gave it up and became a confectioner, which he was following at the time of his death. He was one of the most popular citizens of Boalsburg, his gentle and pleasant disposition making lasting friends of all who became acquainted with him. Politically he was an unwavering Democrat, religiously he was a devout Lutheran, and in every walk and profession of life he was honest and earnest. His wife, who was Miss Agnes Price, before their marriage, died about five years ago; leaving him with the following children: Annie, wife of Richard Kreamer, of Altoona; Cora, wife of Andrew Kreamer, of Altoona, and Maude, wife of Edward Williams, of Boalsburg. He also leaves the following brothers and sisters: Robert, of Boalsburg; William, of Aaronsburg, and Charles in the far West; Mrs. Sarah Spangler, of Rebersburg, and Mrs. Mary Bohn, of Oseola.

Mr. Condo was a charter member of the Boalsburg lodge I. O. O. F. which order conducted the impressive burial on Tuesday morning. He was also a member of the Lutheran church. Rev. Stonecypher officiated at the funeral.

MRS. J. L. WALKER.—After having suffered for a long time with cancer Mrs. J. L. Walker passed peacefully away at her home, about a mile from Hubersburg, on Tuesday morning. She had been in bad health, as a result of her affliction, for a long time and in the hope of gaining relief she submitted to an operation about two weeks ago, but the trouble had advanced too far to be eradicated and her death resulted.

Mrs. Walker was about fifty years old. Her death causes poignant sorrow to her husband and their sons John, Charles and Carl, as well as her aged mother, six sisters, a brother and a wide circle of friends; for she was a loving, devoted mother and a woman of exemplary christian habits.

Funeral services were conducted at her late home yesterday afternoon, by the Rev. H. I. Crow, of the Reformed church and interment was made in the Reformed cemetery.

ABEL CAMPBELL.—It is with sincere regret that we announce the death of Abel Campbell, which occurred at his home in Austin, Potter county, on the 21st ult., from the effects of a stroke of paralysis.

It has been several years since we have seen the genial gentleman, whom we regarded as a very dear friend, and the thought that we are never to meet again in this world brings a measure of genuine sadness. At one time he was one of the well-known men of the Snow Shoe country, prominent in Democratic politics and actively engaged in lumbering. When that industry was worked out he struck off into the new field where he has passed away.

Mr. Campbell was 60 years and 6 months old. He is survived by his widow, three daughters and one son. A sister and two brothers are also living.

MRS. SARAH PIFER.—Mrs. Sarah Pifer died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. A. V. Smith, on Thomas street, on Monday afternoon, after a six weeks' illness from the effects of paralysis.

Mrs. Pifer was born in Northampton county, July 3rd, 1823, and was a member of the old and very prominent Fahr family. She came to Centre county about 30 years ago and since the death of her husband, Abram Pifer, in 1877, made her home at Howard, except during the past six years which she spent with her daughter in this place.

She was active and useful in church and charitable works; having been a life long member of the Lutheran denomination. Of her home life and loving traits her bereaved children know the best, but their influence radiated out among others who came in contact with her, so full of goodness, as to make her a beloved woman.

Surviving are the following children: Mrs. Katherine McClintock, of Lamar; George C., of DuBois; Mrs. Elizabeth Krapp, of Parvin, Clinton county; Mrs. Emma Smith, of Bellefonte; Harvey of Mill Hall; Alvin, of Walker; Mrs. Nettie Bolopue, of Howard, and Grant, of Wilkensburg.

She is also survived by one sister, Mrs. Fietta Raub, of Northampton. One brother, Benjamin Fahr, who resided in Stevenson county, Ill., preceded her to the grave just fifteen days ago.

Funeral services were conducted by the Rev. Dr. Hallaway at the Smith home yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock; after which the body will be taken to Lamar for interment.

MRS. SUSAN MECHTLEY.—Mrs. Susan Mechtley, relict of Daniel Mechtley, passed away at the home of her brother, Harry Teats, in Curwensville, where she has resided recently, on Sunday evening, after a lingering illness of consumption.

For a number of years Mrs. Mechtley was a resident of Bellefonte, where she was held in high esteem and the patient, christian life she lived was but a preparation for the more beautiful one into which she has entered. Mr. Mechtley, who was a well known mason here, died several years ago. Their one daughter, Mrs. J. A. Finkbinder, resides in this place.

Her body was brought here for burial on Tuesday afternoon and after services were held in the Evangelical church, of which she was a devout member, interment was made in the Union cemetery.

A SAD DEATH.—Julia A. youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Murray died at the family home at Snow Shoe Intersection yesterday morning early after a short illness of diphtheria. Just a week ago to-day her older sister, Emma, was buried from what has since been pronounced the same disease, but at that time was thought to be quinsy. Her parents were almost prostrated at that time and Julia's death following so soon will be a great sorrow to them. She was fourteen years of age and is survived by her parents, four sisters and two brothers. Interment was made yesterday afternoon in Stovers burying ground.

Robert Laws, of Oseola, who has been tax collector of Rush township until he has grown thoroughly tired of the job, was in town on Monday settling his 1902 duplicate. The promptness with which Mr. Laws got the taxes gathered in in that sparsely settled community is a credit to his energy in looking after the interests of the public; but what else could be expected of so good a Democrat and an honest gentleman.

BULTMANN—CRISSMAN.—A Washington, (Pa.) paper gives the following account of a wedding in which many Bellefonte people will be interested, the groom being Mr. John Crissman, the eldest son of Mr. Harry Crissman for years a resident of the west ward, and nephew of Mr. Homer Crissman, of the Bellefonte Central railroad:

"A marriage that was characterized by elegance was solemnized at Washington, Ind., Oct. 27th, at St. Mary's church at 8 p. m., by Rev. Frances Farbeck. The contracting parties being Miss Fannie Bultmann, the beautiful and accomplished daughter of Mr. Francis Bultmann, of the West end and Mr. John Crissman, a popular glass worker of Vincennes.

Will Crissman, of Pittsburg, Pa., brother of the groom, acted as best man, while Miss Katharine Bultmann, sister of the bride acted as bridesmaid. After the marriage the happy young couple was driven to the bride's home where an elegant supper was served to a large number of friends and relatives after which dancing was the feature of the evening for which Prof. Herr's orchestra furnished music.

The bride's gown was made of white silk organza, trimmed with valenciennes lace and ribbon. She wore the veil and wreath and carried a large bouquet of white chrysanthemums. The groom was attired in the usual black.

Mr. and Mrs. Crissman departed at midnight for California to spend their honeymoon. They will reside in Vincennes on their return."
