THINGS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY

State defeated Washington and Jefferson at Pittsburg yesterday by the score of 22 to 0.

Two hogs recently killed for Mrs. Mary Boileau, at Milesburg, dressed 457 and 363 lbs. They were porkers.

The annual conference of the Methodist church will convene in Harrisburg, on March 16th. Bishop McCabe will officiate.

Frank P. Bible is part owner and manager of a new general store that has been opened at the Stevens quarries of the American Lime Co.

Union Thanksgiving services were held in the Reformed church at 10:30 yesterday morning. Rev. Dr. H. C. Holloway delivered the sermon.

The annual white deer has been shot in Lycoming county so the hunting season is ready to close. The Lycoming county white deer story is about like the Delaware peach orop failure.

Mrs. Grant Hoover and her little baby went to the hospital on Tuesday to remain until the child has recovered from a beetle head, with which it has been suffering for several weeks.

Frank Davis, of east Logan street, is confined to his home by an attack of grip. All the other members of the family had had the disease and had about recovered when he was taken ill with it.

Edwin J. Hadley, who for years was the expert electrician with Howe's moving picture show, is coming here with a show of his own on the evening of Dec. 9th. It will be for the benefit of the G. A. R.

The annual lodge of sorrow will be held by the Elks of this district in the Look Haven opera house on Sunday afternoon, December 6th. W. Harrison Walker Esq., of this place, will make one of the addresses.

George Packer, aged 30, who died in Look Haven on Tuesday morning, was a son of Mr. and Mrs. William Packer, of Marsh Creek. He is survived by his wife and one child, his parents, one sister, Mrs. Harry Edwards, of State College, and three brothers.

Mrs. Parsons, of Scotia, who was brought to the hospital in this place last week, underwent an operation on Saturday for the removal of a large fibroid tumor from her neck. It was very successful and the lady will be ready to go home in a few days.

A new locomotive has been placed on the Nittany valley railroad as a result of Supt. M. I. Gardner's recent trip to New York. It was bought from the C. R. R. of N. J. through the representations of C. B. Williams, formerly of this place, who is now with the Central.

Reynolds Shope, the well-known lumber operator and contractor, is confined to his home with rheumatism. Inasmuch as he has several important jobs on hand now, as well as that fine new home he is building for himself on Thomas street his illness is rather inopportune.

Dr. Alfred Beirly, the Chicago composer, has just published "Christmas Chimes," a complete Christmas exercise for Sunday schools. It contains thirty attractive numbers and can be had, postpaid, for 40c per dozen. His new national patriotic chorus "The Grand Republic" has been reviewed very favorably by critics.

Mrs. William Benner, who lives near Roopsburg, fell down the stairs in her home on Saturday morning, injuring herself quite severely. She was carrying a lighted lamp at the time. Of course it was broken by the fall and the shattered glass cut her arm and hand. Fortunately there was no explosion else more serious consequences might have been to record.

Gregg post always has one theatrical entertainment a year and it is usually a very good one. They invite you to see, on the evening of December 9th, one of the greatest moving picture shows on the road. It is under the direction of Edwin J. Hadley who for years was the expert with the Howe shows and Mr. Hadley has promised something that will out-do even his former employer's pleasing efforts.

Cyrus C. Bickers, a farmer in Green township, Clinton county, died last Thursday evening, from the effects of injuries sustained by falling down stairs in the Forest house, a country hotel at the foot of the Brush valley narrows, the evening before. In company with a lot of other farmers who were out hunting their cattle, he stayed at the hotel all night. In an attempt to get down stairs after he had retired he fell to the bottom and was found in an unconscious condition, from which he never recovered.

The Bellefonte Academy and Bell-wood foot ball teams played their second game of the season on the fair grounds here, on Saturday afternoon, and after quite a strenuous struggle the Academians won by the narrow margin of a safety, or 2 points. The visitors were lighter than the home team and played such a snappy game that they gave our boys about all they could take care of. There was a large crowd of spectators on the field and the game was a very enjoyable one. At Belle-wood two weeks ago the Academy boys won in exactly the same way.

