STATE COLLEGE

OFFERS EXCEPTIONAL ADVANTAGES.

TUITION IS FREE IN ALL COURSES.

TAKING EFFECT IN SEPT. 1900, the General Courses have been extensively modified, so as to furnish a much more varied range of electives, after the Freshman year, than heretofore, including History; the English, French, German, Spanish, Latin and Greek Languages and Literatures; Psychology; Ethics, Pedagogies, and Political Science. These courses are especially adapted to the wants of those who seek either the most thorough training for the Profession of Teaching, or a general College Education.
The courses in Chemistry, Civil, Electrical, Mechanical and Mining Engineering are among the very best in the United States. Graduates have no difficulty in securing and holding positions.

YOUNG WOMEN are admitted to all courses on the same terms as Young Men.

THE WINTER SESSION onens January 7th 1903.

For specimen examination papers or for catalogue giving full information repsecting courses o study, expenses, etc., and showing positions held by graduates, address

Battle with Bandits.

Harvey Varn Dine and Peter Niedemeler, accused of sensational murders and robber ies at street car barns in Chicago, are sup posed to have been trapped in a dug-out near Miller station, Indiana. The dugout has been surrounded by police. Urgent telegrams for help reached assistant chief of police Schuettler and with fifty men under the assistant chief's command, left at once for Miller station armed with Winchester rifles and revolvers.

Reports from the place say that a fusillade of shots has been exchanged between the men in the dag-out and the local police. Two of the latter are reported to have been wounded seriously

Chief of police O'Neill received word from the Pennsylvania railroad that ap-parently the bandits had escaped from the posse at the dug-out near Millers station. The report said that three men, bloody and dishevelled held up a train on the Pennsyl-vania road at East Tolleston, Ind., and shot and killed a brakeman and had forced the train to carry the trio of assai'ants to Liverpool, Ind.

About the time that reports of the sup-posed escape of the bandits were received the train bearing detective Joseph B. Dris-coll, shot in the stomach, and mortally wounded, and sergeant detectives Matthew Zimmer, brother of Alderman Zimmer, shot in the head and arm, arrived in Chicago at the Grand Central station.

The bandits escaped from the ring the police formed about around them before reinforcements under assistant chief Schuettler arrived. They made a desperate rush across the country five miles, reaching the Pennsylvania railroad at East Toleson, Ind., where, at the muzzle of the magazine revolvers, they forced their way by freight train to Liverpool, Ind. The brakeman killed while battling for control of the train was named T. J. Pavio.

The bandits at a favorable moment ran from the cave to the railroad tracks after detective Sheehan had started on a hand car with the injured detectives for Miller station. The bandits had long range guns and the red-haired bandit when not run-ning adopted the method of lying down on the tracks and shooting at the policemen Mixed with beeswax turpentine is one of the very best floor polishes.

Quay to Ask Another Term.

'Dying Oak'' Simulates Anger Over Penrose's An-

Senator Quay will accept a re-election to the Senate from the Legislature of Penn-sylvania in January, 1905, this announce-ment was made last Wednesday by the Pennsylvania boss' colleague, Boies Pen-rose. It is interesting as a news item, simply by reason of the fact that when Mr. Quay was re-elected at Harrisburg two years ago, after he had been denied admis-sion to the Senate on the appointment of sion to the Senate on the appointment of Governor Stone, he declared publicly that he would not consent to serve another

Mr. Quay professed to be very angry when told that his candidacy for re-elec-tion had been announced by his colleague. He refused either to deny or confirm it.
