How Maps Make War News Plain. Watch for The North American's Great War Map

To enable its readers to follow intelli gently the momentous events of the Japanese-Russian war, The North American, Philadelphia's newspaper, has gone to extreme pains and unlimited expense in preparing a colored map of the territory involved in the struggle.

Owing to the general lack that prevails of exact knowledge of the topography of the lands bordering upon the war centre, the situation of the towns, harbors, ports and countries which are mentioned daily in the cable dispatches in the North American, it is impracticable for the average person to gain a comprehensive notion of progressing in the Far East.

Those who would gladly spend time in them in the newspapers by researches in atlas or gazeteer are often prevented from doing this by lack of facilities.

It is to place within the reach of such a means of watching the movements of the Russian and the Japanese fleets and troops step by step as they immerse themselves in the stauggle that has only just begun that the North American has prepared this

This map will be given free with each copy of next Sunday's North American. It is absolutely the latest map out. It is printed in four colors, and the spelling of the names is verified by comparison with the most recent government reports.

Advance orders for next Sunday's paper already insure that the demand will be immense. To render it certain that you are provided with a copy, your newsman should have your order at once.

Michael Trump, superintendent of trans-portation on all the Pennsylvania lines swells used to cultivate pointed beards in east of Pittsburg, has been appointed genwinter; now they are smooth-shaven. Gray eral superintendent of the Pennsylvania railroad division, which includes the main line and all branches between Pittsburg and Philadelphia, to relieve the present superintendent, G. W. Creighton, who is ill at Altoona, where his headquarters are located. Officially the change is stated as being only temporary, though many in local circles would not be surprised were it to remain permanent. Mr. Creighton has been in bad health for some time, and it was deemed that a relaxation of official duty would be beneficial. As soon as Mr. Trump takes charge, which will be almost immediately, Mr. Creighton will go south to recuperate. The matter of relieving him has been under consideration for some time, and the first official announcement of the change was made last week. Superintendent Creighton was formerly located in Williamsport, where he served efficiently as the general superintendent of the P. & E. railroad and the Northern Central railway. He left there about three years ago and went to Buffalo, being succeeded by W. Heyward Myers. About a year ago Mr. Creighton was transferred to

POWER OF RESISTANCE. - Physicians tell us that a reduction of the power of resistance to disease is the most common predisposing cause of disease, and that the way to prevent it is to keep the blood in good condition.

And so while repeating this great truth we remind our readers of Hood's Sarsaparilla as being the best of all medicines for the blood.

Now when so many diseases are rampant it is certainly wise to take this great alterative and tonic.

-Confidence is all right so long as you don't place it in a confidence man.