FOUND DEAD IN BED.—Mrs. Elizabeth Wooster, who lived near Fillmore, was found dead in bed last Friday morning. She had retired in her usual health the evening before, consequently her death was a great shock to her family and friends. Mrs. Wooster was 64 years old and is survived by her husband and several children. Interment was made on Monday.

MRS. DANIEL JOHNSON.—Mrs. Daniel I. Johnson passed away at her home at Pine Hall at 5 o'clock Sunday evening; after an illness of only a weeks duration with pneumonia. Before her marriage she was Katharine Brungart and was born near Zion April 4th, 1846. Early in life she joined the Lutherans and almost to the last was actively engaged in church and Sunday school work. She was generally beloved in the community and those who have been so sadly bereft of her useful life will have the deepest sympathy of all who knew her. Her husband and six sons are living. They are Austin, of Ax Mann; W. E., of the Branch; Cyrus M., Ora and Jas. H., of Pine Hall, and Emory, at home. Her one sister, Mrs. H. Garbrick, of this place, and her brother Austin Brungart, of Zion, also survive her. Interment was made in the Pine Hall cemetery on Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock. The Rev. Aikens officiated.

DIED IN A HUNTING CAMP.—Benjamin Corl, one of Ferguson township's well-known men, died suddenly in a hunting camp in the Alleghenies last Friday evening. In company with his two brothers and several other men he went out to the Six Mile Run region for a two weeks hunt. They started on the 19th inst.; everything having gone well up to the fatal day. Though nearly 73 years old Mr. Corl was one of the most active hunters of the party. When they started for a chase on Friday afternoon he stated that he was not feeling quite well and would remain in camp. Accordingly the others started off without him and were shocked to find him cold in death upon their return. He was lying in almost the same spot he had been standing when they left him. A stroke of apoplexy is supposed to have been the cause. A wagon was hurriedly secured and the body was taken to his late home near Pine Hall; reaching there early Saturday morning. Deceased was a son of Benjamin Corl and was born at the homestead in sight of which he spent his entire life. He had lately been engaged in truck farming near Struble station, where he was a generally respected resident.

His wife and the following children survive him: Milton, Alfred, Amanda, Bell and Mary, of Pine Hall. Mrs. Henry Bloom, of State College, and Mrs. Daniel Houser, of Centre Hall, are his sisters and Israel and Peter, of Pine Hall, his surviving brothers. He was a devout member of the Reformed church and a Democrat of the unswerving kind. Funeral services were held on Monday morning, with Revs. Black and Aikens officiating. Interment was made at Pine Hall.

WILLIAM W. BELL.—The unexpected passing of William W. Bell early last Saturday morning is another exemplification of the uncertainty of life and a warning that we must be ready at any moment for the call of the grim destroyer. In the case of the deceased, his lamp was triumphed and burning and with unflinching steps he passed into the valley of the shadow of death, only to emerge in the eternal brightness of the other side.

Mr. Bell led a semi-retired life; having only recently built himself a fine new home on south Thomas street. He was a musician and took occasional contracts. In fact only the day before his death he had been down in Nittany valley with Judge Cyrus Gordon to figure on some work. That night he retired in his usual good spirits, but about 1:15 in the morning he awoke his daughter Mrs. Calvin Troupe, who found him spitting blood. Mr. Troupe ran for a physician at once, but the end had come before any assistance could be secured.

His death was due to hemorrhages of the bowels. While it was very sudden and unexpected those who had been most closely associated with Mr. Bell lately had observed that his appearance indicated anything but the health that his spirits seemed to imply.

Deceased was a son of John R. Bell and was born at Aaronsburg, this county, November 28th, 1833. His early life was spent at home where he received his education at the old Aaronsburg Academy and learned the trade of a stone mason, which he followed both as a journeyman and contractor throughout his entire life. After his marriage to Miss Evaline J. Sankey, of George's Valley, they resided at Pleasant Gap, later moving to State College and finally coming to Bellefonte where they have been honored and desirable residents. Their children are Dr. J. Finley, of Englewood, N. J.; John R., and Torrence, of East Hampton, Long Island; Annie, wife of Lemuel Brooks, of Wilkesburg; Eva, wife of W. S. Chambers, of Bellefonte; Bessie, wife of Thomas Kessinger, of Hubbersburg; Lydie, wife of Calvin Troupe, of Bellefonte. The following brothers and sisters also survive him, S. A. Bell, of Bellefonte; Charles C., of Huntingdon; T. Clayton, of Wilkesburg; Mary, wife of Judson Webb, of League City, Texas; Sarah E. wife of Thomas Hall, of Aaronsburg.

