THE PENNSYLVANIA

STATE COLLEGE

OFFERS EXCEPTIONAL ADVANTAGES.
TUITION IS FREE IN ALL COURSES.

MAKING EFFECT IN SEPT. 1900, the General Courses have been extensively modified, so as to furnish a much more varied range of electives, after the Freshman year, than heretofore, including History, the English, French, German, Spanish, Latin and Greek Languages and Literatures; Psychology, Ethics, Pedagogues, and Political Science. These courses are especially adapted to the wants of those who seek either the most thorough training for the Profession of Teaching, or a general College Education.

The courses in Chemistry, Civil, Electrical, Mechanical and Mining Engineering are among the very best in the United States. Graduates have no difficulty in securing and holding positions.

YOUNG WOMEN are admitted to all courses on the same terms as Young Men.
THE WINTER SESSION opens January 7th 1905.

For specimen examination papers or for catalogue giving full information respecting courses of study, expenses, etc., and showing positions held by graduates, address

Found Unconscious in Bobbed.

Miss Nellie Barner, of Oval, was so badly frozen last Friday while returning from Williamsport that she was rendered unconscious, and it was some time before she recovered. Mrs. David McMurren and daughter Ruth accompanied her to the city, and while returning home they got stuck in a snow drift and were compelled to wade through snow up to their waists for some distance before they got to where the horse could pull the sled with them in it.

The piercing wind added to their discomfort, and when the home of W. H. Clark, at Oval, was reached, Miss Barner was in an unconscious condition. She was taken into the house and after some time was revived. Mr. Clark then took her home while a son took Mrs. McMurren and her daughter to their home, which is across the valley. When he attempted to return to his home he found that the roads had drifted so badly that it was impossible to travel them, and he was compelled to remain at the McMurren home all night.

A Bottle House.

This house is one of the most remarkable ever constructed, for it is really composed principally of glass bottles. It stands in the town of Tonopah, Nevada, and was erected by a miner who used the bottles on account of the scarcity of other material. The bottles were placed in rows with the bottom ends outward, and are held in place by mud in place of plaster. The corners of the building are composed of wooden beams, also covered with mud. The walls are about a foot in thickness, and are so well constructed that the house is actually more comfortable in winter than many of the other dwellings in Tonopah, which are built of other material. It is 20 feet in length, 16 feet in width, and contains two rooms. It was built entirely by the owner, a miner named Wm. F. Peck.

The Only Mine Survivor Will Not Lose Eye Sight.

Adolph Guiano, the only survivor of the Cheswick mine explosion, is lying at St. Joseph's hospital, Pittsburg, his head swollen to twice its natural size and bandaged so completely that only the tip of his nose is visible. It is thought now that he will not lose his sight.

Found Dead in Latrobe Lock-up.

An unknown man, helplessly drunk, was arrested at Latrobe Friday and Saturday evening policeman Ackerman found him dead in the cell. He was clean and well dressed and had on his person the address of "Geo. G. Heiter, No. 2122 Carson street, Pittsburg." Mr. Heiter said when interviewed it was likely his brother Charles, of Mifflinburg, a barber thirty-eight years old and unmarried, who left Sunday for Greensburg to look for work.

Hot Chocolate.

Chocolate is a very simple affair to make, and always finds favor. Break up a quarter of a pound of unsweetened chocolate, and put in the bottom of a double boiler with a cup of sugar, a level tablespoon of salt and four tablespoons of hot water. Cook until smooth and shiny, then add gradually a quart of hot milk and a scant quart of boiling water. Cook until smooth and flavor with cinnamon and a teaspoonful of vanilla. When ready to serve whip with a revolving egg beater, which makes it light and frothy. A spoonful of whipped cream placed in the bottom of the cup, and the chocolate poured over it, adds to its delights. Do not be afraid of cooking too long before adding the milk, as it prevents its settling in the cup or getting greasy.

Sensitive Horses.

The horse does not like a nervous, fidgety, fussy or irritable man. He is too nervous and irritable himself. "Why is it," one teamster was heard to ask another, "that Phin's horses are always gaunt? Phin feeds well." "Yes," was the reply; "But he's like a wasp around a horse." A well-known owner of race-horses, not at all a sentimental person, recently made an order forbidding his employees to talk in loud tones or to swear in the stable. "I have never yet seen a good-mannered horse," he says, "that was being sworn at all the time. It hurts the feelings of a sensitive horse, and I'll keep my word good to discharge any man in my employ if I catch him swearing within the hearing of any horse in this stable."—Country Life in America.