Services were conducted at his late home on Tuesday morning and interment was made in the Union cemetery. Rev. Wood, of the Methodist church, of which he was a member, officiated.

JACOB F. KERN.—After suffering for about three weeks with cancer of the stomach Jacob F. Kern passed away at his home in Madisonburg, on Saturday afternoon, at the age of 58 years.

Deceased was a highly respected and useful resident of that community; his death being sincerely mourned by hosts of friends who sympathize with his family in this great affliction that has come upon them.

He leaves a widow and two sons, Harry and George. Rev. W. C. Bierly conducted funeral services on Tuesday morning.

MRS. W. H. McCausland.—Mrs. W. H. McCausland, of Philipsburg, died at her home in that place on Tuesday morning after an illness that began early last spring when it was discovered that she was suffering with cancer.

She was the eldest daughter of Dr. G. F. Hoop. Through her mother, many years dead, a member of the Test family, she was widely connected in Centre and Clearfield counties. She was married when but 17, to Wm. H. McCausland, who survives her together with nine children, viz: Jessie, wife of A. Y. Casanova; Tom, Annie, Harvey, Charley, Ida, Pearl, John and Laura. Her father and one sister, Mrs. A. H. Lingenfelter, of Philadelphia, also survive. The funeral will take place at 10 o'clock this morning.

JOHN CARNEY'S DEATH.—John Carney, one of the well known Irish residents of this place, passed away at his home on east Logan street, early Sunday morning, from the effects of pneumonia.

He was born in county Kerry, Ireland, about 59 years ago when a young man of 22 came to make his home in this country. His wife, who was Katharine Burk, a native of county Donegal, Ireland, survives him. Their marriage was celebrated in the old Catholic church in this place, by the Rev. Father Shannon. A sister, Mrs. Lizzie Brown, also survives. Deceased was a member of St. John's Catholic church where requiem mass for the repose of his soul was celebrated on Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock.

On Thursday afternoon of last week the body of William R. Long was interred in Schenck's burying ground at Howard. He had died at Oak Grove on the Monday previous and was 25 years and 6 months old. He was a son of Mrs. D. E. Holter, of Howard, from whose home the funeral was held.

GRANT HOOVER'S HOME DAMAGED BY FIRE.—On Wednesday evening the home of insurance agent Grant Hoover, on east Curtin street, was discovered to be on fire. Owing to a scarcity of water it was some time before the flames, which were confined to the interior of the building, could be subdued and not before everything in the house was practically ruined.

Mr. Hoover was at Snyderstown on business and his wife and daughter had just been taken to the hospital that day. He does not know how it could have caught unless it was from some clothes left hanging around the kitchen stove. A piano and about $150 worth of furniture was all that was saved.

Foreman Samuel Hasel, of this office, is off duty on account of impaired eye sight.

Mrs. E. B. Hogue, formerly of this place, is seriously ill at her home in Jersey Shore.

Dr. M. J. Locke's new home on north Allegheny street is to be ready for occupancy by December 10th.

Lock Haven amateurs are to give a minstrel show on December 17th. It will be for the benefit of their hospital.

The Methodist Sunday school at Spring Mills is preparing for an extraordinarily grand Christmas entertainment.

Lloyd McCloskey, a woodsman from Snow Shoe, was taken to the Bellefonte hospital on Monday evening, suffering with a broken ankle. It was caused by a log rolling onto it.

Last evening John Long Sr. of Reynolds Ave., who has become almost totally blind, was taken to Will's eye hospital in Philadelphia. Will Rees accompanied him to the city.

Fred. Cox, a son of Frank Cox, of this place, had the little finger of his left hand crushed in a corn sheller at Hezekiah Hoy's farm, near town, on Tuesday. It is thought that the finger will have to be amputated.

Owing to ill health Dr. Emerick has sold his property and practice at Centre Hall to Dr. J. R. G. Allison, of LeRoy, Bradford county. Dr. Emerick is resting with friends in the West and has no idea as to where he will locate again.

J. Harris Cook, a son of Charles Cook, of this place, is ill in Altoona, threatened with diphtheria. He is working in the shops there. His father went up on Wednesday, but at that time the physicians could not say just how the case would develop.

James Wooster, who was one of the pioneer telephone builders in this section, but of late years has been located at Scranton, is back in town for a few weeks work remodeling the Bell system here. Aside from being a trifle heavier Jim has changed very little and he is still the "good fellow" that made him so popular in Bellefonte.

A DARING HOLD UP AND ROBBERY AT CURTINS WORKS.—Following so closely upon the murders and robberies along the line of the Beech Creek railroad a daring hold-up and robbery at Curtins Works Tuesday evening has thrown that community into a fever of excitement. At half past five o'clock that evening a thief entered the mill operated by Harry Lutz and after hearing Vincent Sharp, a boy who was in the office at the time, into insensibility made away with a little over $100.00 in cash that was in the money drawer.

HOW THE ROBBERY WAS EFFECTED. While it is evident that the robbery was committed by an entire stranger in that community, there are so many peculiar circumstances surrounding it as to make it appear as if the actual perpetrator had either acted on information or had a confederate.

On Monday evening a man entered the mill at about 5 o'clock and purchased a sack of cornmeal from young Sharp, who was there alone at the time. He paid for it in cash and after asking to have it marked with his name "J. Jackson," departed, saying "I will call for it again."

Nothing more was seen of the man until shortly after five o'clock Tuesday evening, when he reappeared at the mill to find Sharp again in charge. After engaging him in conversation about commonplace things for a few moments he inquired as to whether he could get a five dollar bill changed. Sharp offered to accommodate him and went to the money drawer for the purpose. He had scarcely turned his back on the stranger ere he received a terrible blow along the left temple and above the eye that rendered him unconscious.

More than an hour later miller Lutz went into the office and found the boy still unconscious on the floor. He was carried to his home where he revived shortly afterwards. Then he told the story of what had happened and it was discovered that all of the money in the drawer had been taken. It consisted of over $100.00 in cash. Some of the funds belonged to H. R. Curtin, trustee of the Cons Curtin estate, owners of the mill, some to miller Lutz and the balance to the Curtin band.

DESCRIPTION OF THE ROBBER. Sharp had ample opportunity to study his assailant and describes him as follows: About 5 feet 9 or ten inches in height, weight about 170 pounds, Roman nose, had a sandy mustache and a growth of beard of about four weeks. He wore a black slouch hat and a large black storm overcoat. No man answering such a description is known in that vicinity. The ground here frozen with no snow tracking was impossible but it is believed that he came and went by the canal bank. Some people think they saw him getting off the 2 o'clock train on Tuesday afternoon, walking rapidly down over the railroad embankment and going to the ridges, where he presumably spent his time until the hour of his reappearance at the mill.

ONE SUSPECT ARRESTED. Constable Roffe, of Mill Hall, arrested a stranger at the axe works in that place Wednesday morning and telegraphed Sheriff Taylor. The latter went down on a morning train, taking Sharp with him, but the suspect proved not to be the man wanted.

PROBABLY HIT WITH A SAND BAG. From the nature of Sharp's injury and the relative positions occupied by him and his assailant it is apparent that a sand-bag or some other equally flexible weapon was used. For while he had his back turned the blow was not at the back of the head, but along the left temple and above the eye. There was scarcely any abrasion of the skin, though by Wednesday evening the eye was discolored, the mark above it puffed up badly and had become very sore.

CLAY HALL'S FRIGHTFUL EXPERIENCE.—Clay Hall, a brakeman on the Snow Shoe passenger train that leaves this place every evening at 5:45, had an experience last Friday that very few men could have and live. The train had just arrived and the engine with a few cars were being run around the Y. Hall was on top of a box car and after having applied the brakes started to swing out onto the ladder at the side of the car to get down. He had hold of the brake wheel and just when he was about to catch the ladder the ratchet slipped, starting the brake to revolve rapidly and throwing him to the tracks.

His right leg was run over by one truck and then he was rolled along between the rails until three cars and the engine passed over him; finally rolling him out under the low pilot. When picked up it was found that he was still living; so he was taken out to Willowbank street on the train and thence carried to the hospital, where it was found that he had suffered a compound comminuted fracture of the right leg above the ankle, a badly fractured left foot, a lacerated scalp, and bruises about the back and abdomen.

At first it seemed that the leg would have to be amputated and the operation was set for Sunday morning, but young Hall begged so hard to have it saved if possible that the amputation was postponed and an experiment made of gathering up the fragments of shattered bone and tying them together with gold wire. It remains to be seen whether this method will save the limb. He was getting along so well yesterday that the best is hoped for now.

Hall is 22 years old, a son of John Hall, of Milesburg. He was married only a few months ago and made his home in Suow Shoe.

The partnership existing between Samuel Shaffer and son Paul has been dissolved and Paul will conduct the grocery store alone hereafter.

Helen Stonebraker, a 10 year old Coburn girl, has attended five winter terms of school and three spring terms; missing only one day, and that on account of sickness.

Miss Sadie Brickley, who has been in a very serious condition for more than a year with dropsy, was to have been taken to Philadelphia this week for an operation. On Tuesday her condition was such that her physicians had her taken to the Bellefonte hospital where an operation will be performed just as soon as she is able to endure it.

—Squire W. J. Carlin, of Reberburg, was in town on business on Monday.

—Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert A. Beaver, of New York, with their little daughter Catharine and nurse arrived in town Wednesday afternoon to spend Thanksgiving at the Beaver home on north Allegheny street.

GOVERNOR'S DAY AT STATE COLLEGE.—By a very unusual concurrence of circumstances, not only Governor Pennypacker but several other gentlemen who had fully expected to be present at the celebration of "Governor's Day" at State College last week were prevented from attending. The appointment of the date, November 20th, was originally made after full consultation with the Governor and his secretary, and it was not until after invitations were out, and all other arrangements so far advanced that it was impossible to change them without inconvenience to many people, that circumstances arose to interfere with the date fixed.

The Governor, however, requested Major-General Charles Miller to act as his personal and official representative and the day passed off most successfully. The number of students is so large that the members of the Senior and Junior classes are excused from military duty, and the members of the other classes are this year for the first time formed in a battalion of six companies. The review passed off very finely, and, at the close, the cadet officers were introduced to Gen. Miller, who expressed his warm appreciation of the excellence of the performance.

The day was closed with the annual Thanksgiving Assembly in the armory under the management of the Senior class. The gathering of guests from a distance was a brilliant one, and it was generally remarked that the armory had never before been so finely decorated.

The coming winter is being looked forward to with considerable misgiving by rural mail delivery carriers in this county. Several of the routes recently established are over such hilly country and bad roads that horses are unable to stand the work. Carriers on one of the routes leading out of Spring Mills and one out of Centre Hall, which have been established only a few months, have been compelled to buy new horses already and the really hard work has not begun yet. At this rate of wearing out animals the job will scarcely be looked upon as profitable enough at $50 per month for any one to undertake it. Another hard route is the new one leading out of Port Matilda and the carrier there will earn every penny he receives when those mountain roads blow full of snow.

At the home of Marshall Cox, near Curtins Works, a happy double wedding ceremony took place on Wednesday evening of last week. Sadie M., the youngest daughter of the family, was married to Mr. Chas. King, of Bellefonte, and at the same time Grove Cox, a brother of the bride, who had come home from Tyrone with Miss Adesia Waite, of that place, to attend his sister's wedding, surprised everybody by announcing that he and Miss Waite were ready to be joined, so the Rev. G. F. Boggs, who was officiating, just tied a double knot and made four hearts happy.

The residence of Frank Weaver at State College was damaged to the extent of about $250 by a fire that started from a defective flue on Saturday morning. Those who witnessed it say the way the Alpha fire company of that place got into action was a wonder.
